

MRS. DEANS COMES

Continued from page 1

of history teacher for the past 18 years. The best wishes of a host of friends among student body, alumni, faculty and people of the city go to Miss McGlynn in her new work.

As her successor in the social science department, Pres. Mason has been fortunate in securing Mrs. Mary Donald Deans, who comes from the school system of Los Angeles where she has taught for 13 years. Mrs. Deans is a New Englander by birth and training. She is a native of Quincy, Mass., and her early education was obtained there and at Hardwick Academy, Vermont. She has an A.B. degree from Colby college, Waterville, Me., with one year at Radcliffe college. Her A.M. is from the University of California.

For a time she was teacher and superintendent of schools in Arkansas, and since going to the Coast has taught in Los Angeles for the past 11 years in the San Pedro High school. Her summers have been spent in study and in foreign travel. Mrs. Deans has also had considerable experience as a public speaker on wide variety of educational and cultural subjects.

As we speed the parting friend, we extend a most hearty welcome to her successor, and trust that Mrs. Deans will be most happy in her return to "Old New England."

CLUBS

Continued from page 2

The Rostra

The Rostra held a meeting Jan. 7. This meeting was to be a regular program meeting, but instead the time was given over to discussion of important business. Miss Helen Pratt, Keene, was appointed chairman of a committee to select a play to be given for a Saturday night social. The club is carrying out its project of "Modern Italy in Contrast to Ancient Rome" with discussions on literature, the army, and changing customs.

MID-YEAR BALL

Continued from page 1

Only those who had some part in this project can fully appreciate the amount of work and the fine spirit of cooperation which went into these decorations.

Amicare Scarponi, Portsmouth, and Ruth Bond, Manchester, were the head ushers and their assistants were Kenneth L. Creighton, Hampton; Barbara MacComb, Concord; Jesse F. Davis, Hampstead; Anna Willgeroth, Hillsboro; Frank Linscott, Exeter; Ethel Fish, Keene; Harold Smith, Groveton; Ann Sullivan, Concord; Paul Perkins, Franklin; Alfreda Kyrka, Franklin; Gordon Tate, Belmont; and June Kendall, Worcester, Mass.

Tea Dance

Those students who attended the mid-year ball were furnished an opportunity to entertain their guests at a second delightful function when the Nu Beta Upsilon and Alpha Pi Tau societies sponsored their annual Tea Dance on Saturday afternoon.

Honorary members of both organizations acted as patrons and patronesses, and the entire faculty were invited to attend.

A blue and yellow color scheme was carried out in fragrant spring flowers and other pleasing details. Dancing to the music of Frank Bush's orchestra was enjoyed, and tea was served by candlelight. Dean Esten poured at the faculty table, and other guests were served by a group of students.

The committee in charge included Miss Charlotte Redden, Portsmouth; Miss Edith Rich, Paterson, N.J.; Miss Marcella Finley, Colebrook; Joseph Baines and Neil Sullivan, Manchester; and James Whittemore, Andover. Printing of programs and tickets was in charge of A. G. Scarponi, Portsmouth.

We are much indebted to the sponsors of the Tea Dance for their great contribution to a most enjoyable week-end.

CHAPEL SPEAKERS

Continued from page 1

man smoking backwards. He also caused much laughter as he described some of the queer dress of skiers, some of the men stripped to the waist taking sunbaths while they were skiing in the late spring months. He also showed pictures of the travelers encountering high winds with many humorous incidents, one of them being nearly blown away as he shook a blanket.

Dr. Grafflin was brought to Keene for a series of talks to student and other groups, among them the students of Keene High school, the local Rotary club and others. He was introduced to the student body by Sec. Oscar L. Elwell, of the County Y.M.C.A., and was listened to with keen enjoyment and close attention.

In his address the speaker stressed five kinds of teachers, telling something about each by way of illustration: Teachers who regard their position as just a job, those who look upon it as a journey, those who look upon it as just a jaunt, those who regard it as a joust, and those who see in the children the citizens of time.

Student Council

Continued from page 1

different clubs, in an attempt to equalize opportunities for holding office and to carry on the work of clubs more efficiently.

Mr. Cutts Returns

With the opening of school after the Christmas recess Charles W. Cutts was able to resume his work as teacher of economics after a long illness. His many friends were much pleased to see him again about the campus and in his class room.

