

Tuesday evening
May 9th 1944.

My darling,

All is well in your little kingdom and the crown since is sweeter than ever. Mommy is also fine but, as always, misses Daddy so very much. To-day was a full day and I'll be glad to relax a bit this evening after I mail your letters. Being out all day gets me a bit drunk.

The weather is still delightful, a bit cooler and perfect weather for the children to play outdoors. To-day I had charge of Jan as well as Jimmie and to my amazement, I managed very well with both. Beas and Thelma went to the city end to-morrow I'm going and Beas will be here to take care of Jimmie. I'll get your photo and also a gift for Sunny's new baby plus the mother's day gifts.

The forms for the Motor Vehicle Bureau and the Intersard are filled out and I'm mailing them to-night to the Insurance Company. Hope with Mom who's well and Pop too. They send their love and had no mail from Bob, but they did get four letters from him yesterday. No mail from Jan as yet but I do hope to hear from Jan within a day or two. Hope that all is well with you, my darling, and that something good materializes in the near future.

As soon as I get a little ambition, I'll start to springing the apartment and also try to clear out some of the unnecessary paraphanelia. I'll put your suits and sacks in garment bags with plenty of flakes and balls.

Do you need that Masonic matter you left on the table or can I clear it out? Is there anything you need at present and did you forget anything?

This is a shorty as there isn't too much to write at present. J. L. will probably be taken home at the end of the week and we're all just hoping he'll pull through.

Jimmy is fast asleep and had a swell time today with Jan and the other "under 2 year olds". He's eating very nicely but still refuses candy and food between meals.
He still sits and I guess I'll have to wait for your next fulough so you can teach him the way a man does it.

Good night, sweetheart, keep well and as usual all my love to you. A big and kiss from Sperians. Best wishes from Bess and Betty and Sunny always.
