Dear Florence:

It's a relief to sit down for a few minutes and get away from this madhouse.

My boss is on a binge again and is driving us all nuts. The only place to find real peace is in the basement.

We're having a sale here at the store and if things keep up as they have started I'll have enough commission to pay for my entire vacation.

The flowers are in bloom and I picked a vase full of sweet peas,

African daisies and other field flowers too beautiful to describe.

We haven't had a letter from Bessie for the longest time. She's probably too busy playing mah-jong.

Mama went on a spree and bought six new dresses for herself. Some are nice in fact she liked one style so well she bought it in two colors. Now papa is going hay wire and will probably wind up with six new pairs of suspenders.

Helma and Joel are both well.

I'll send you my bathing suit tomorrow. Love from all.

Eleanor
