

HOOP TEAM HAS TALENT

By PETE HANRAHAN

Pete is a member of the KSC Cross Country Team and president of Phi Mu Delta. He will be doing a weekly column on sports at KSC.

November 17 saw Coach Glenn Theulen unveil his 1971-72 basketball team in a scrimmage against Nathaniel Hawthorne College. This is Theulen's fourth team at KSC and it should be his best yet.

The basketball Owls are a hustling group of individuals with talent. They lack the size of the 69-70 team with its 6-6 front line of Terry, Orne and Sala. They also lack a shooter and ball handler who can compare with Joe Whiten. But this is a balanced, well-conditioned ball team nevertheless.

Tonight will see the Owls open their season against Farmington at Spaulding.

Gym. While we will miss the chance to see 6'8" Wit Summers who will not be eligible to play until next semester, you are going to see some fresh faces and some rejuvenated old ones. Watch Jose DeCausy; he may just be the best basketball player to ever don a KSC uniform.

On The Inside

Our NAIA New England champion soccer Owls are in Carolina today competing in the nationals. Injuries to key performers Steve Parker and Mark McEvoy could not have come at a worse time. Facing national-level competition would have been tough enough for the Owls at full strength.

Basketball Season Opens

By JOE PAPPO

The KSC basketball team will open its 1971-72 season on Wednesday against Farmington State College. Game time is 8:00 at Spaulding Gym.

The Owls will definitely feel the loss of Dave Terry and Joe Whiten, but hope to make amends for this with more depth and more speed which the Owls lacked last year.

This year the Owls will lack rebounding strength. According to Owl Coach Glenn Theulen, "Rebounding is a question mark; we have people who can do it but consistency is what I don't know about."

In the past, the Owls have depended on strong rebounding and sharp shooting. This year Keene will depend on speed characterized by a fast break offense, and a pressing defense.

Captain Kevin O'Leary is one of the five returning lettermen. He averaged 10.8 points a game last year. Mark Tinker, a 6-4 junior will be playing center this year and should be tough on the boards. There will be a fight between sophomore Stan Spiro and Ollie Dunbar for the other guard position.

Junior College transfer Jose DeCausy and 6'8" Dewitt Summer should help in scoring and rebounding. Freshmen Phil Pena (6'1" forward), Jim Dreu (6'3" forward) and guards Ron Person and Joe Amio should also see action.

It should prove to be an exciting season for the Owls who will be playing a 25 game slate. The December schedule is as follows:

Dec. 1	Wed.	Farmington State
4	Sat.	at Castleton State
8	Wed.	at Salem State
11	Sat.	Gorham State
13	Mon.	North Adams State
15	Wed.	Western New England Kimball Union

SENATE

Continued from Page 1

tional representation provides a better check on student budgets as representatives from the organizations are always on hand.

The senate finally moved to refer the question to an ad hoc committee for further consideration.

CLASSIFIED

FOR SALE: Getting married? Brand new 8 place set of stainless silverware, plus 6 serving pieces. $20. Call 352-5781.

A DOG, A DARKROOM AND A GRADUATE STUDENT need a home next term. Please write Jean Polhamus, 7 Saint Mark St., Jamaica Plains, Mass.

SWIFT SECRETARIAL SERVICE. Term papers, manuscripts, etc. Call 352-1987. J. Dunn

GOODNOW'S
DEPARTMENT STORE
32 Main Street Keene, N.H.

RAMONA
$225
FROM THE KEEPAKE
COLLECTION
LANTZ
8 MAIN STREET
AND OUR NEW LOCATION
KEENE SHOPPING PLAZA

SUMMERS'
SKI & MOUNTAIN CENTER
John Summers KSC '56
Darryl Leduc KSC '71
Specialists in Skiing, XC Skiing, Backpacking and Mountaineering. Rental equipment.
CROSS COUNTRY
Asnes and Jarvinen Skis
San Marco, Falk, and the latest Alfa boots.

Backpacking and Mountaineering Suppliers to Keene State College.

RAZOR CUT

The styling of a man's hair with a sharp cutting tool. Achieves a highly fashionable look. Very popular in yr. 1971. Worn by men who prefer long hair. We specialize in razor-cutting and won't scalp you. We also trim beards and we have a total of 8 stylists to serve you. By appointment only from 9-9 Monday through Friday and 8-3 on Saturdays. You won't be sorry

UNIQUE HAIR STYLES 352-9512

right across from the Valley Green

Owls Meet First Tourney Opponent Today

"We're number one! We're number one!" And so went the chant now familiar among KSC students as the KSC soccer team defeated the University of New Haven 3-2 two weeks ago. The victory made the team number one in New England and qualifies them for the NAIA national tournament in Dunn, North Carolina. They are playing their first tournament game today.

Keene will play its first game today against Quincy College of Illinois, a perennial Mid-West area champion. Quincy College is ranked in the top 15 in the country, and judging from the fits New Haven gave Keene, this could be a stern test.

Keene is going into the match with-

ORGANIZATION MEMBERS

The policy of the 1972 Kronicle will be to include formal pictures of all organizations in addition to candid. Please check the schedule below for the appropriate time for you to appear. The place is Morrison 74.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 6

- 6:00 Alpha Psi Omega
- 6:15 A.C.E.
- 6:30 Baha'i Club
- 6:45 Tri-Beta
- 7:00 Campus Guides
- 7:15 Campus Residence Council
- 7:30 Class of '72 (officers)
- 7:30 Class of '73 (officers)
- 7:45 Class of '74 (officers)
- 7:45 Class of '75 (officers)
- 8:00 Commuters Club
- 8:15 Council of Women Students
- 8:30 History Club
- 8:45 Industrial Education Club
- 9:00 Young Democrats
- 9:15 Young Republicans
- 9:30 Social Council
- 9:45 WKSC

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 7

- 6:00 Interservice Christian Fellowship
- 6:15 International Relations Club
- 6:30 Kronicle
- 6:45 Monadnock
- 7:15 Newman Center
- 7:30 Sigma Pi Epsilon
- 7:45 Ski Club
- 8:00 Special Education Club
- 8:15 Student National Education
- 8:30 Student Senate
- 8:45 Student Union Board
- 9:00 Women's Recreation Association

KEENE FOOD MART
CENTRAL SQUARE

What you want is ice cold!

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1971

7:30 p.m. Fine Film Society presents "Romeo & Juliet," Brown Room, Student Union. No Admission Charge.

8:00 p.m. Basketball, Farmington, Spaulding Gymnasium.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1971

8:00 p.m. Concert & Lecture Series presents George Plimpton, Brown Room, Student Union. KSC students, faculty and staff, I.D. card. General Admission: Adults $1.00, Students $.50.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1971

4:00 p.m. "Operation Live" Depart for Beginning Winter Camping Trip.
8:00 p.m. Dance sponsored by the Social Council, Brown Room, Student Union.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1971

1:00 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. I.F.C. Christmas Party for Children, Brown Room, Student Union.

2:00 p.m. Swim Meet at Colby College.

8:00 p.m. Basketball at Castleton.

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1971

3:00 p.m. Senior Recital, Brown Room.

MELODY SHOP
102 Main St., Keene, N.H.
352-9200
We have a complete line of Lowrey Organs, complete home entertainment centers within themselves!
The Sound Center of the Monadnock Region

Keene State College
Keene, N.H. 03431

THE MONADNOCK

Vol. XXIII, No. 12
Dec. 8, 1971

"And what do YOU want for Christmas?"

Photo by O'Brien

Political Climate Chilly at Keene State College

By ERIC MALONEY

As the political fire in New Hampshire slowly spreads, one wonders if the mountains surrounding Keene are made of sheet rock.

Although some candidates, including Edmund Muskie and Linda Jenness (Socialist Workers), have either area campaigns organized or have had supporters speak at the college, most of the prospective presidential candidates have yet to approach Keene State College.

Here is a rundown on the progress made so far by each candidate in the Monadnock region:

Shirley Chisholm - Congresswoman Chisholm has yet to officially announce her candidacy. Her formal announcement will not come, she said, until she can raise 300,000 dollars.

HENRY JACKSON - Senator Jackson has announced that he is running, but he has stated his refusal to run in the New Hampshire primaries. He will hold off until the Florida primary.

LINDA JENNESS - Jenness is the Socialist Workers' candidate for president. A group of people from the party headquarters in Boston came up to the College last Thursday, and spent a good portion of the day handing out leaflets in the Student Union.

Later an informational meeting was held in the conference room of the Student Union. Mark Friedman, a former candidate for the Boston School Committee, outlined the platform of Presidential and Vice-Presidential nominees Jenness and Andrew Pulley.

Friedman described the Socialist workers as the only alternative, and his speech indicated obviously that the party is gearing its campaign at the youth. Among its platform planks are the immediate withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam, free medical care and free abortions, and an end to racism.

The Socialist Workers are also launching a strong recruitment program to bolster the membership of their offspring, the Young Socialist Alliance, and are attempting to gain a total of 30,000 subscribers to the Socialist newspaper, Militant.

Friedman also stated his hope that Jenness would be able to come to Keene State sometime this week to speak.

Unfortunately for the Socialist campaign, both Jenness (30) and Pulley (20) are far below the eligible age to run for the presidency. You have to be 35.

GEORGE MCGOVERN - Senator McGovern has made a few swings through New Hampshire, coming as close to Keene as Peterborough. There are no plans for McGovern to come to Keene in the near future.

There is, however, a McGovern for President student committee. Lee Minnick, a second semester freshman at KSC, is the chairman, and has approximately 10 students as his working core.

The committee has so far been following instructions from the state headquarters in Manchester. Little has been planned, however. They hope to get a file on every student on campus, recording their political leanings, whether or not they have registered to vote, and other information that might be pertinent to their campaign.

PAUL MCCLOSKEY - Republican Congressman McCloskey, like McGovern, has also travelled to New Hampshire, and he too has come as far as Peterborough.

Although there is as of yet no headquarters in the Monadnock area, a spokesman at the state headquarters in Concord described Keene as "top priority." They hope to bring McCloskey to Keene sometime in January, when they also wish to search for a store and set up offices.

In the meantime, McCloskey supporters have been ringing doorbells, passing out leaflets, and talking it up.

EDMUND MUSKIE - Muskie spoke to the Keene Chamber of Commerce on October 9 (Monadnock, 10/13 3:3). Since then, the total extent of the Muskie campaign has been the organization of a campaign for Keene and one for the area high schools.

Fred Jenne, a junior at KSC, has been organizing committees at the Keene and Monadnock High Schools, and has gotten about 20 students at each one. There are also reportedly 10-12 students at KSC who are active in the Muskie Campaign.

Locally, the campaign chairman is Thomas Stauffer, assistant to the dean of the college at KSC.

Stauffer does not intend to put the campaign into full swing until next month. Right now, he is doing mostly paperwork, feeding a computer to produce address labels and writing letters.

RICHARD NIXON - There is a Nixon headquarters in Concord.

BENJAMIN SPOCK - The baby doctor is running for the Peoples' Party, formerly the Coalition, and commonly the Fourth Party.

Like the Socialist Workers, the Peoples' Party considers themselves the only alternative to the "Republiocrats."

Since Spock was only nominated for the Presidency at the Fourth Party convention two weeks ago, there has been little time to establish campaign tactics for the election.

Much of their campaign will revolve around trying to get on the ballot in as many states as possible. Since New Hampshire requires only one thousand signatures from each congressional district, it can be expected that workers form the New Party will be up from Massachusetts to petition.

