However, dearest:

It was just grand to get your first letter, and learn that all is well with you and the Crown Prince. It is good to read that the little fellow took several steps by himself and that pretty soon he'll be able to run around - like all little boys should. I'm very glad that everyone is so co-operative and considerate in calling you so often - at least you don't get a chance to get lonesome. As for me even though I am surrounded by thousands, yet I seem to be in a different world - the little world that you and Jim and I live in - Well, darling, this little job won't take so long, and believe you me when this is over, I'll never complain again.

To-day was my first day as a pediatrician, and even though I tried hard to avoid a K.P. detail, I wound up in the kitchen and spent 14 hours there, however the work was not difficult, and the food was superior to the usual menu - but I feel fine and chipper to write - and maybe to write my book will change - and to-morrow I'll get an easier detail - don't worry though I'm being all night - and maybe I'll get that break we look forward to - Please file the enclosed forms, and let me know when the first checks arrive - Rec'd a letter from man and pop. and I hope they are beaming up heavily - It is somewhat difficult to write sitting on the edge of the bed - and the hour is passing late - but I want you to know how much I love you and Jimmy - if I am here 21 days I can get a 36 hamper -

- saw Harry's friend but he can do very little - hope Juli's friend does better - I ~~to~~ wrote Juli's on Friday, reminding him - so don't worry - after I get established at a permanent Camp I will endeavor to give you the details of all that took place during the first 3 days - did I tell you I made 134 in the I.Q.?

Please remember me to everyone, and I hope this finds you in good health and strong spirits - Kiss Jimmy for me, and love him to you for me as ever,

Geo.
