

Section IV. Evidence for meeting standards

Assessment 3. Professional Knowledge, Skills and Dispositions: Curriculum Management Project

1. Description of the assessment and its use in the program.

Assessment #3 is a Curriculum Management Project. The candidate develops a process for data-driven decision-making and strategic planning that focuses on the vision to improve student learning. The candidate facilitates teamwork, ensures appropriate use of student assessments and communicates to students, parents, and the larger community. Candidates will complete a project related to data-driven decision-making, program improvement based on individual or program data or curricular assessment leading to instructional improvement. This project will be a research-based, data-driven, service project for a school or school district.

2. A description of how this assessment specifically aligns with the standards it is cited for in Section III

The Essential Questions for this project are:

1. How can professionals in educational settings work collaboratively with students, families and community members to improve the quality of education for all students?
(ELCC 1.1, 1.2)
2. How can faculty and staff work with data to improve the instructional program?
3. (ELCC 1.2, 1.3)
4. How can the school and community work together with data to improve school climate, student success and/or higher achievement? (ELCC 1.2, 1.3)

3. A brief analysis of data findings

Data were collected during spring semester, 2008. Assessment #3 indicates that the candidates self-assessed as meeting the standard and most indicated that they exceeded the standard. The data demonstrate that capacity in data-based research strategies, improving the school vision and having a positive impact on student performance were reachable goals. The data also indicate that the Curriculum Projects were successful in connecting course content, skills of facilitation and team-building and working with the larger community.

4. Interpretation of how data provide evidence for meeting standards

The rubric and scoring guide demonstrate the connection with the ELCC standards. The candidate must use data-based research with faculty, parents and the community to make them participants in the developing or modifying of the school vision. Using student assessments appropriately while reaching for challenging standards is part of motivating staff, students and families. Communicating the process, understanding organizational change, delegating responsibility and developing leadership in others are reflected in these standards.