GEORGE WALLACE - Like the Socialist Workers and the Peoples' Party, George Wallace considers himself the only true alternative to the look-alike Democrats and Republicans.

As of this writing, there has been no word of a Wallace for President campaign headquarters in the state of New Hampshire.

SAM YORTY - The mayor of Los Angeles has set up his headquarters in Manchester, and the campaigners in that city are enthusiastic.

A spokesman for the headquarters stated that many Jackson followers in the Keene area were swinging to Yorty, and William Loeb and the Manchester Union Leader have unequivocally supported his

Continued on Page 10

KSC Theatre Presents 'Our Town'

George and Emily share a soda.

Photo by Campbell

Stage Problems Hamper Play

By BOB LYLE

KSC's theatre group is producing Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" this week and if you like Thornton Wilder it is a must. This reviewer attended a very early dress rehearsal and the cast had not had the chance to get it all together.

The performance I saw suffered from lack of continuity. The potential was there but there was no finished vehicle.

A Review

However, it is essential to remember that due to an early deadline this performance was not the final version.

One of the things from which theatre at KSC suffers is the physical plant. The stage continues to be dwarfed by the bridge structure in the back. There is no scenery other than a few props to give the impression of the scene and the bridge dominates all action on the stage. I would really like to put in a plea that someone either tear that structure down or drop a match and let the K.F.D. worry about the remains.

Also in line with the awkwardness of the stage layout is the incredible pipe organ heating system in Drenan Auditorium. This system is infamous for its groans and squeaks which reverberate through the auditorium and totally drown out the actors. This condition has prevailed since time immemorial and any change would be for the better.

There are some bright spots in the performance and one of these is Susan McKenna who plays Emily Webb. Miss McKenna's performance is quite effective and together with Neil Howard, who plays her father, they bring about some of the better scenes in the play. These performances together with a credible job by some of the supporting characters, such as Kathy Danaher and Dr. Redfern, will undoubtedly lead to the show's probable success.

In the show's third act I saw an indicator of the brilliance that lies in the future. Everything seemed to click smoothly and the performance achieved a polished professional appearance.

Let me close by saying that this show is by far the most credible version of "Our Town" that I have ever viewed and while the performers seem, in Wilder's words, "waiting for something eternal and great", I have every confidence of their reaching their goals.

Mrs. Soames, the town gossip, discusses the organist's drinking problem after choir practice.

Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer Prize winning play "Our Town" set in the Monadnock Region, will be presented by the Celebrant Actors Theatre of Keene State College next week, Wednesday through Saturday (Dec. 8-11).

The play, which won the first of two Pulitzer prizes for Wilder in 1938, concerns the Gibbs and Webb families and the growing up, marriage and groping for meaning in life by two of their offspring.

The three-act play will be presented nightly at 8:20 in Drenan Auditorium of Parker Hall on campus. Admission is $2 or KSC I.D. card. Tickets are available in the Student Union.

The cast includes Chris Young as George, Susan McKenna as Emily, the two youngsters; Keene attorney Eric Krompholt as the stage manager or narrator; Sharon Kerr as Mrs. Gibbs; Melinda Blodgett, a junior from Keene, as Mrs. Webb; Neil Howard as Mr. Webb; and Mark A. Tullgren of Keene as Mr. Gibbs.

Tullgren, a 1971 graduate of Keene State, also will direct the play. Miss Sheila Lemos is assistant to the director. Supporting players include Gary Richelson, Michael Chagnon, Susan Andrews, Jon Battenfeld, Frayda Levin, Sheila Lemos, Carol York, Kevin McCarthy, Kathy Danaher, Randy Nortbn, Jay Crook, John Rice and Kathy Blain.

Dr. Leo F. Redfern, president of Keene State College, takes a theatrical demotion for the play as he appears in a small role as Professor Willard.

Wilder, who also won a Pulitzer in 1943 for his "The Skin of Our Teeth," wrote "Our Town" while in residence at the MacDowell Colony in Peterborough during the 1930s. The play's setting is the fictional town of Grover's Corners, but actually is drawn from the Peterborough-Jaffrey-Dublin-Keene area.

The technical staff for the play includes Robert Bagloe, technical director; Robert Ransom and Thomas Baldwin, lighting; Chris Kilbride, costumes; Lorraine Ellsworth, sound and Susan Campbell, public relations.

STEINEM TO RETURN TO KEENE

Journalist and women's lib advocate Gloria Steinem will appear in support of Democratic presidential hopeful Senator George McGovern at Keene State College on Thursday (Dec. 9).

Miss Steinem will speak at 1 p.m. in the Brown Room of the Student Union. The public is invited and admission is free. Her appearance is being sponsored by the KSC Students for McGovern Committee.

Gloria Steinem

Miss Steinem is a contributing editor and columnist for New York Magazine and has written for most of the major magazines in the country. She is a member of the policy council of the Democratic National Committee and has been active in previous political campaigns of Adlai Stevenson, John F. Kennedy, Eugene McCarthy and Robert F. Kennedy. She was one of the organizers of Writers and Editors Against the War in Vietnam. She is a graduate of Smith College.

Continued on Page 10

PLIMPTON DESCRIBES EXPLOITS

90 percent of all men daydream about sports — hurling a strike past Willie Mays, streaking past the Detroit Lions defense, sinking a basket for the Boston Celtics — yet only one man has made all these his way of life.

Sports writer George Plimpton, the amateur who lives everyman's dreams, and usually fails, spoke about his failures to some 650 KSC students, faculty and Keene residents who packed into the Brown Room Thursday.

The lanky author and socialite admitted that he had always had a "smug satisfaction at being someone you're not supposed to be and getting away with it." Plimpton has had more than satisfaction — he has made a living out of competing with professionals.

Plimpton kept the audience laughing during a slide presentation which documented some of his exploits. They saw Plimpton:

*flat on his face on a football field against the Baltimore Colts, *searching for a sliced golf ball in a swimming pool during the pro golf tour, *in awkward form against world lightweight boxing champion Archie Moore, *being snub-nosed by an all star game bat-boy after having given up a home run.

Everything hasn't really been so funny, Plimpton admitted. Sports are "full of horror and full of traumatic moments. The humiliation of confrontation is a shattering one for the amateur," he said.

Plimpton was distressed with the "tremendous dehumanization of athletes" which he has seen. "No athlete thinks about injury. That's the dismaying thing — he'd rather lose a toe than be humiliated."

Plimpton explained that his "most terrifying" experience took place when he played in the percussion section of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Leonard Bernstein. "In sports you are allowed to make a mistake," he said. "But if you do something wrong in music you destroy a work of art."

George Plimpton

Both athletes and musicians have the same fear, he said. "They are petrified that they are going to humiliate themselves."

Other topics touched on included: Basketball — "demands far more physical ability than any other sport" (Plimpton played for the Boston Celtics in a game against the Atlanta Hawks) and movie acting — "It's terribly dull. You only deliver a line at a time and then break." (He appeared briefly in a movie with John Wayne.)

REDFERN ENDORSES DELTA ZETA SORORITY

By MIKE O'LEARY

President Leo Redfern has "reaffirmed and endorsed" the Student Senate's ratification of the establishment of the Delta Zeta sorority at KSC. Redfern said that he exerted the residential power granted him by the UNH Trustees to "clarify the situation" which had become a dispute over who would officially recognize the sorority.

Redfern met with some members of the Executive Committee of the College Senate, the Interfraternity Council, Delta

Zeta National Representative Linda Graham, officers of the embryonic sorority and Student Affairs Committee Chairman Patricia Lamb. As a result of these discussions, Redfern said he was writing a letter to Student Senate President David Kyle allowing the sorority to be a recognized organization with the stipulation that the sorority be non-discriminatory in nature. Redfern believes the sorority should follow guidelines preventing the rejection of a prospective member for reasons of color, race or ethnic origin.

Redfern stated that the college will consider the sorority a "colony", that is, the sorority will be a trial group as proposed by and controlled by the national organization of Delta Zeta.

It is also understood by Redfern that the college has not promised Delta Zeta free housing. The sorority members have expressed a preference to remain in college housing, at least in the near future. They believe that this will be to their advantage in their present stage.

"It is important to add that I asked about the objectives and accomplishments of Delta Zeta as to what they will contribute to the campus community and how they will relate to existing groups," Redfern said. "They assured me of their cohesive qualities and told me of social programs that will contribute to the college's sense of a community within a larger community."

Redfern said he is impressed with what he considers an equitable membership program. This program lacks black-balling and consists of a personal interview to be followed by the submission of a written statement expressing what the prospective member feels she can contribute to the sorority and to the college itself. "To me, this is analogous to the Alternative-One people who share commitments in common terms."

Redfern stressed the fact that both the sorority members and the Interfraternity Council consider a success of the sorority indicative of the success of future sororities, therefore ruling out a monopoly of sorority life by Delta Zeta.

The sorority was organized after Delta Zeta National Representative Linda Graham visited the campus and talked to 11 interested girls last September. The initial proceedings were quickly successful ending with the Student Senate ratification last month.

B.S. DEGREE REQUIREMENTS ARE PROPOSED

A motion brought before the College Senate last week would institute a General Education requirement for the Bachelor of Science degree similar to that of the Bachelor of Arts. Stuart Goff, assistant professor of mathematics authored the proposal.

The requirement would be identical to the B.A. in the Humanities (six courses in three different disciplines — English 101 required) and the Social Sciences (four courses in at least three different areas). The Science area would require six courses rather than four. These courses would have to be in three different disciplines. Two of these courses would have to be math courses.

Stuart Goff

"A Bachelor of Science should signify a greater degree of knowledge and competence in Mathematics and Sciences than is indicated by the Bachelor of Arts. Thus, the required number of courses in the 'Sciences' is enlarged, Goff said.

Goff noted that the revisions may affect "only a handful of students" but he feels a change must be made if only to accommodate those few. He also stressed the fact that the Bachelor of Science in Education would be exempt from these provisions.

The present B.S. requirements call for one year of each of the following: English Composition, Western Civilization, Mathematics, Physical Science, Biological Science, English Literature, Social Sciences and Physical Education. Two years of a language are presently required.

Senators Move to Cut Funds From 'Discriminatory' Groups

By MIKE O'LEARY

Dr. Charles A. Hildebrandt, professor of sociology, and Nora F. Kerr, professor of Spanish are proposing that all "arbitrarily exclusive" organizations should not be recognized by the college and that student monies should be withheld from them. An "arbitrarily exclusive" organization, Hildebrandt means any organization which excludes a prospective member simply because they don't want them, or because of race or sex. "People shouldn't be rejected because of the pigmentation of their skin, their sex, or anything whose change is unobtainable," he said. According to Hildebrandt, this would in effect outlaw "black-balling."

Dr. Hildebrandt

Hildebrandt and Kerr have been invited to address the Student Senate on their proposal by David Kyle, president of the Student Senate. "It seems that the issue should be acted upon by the Student Senate for they control the student monies," said Hildebrandt.

"The problem of public and student monies contributing to discriminatory groups has bothered me for many years, not only at KSC but also at other colleges where I have taught," Hildebrandt said. "The recent establishment of the sorority triggered my concern for the students and tax-payers of this state who are supporting discriminatory programs in which they may not believe."

