

Monday evening
June 12th 1944.

Dearest beloved,

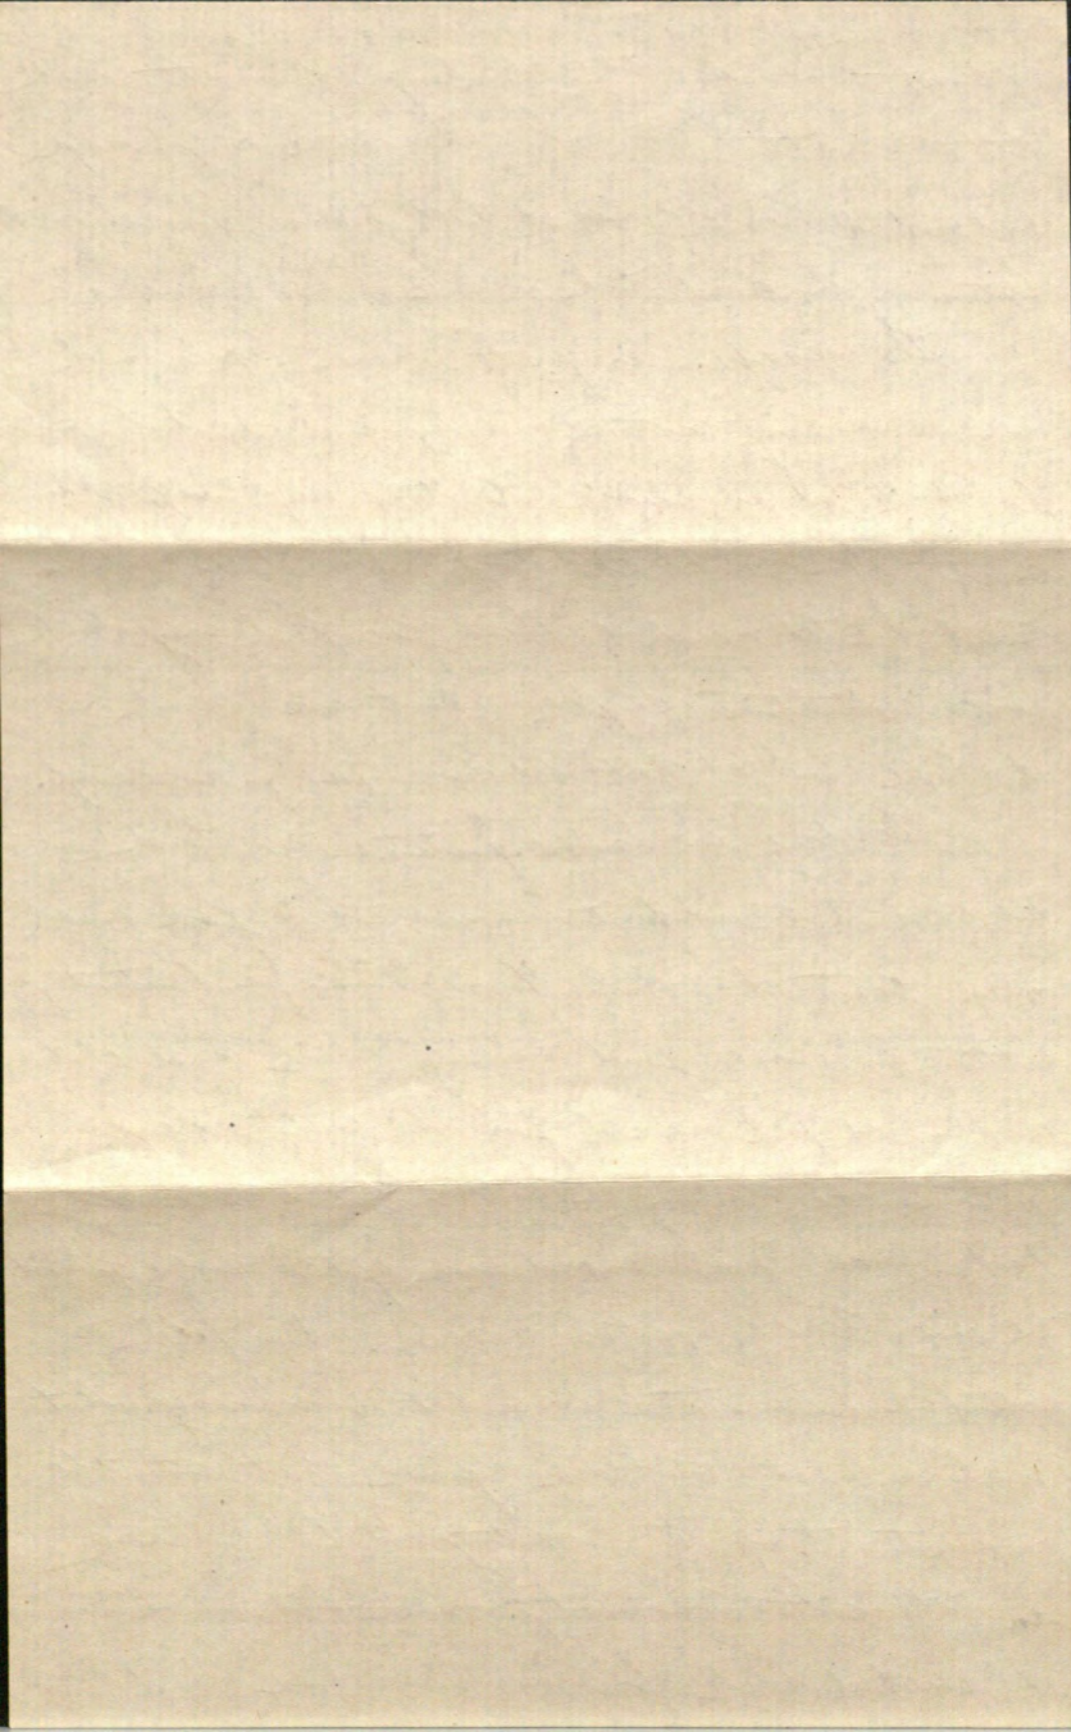

Baby and I are feeling swell and I'm looking forward quite impatiently to the trip out west and your loving arms. Until to-night I've had no luck about good accommodations but Mrs. Pincus will know definitely to-morrow about a roomette we can't follow. It's quite hard to find trains so I'll be quite satisfied with any train that takes me to you - but quickly. I do hope baby behaves all the way and doesn't make too much of a fuss. How about baby foods - shall I send a package to you containing unbreakables such as cereals (which I have plenty of) some toys, shoes and other odds and ends? Shall I bring over radio in a valise with my clothes and is our electric clock O.K.? I'll try to locate or borrow a regular alarm. I ~~can~~ get it. ~~?~~ This afternoon I bought a band for baby (your name too) and withdrew $200 so far. I'll leave about ⁹400 in the checking account and take about $150. Shall I leave my rings and watch home? Is it O. K. to use your wrist watch if I don't take mine?

The weather is quite warm again and we're wearing cottons, baby and I, but I do think it advisable to take my complete suit if I make the trip. Would 3 relias full be too much? Have you had any luck with contacting people about us and I do hope we'll not be too far from camp.

To-day we awoke quite early, had our usual breakfasts, saluted to you and then got the mail. Your Friday and Saturday letters were the good morning news and that made me feel swell for the entire day.
Later in the morning I walked to Vandeweer Park with Jimmie and soon after Tohy joined me with her daughter Marcia. Jim fell asleep and we took sun baths nearby. That park is just one block square but it's the nearest thing to country that we have in the entire vicinity. Soon after we all walked back for our lunches and the rest of the afternoon was spent near the house because of the shade and slight breeze. Temperature rose to 85° in the afternoon but the humidity was low.

This evening I expect to go to the movies to see Danny Kaye - finally. Betty will watch over Jim and I'll try to make the early show. Billy called today and may be out to-morrow to take the rest of the movies - weather permitting. Go to Mom and Pop and they're fine. My family is O. K. and Joel is getting along splendidly so far.

I'm quite happy about the trip and I'll never forget that I love you so very much. Keep well, my love and we'll do likewise.

Good night, until to-morrow, and all my love and affection to the best sweetheart of all. A hug and kiss from baby.

As always,
Florence

P.S. Your brother Sam is home again and is fine.
