Dear George,

I was very happy to learn that you had given Mom some money for me, that, to me, seemed the worst of the whole damned catastrophe. As soon as I get my next pay check, I'll reimburse you — Thanks —

My cold has completely left me, and even my ear has cleared up, so do not give that another thought.

I was very sorry to read that Sam is again troubled with his back. It seems he has been getting these back aches for a long; but it seems criminal that "they" should appear at this very potent time. I am of the opinion that he has something tangibly wrong. Perhaps, a torn ligament, or something like that. It would pay for him to get an X-ray and really ascertain the cause of all his suffering.

We had a little snow here yesterday; but today is quite gorgeous, I think we should have good weather from now on.

Business is still quite good. We expect Mr. Rein out here Friday. Funny, how even knowing that we have everything covered, doesn't stop us from being just a little worried, everytime we know he is going to make an appearance. I guess it wouldn't be human if we felt no effect at all. It is comparable to one of about to get a physical checkup by an insurance doctor.

Seeing as how the boss will probably be out here Friday, our trip in to N.Y. looks quite doubtful. I understand and that the following week is a Jewish holiday, you can definitely expect me in N.Y. then. It isn't a certainty that I won't be in this week. Should the boss drive up here, instead of flying, I may come back with and go back by train or maybe I'll take a bus.

Expect to write Mom and Pop tomorrow. Am doing a little exercise at night before eating supper, and am already feeling a little like my old self.

With a handshake in mind —

Bob