According to Hildebrandt, if the proposal is passed by the Student Senate, all existing groups recognized by the college that are considered arbitrarily exclusive will have to reverse any discriminatory policies or lose any support they have from the Student Senate.

"Either the organizations, including the fraternities and the new sorority, establish a policy of open membership or carefully spelled out criteria for membership, or these organizations will lose Student Senate support and any Student Senate benefits to which they were previously entitled," he said. "By my definition, this eliminates sex as a criteria for membership, although I don't believe that it will be interpreted as such, nor will I necessarily stress this point."

Failure by the Student Senate to act on this issue will not necessarily kill it. "If the Student Senate takes these steps it might not be necessary to take this to the College Senate," Hildebrandt said. "However, I believe that because the organizations benefit from the advisement of deans salary by the state, it might be a case for College Senate consideration."

"As a tax-payer, I resent the fact that any dean, paid by the tax-payer, in his official capacity, advises any organization which employs arbitrary exclusion," Hildebrandt stated. "I think it may well be unconstitutional to use public monies to contribute to these groups."

Sophs Unhappy with Pre-registration

By MARTY GINGRAS

Students of the sophomore class have expressed discontent at the order of KSC's new pre-registration program. The sophomores have found themselves registering last for next semester's classes, a position traditionally reserved for freshmen.

Diane LaVallee, Student Senate representative for the sophomore class, voiced some of the major student complaints. "A lot of sophomores didn't get the courses they wanted last semester and won't have a chance to get the ones they want this semester," she said. LaVallee reported that some sophomores were also concerned about the course sections and times they may get as well as some loss of prestige.

Edward F. Pierce, dean of Administration and chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee for Pre-registration, felt that the situation is not as bad as the sophomores think it is. "We are doing things early so it is not the end of the road," he said. "It is entirely possible that courses will be added and others dropped."

Pierce went on to explain that the new program will be flexible enough so that a course with only one or two students could be dropped in favor of a course with a large number of prospective students. If Keene had a higher budget, he said, it would be possible to hire more teachers and offer more sections of popular courses.

ses.

Pierce said he had "great expectations for this registration." He explained that "the whole idea is that we can guarantee a student at least four or five sections before Christmas vacation."

A meeting with Pierce and members of the sophomore class was held last Friday to unleash the students' complaints. Although nothing was decided, the problem had earlier agreed that the freshmen should be given first choice over the sophomores. Pierce told the meeting that the reason for this was two-fold: 1) Many freshmen had been unable to take any courses they wanted first semester and 2) the sophomores were more flexible because they could take junior and senior courses as well as freshman and sophomore courses.

Student Senate president, Dave Kyle, who was present at the meeting, sided with the freshmen. "I think the sophomores felt that they should pre-register ahead of the freshmen because they've been here longer," Kyle called it a matter of "status." He added, though, that "the committee is flexible enough so that if there are any significant problems arising, the committee is willing to work something out."

A second meeting has been scheduled December 14, at 10 a.m. in the Student Union Conference Room, mostly for sophomores who couldn't get the courses they wanted. Pierce said that new sections may open for students, but he added that he could not guarantee it.

Representative LaVallee admitted "the thing we (the sophomore class) should do is wait and see what happens." By then it may be too late to change it until next fall.

Dean Pierce

was finally brought out into the open where solutions could be offered.

The Ad Hoc Committee for Pre-regis-

(He appeared briefly in a movie with John Wayne.)

Christmas Concert Sunday

The Department of Music at Keene State College will present its annual Christmas concert this Sunday (Dec. 12) at 3:00 p.m. in the United Church of Christ in Keene.

Entitled "A Community Christmas," the program will feature the KSC Concert Choir and the Keene State Chamber Singers under the direction of music Professor Hubert C. Bird, and the Keene State College-Community Orchestra, under the direction of music Professor Donald W. Morris. Another KSC faculty member, Professor Bruce Porter, organist, also will be heard on the program.

"A Community Christmas" is another of a continuing series of concerts sponsored by the KSC Music Department to promote a closer relationship between the college and the community of Keene.

The program will be divided into three principal sections. The first will feature the Concert Choir and the Chamber Singers in performances of both traditional and contemporary Christmas selections. Student soloists performing on the first section of the program will include Maryann Liniak of West Hartford, Conn., and Pamela Cartier of Hartford, Vt., both sopranos; George Reynolds of Alburg, Vt., bass, and David Bragdon of Exeter, N.H., clarinetist.

The second part of the program will be performed by the College-Community Orchestra, which will present selections from Tchaikovsky's famous "Nutcracker" ballet, one of Tchaikovsky's best-known and best-loved works.

It appeals equally to children and adults, and since the time of its composition it has become traditionally associated with the Christmas season. The orchestral music from the ballet was arranged by the 19th century Russian master into a suite, and as "The Nutcracker Suite" the work has become famous the world over. The selections to be performed Sunday represent some of the best-known music from this masterwork.

The third part of the program will feature the Concert Choir with student soloists performing Antonio Vivaldi's "Gloria." Vivaldi was one of the great masters of the Baroque era in music, and is considered by many to be the greatest Italian master of the era, somewhat on a par with the great German masters of the same period: Bach and Handel. Vivaldi's "Gloria" has become one of the master's most-performed works, and with texts acquired directly from the Christmas story in the Bible, is appropriate during the Christmas season.

Student soloists to be heard during the performance are Dayna Drake of Troy, Melanie Bogle of White River, Vt., and Miss Liniak, sopranos; and Diana Quimby of Keene and Linda Ladouceur of Greenfield, N.H., altos.

"A Community Christmas" is open to the public and there is no admission charge.

JAZZ GROUP TO PERFORM

The Keene State College Jazz Ensemble will present its first "on campus" concert on Thursday (Dec. 9) at 8 p.m. in the Brown Room of the Lloyd P. Young Student Union.

The 20-man group, formed only a year ago and directed by William D. Pardus, associate professor of music at KSC, has recently returned from a highly successful 10-concert tour of Vermont, Massachusetts and Connecticut.

The ensemble specialized in "big band" jazz and jazz/rock with instrumentation including five saxes, five trumpets, four trombones, tuba, electric bass, electronic piano/harpichord, electric guitar and two percussionists.

Included in the group's repertoire are works in the styles of Count Basie, Stan Kenton and Don Ellis, as well as original works in the modern jazz/rock idiom.

Personnel of the ensemble include: Dave Taylor, Dale Fyer, Mike Wakefield, John Devlin, Ken Alger, Andy Soucy, Marty Ielfield, John Degenais, Chris Constantine, Jim Culver, Brad Lizotte, Jim Murphy, Steve Armstrong, Greg Stevens, Steve Crandall, John Marcuse, Harry Smith, Al Chamberlain, Mark Manuel, and Dan Murphy.

The ensemble, one of eight performing groups sponsored by the Department of Music at Keene State, was formed to provide students the experience of performing jazz. In addition to performing compositions by professionals, the group also rehearses and performs works by student and faculty composer/arrangers.

The public is cordially invited to the concert and there is no admission charge.

KEENE FOOD MART CENTRAL SQUARE

What you want is ice cold!

Levi's
QUALITY APPAREL
FOR MEN, BOYS, AND LADIES.

Roussell's
OF KEENE, INC.

9 Elm St. 352-3123

Boy, are you
gonna get it...

your own brand new
McDonald's

MM-mm-mm...! MMcDonald's

Blackheads

what's doing

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1971

- 2:30 p.m. Governor Peterson will speak on financial crisis facing the State, Waltz Lecture Hall, Science Center. Coffee and Donuts will follow at Randall Hall Lounge.
- 7:30 p.m. Movie Student Union. "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid." Brown Room, Student Union, Admission $7.5.
- 8:00 p.m. Coffee House featuring "Stage Fright," Coffee Shoppe, Student Union. Free Admission.
- 8:00 p.m. Basketball at Salem.
- 8:20 p.m. Celebrant Actors Theatre presents "Our Town," Admission KSC Students, Faculty and Staff, I.D. card, others $2.00.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1971

- 1:00 p.m. Gloria Steinem, Womens Liberation, sponsored by the Young Democrats, Brown Room, Student Union.
- 8:00 p.m. KSC Jazz Ensemble Concert, Brown Room, Student Union.
- 8:20 p.m. Celebrant Actors Theatre presents "Our Town," Admission, KSC Students, Faculty and Staff, I.D. card, others $2.00.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1971

- 8:20 p.m. Celebrant Actors Theatre presents "Our Town," Admission KSC Students, Faculty and Staff, I.D. card, others $2.00.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1971

- 1:00 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. IFC, Christmas Party, Brown Room, Student Union.
- 1:00 p.m. Swim Meet at Coast Guard Academy, New London.
- 8:20 p.m. Celebrant Actors Theatre presents "Our Town," Admission KSC Students, Faculty and Staff, I.D. card, others $2.00.

MEDICAL HALL INC.
Prescription Center
Headquarters for Natural Vitamins
77 MAIN STREET KEENE

JUNIE BLAISDELL SPORT-A-RAMA
25 HOKURY STREET
KEENE, NEW HAMPSHIRE 03431
YOUR ADIDAS, CONVERSE AND PRO KEDS DEALER.

RESHUFFLING AT TOP MAY FREE UNH'S BONNER

If the recent administration reshuffling in Durham is successful, Keene students and residents of N.H. in general will probably be seeing more of UNH President Thomas N. Bonner in the future.

Bonner has delegated the responsibility of the day to day operation of the UNH campus to his new provost, Eugene S. Mills, the former University academic vice-president. Bonner said he delegated the responsibilities to Mills to free himself to work with the entire University system of which KSC is part.

"As I interpret the job I was asked to do by the Board of Trustees and the Search Committee," Bonner said. "I am to develop the University system and to mobilize strength to change public attitudes about education within the state."

In accord with his hopes to create better relations between the University and the State, Bonner created the position of vice-president of University relations. Patrick Jackson of Jackson, Jackson and Wagner, a public relations firm in Epping, N.H., will direct the public relations efforts for the University's three campuses. He is directly responsible to the president.

Bonner's high level reshuffling of the UNH administration creates four vice-provost positions and retains the dean of institutional research and planning, all of whom are responsible to Provost Mills.

Bonner made the following appointments: Robert N. Faiman, past vice-president for research, is now vice-provost of research and special program administration; Richard F. Stevens, past dean of student affairs, is now vice-provost for student affairs; Allan Prince, past assistant of the president on the budget, is now vice-provost of budget and administration; David W. Ellis, past associate academic vice-president, is now vice-provost of academic affairs; and John B. Hrbat remains dean of institutional research and planning.

Robert C. Keesey, presently secretary of the University, accepts the new position of ombudsman.

"It will be a humanizing, listening office," Bonner said about Keesey's position.

"The University bureaucracy is such that people can get lost in it. The ombudsman is there to help," continued Bonner. "The University of Cincinnati had an ombudsman, and I am convinced of its necessity."

"I've tried hard to make use of existing personnel, to work with everyone," he said.

"Those who take on greater responsibilities will be given added salaries," he added. "But which positions have not yet been decided."

Bonner said that he was confident the new administrative structure could work within the limits of the present budget.

Ghost Writing Company Prospers

Denver, (CPS) - A ghost-writing company, started in Denver and extended to numerous campuses nationwide, expects to sell more than $100,000 worth of term papers, masters' theses, and doctoral dissertations during this academic year.

The company, Research and Educational Associates, Ltd. (REA), was formed in Denver last February 1 and already has 500 student clients.

