Boston. July 14. 1720

Dear Sir,

When I returned from the Lynn Stocking merchant, he had bid in 350 p^{ts} of his promise more soon as possible. — We have bid, crowns blue Bro. Cloth for about 30 Coats of white for 40 or 50 waist coats w^{ch} will be made up soon as possible. — Mr Pickard left a p^{ce} of his Leather Breaches for sample w^{ch} I think exceeds Mr Gilman's in goodness of Leather, & very much in make, I have wrote him of Noble the post, & desired he would send to Exeter all he has now ready & whatever he may have by the 1st May at £45 — pair, as they are much Cheaper than Cloth & much more durable, also advised him the money would be ready on delivery of them to you, therefore would advise your providing a draft on the Treasury in season — it is probable he may send some this week — we shall send up Stockings the first opp^{ty} some Shirts &c. — I am with regard

P. wish you to send the pewter Buttons down, first opp^{ty}