Alexander F. Gifford, who acceptably acted as substitute for Mr. Cutts, returned to his home in New Bedford, Mr. Gifford made many friends during his comparatively brief stay in Keene, and they will follow his future career with interest.

CADET TEACHERS

Continued from page 1

town; Newell Paire, Keene, of the High school course; Miss Theresa M. Burke, Fair Haven, Vt., home economics; Daniel Sullivan, Portsmouth, trades and industries; and Miss Thelma Dickinson, Winchester, Junior High.

To Hampstead High have been assigned Laurence J. Bucher, Alton; and Clarence O. Richardson, Harrisville, of the High school course; Miss Edythe Johnston, Barre, Vt., home economics; and Miss Kathryn M. Walsh, Manchester, Junior High.

Miss Katherine M. Snyder, Woodstock, Vt., will train at the Vilas High school, Alstead. Two other trades and industries men, Joseph Baines, and Gilbert H. Wyman, will be at Dover and Rochester High schools, respectively.

Hansel and Gretel

Members of the first four grades of Wheelock Training school with their teachers were special guests at the production of a one-act play in Parker hall on Jan. 22. The play was written, produced and directed as a project by the members of Miss Augusta Pragst's class in elementary methods.

This group is composed of special students most of whom are graduates of Keene Normal school, and whose work for this year is specializing in primary methods, including literature for children, dramatization, and reading.

The play was the old folk tale of "Hansel and Gretel." The original dialogue was very effective as well as the simple scenery which was designed and made by members of the class. The youthful audience showed its appreciation by generous and spontaneous laughter and applause.

Miss M. Lula Morey, Keene, played the part of the witch; Rene Mathieu, Penacook, Hansel; and Miss Ruth Mary Doe, Northwood, Gretel. The remaining parts were well filled by other students.

KEENE KRONICLE

KEENE TEACHERS COLLEGE
LIBRARYVolume VII, No. 5
March 30, 1936Music Festival
May 10, 11, 12

Published at the State Normal School, Keene, N.H.

LATIN CLUB MEMBERS
MAKE COMPARISON OF
HORACE with WILL ROGERSRostra Delves into Life and Work of Roman Poet and Philosopher

The present school year is the bimillennium of the birth of the Roman poet and philosopher, Horace. Recognition of this fact has been by many educational institutions. Upon a request by the editor of THE KRONICLE, the Rostra, the Latin club, has prepared the following interesting comparison of the life and work of Horace with that of the late American humorist and philosopher, Will Rogers.

How similar are the profound thoughts of all great philosophers. Some man has expressed for each generation the philosophy of the age. We claim Will Rogers, the ideal of America in 1935. If we delve into his basic thoughts, camouflaged as they are by their subtle humor, we find them to be the same as those which have been propounded by other great thinkers before him. How could they be otherwise for they deal with universal subjects and expressed timeless truths. His very thoughts were expressed two thousand years ago by a man as great as he, Horace, the interpreter of Roman times. Are you skeptical? Well, let's see.

Horace

On Dec. 8, 65 B.C., Horace was born to a lowly slave family. He entered a world passing through a period of turmoil, grief, unhappiness, dissatisfaction. Pessimism was the attitude prevalent among the people.

Yet, Horace, from early boy-

Continued on page 8

SCHOOL INSTRUCTORS ACTIVE IN COMMUNITY LIFE OF CITY PRES.
MASON'S SURVEY SHOWS

Answers to questionnaire reveals professors are in great demand for speaking engagements — Students also give of their talent to church and club groups — K.N.S. buildings are open to most representative organizations.

Keene Normal school professors have made themselves an integral part of the community life of the city, rendering various services to civic, church and fraternal groups, thus putting into practise the ideal which they stress to students, that in their teaching positions they should render service to the town or city in which they reside.

A recent faculty survey made by Pres. Wallace E. Mason E. Mason showed educational, social and professional cooperation to various agencies in Keene and Cheshire county, the most recent of which was participation in flood relief activity through the Red Cross and citizen committees.

In addition to the contributions to the life of the city by the instructors, the students also give of their talents, the music department particularly furnishing students for special programs on church, fraternal and club occasions.

The school buildings are also open to the Keene Woman's club, the Boy scouts, Girl scouts and other character building organizations.