If all goes well, REA's founders expect to double or even triple their expansion before the third academic quarter begins next spring. Moreover, they see in academic ghostwriting a base for a potential multi-million dollar business in providing information and literary services.

Customers are plentiful in most colleges. Clients are easily attracted through newspaper and radio advertising and by on-campus solicitation via school newspapers and distributed business cards.

Groeger says that REA guarantees absolute security of its records and anonymity for its clients.

Dr. Frederick P. Thieme, president of the University of Colorado, makes the observation, "It's a sad and lamentable thing," he says. "Apparently we've over-emphasized the importance of a degree."

CPS

Students who buy papers are "cheating themselves," Dr. Thieme says. He promises tighter policing of papers at his university, but he doubts that he could

IFC Sponsors Christmas Party

Santa Claus comes to Keene State College a little early this year, thanks to several hundred KSC students who want to make the Christmas season a little happier for underprivileged children.

The College's Interfraternity Council (IFC) is sponsoring its annual Christmas party for the kids this Saturday (Dec. 11) in the Brown Room of the Lloyd P. Young Student Union. Also lending helping holiday hands are local merchants and Keene State faculty members, who are donating money toward presents; the college's new sorority, Delta Zeta, whose members are knitting warm mittens, scarves and hats for the children; the Distaff Club, the College's faculty and staff wives organization, which will provide sandwiches and cookies; the Women's Council at Keene State, which will furnish the ice cream and soda pop, and the College's four classes, each of which are contributing $50 apiece.

The College will provide transportation for some 75 to 100 underprivileged children in the Keene area. The party begins at 1 p.m. with refreshments before Santa's visit and the windup with the showing of cartoons.

Edward O. Howard of Keene, IFC president, said he expects about 150 KSC students will be donating their time for the party, playing big brother and big sister for the afternoon.

Included among students working most actively in arrangements for the party are Peter M. Hanrahan of Keene, president of Phi Mu Delta fraternity; Michael P. Guerrette of Hudson, N.H., president of Alpha Pi Tau fraternity; Robert E. Simpson of Plaistow, N.H., president of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, and Joanne Coughlin of Manchester, president of Delta Zeta sorority.

NOTICE

RESIDENCE COMPLAINTS???
The Campus Residence Council is holding an open meeting Thursday (Dec. 9) to plan an agenda for next semester. Student input at the meeting will be more than welcome. 4:30, Dining Commons Conference Room.

SOCIAL COUNCIL PARTY

The Social Council, in cooperation with the Student Senate is sponsoring a Christmas Party for all KSC students at the college camp this Friday (Dec. 10) at 8 p.m. There will be a bonfire and gala refreshments. Directions will be available at the Union desk. (Bring warm clothes).

ATTENTION CLASS OF '74!!
There will be an end of the semester class meeting on Thursday, December 9, 1971 at 7:00 p.m. It is a most important meeting!! I urge you to attend this meeting. Please BE THERE!!! (Commuters Lounge Student Union).

STUDENT TEACHER REGISTRATION

Registration for student teaching for second semester (Spring 1972) will be held in the Science Center room 101 at 4:00 on December the 14th.

KEENE VOLKSWAGEN

AUTHORIZED VW
DEALER IN THE
MONADNOCK REGION

357-0700
KEY RD., KEENE, N.H.

QUALITY SHOPPE

84 Main St.
Keene, N.H.

Casual and sports wear

What you don't know about diamonds can cost
you money!

I'm proud of where he bought my diamond!

Will she be proud or embarrassed when friends ask where you bought her diamond? And, will you be embarrassed about the price you paid for the quality received? Today, there are no "bargains" in diamonds. You save no more—often lose—when you try to cut corners. Your knowledgeable American Gem Society member jeweler—one with a local reputation to safeguard and standards to maintain—is your wisest choice. Moreover, she will be proud to know her diamond came from us. Don't disappoint her. You save because Simon's buys directly from South Africa, eliminating such middlemen as the importer, the manufacturer and the wholesaler. And that is why Simon's can guarantee to refund in full your purchase price if you can buy a diamond of the same QUALITY anywhere else for less. Buy a Simon's Treasure Chest diamond for as little as 75 dollars, budget if you wish and take up to two years to pay.

1941-SIMON'S-1971

Diamond Anniversary

82 Main St. 352-3219 Keene, N.H.
Also Brattleboro, Vt.

Monadnock Editorial

SSS AND EDUCATION

The New Hampshire university system is as acutely aware as anyone of the dismal state of financial disarray which the state is presently experiencing. It is therefore with open arms that we greet the governor's proposed solution to the crisis — a state income tax.

The state university (along with N.H.'s education program in general) was one of the chief fatalities of budget cutbacks which were dictated last year by both the lack of funds in the state treasury and some mistaken priorities within the N.H. State legislature.

Each KSC student has personally felt the financial pinch in the form of skyrocketing tuition rates. A permanent halt in faculty pay raises seems like a cut amid the rising costs of inflation; but most tragic of all, the financial strain is slowly eating away at the quality of education which Keene is able to offer.

A 50% cutback in KSC's capital improvements budget has stymied the growth of KSC's academic plant (both faculty and classroom space) at a time when growth is needed most. The spiralling population of Keene students has not been matched by growth in faculty size and classroom space. Thus, freshman are left with few, if any, courses to choose from and the college still has a difficult time in finding room to teach all these students.

Not only must classes be held in dormitories, but existing space has become badly overcrowded. The English, music and history departments have had to fight for so much as closet space within Morrison Hall (the faculty lounge was most recently awarded to the music department) but the state refuses funds for a liberal arts building.

It is also very difficult to hold the line on admissions when tuition costs pay more than 55% of the college's bills.

It is painfully obvious that the state will have to come up with much more revenue before KSC sees any relief; and more taxes is never a popular solution. The tax proposal which the governor is now planning, however, would not only draw more revenue (which could be funnelled into the university) it would shift the base of taxation from a medieval, illogical system to a more equitable one.

Although the governor's exact proposal has not yet been finalized, he has conceded that he is considering a 2.5% income levy with exemptions of $5500 to $6000 for a family of four. Not only would such a proposal generate needed funds, but the $25 million in new revenue which the governor plans to send back to the local communities would provide ample property tax relief. This would, if effect, shift the burden of taxation from the poor and the elderly to those who have the ability to pay.

The fiscal picture in New Hampshire is frightening. Not only do we face crisis of a lack of funds, but our present reliance on property taxes is both illogical and unethical.

Students and faculty should take the opportunity of the governor's visit to KSC today (2:30 p.m., Waltz Lecture Hall) to encourage his efforts to bring money into the state treasury. Each of us certainly feels the need for it.

THE MONADNOCK

THE MONADNOCK is published weekly throughout the school year by the students of Keene State College. MONADNOCK offices are located on the 3rd floor of the Student Union on Appian Way. Phone: 352-7309.

All opinions expressed in MONADNOCK editorials are those of THE MONADNOCK and not necessarily those of the administration or faculty of Keene State College. All copy should be typed (double-spaced). Copy deadline is 5 p.m. Monday.

THE MONADNOCK subscribes to College Press Service (CPS), Alternative Features, Syndicate (AFS), Washington Campus News (WCNS) and Metro Associated Services.

THE STAFF

EXECUTIVE EDITOR: Ron Boisvert
EDITORIAL BOARD: Ron Boisvert, Marty Gings, Don Grissom, Paul LeMire, Sheila Lemos, David Worster; NEWS EDITOR: Marty Gings; BUSINESS MANAGER: Donna Adinoro; ADVERTISING MANAGER: Bob Lyle; CONTRIBUTING EDITORS: Paul LeMire, David Worster; SPORTS EDITOR: Mike Tardif; CARTOONIST: Pat Gilmartin; STAFF REPORTERS: Eric Gilmartin, Gerry Flotte, Joe Pappo, Mike O'Leary, Brenda Belanger; PHOTOGRAPHERS: Bill Gars, Nate Carey, Byron O'Brien; MAKE-UP: Pat LaPre, Mike O'Leary, Brenda Belanger, Madors Hebert, Bill Gars; COMPOSITORS: Gerry Flotte, Marcia Hall, Judy Preston, John Hyatt, Anne-Marie Brodeur.

The Same Old Story

By DAVID WORSTER

Once again the KSC student body has proven just how much they pay attention to the workings of their college, even when the college attempts to keep them informed and allows them a chance to air their views.

This time the problem is with the manual pre-registration procedure which is now in operation. Several sophomores, who had legitimate fears of what the new system might mean, organized a meeting between themselves and the Ad Hoc Registration Committee. This activity among the students is to be commended, but the question still echoes, unanswered, in the face of not much satisfaction gained: why did they wait until the morning (or rather the night before) to voice their alarm?

A Commentary

In September, an article was published in this newspaper notifying the student body that a committee had been set up to study new ways of registration with the hope of avoiding some of the tremendous hassles, traumas, and pressures of previous disasters (with which we have all had experience). Editorials were written, students having suggestions were asked to bring them forward for discussion; not one student bothered.

Three weeks ago, the schedule for pre-registration was released with an accompanying news article which offered words of explanation: It was reprinted in the following week's issue. Again, no response.

And then, out of the blue (as it were), when it was too late to accomplish anything constructive; the students suddenly began to cry out over real or imagined (perhaps anticipated) injustices in the system. What did they hope to achieve?

This is not to say that the system is perfect — obviously it isn't. The strain of too many students on too few faculty with too little money to work with and no money to relieve the burden is beginning to show. This has been a major problem at Keene for quite awhile; and, given the usual promptness of our legislators in Concord, it will continue to be so for some time to come. It will take the combined efforts of students, faculty, and administrators to bring about some kind of reasonable adjustment to these sad facts; not a lot of overwrought, emotional walling at a meeting which places the administration on the defensive against the students and serves only to calm the fears of another nightmare with some very unconvincing rhetoric.

The one good to come from this encounter is that Dean Davis and the Registration Committee will meet with those students who encountered problems on Tuesday, December 14th, to attempt some solutions. At best, however, this is merely a stop gap measure; the real problem still lurks, unsolved, with every student.

I look forward to the day when KSC students will accept the burden of responsibility and start helping to plan this methods by which this college will operate. I look forward to the day when KSC students won't feel screwed by the Administration because they made themselves heard early enough to be listened to while something could still be done. I look forward to the day, but that day seems as though it just might never come.

GRIPES ABOUT PREREGISTRATION?

Air them at an open meeting with the Ad Hoc Committee on Preregistration, Tuesday, Dec. 14 at 10 a.m. in the Student Union Conference Room. This meeting is being held to see if the arguments against the present order of registering are valid.

KLEENE STRATE COLLEGE

by Pat Gilmartin

LETTERS

FROSH BEFORE SOPH'S?

To the Editor:

Recently I found out that the Frosh class here at KSC will be registering before the sophomore class. What goes on here anyway? Registration, as I am sure any student can tell you, is a hassle — a hassle WE have ALL been through.

I really hate to sound like somebody's Uncle Mike or something, but for God's sake if we had to go through it, why can't they?

I think the upper-classmen here should really find out what kind of golden touch the new kids on the block must have with the administration to pull off such a good deal.

Every year the frosh class gets bigger and bigger. Next year's freshman class will undoubtedly surpass this year's number. Now suppose they decide that registration is just too much for them to handle, too.

