BROOKLYN, NEW YORK

Tuesday - Dec. 28th 1943.

Dearest,

At present Mom and Pop are with me and are well. Sabey and I are fine and still love you very dearly.

The day has been a breeze for me but while I rested this afternoon I managed to write a letter to Bob and Janey type a letter to Terry. Jimmie and I ventured out during the morning although it was quite snappy and we did get out again in the afternoon. I deposited the checks in the bank and sent a deposit to the Williamsburgh Savings Bank. Enclosed find 1.00.

Billy Rubel called this morning to tell me that he received a letter from you dated Dec. 24th and that you're well.

Also spoke to Mr. Pinius and the folks. My mother received a dividend check for ^{$}40.00 and offered me half but I don't know whether or not to take it. Is it rightfully ours or what? I'll tell you the same of the stock in to-morrow's letter.

Bob wrote another letter to me to-day and is still excited about California - it must be God's country.

Anything you want, my darling, don't hesitate to write. You'll notice this is a hurried letter but I'll write a lengthy one to-morrow. The folks are talking with me and it's hard to concentrate.

Keep well, my dearest, until that day when we'll be together again. Good night, pleasant dreams and I love you more than ever. Love from Mom and Pop. A kiss and hug from Jimmie.
