

Friday night,
Mar. 3rd 1944.

George, my darling,

How lucky I am to have you as my own and know that our love for one another is making us stronger instead of weaker. It's true that Uncle Sam has the physical part of yours being but that is only temporary and against your will and not as any of us desire. So, my chin is up, sweetheart and I'm sure that day is not too far off when we'll be together again as one. I, too am so fortunate in having you love me so much besides having a son who is so precious to us both.

So, I'll just dream about you in all my spare moments and hope some of those dreams will materialize real soon.

To-day was a busy day for me, shopping and cleaning. Sarah is now in Virginia and will be back by next week, I hope. Baby and I are O.K. but miss you as much as always (since Nov. 17th) — it seems like forever.

The folks are all fine — my sister Eleanor is with me now and has spent most of the day with me and baby. They said no another visit this morning and sends his regards to you. He drove me over to Thelma's for a few minutes and then I went to the bank to cash a check. Jack wasn't too well this week but is O. K. now. Last night I spoke with Mrs. Thomas who assured me that all is O. K. Mary came home from the hospital yesterday, is feeling better but is just a little weak. We'll write to you soon. I sent them both your best regards and wishes.

Sunny and Billy called to night send their regards and hope to see us soon. The Stedhammers are visiting Billy to-morrow night.

Did you get to see that Camel Caravan show? I listened to that program last night with Abbott & Costello and was wondering whether that was the same show you were seeing.

Got your Tuesday letter to day (reg.
mail comes in 3 days too - the ventur hasn't been too good lately) and glad to know you're well and that you're still getting those good marks. I'm getting my questions ready for Sat. morn. in case you call.
(Just filed the pen)

The fee I said was $2.<sup>00</sup> and I've already forgotten about it. To err is human.
El is going to wash and set my hair so until to-morrow, darling. Good night and pleasant dreams.

With all the love that's in my heart
and a great big hucation kiss from Mommy and a big and kiss from baby, we are Yours always,
Lillian & Jimmie

P.S. Regards from Clever.