Will this year's freshman class be willing next year when you are sophomores to step back, risk losing courses that you need and permit the class of '76 to move on in ahead of you? I doubt it seriously.

I really think that it is unethical to let the freshmen register before the sophomores, juniors, or seniors. Naturally as a sophomore I might be a little more bitter than a junior or a senior, but we as upper classmen have requirements to meet in order to complete our majors in less time than the freshmen do. Our need to fulfill our requirements may not be as great as a junior's or senior's, but it is greater than a freshman's. He still has two catching up semesters on us just as we did last year when we were freshmen.

Let's get together, sophomores and protect our interests here a little. Registration isn't quite as far off as it seems. Do you want to be shut out of courses next spring by not only upperclassmen, but by underclassmen as well?

Let's see what can be done in order to retain our proper registration position.

Jim Johnston '74

ERROR NOTED

To the Editor:

A comment is in order on your article entitled "Senate to Reconsider Membership." The recommendations of the Ad Hoc Committee on College Senate Representation, as listed in the story, contained several errors. Unfortunately, a member of our committee saw fit to leak portions of our report (the least this person could have done was to leak the report accurately) before the report was completed and before the report was forwarded to the College Senate Executive Committee. I hope your readership will await our final and completed report before passing judgment.

Thomas M. Stauffer
Assistant Dean

OPEN LETTER

An Open Letter to Santa Claus
Dear Santa,

After having reviewed my actions of the previous year and evaluating them according to Amy Vanderbilt's Book of Etiquette and Robert's Rules of Order, I conclude, modestly and without bias, that I deserve the maximum amount of gifts this Christmas.

Now that I've gotten my self-justification out of the way, please ponder my personal petition for the following frivolous fabulous fineries. First, one bottle of Universal Cosmic Awareness. Second, an understanding of the innate idiosyncracies inherent in human nature. Lastly, two pairs of frilly leopard underwear and a partridge in a pear tree.

If my invoice cannot be processed in time (you know how those computers are), whistle Yankee Doodle backwards three times while whirling a dead dwarf over your head. You will then be absolved of the sins of your parents.

Pasquale Kaputo

Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm
Is Running for President

Washington, D.C. (CPS)— CPS: In terms of your candidacy for president, what are some of the problems you expect to encounter? What support do you think you can rely on from black leadership and in the black community? Where do you think your support will come from and how strong is it?

CHISHOLM: First of all it must be clearly understood that I did not initiate the candidacy. About six months ago groups of women and young people came to me, after they realized some of the persons courage to make some dramatic changes and movements within this system.

Those who have been benefiting from the system are not going to turn anything over or give anything to anyone else. Why would they? They've been the beneficary. And that's what's hard about it, they can't accept women being in the political arena.

CPS: As far as your candidacy is concerned, you are still not ruling out the possibility that you would still actively cam-who were aspiring to this high office, they asked me to consider being some sort of viable alternative. They were sick and tired of constantly looking at the same politicians coming back quadri-annually to secure the votes of the American people, coming up once again with their marvelous platforms, only to find out later that after these people got into office, their platforms, only were meaningless and irrelevant. And they felt that on the basis of having watched me in action for three years on the American national scene, that I was indeed a new breed of emerging political figure.

An Interview

I have integrity—which is very important to many people who seem to have negative feelings about a majority of our politicians. Secondly they told me frankly that they admired my courage and guts to move ahead and do what I have to do if I really felt it was important. They liked the fact that I do not straddle, and am not afraid to step into a controversial area though many persons would not step into a controversy because of political expediency. In other words, they admire my stamina, my courage, my guts. Last but not least, they feel that I have real leadership potential. Therefore, they came to me and asked me to consider making the bid.

I was a bit reluctant at first because I'm constantly cognizant of the fact that I'm black and a woman. I threw the challenge back to them—I told them if they were really seriously considering my candidacy they have to do more than give me lip service and moral support, although that's important. I said I would not be backed by big business interests or by big labor interests. The very fact that I dare to say that I'm going to run for the presidency of this country immediately makes these interest groups, who have been beneficiaries of the status quo politically, begin to try to stop Shirley Chisholm.

The American people have to raise the money for me to go into three or four primaries where I can make an excellent showing, and go to the convention in July and be a real force to be reckoned with.

I found my supporters were really serious. They began to form organizations and groups for fundraising endeavors, and today in 25 states, there are rudiments of Shirley Chisholm for President organizations in the making. Over 21 fundraising benefits are being planned, not only in about 20 areas here, but one in Africa and a Caribbean country, in order to give me the financial backing that I need. Shirley Chisholm is now a household word in this country.

I run because of the need in America for a different kind of candidacy and I am a catalyst for change. I truly believe that change can come about within the system. I am a part of this system, I'm a part of the Establishment. I believe that this system can be made to work, but it's going to need people who have the aries. So you always need people who have daring and courage, and I am prepared to take the consequences.

Many ask if I realize that I might be damaging myself, politically. But I'm not interested in politics just to keep a seat. I'm interested in politics in terms of how I can shake the system up to make it responsive.

CPS: At the Northlake conference, one of the concerns was just which interests you would represent — would there be a conflict between women as a political force and black people in this country. Are there problems in reconciling the interests of both groups?

CHISHOLM: There would be absolutely no problem. What many of the men don't want to say, or say in the open, is that their egos are very hurt by my candidacy.

While they have been rapping, I have been mapping, and planning, and while they were at that conference, I was in New Mexico and Texas talking to people to be behind me. I've got the ball, and I started with it six months ago.

What has happened is some of them are embarrassed. Some of them have realized whether or not they endorse me, I am going to run.

If there is a black man in this country today that can get the kind of backing that I have, representing a broad segment of this society, I'll back that man. Why don't they put the cards on the table? Black male politicians are no different from white male politicians. First of all they're both human beings and it's hard for them to deal with a woman who is aggressive, and has developed a following, a woman who knows where she is going, and says to them, "come with me if you want to, don't come with me if you don't

Better Luck Next Time Dept.

FALL 1971 FINAL EXAM SCHEDULE

COURSE NO. TITLE INSTRUCTOR ROOM

Friday, December 17, 1971 -- 9:00-11:00 A.M.

Bio 100 A	Human Biology	Cunningham	S 101
Bio 101 A	General Botany	Goder	S 211
Bio 365	Plant Form & Development	Gregory	S 207
Ed 303 A	Principles of Ed (El-Sec)	Sweeney	M 73
Ed 310	Intro. Early Child. Ed.	Saunders	M 83
Ed 378 A	Foundations of Reading	Austin	M 84
SpEd 303	Sch. & Com. Train. for Ment.	Bachelor	A 1
Eng 101 A	Freshman Composition	Aldrich	M 74
Eng 101 C	Freshman Composition	Grayson	M 82
Eng 108 A	Intro. to Poetry	Sullivan	M 83
Fr 101 A	Intro. to World Geography	Langford	S 115
Geog 101 A	Intro. to French	White	S 111
Hist 120	Ideas & Concepts in Am. Hist.	Bisson	M 86
IE 130 A	General Metals	Duddy	Bu219
TE 145	Manufacturing Processes	Oss	AT11
TE 161	Electricity-Electronics	Trabucco	AT12
Sci 161 A	Physical Science	Bentley	S 129
Hath 101 D	Fundamentals of Math	Mosley	S 117
PE 214	Skills & Techniques	Thoulen	C 113
PE 355 A,B	Intro. to Coaching	Herndon/King	Gym
PE 403 B	Health in Public Schools	Lourie	G 111
Phys 141 A	The Physical Universe	Kenney	S 317
Psych 201 A,G	General Psychology	Staff	S 102
Soc 201 A	Intro. Sociology	Hildebrandt	M 71

Friday, December 17, 1971 -- 12:30-2:30 P.M.

Chem 190 A	Survey	Nickas	S 129
Chem 223	Organic Chemistry III	Neil	S 213
Astr 331	Astronomy	Giovannangeli	S 201
Ed 231 A	Introduction to Teaching	Lohman/DeSantis	S 101/102
Ed 361	Tech. Soc. Stud. Sec. School	Congdon	M 87
Ed 379	PE. in Elem. School (P.E. majors)	MacMillan	Gym
Eng 302 A	Hist. of Eng. Language	Nugent	M 86
Hist. 301	Creek History	Harvey	M 83
IE 124	Intro. to Home Economics	Huang	M 81
IE 120 A,B	Engineering Drawing	Taylor/Andrews	Bu202
IE 170 A	Woodworking	Duddy	Bu219
IE 260	Power Mechanics	Doble	Bu115
Math 353	Differential Equations	Regopoulos	Gym
PE 263	Skills & Techniques	Thoulen/Butcher	Gym
Psych 201 B	General Psychology	Staff	S 209
Soc 415	Native Man & His Phys. Env. in N.A.	Havill	S 109

COURSE NO. TITLE INSTRUCTOR ROOM

Friday, December 17, 1971 -- 3:00-5:00 P.M.

Art 103 A	Introduction to Art	Freedman	S 102
Bio 100 B	Human Biology	Cunningham	S 101
Bio 301	Genetics	Gianferrari	S 307
Bio 313	Special Problems	Goder	S 310
Chem 111 A	General Chemistry	Nickas	S 129
DA 205 A	Fundamentals of Speech	Stuart	S 203
Geol 201	Principles of Geology	Haley	S 213
Econ 201 A	Principles of Economics	Franklin	M 73
Ed 201	Human Growth & Development	Rousseau	S 121
Ed 303 B	Teaching Foreign Languages	DuBois	S 121
Ed 365	Foundations of Reading	Raulin	M 84
Ed 378 B	Audio-Visual Instruction	Lovering	P 9
Ed 403 A	Educational Evaluations	Blackator	M 85
Ed 410 A	Exceptional Child Clinic I	Shepherd	M 83
SpEd 313	Freshman Composition	Antrim	M 81
Eng 101 D	Freshman Composition	Benaquist	M 81
Eng 101 E	Conversation & Composition	Wynn	C.Cen.
Fr 315	Elementary German	Bachelor	S 127
Ger 101	Conversation & Composition	Flaming	L.S.R.2
Sp 315	Conversation & Composition	White	S 111
Geog 101 B	Introduction to World Geography	Granaquist	M 86
Hist 103 A	West. Civ. 1715-Present	Leinster	M 71
Hist 104 A	Soviet Russia: 1917-Present	Casey	P.Aud.
Hist 352	Era of American Rev. to 1800	Wheelock	M 72
Hist 389	Black History	Keller	M 87
IE 303	Nutrition	Chickering	B1
IE 140 C	Graphic Arts	Taylor	Bu 219
IE 210	Electronics	Trabucco	AT12
TE 261	Numerical Control	Aldrich	AT11
Sci 161 B	Physical Science	Giovannangeli	S 201
Math 101 A	Fundamentals of Mathematics	Peters	S 117
Math 115 A	Finite Mathematics	Abbud	S 119
Math 115 D	Finite Mathematics	Goff	S 115
Math 151 A	Calculus I	Tourgee	S 125
Mu 355	Music Theory I	Bird	M 78
Mu 355	Music in Elem/Sec Schools	Morris	G 113
PE 101 A	Prin. of Health, P.E. & Rec.	MacMillan	G 111
PE 101 B	Prin. of Health, P.E. & Rec.	Kahr	Gym
PE 253	Skills & Techniques	King/Bovinet	Gym
Psych 201 C	General Psychology	Staff	S 209
Psych 221 A	Social Psychology	Jenkins	S 211

Saturday, December 18, 1971 -- 9:00-11:00 A.M.

