

White Sulphur Springs near the Rappahannock Wednesday Nov 12th 1862
Dear Parent:

I thought I would take this opportunity to let you know where we are. I wrote you a letter four or five days ago, but the mail going out so irrespectfully I did not write much. I wrote you it was snowing it snowed about the depth of an inch. It was pretty cold I assure you for that day at 4 o'clock we had to march and was out till nearly midnight. Our Generals made a blunder by ordering us to go ^{in a different way} across road and got fairly stuck in the mud and had to retreat back to where we came from. The next day ^{Friday} we marched into Jefferson our band playing as we entered. The village of Jefferson is mostly in ruins a few of the ~~man~~ houses being occupied by woman they looked so very angry.

PAGE 1

White Sulphur Springs near the Rappahannock Wednesday Nov. 12th, 1862

Dear Parent,

I thought I would take this opportunity to let you know where we are. I wrote you a letter four or five days ago, but the mail was going out so unexpectedly I did not write much. I wrote you it was snowing it seemed about the depth of an inch. It was pretty cold I assure you for that day at 4 o'clock We had to march and were out till nearly midnight Our Generals made a blunder by undertaking to go to Jefferson by a cross road and got fairly stuck in the mud and had to retreat back to where we came from The next day Saturday we marched into Jefferson, our band playing as we entered The village of Jefferson is mostly in ruins, a few of the houses being occupied by woman they looked sour & angry

I suppose they thought that what little they had left to live on we should soon take from them but they were not mistaken and I noticed the next day their faces wore a more cheerful aspect. Here we found the country almost desolate. Stuart's Rebel Cavalry occupied the town the day before. Stuart bought an immense field of corn for his horses & paid $200 for it C.S. scrip but Gen Pleas-ton attacked, routed and drove him off & fed his horses on the corn. A great deal of corn has been raised in But-tler Co but it has been pretty much all eaten up by the horses of both armies.
We were on picket (our Co) Monday & Tuesday night this was my first turn at picketing. The Rebels were quite near us but did not disturb us. We lay as still as mice our orders being to halt every one seen and if he did not, blow him through our guns being loaded and capped.

PAGE 2

I suppose they thought what little they had left to live on we would soon take from them but they were not molested and I noticed the next day their faces wore a more cheerful aspect Here we found the country almost desolate Stuart's Rebel Cavelery occupied the town the day before. Stuart bought an enormous field of corn for his horses & paid $900 for it C.F. scrip but Gen. Pleasanton attacked, routed and drove him off and fed his horses on the corn. A great deal of corn has been saised in Culpepper Co but it has been pretty much all eaten up by the horses in both armies. We were on picket (our Co) Monday & Tuesday night this was my first turn at picketing. The rebels were quite near us but did not disturb us. We lay as still as mice our orders being to halt everyone seen; and if he did not; blow him through, our guns being loaded and capped.

Tuesday morning we were routed early at Lostock and ordered to go to this place as a guard to the baggage train and by surprise Wednesday our hold for Col. Jefferson were camped here Why we moved so suddenly I can't tell perhaps the Rebels were too near or too strong numbers as Sunday we marched out expecting to have a little brush with the Rebel Cavalry, but they all skedaddled when they saw the Rebels coming. They did not like the looks of those bright bayonets carried by those tall men who are the wonder of all out here place no beside any other Reg. we come across and we are on an average half a head taller. The old soldiers frequently enquire when we (shell) pass What brigade is that?

While at Jefferson our army was pretty short of provisions having only —ing but fresh beef & a little rice for three days. Our Co. being on picket we

PAGE 3

Tuesday morning we were routed early at 2 o'clock and ordered to go to this place as a guard to the baggage train. And by sunrise Wednesday our whole force at Jefferson were camped here. Why we were moved so suddenly I can't tell perhaps the Rebs were too near in too strong numbers as Sunday we march out expecting to have a little brush with the Rebel Cavalry, but they all skeddaddled when they saw the 11th NH coming. They did not like the looks of those bright bayonets carried by those tall men who are the wonder of all out here place us beside any other Reg. we come across we are on an average half a head taller. The old soldiers frequently inquire when we (the 11) pass What brigade is that?

While at Jefferson our army was pretty short of provisions having nothing but fresh beef & a little rice for three days. Our Co. being on picket we

We lived the best, a rich old rebel who had left his plantation in charge of an old negro & gone south lost 4 years pigs weighing from 50 to 200 lbs. each We went right up to the house and meeting the negro told him we must have something to eat two or three got some milk and pre-salad I was not so lucky the rest of us shot the pigs that were running round the house (by the way it is as common to see pigs & hogs running around the houses here as dogs in N.E.) quickly dressed and brought into camp. And in 15 minutes 25 men was cooking liver or pork steak in our spiders or on picked sticks. Oh I forgot to say we took by putting a rifle ball through him & ~~missed~~ so we had a lot of meat I never eat so much steak and liver in one day and it did not hurt me in the least I am tough and hearty can eat any thing beef as well as deer in N.H. I seem to have got eliminated pretty. The Hollabro boys are all well as usual. Leslie has got a chance that suits him. driving an ambulance We have had no mail for about 15 days We expect to-morrow to get one I will write lived the best, a rich old rebel who had left his plantation in charge of an old negro & gone south lost 7 good pigs weighing from 30 to 200 lbs. each. We went right up to the house and meeting the Negro told him we must have something to eat two or three of us got some milk and hoe-cake. I was not so lucky the rest of us shot the pigs that were running around the house (by the way it is as common to see pigs & hogs running around the house here as dogs in NE) quickly dressed and brought into camp. And in 15 minutes 15 men were cooking liver or pork steak in our spiders or on picked sticks. Oh; I forgot to say we took by putting a rifle ball through him a nice calf so we had a lot of veal I never eat so much steak and liver in one day and it did not hurt me in the least. I am tough and hearty can eat any thing feel as well as ever in N.H. I seem to have got climated pretty. The Hillsboro boys are all well as usual. Leslie has got a chance that suits him, driving an ambulance We have had no mail for about 15 days We expect to-morrow to get one I will write then.

PAGE 4