Most of the men are "joiners," having membership in at least one fraternal affiliation, and many of their wives are active in the D. A. R., Woman's club, American Association of University Women, college alumnae associations, and church societies.

The faculty summary reveals both Pres. Mason and Charles W. Cutts as past presidents of the Keene Rotary club and Mr. Cutts as present director. Both are also active in the First Congregational church.

Sprague W. Drenan is a past president of the Keene Philatelic society and James A. Keech is present head of that organization.

Harry B. Preston is called upon frequently as a supply preacher in Keene churches and in smaller communities, and also presents the highlights of his school course on New Hampshire resources in lectures before Parent-Teacher associations, 4-H clubs, etc.

Some of the other activities of the teaching staff as outlined by them in response to Pres. Mason's questionnaire show the following:

Frederick J. Simmons: Talks before the nurses of Elliot Community hospital, and the Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian church. Lieutenant governor of the New Hampshire district in the Social Science Honor society, called Pi Gamma Mu. Served on Pi Gamma Mu finance committee at the national convention in New York.

Spencer E. Eaton: Superintendent of First Baptist church Sunday School, president of social committee at the school, and speaker on different occasions.

Clarence H. DeMar: In great demand as community father and son night speaker and before men's clubs and Christian En-

Continued on page 8

TWO FRATERNITIES ENTER-
TAIN AT THE CLOSE
OF RUSHING SEASONNow Make Plans for Annual Banquets and Reunions

The past month has been a busy one in the life of the two fraternities. Immediately following the opening of the new semester the annual rushing season was on for one week. Each of the groups, the Kappas and the Alphas, entertained the members of the freshman class at a smoker. The Kappas entertained at the school camp at Wilson pond, where a social hour and supper was enjoyed. Several of the honorary members of the fraternity gave short addresses.

The Alpha party was held in the social room of Spaulding gymnasium. Pres. Wallace E. Mason, Dean Carle and others spoke, and refreshments were served.

Invitations were extended to the new men and the following pledged,

Kappa: Carl Bartlett, Concord; Clarence Volkman, Manchester; Henry Chase, Henniker; Rene Mathieu, Penacook; Arthur J. Ide, West Swanzey; and Theodore Marston, Warren. Laverne Bushnell, a new member of the faculty, in the trades and industries department was made an honorary member of Kappa.

Alpha: Ernest F. Fiske, Clair E. Wyman, and Richard Hopwood, all of Keene; Paul E. Perkins, Franklin; Harold F. Graeme, Laconia; James F. McKeon, Somersworth; Francis S. Dominick, Ashuelot; Paul L.

Continued on page 8

CAMPUS CLUB REVIEW

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB "GUEST DAY" FEATURED BY ORIGINAL PLAYS

Members of the Dramatic club sponsored by Sprague W. Drenan, head of the English department, presented two original one-act plays in Parker hall on the afternoon of Mar. 6, for the Fortnightly club of Keene as the feature of the club's annual guest day.

The first play was entitled "Pierrot Will Not Grow Old" and was in verse. It is the work of Miss Helen M. Pratt, Keene, a member of the class of 1936, degree course. Those taking part were James H. Leh, Keene; Miss Barbara Erwin, Keene; Miss June Kendall, Montpelier, Vt.; Ernest Fiske, Keene; Richard O. Trufant, Peterborough; and Andrew J. Crooker, Jr., Hillsborough.

Mr. Drenan wrote the second a comedy, "MacBeth," or "How North Flowerpot High School Raised Its Graduation Funds". It was a cheerful travesty on the method of dramatic production among the unwary. Those having parts were Paul K. Stimson, Milford; James McKeon, Somersworth; Richard Hopwood, Keene; Gerald Atkins, Haverhill; Lawrence Goss, Rye; Lewis Montrone, Keene; Walter Lucien, Nashua; the Misses Lucille Plante, Fitzwilliam; Mae Youngquist, Manchester; Helen Pratt, Keene; Dorothy Plaisted, Sanford, Me.; Lucille Sterling, Portsmouth; Barbara Severance, Hillsborough; Katherine Gage, Manchester; and Iona Sheeche, Lebanon.