Bio 107 A	Principles of Ecology	Gregory	S 102
Bio 412	Special Problems	Goder	S 310
Chem 221	Organic Chemistry I	Neil	S 207
Chem 342	Physical Chemistry II	Stepenuck	S 209
DA 205 B	Fundamentals of Speech	Guidotti	P 1
Geol 311	Optical Crystallography	Layman	S 203
Econ 201 C	Principles of Economics	Hayn	S 211
Ed 403 B	Audio-Visual Instruction	Lovering	P 9
Eng 101 F	Freshman Composition	Aldrich	M 73

Eng 101 G

Eng 101 G	Freshman Composition	Benaquist	M 81
Eng 251	Introduction to Literature	Sullivan	S 125
Eng 253	American Literature: Colonial-1865	Cunningham	M 87
Eng 262	American Literature: 1920-1945	Waddy	M 83
Eng 442	Modern Short Story	Jones	M.R.L.
Fr 101 B	Literary Criticism	Langford	S 119
Fr 481	Elementary French	DuBois	L.S.R.1
Sp 101	Seminar in French	Kerr	S 127
Hist 101 B	Elementary Spanish	Harvey	M 86
Hist 365	West. Civ. Origins to 565 A.D.	Bisson	M 86
Hist 371 A	American Social History	Doble	Bu115
IE 160 C	Women's Rights in the U.S.	Oss	Bu219
Sci 115	Power Mechanics	Burrill	S 201
Sci 161 C	Metal Fabrication (Drafting/Design)	Tourgee	S 121
Math 133	Physical Science	Mosley	S 117
Math 207	Introductory Calculus	Mu	M 70
Mu 103 C	Introduction to Probability	Coder	M 78
Mu 209	Fundamentals of Music	Bovinet	G 113
PE 202 A	Music Theory III	MacMillan	G 110
PE 401	Outdoor Recreation	Quirk	S 317
Phys 141 C	The Physical Universe	Davis	S 113
Soc 201 A	Intro. to Political Science	Ross	S 115
Soc 401	Sociological Theory	Hildebrandt	M 71-2
Soc 425	Race Relations

Saturday, December 18, 1971 -- 1:00-3:00 P.M.

Bio 272	Histology	Gianferrari	S 307
Geol 274	Mineralogy	Layman	S 203
Eng 108 B	Introduction to Poetry	Sullivan	M 88
Eng 201	English Literature: 900-1600	Benaquist	M 87
Eng 226	American Lit. 1945-Present	Jones	M 73
Eng 335	Creative Writing	Koddy	M 74
Eng 404	Victorian Era	Aldrich	L.S.R.1
Fr 221	Theory & Practice of Poetry	Battenfeld	C.Cen.
Geog 101 C	Survey of French Literature	Wynn	S 111
Hist 101 A	Introduction to World Geography	Hobart	S 111
Hist 333	Intro. to Origins to 565 A.D.	Granaquist	M 86
IE 160 B	Application of Vocational Ed.	Huang	M 81
IE 230	Power Mechanics	Doble	Bu115
IE 250	General Metals	Tisdale	AT11
TE 151	Machine Shop	Aldrich	AT11
	Technical Drafting I	Haves	AT12

Saturday, December 18, 1971 -- 1:00-3:00 P.M. cont.

Math 101 B	Fundamentals of Mathematics	Peters	S 117
Math 482	Topology Reading	Goff	S 113
Mu 103 A	Fundamentals of Music	Havill	M 78
Phil 205	Logic	Hornbeck	S 209
PE 202 B	Physiology of Exercise	Bovinet	C 113
PE 403 A	Health in Public Schools	Lourie	C 111
Psych 457	Skills & Techniques	MacMillan	G 110
Psych 363	Psychology of Learning	Andrews	S 211
Soc 201 B	Introductory Sociology	Hildebrandt	S 125
Soc 301	Research Methods-Beh. Sciences	LePerte	S 115

Monday, December 20, 1971 -- 9:00-11:00 A.M.

Bio 107 B	Principles of Ecology	Cunningham	S 101
Bio 353	Microbiology	Gianferrari	S 307
DA 205 C	Vertebrate Zoology	Stuart	M 88
Geol 100 A	Field Zoology	Haley	S 203
Econ 201 B	Vertebrate Zoology	Hayn	S 213
SpEd 408	Fundamentals of Speech	Franklin	M 83
Eng 101 H	Nature/Needs-Emotion. Disturbed	Battenfeld	M 82
Eng 101 I	Freshman Composition	Fosher	M 81
Eng 101 J	Freshman Composition	Grayson	M 83
Eng 202	Freshman Composition	Antrim	M 87
Eng 302 B	English Lit: 1780-1914	Nugent	M 86
Fr 321	History of English Language	DuBois	L.S.R.2
Fr 355	Contemporary Literature	Wynn	L.S.R.1
Ger 201	Drama of Classical Period	Bachelor	S 127
Geog 104	Intermediate German	Flaming	C.Cen.
Geog 104 B	Survey of Spanish Literature	White	S 111
Hist 325	Physical Geography	Young	S 305
Hist 336	West. Civ. from 1715-Present	Granaquist	M 71
Hist 358 A	France Since 1814	Keller	H.R.L.
Hist 361	Nineteenth Century Germany	Wheelock	M 85
Hist 396	Am in the Mod. Era, 1945-Pres.	Casey	M 72
Math 101 C	American Westward Expansion	Greer	AT12
Math 115 C	Latin American History	Burrill	S 201
Math 131 A	Physical Science	Peters	S 117
Math 131 C	Fundamentals of Mathematics	Abbud	S 119
Mu 107	Finite Mathematics	Goff	S 115
Mu 307	Algebra & Trigonometry (I.E.)	Tourgee	S 125
Phil 204 A	Calculus I	Bird	M 78
PE 201	Music Literature	Morris	G 113
PE 303	Music in Elem/Sec Schools	MacMillan	G 111
Phys 100	Prin. of Health, P.E. & Rec.	Kahr	Gym
Phys 242	Prin. of Health, P.E. & Rec.	King/Bovinet	Gym
Psych 420	Skills & Techniques	Staff	S 209
Soc 201 C	General Psychology	Jenkins	S 211

Monday, December 20, 1971 -- 12:30-2:30 P.M.

Bio 312	Biological Literature	Gianferrari	S 307
Ed 304	Fundamentals of Speech	Guidotti	P 1
Eng 109	Labor Economics	Hayn	S 213
Eng 211	Foundations of Industrial Education	Andrews	S 125
Eng 305	Introduction to Drama	Rieth	L.S.R.2
Fr 334	Introduction to Journalism	Lyle	M 83
	French Phonetics	Kerr	C.S.R.
	Development of the Novel	Hildebrandt	M 71-2

Ger 305	German Phonetics	Kerr	C.S.R.
Sp 315	Conversation & Composition	Wynn	C.Cen.
Geog 203	Spanish Phonetics	Kerr	C.S.R.
Hist 104 B	Geog. of the U.S.	Havill	S 109
Hist 357	Ideas/Man/Con.-West.Civ. Ant.-1500	Leinster	M 71
Hist 371 B	America in Crisis: 1929-1945	Keller	M 88
IE 150 C	Women's Rights in the U.S.	Smart	M 86
IE 240	Food Preparation	Chickering	B1
TE 201	Machine Shop	Aldrich	AT11
TE 251	Drafting I	Taylor	Bu219
Math 312	Graphic Arts	Johnston	AT11
Mu 103 B	Calculus III	Regopoulos	S 121
PE 405	Modern Algebra	Abbud	S 119
Psych 201 D	Fundamentals of Music	Havill	M 78
Soc 201 F	Coaching	Booth	G 110
Soc 445	General Psychology	Staff	S 209
	Introductory Sociology	Ross	S 115
	Sociology of Religion	Hildebrandt	M 74

Monday, December 20, 1971 -- 3:00-5:00 P.M.

Art 103 B	Introduction to Art	Freedman	S 102
Bio 322	Field Botany	Gregory	S 307
Geol 100 B	Perspective of the Earth	Bentley	S 302
Ed 303 C	Principles of Education (Sec.)	Hastings	A 2
Eng 101 K	Freshman Composition	Jones	M 83
Eng 101 L	Freshman Composition	Reith	M 85
Eng 103 B	Backgrounds of Literature	Lyle	S 101
Eng 110 B	Introduction to Literary Crit.	Cunningham	M 82
Fr 201	Intermediate French	Langford	S 127
Geog 103	Human Geography	Bayr	S 111
Hist 355	Industrialization of U.S. 1877-1900	Smart	S 111
Hist 363	American Intel. Hist. to Civ. War	Bisson	L.S.R.2
IE 210	Textiles	Eaves	B1
IE 320	Engineering Drawing	AT11
Sci 161 E	Physical Science	Giovannangeli	S 201
Math 131 B	Algebra & Trigonometry (Tech.)	Regopoulos	S 119
Math 131 D	Algebra & Trigonometry (Tech.)	Goff	S 115
Mu 311	History of West. Music	Coder	M 78
PE 301	Teaching Selected Sports	Staff	G 110
Phys 341	Optics and Acoustics	Quirk	S 317
Psoc 210	Intro to Pol. Science	Davis	S 213
Psych 311 A	Child Psychology	Thompson	S 209

FRANKLY SPEAKING by Phil Frank

© FRANKLY SPEAKING / BY PHIL FRANK / E. LAURINE, NOK

Tuesday, December 21, 1971 -- 9:00-11:00 A.M.

Bio 101 B	General Botany	Gregory	S 102
Bio 331	Field Zoology	Coder	S 305
Bio 350	Vertebrate Zoology	Cunningham	S 307
DA 205 E	Fundamentals of Speech	Stuart	M 88
Geol 305	Paleontology	Baylor	S 203
Ed 410 B	Educational Evaluation	Blackator	M 85
SpEd 301	Nature & Needs of H. Hand.	DeVold	M 16
SpEd 403	Communication Disorders	Franklin	A 2
SpEd 411	Individual Testing	Shepherd	A 1
Eng 101 M	Freshman Composition	Nugent	M 81
Eng 252	American Lit: 1865-1920	Battenfeld	M 73
Eng 311	Shakespeare I	Benaquist	M 87
Eng 331	17th Cent. Poetry & Prose	Grayson	L.S.R.1
Ger 334	Development of the Mod. Novel	Bachelor	S 121
Geog 307	Intermediate Spanish	Kerr	S 127
Sp 201	Geography of Soviet Union	White	S 109
Hist 102	West. Civ. from 565-1715	Harvey	M 86
Hist 104 C	Ideas/Man/Con.-West.Civ. Ant.-1500	Casey	M 71
Hist 320	Intel. & Cult. Hist. of Europe	Granaquist	M 78
Hist 491	Seminar in American History	Wheelock	C.S.R.
TE 211	Machine Shop III	Oss	AT11
TE 291	Electronic Drafting	Bu219	S 125
Math 115 A	Finite Mathematics	Tourgee	M 70
Mu 176	College Music	Hornbeck	M 74
Phil 204 B	Introduction to Philosophy	Thoulen/Butcher	Gym
PE 161	Skills & Techniques	Staff	S 209
Psych 201 E	General Psychology	Ross	S 115
Soc 201 D	Introductory Sociology

Tuesday, December 21, 1971 -- 1:00-3:00 P.M.

