

Thursday eve -
March 30th 1954.

George, my dearest,

Received your telegram over the phone at 8.30 this morning. You can well imagine how happy I was to know that you made that long trip safely and that you are finally located. Immediately, I called Pup to tell him your latest address and he too was relieved that you're O.K.

Hope you had a nice trip, traveler, and I'm looking forward quite impatiently to the details.

No mail from you in three days

So I guessed you were being moved. Oh, Darling, why do they send you so far from me and all those you love? I do hope you get my letters soon as I sent some with ⁸1⁰⁰ bills and baby's loam hasn't arrived as yet.

We're all fine at home but we've had rain incessantly since yesterday. I like staying indoors with Jimmie and looking at you but the sunshine is much better for our spirits. Since you mentioned that we may see you soon, I've actually been walking on air and hope you don't have too much difficulty locating a reasonable and fairly clean looking place to dwell. Have not spoken to Mom yet but I'm sure going to have a time convincing her to leave Tof and travel such a distance.

Perhaps you'll do better. Oh gosh - how good it would be if you were within a few hours drive. We'd all be so happy.

While indoors, I got quite ambitious and put all of baby's infant clothes in a box and later did up the bar room. If I do make the trip I'll have to cover the furniture and summarize the apartment and take care of the car and some of the bank accounts. I'm making notations of things and will not get into a mental uproar the last minute.

Mr. Piness called and I told him about your new-camp address. He's trying hard to make connections with people in Minneapolis or St. Paul. Did you get in touch with Mr. Marko? spoke to the family, your Pop and later I'll call the Edders as Connie is leaving tomorrow.

Hope you like your new set up and keep well, dearest. All my love to you and I do love you dearly. I kiss from baby. Always, Florence
