Biographical Note

Doris "Granny D" Haddock was a political activist, Senate candidate, public speaker and author who walked across the United States in support of campaign finance reform at the age of 90.

Ethel Doris Rollins was born in Laconia, New Hampshire on January 24, 1910. After completing high school she moved to Boston, where she began attending Emerson College. While at Emerson, Doris met Amherst College student Jim Haddock, whom she married. Emerson students were unable to be married at the time, so Doris left school without graduating. After marriage, Doris worked in a shoe factory as an executive administrative assistant. In the 1960's she and Jim helped to save an Inuit fishing village in Point Hope, Alaska, from hydrogen bomb testing. In 1972 the couple retired and moved to Dublin, New Hampshire.

After nursing Jim through his 10 year battle with Alzheimers, Doris turned her eye to the political arena and became interested in campaign finance reform. She decided to walk 3200 miles across the United States to call attention to that cause. Beginning January 1, 1999 at the age of 90 and ending at the Capital in Washington DC in April of 2000, Doris walked 10 miles a day through all kinds of weather promoting her cause. Following her trek she continued to speak around the country and co-authored a book about her travels with Dennis Burke. She ran for Senate in 2004, a campaign which was documented in the Marlo Poras film "Run Granny Run." Doris died on March 9, 2010 at the age of 100.

Scope and Contents Note

The Doris "Granny D" Haddock Collection was donated to Keene State College by Ruth Meyers on behalf of Doris Haddock. The collection is broken up into 11 series and contains 54 linear feet of material. Doris was working on organizing the material at her death, and as much as possible her own folder titles and divisions have been maintained in their original order.

Series 1: Correspondence between Granny D and many family members, friends, politicians and business acquaintances are included in this series of 70 folders. Pete Seeger, Patch Adams, Mike Gravel and Governor John Lynch are included, as well as fan letters, correspondence with speechwriter Dennis Burke, and communications with volunteers regarding upcoming travel plans and events. Most of this correspondence are emails that have been printed.

Series 2: Speeches and drafts of speeches in 54 folders delivered by Doris Haddock between August of 1998 and March of 2009. The topics are varied and include campaign finance reform, senior housing, illegal immigration, peace, President George W. Bush, the environment and her campaign speeches as she ran for US Senator in New Hampshire. Also included are her bookstore signing presentations after the publication of her book "Granny D: Walking Across America in my 90th Year." Most speeches have several drafts, as they were exchanged between Doris and her friend and speechwriter Dennis Burke, and are heavily annotated. In many cases, parts and pages from different speeches were combined to create a new speech.

Series 3: Subject Files series contains 21 Subseries of materials organized into separate events or interests by Doris Haddock. These include trips abroad, particular congressional/senatorial bills, fan letters, birthday cards, the beginning of a manuscript and material related to her campaign. Most of these subseries contain one folder of materials.

Series 4: Log of Trek - Contains photocopies of journals and other papers on which Doris wrote anecdotes and remembrances of her travels as well as stories she remembered from her childhood along the way.

Series 5: Scrapbooks and Bound Materials - Two books are contained in this series, one written by Doris "Granny D" Haddock, the other a signed copy of a book by Edie Clark in which Granny D is a subject of one of her essays.

Series 6: Writings - It includes popular poems and protest songs sung by Granny D and followers on her walk and at various events. Several of the materials are written in tribute to Doris and her cause.

Series 7: Photographs - Images from events Granny D participated in, her senatorial bid, as well as her 1999-2000 walk from San Francisco to Capitol Hill in support of campaign finance reform. Other photographs include snapshots and portraits of her family and friends.

Series 8: Audiovisual Materials contain objects in a variety of formats (CD, DVD, Videocassette) in 47 folders. There are a few popular movies or CD's but most of the materials contain interviews or stories about Granny D, have to do with politics, or are intended to help keep ones brain stimulated as one ages.

Series 9: Articles and Magazines contains full articles or magazines which ran stories on Doris.

Series 10: Newspaper Clippings contains articles which ran stories or interviewed Doris for articles. These come from all over the country and focus particularly on her walk. Other materials include clippings and articles saved by Doris to review on topics of interest to her.

Series 11: The Physical Artifacts series consists of physical material and not paper or media. This can include any number of things, from bumper stickers to t-shirts.