Chem 111 B	General Chemistry	Nickas	S 129
Chem 121	General Chemistry I	Stepenuck	S 102
SpEd 406	Child W/Learning Disabilities	Franklin	S 125
Eng 101 O	Freshman Composition	Antrim	M 83
Eng 103 A	Backgrounds of Literature	Lyle	S 101
Eng 492	Sec. Faulkner/Hemingway/Fitzgerald	Cunningham	A 1
Geog 101 D	Introduction to World Geography	Bayr	S 111
Hist 358 B	America in the Mod. Era: 1945-Pres.	Keller	M 73
IE 406	Home Management	Staff	B1
TE 110 A	Electronics I	Greer	AT11
TE 111	Machine Shop I	Burrill	AT11
Sci 136 B	Physical Science

Kerr	C.S.R.	Nath	101 F
Wynn	C.Cen.	Math	350
Kerr	C.S.R.	Mu	404
Havill	S 109	Phys	141 B
Leinster	M 71	Soc	201 E

STEINEM

Continued from Page 2

where she was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Miss Steinem appeared at Keene State last April, speaking with attorney Flor-yne Kennedy for the women's lib movement.

Her commitment to McGovern is explained largely by the Senator's record of strong support for women's rights legislation, such as the Women's Equality Act of 1971, and by his pledge to appoint women to positions of responsibility if he is elected President.

McGovern has announced his intention to include women in the Cabinet, the United Nations delegation and the National Security Council, and to appoint a woman to the Supreme Court if a vacancy occurs during his term of office. Discrimination against women, he has stated, "is morally wrong and socially wasteful. There are thousands of American women today who are eminently qualified to occupy positions now reserved for men only."

This year, Ms. Steinem received the Penney-Missouri Journalism Award, and was named Woman of the Year by Theta Sigma Phi, an association of women in communications.

CURIOUS ??

CURIOUS about what's going on at KSC? Do you wonder who runs things at KSC and how they run them? Do you care to know what presidential candidates have to say? Do you want to watch the changing face of Keene State College each week? If you want to be part of a workable and effective communications medium, join The Monadnock News Staff.

Our editorial and feature staff is where you can write about anything from taxes, unemployment and politics to Ionesco or Stravinsky.

Or if sports is your thing you can write about KSC's tournament-bound basketball team. There's also women's sports and intramurals to cover.

Our photo department gives you a chance to learn photo journalism from scratch—or to develop skills you already have.

And if you like money-making you can get involved in field than really keeps newspapers alive—advertising. You can gain valuable experience in ad layout and selling (and get a lucrative commission on every ad you sell.)

So whatever your interests are there's room on the Monadnock staff for you. No experience is necessary—we're here to give you experience. Drop by the Monadnock offices (3rd floor Student Union) anytime or call 352-7309.

join the staff

Photo by O'Brien

HOLIDAY WARNING: DRIVE CAUTIOUSLY! A 3-car accident on upper Court St. Monday night injured four persons, causing $2,600. in damages. Keene police attribute the accident to slippery conditions.

POLITICAL CLIMATE

Continued from Page 1

candidacy.

Young Democrats and Young Republicans—The total membership of the YR is zero, not counting the four officers. However, president Larry Blandini is hoping for a much better response second semester.

"I just wish that we could get through people's heads that we are not some sort radical organization," he said. "Many times, we don't even talk politics. Our purpose is to stimulate political activity on campus. We aren't here to support any candidate or take positions on issues."

Tuesday saw a debate sponsored by the YR between Republican and Democratic professors. More such activities are hoped for the future.

The Young Democrats have between ten and twenty members, but in all reality president Fred Jenne finds himself doing most of the work.

Last year the YD sponsored a talk at Keene by a professor from Kent State, and Jenne is trying to do similar things this year.

As one may gather, the political activity at Keene State College is not at its peak. In fact, it just might be at its low. Said Fred Jenne, "There's more interest in the high schools than there is here."

Thomas Stauffer also noted a decline in political interest at the college, and a representative from the McGovern student committee state, "Although most students want to know about the candidates, none of them want to work for one."

It is therefore rather hard to interpret the political climate on campus. The McGovern people hope to find out just how many students have registered to vote, and the number cannot be expected to be extremely high.

If the campus does decide as a whole to become interested politically, the chances are that the Democrats would receive the widest support.

According to a survey taken in the spring of 1970, after the massacre at Kent State, 34 per cent of 488 students polled at KSC consider themselves as Democrats, with 25 per cent categorizing themselves as Republican and 40 per cent as independents. This compares with national figures of 35, 14, and 51 per cent (Gallup poll, Oct. 10, 1971).

The Yorty people are very optimistic. A spokesman in Manchester said that at a recent speech before 1,200 high school students, Yorty received a ten-minute standing ovation. He cautiously hopes for a similar reaction on the New Hampshire campuses.

At the moment, though, every person who was talked to agreed that the activity and interest on campus is nil. This might be due to the type of college Keene State is—either local students or city get-away-from-it-all students who really couldn't care less—or it might be the disillusionment of most students toward politics, or it might be an off-year.

Whatever the case, the vast majority of candidates will probably have a difficult time stirring any activity at Keene State.

As one student told a Nixon representative last week who was searching for some people to lead a Nixon campaign in Keene, "You're barking up the wrong tree."

Some of the candidates who come to New Hampshire are going to wonder if they're even in the right forest.

FORGOTTEN ATHELETE

By PETE HANRAHAN

I wonder how many people on campus are familiar with Al Preston. It's about time the campus was exposed to this truly dedicated long distance runner.

For four years Preston has toiled over hundreds of miles of roads and trails, representing his school on the varsity cross country team.

As far as style goes, Preston is the most awkward thing that ever hit the sport. His legs are short, he takes too long a stride, and he is short on wind. In order to make the top ten on this year's team, Preston had to run every day this past summer and twice a day during the regular season.

On The Inside

His hard work has been noticed by few. He does not have much to say. Some wonder what ever happened to the athlete who "neither drinks, smokes, nor swears." Preston is this type of guy. He can be seen frequently walking alone, late at night.

Preston owns all the qualities of an obscure, unnoticed human being, but more importantly, he epitomizes everything that makes the dedicated athlete a noble creature.

Photo by Gaw

One of KSC's Cross Country skiers treks across the A-Field.

SKI TEAM ADDS FRESHMEN, INEXPERIENCED BUT HOPEFUL

The KSC ski team, which is headed this year by Keene insurance salesman George Leibie, is composed mainly of freshman who have not yet seen competitive action. Liebel thinks the team has possibilities, but that is still too early for judgement.

This year the ski team will be competing in the NESCAC and in division II of EISA (Eastern Intercollegiate Ski Association).

During the past two months the team has been busy in training with the coming of snow, the cross-country team has worked out on the A-field and on a x-country course at Pinnacle Mt. while the alpine team has run slalom gates at Pinnacle and gotten in shape at Maple Valley.

The events the team will be competing in this year are slalom, giant slalom, cross country, and Nordic jumping. Downhill racing has been cancelled this year.

The men's training team consists of Tom Cone, alpine, x-country, jumping; Mike Zirn, alpine, jumping; Steve Ropitzky, alpine x-c; Don Hurley, alpine; Bill Gaw, alpine; Evan Nystedt, alpine; Tim Wade, alpine; John Daniel, alpine, jump-

Hoop Owls Squeak By 86-84; Roll 101-60

By PETE HANRAHAN

Owls opened their 1971-1972 season with a win over Farmington State on Wednesday. Jose DeCaussey stole the show with his offensive heroics. Not only did he sink the game winning basket with two seconds remaining, but he also scored a game total of 45 points. DeCaussey scored from underneath, from inside, and from outside. The only other Owl in double figures was Captain Kevin O'Leary. He scored 12.

The Owls started off with a barrage and it looked like a rout. But Farmington stormed back and held a consistent seven to ten point lead until midway through the second half.

Owl Coach Glenn Theulen tried all types of player combinations in an effort to catch Farmington. But for the first thirty minutes of the game, Keene could not gain ground on an obviously less talented Farmington team.

Keene finally caught up with around ten minutes left. Randy Bowman, Kevin O'Leary and Stan Spiro were all helping DeCaussey offensively and playing good all around basketball. On the merits of a team effort, led by forward Barry Peaco (29 points), Farmington kept the game see-saw to the finish.

Freshmen Phil Pena, Jim Drew, and Ron Pierson all played their first game for Keene. Pena excited the crowd with his aggressive rebounding and defense. Drew showed great offensive promise if not polish. Pierson was scared, but Coach Theulen knows he can shoot. He averaged 35 points per game with Kimball Union Academy last winter.

SUMMERS' SKI & MOUNTAIN CENTER

John Summers KSC '56

Darryl Leduc KSC '71

Specialists in Skiing, XC Skiing, Backpacking and Mountaineering. Rental equipment.

CROSS COUNTRY

Asnes and Jarvinen Skis. San Marco, Falk, and the latest Alfa boots.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Ed Bergeron's INC.
EIGHTY-SEVEN MAIN
KEENE, N. H.

BASKETBALL STATISTICS

Player	Points	High Game	Ave.
DeCaussey	63	45	31.5
O'Leary	27	15	13.5
Bowman	22	18	11.0
Drew	18	10	9.0
Tinker	15	13	7.5
Pena	14	10	7.0
Spiro	14	8	7.0
Pierson	7	7	3.5
Wheeler	3	3	3.0
Dunbar	4	3	2.0
Laurent	0	0	0.0

LANGUAGE EXAMS

All students who are continuing a language started in high school should take the language placement examination. (Not including the students currently enrolled in the language classes. They will be held on Friday (Dec. 10) from 3-5 p.m. in the language lab, Science Building.

WOMEN'S TENNIS

All women who are interested in representing KSC on the WOMEN'S TENNIS TEAM, sign up with Miss Herndon, 301, Spaulding Gymnasium, before Wed., Dec. 22.

RUSSELL'S CARD & GIFT SHOP

KEENE SHOPPING PLAZA

Your Giftmark Shop

JEWELRY AND GIFT DISTRIBUTORS, INC.

Buyers cards are necessary in order to make purchases. If you do not have one, please apply.

Gift Giving begins at R&R Jewelry & Gift Distributors. For the widest choice in Watches, Gold and Sterling Jewelry, and of course the ultimate gift, DIAMONDS.

We also have a large selection of gifts, sporting goods, Photographic supplies, clocks, luggage, appliances, ETC.

For the stereo enthusiast, we feature such nationally known brands as Panasonic, Hitachi, Scott, General Electric, Westinghouse, and Arvin. R&R-The showroom of name brand merchandise at Low Low distributor prices.

TRY US FOR A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS!

MARLBORO ST. LAUNDERETTE
Marlboro St. Opposite Fairbanks

OWLS ARE FIFTH IN NATION

The Keene State varsity soccer team ended its most successful season ever this weekend with a 19-2-0 mark. KSC ended its regular season with a 15-1 record and topped that to 18-1 with three victories in the NAIA

District 32 tourney. Keene defeated New Haven University 3-2 for the title and a trip to the National Tournament in Dunn, North Carolina where they ended up in fifth place.

After being bombed 8-1 by eventual tourney winner Quincy College, the Owls came back the next day to defeat Erskine College of Due West, South Carolina 4-2. Erskine had lost the night before to Westmont College of California 3-2 in five overtimes.

The "Flying Feet" of Charlie McGinnity, the nation's leading scorer, were completely dominated by the Owls. Keene outshot Erskine 27-14 with veteran Rit Swain collecting two goals. Swain ended the season with 26 goals and a career total of 62.

Keene was scheduled to play Newark College of Engineering, who was ranked 16th in the U.S. but an unusual snowstorm forced its cancellation. Keene and Newark were declared 5th place co-champions.

Halfback Mickey Rooney of Slough, England and winger Graham Jones of Slough were named to the All-Tournament team.

The Owls will lose only two members next year via graduation. Captain Steve Parker of Slough, England who has given the fans many an exciting performance over his 4 years and Rit Swain of Norwalk, Conn. who tallied 62 career goals will be missed next season. Keene had seven freshmen in the starting lineup this season and with a year's experience behind them they should be on the top of the pack next year.

"Next season will really be a challenge to me and the team as everyone will be out for us and we'll have special defenses set up for us," commented Owl Coach Ron Butcher.

Keene's booters broke almost every soccer record this season and will have to come up with a super effort next season to even approach this season's accomplishments.

MICKEY ROONEY (above) was named to the All-Tournament Team along with teammate Graham Jones.

photos by tardif

VIN CAMERON signs autograph for a young admirer.

RIT SWAIN (13) of Keene heads ball past Erskine goalie. Swain collected a total of 62 goals during his career at KSC.

SUNNY NORTH CAROLINA! KSC groundskeeper "Henry" poses with players at No. Carolina hotel after sudden snowfall.

The Polish-American Team Did What ??

Redondo Beach, California. Veteran race car driver Dan Gurney and Brock Yates, editor of Car and Driver magazine, won the Cannonball Baker Sea to Shining Sea Memorial Trophy Dash in a Ferrari Daytona two weeks ago. They now hold an unofficial record for a coast-to-coast drive with the time of 35 hours and 54 minutes for a drive from New York to the Portofino Inn on the Pacific Ocean.

Second place in the event, which had eight entrants, went to the Polish Racing Driver's of America team in a Chevrolet van sponsored by Briggs' Ferrari-Chevrolet of South Amboy, N.J. The team, which included Oscar Koveleski, Tony Adamowicz and Brad Niemcek, made the journey in 36 hours and 47 minutes.

They were able to achieve this amazing time by virtue of a special fuel system, made out of 55 gallon drums, which enabled them to leave New York with 298 gallons of gasoline aboard. They had thought that it would be possible for them to get to Portofino without a fuel stop but they later found it necessary to take on 78 gallons at Salt Lake City. The team had equipped the van with a good supply of tools, a bunk and a large number of Polish kiskies, which were baked by Mother T's, one of the team's sponsors.

Holding down third place, and the winner of the most traffic tickets in route, was 1971 Cadillac being driven by Larry Opert, Ron Herisko and Nate Pritzer of Cambridge, Mass. The team gathered 6 traffic violations and talked themselves out of a seventh. Their time for the run was 36 hours and 56 minutes and it should be noted that the Cadillac was of the "drive to deliver" type which was handed over to the unsuspecting owner on the West Coast.

The race, originally the brainchild of Yates, was designed to be a whimsical gesture of defiance at the regimen of current traffic laws. The biggest entrant was a 27 foot Travco mobile home entered by Bill Broderick for Union Oil. It reached the coast 7th in a time of 57 hours and 25 minutes.

The prize for best ticket must go to Dan Gurney, who received a speeding violation in Arizona for doing 135 mph in a 70 mph zone.

CLASSIFIEDS

FOR SALE: Getting married? Brand new 8 place set of stainless silverware, plus 6 serving pieces. $20. Call 352-5781.

Female student desires work over vacation, preferable typing or related work, but will consider practically anything. Call 352-7858.

A DOG, A DARKROOM AND A GRADUATE STUDENT need a home next term. Please write Jean Polhamus, 7 Saint Mark St., Jamaica Plains, Mass.

BRANDO'S

34 WASHINGTON STREET

HUNGRY
NUMBER

352-2434

STILL THE BEST
PIZZA+DELI SUBS
BY FAR!

BRING THIS TO BRANDO'S FOR
A 20% DISCOUNT
ON ORDERS OVER
$1.00

McGOVERN PLEDGES HONESTY

By ERIC MALONEY
Monadnock News Editor

Senator George McGovern, Democratic Presidential hopeful, completed a two-day tour of southern New Hampshire with an appearance at KSC Tuesday night. Taking the podium fifteen minutes behind schedule, McGovern gave a brief speech and spent the remainder of his time answering questions from the audience.

Much of the speech revolved around his claims to complete honesty and sincerity. He reiterated his promise that "never during the campaign will I advocate a course I don't honestly believe to be the truth."

He stated further that, "If I am elected President, I will never advocate secret policies behind closed doors that I would be ashamed to defend before the public."

The senior senator from South Dakota took a poke at the polltakers, stating that if the Romans had been polled in 60 A.D., Jesus Christ would have gotten only 2 per cent of the vote. He said that men and women were not necessarily those who followed the consensus, but were those who took chances.

In conclusion, McGovern once again pledged that his first action as President would be to "withdraw every American soldier from Indochina, lock, stock, and barrel."

Citing as an example of injustice tax loopholes that allow the wealthy to pay no taxes, he also promised to bring complete justice to America. "Meanwhile, the working man has his taxes taken out of his paycheck every week."

Much of the questioning concerned the Vietnam War and McGovern's past legislative record in relation to

Continued on Page 4

Senator George McGovern (D-S.D.)

Photo by Gao

Keene State College
Keene, N.H. 03431

THE MONADNOCK

Vol. XXIII, No. 13
Jan. 20, 1972

Jesus Freak To Head Rally

Arthur Blessitt, leader of the "Jesus People," who carried a cross from Los Angeles to New York to Washington, D. C., will be speaking at a rally Friday at Keene State College's Spaulding Gym at 8 p.m. Admission is free, but a voluntary offering will be taken to cover expenses. The public is invited.

Blessitt, an ordained Southern Baptist Minister from Louisiana, is one of the original leaders of the religious awakening among young people which began in 1967 on the West Coast and has received nationwide attention over the past two years.

Sunset Strip Minister

He operated the first Christian night-club in America on Sunset Strip in Hollywood when he ministered to hippies, bikers and black militants who were roaming the Strip in great numbers. Many became followers of Jesus Christ through his efforts.

In 1970 Blessitt carried an 80-pound cross on foot across the United States to dramatize the need for the nation to return to God. Last year he carried his Cross through England and Ireland and between hostile Catholics and Protestants in strife-ridden Belfast.

He arrived in New Hampshire last month and has been carrying his cross around the state to call attention to neglected spiritual and moral issues during the state's first-in-the-nation Presidential Primary campaign.

Carries Cross

Blessitt was accompanied by about 40 Keene area people yesterday when he carried his cross from the KSC Commons to the Central Square in downtown Keene. A banner leading the march read "Warning: You May Get Saved."

UNH Newspaper Backs McCloskey

The New Hampshire, the student newspaper of the University of New Hampshire, has announced its support for the presidential primary bid on Congressman Paul McCloskey (R-Cal.).

In an editorial on Jan. 11, New Hampshire Editor-in-Chief Lou Ureneck said McCloskey is the only man who "offers voters the opportunity to repudiate Nixon in March."

"He is an idealist with an unfaltering hope to restore morality and truth to a government thick with deceit," the editorial said.

Will Go to College Senate

LENGTHY STUDENT SENATE DEBATE STALLS ANTI-DISCRIMINATION BID

The Student Senate in its last meeting before vacation talked into limbo the Hildebrandt-Kerr suggestion that college recognition and student funds be withheld from "arbitrarily exclusive" organizations.

Dr. Charles A. Hildebrandt, professor of sociology, and Nora F. Kerr, professor of Spanish, said that they will now bring the matter before the College Senate. Hildebrandt reported that the proposal would not be ready before the Senate's February meeting, however.

The proposals would, in effect, make the KSC fraternities independent of the college, thus depriving them the use of the college name, and use of college funds.

Student senators voiced strong opposition to the proposals during a discussion with the two college senators at their Dec. 13 meeting.

Calling Hildebrandt and Kerr's decision to bring the question to the College Senate a "threat," Student Senator Nick Skaltsis charged that Hildebrandt and Kerr were "intimidating" the Student Senate.

"I don't see how I can intimidate the Senate," Hildebrandt replied. "The College Senate definitely does have jurisdiction here."

Public Monies

Hildebrandt explained that this jurisdiction lies with the deans and college staff who "advise and support" fraternities. "The use of public monies to supervise these groups is in violation of civil rights legislation," he said.

Hildebrandt and Kerr charged that fraternities and sororities practiced sex discrimination and that the use of public monies to find and advise groups which practice blackbaling is "probably against the law."

"I can't deny arbitrary exclusion," said Nick Skaltsis, a member of Alpha Pi Tau, "but I can defend it. If a person is not going to fit in in terms of what's going to hurt them, then blackbaling is a good thing."

"Irresponsible" Persons

Skaltsis also expressed concern about the money put into the frat houses and the danger of letting "irresponsible" persons into them.

Skaltsis said that Alpha had not blackballed anyone in the last two years. He also said that Dean of Men Ernest O. Gendron had not received a complaint over blackbaling in six years.

Nora Kerr said that just because the Dean hasn't had any complaints doesn't mean that anyone hasn't been involved.

Little Alloted

Fraternity members also pointed out that little money is actually allotted to fraternities by the Student Senate. Arguing against the point, Hildebrandt cited last year's $1800 San Francisco trip.

"It's a mistake to limit this to fraternities or sororities," Hildebrandt continued. "They have a right to exist, but I don't want any of our money to help support them."

Student Senate President Dave Kyle said Monday that there have been no proposals sent to him since the Dec. 13 meeting and that the matter will probably not be brought up again within the Student Senate.

Photo by Gingras

Volunteers aid students at Tuesday's voter registration drive. Pictured above are (l. to r.) students Bill Tillson, Candy MacMillan, Chuck Brereton (Volunteers for McCloskey), and Robert Heald (Keene supervisor of voting checklists).

Registration Turnout Good

The voter registration drive conducted during registration Tuesday helped about 500 students register to vote according to David Kyle, Student Senate president and head of the drive.

"The turnout was reasonably good," Kyle said. "I think that the drive pretty well covered the college voters and there won't be a need for another one."

The drive consisted of two tables near the end of the student registration line manned by four volunteers, three of whom were notary publics. They helped the new voters with the forms they were required to fill out.

Kyle said that quite a few students had already registered in their home towns. He also said that very few students refused to register.

According to Kyle, the idea of the drive came late last semester. "I think it's extremely important that every eligible student is registered. We certainly need a change in the leadership of the nation—we need more and better leaders—and the only way we can do this is to get students out to register and then have them get out and vote."

Richard Talbot, a Keene lawyer and notary public, was instrumental in the drive. He was assisted by Sherry Carbee, vice-president of the Student Senate and student volunteers Candy MacMillan and Chuck Brereton of the McCloskey for President Committee. Kyle and Bill Tillson directed the students to the tables.

Kyle said the drive has had substantial support from Doug Mayer, director of student activities, and also Robert Heald, supervisor of voting checklists in Keene. Kyle hopes to follow this drive with an absentee ballot drive.

Kyle, a Vermont native, is a senior at Keene. He was elected president of the Student Senate last November when David Gagne resigned.