Miss Eleanor Tarbox, Brattleboro, Vt.; and Miss Robey, Sanborn, had charge of the costumes; Miss Barbara Severance took care of the make-up and Wesley Brett, Keene, was in charge of scenery. Refreshments

VARIOUS CLUB ACTIVITIES

The Rostra

The Rostra enjoyed a social evening Thursday, February 27 in charge of Miss Barbara Capron Quechee, Vt. The club enjoyed the privilege of hearing Miss Vyrlling W. Buffum speak on "Roman Customs Yesterday and Today," and since her travels there have been extensive the talk was most interesting. After the program refreshments were served and an informal discussion held with Miss Buffum answering any questions the club wished to ask. There was perfect attendance and everyone enjoyed the evening.

Forum Debate

Teams of women representing the University of New Hampshire and K.N.S. met in Parker hall, on Feb. 27 for a no decision debate.

The Keene team upheld the affirmative of the question "Resolved: That socialized medicine should be established in this state." This was the first debate held under the direction of Mrs. Mary D. Deans, new debating instructor at the local institution.

The university speakers were Miss Rosamond Emerson, Miss Ann Corson, Miss Veronica Doe, and Miss Dorothy Hanschumaker. The Keene debaters were Miss Helen C. Tsiotas, Manchester; Miss Marion Bergeron, Keene; Miss Natalie Haddock, Laconia; and Phyllis O'Brien, Nashua.

Neil Sullivan, Manchester, president of the Forum, presided and the timers were Miss Doris Delaware, Auburn; and Miss Dorothy Woinick, Springfield, Vt.

were served at the close of the program.

"Macbeth" was repeated for the Dramatic club social at Parker hall, on Saturday evening, Mar. 7.

Forum Social

At the Saturday night social, Feb. 29 the Forum presented a mock trial entitled "The Peanut County Court in Session." It was directed by Miss Doris Delaware and Laurence Goss. The leading part, that of Judge Wigglebeard, was taken by Kenneth Creighton. The case tried was one of "salt an' battery" in which Hiram Stubble was charged with having pulled Siram Milkweed's nose. The parts of Hiram and Silas were played by Miss Miriam Roby and Miss Alfreda Kyrka, respectively. Neil Sullivan played the part of the very aggressive "city slicker," Lawyer Toppenbottom, while Harold Graham played the part of the opposing Lawyer Slipshod. Miss Helen Tsiotas played the part of Luke Beeswax who was the witness for the defence and testified with unbelievable dullness. Miss Irma Dostilio played the part of Oscar Schmultz, D.A. (Dots all) a witness and the owner of the store in which the incident had taken place. Clair Wyman was the clerk and Miss Jane Langer was the sheriff. The twelve jurors were members of the club.

The trial was brought to an abrupt ending by Hessa Greenum (Miss Jean Taylor) who came with news that the Judge's wife had become entangled in the Judge's fishlines and wished him to come home immediately or else get figures on a funeral.

Science Club

Members of the Science club made an inspection of the Granite State studio recently, and were shown the various processes of photographing, developing and printing. Following the explanation of the equipment and operations by the studio staff the group had their photograph taken. More than 40 members of the club were included in the party.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB AFFILIATED WITH CARNEGIE FOUNDATION

The International Relations club of Keene Normal school has affiliated with the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, Wesley F. Brett, president of the club, announced. Connection with this organization will keep the club closely in touch with world affairs through the fortnightly summary of events sent by the Carnegie Endowment to each of the club members. The club will also receive many books on international affairs and pamphlets of similar interest. Mr. Brett said that the club will form a library of its own with these books. The condition under which the club affiliated was that it remain a study group and that it engage in no propaganda.

Books which have already been received and which will be the initial volumes in the library are: "Peace and the Plain Man," by Sir Norman Angell; "Democratic Governments in Europe," by Buell, Chase and Valeur; "Labor's Way to Peace," by the Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, M. P.; and "The Treaty of Versailles and After," by Lord Riddell and others. Several pamphlets have also already been received by the club. Miss Helen M. Pratt is the secretary of the club and received the announcement of acceptance of affiliation.

Y. W. C. A.

At the last regular meeting of Y.W.C.A., on Tuesday, March 13, Miss Doris Hopkins of Manchester, state executive secretary of the Y.W.C.A., gave a most interesting address to a large group of student members. Her subject concerned the work carried on in New Hampshire and the aims of the national Y.W.C.A. One of the noteworthy points of her talk was that of the opportunity offered Y.W.C.A. groups to take part in public affairs.

DRAMA CONTEST

Keene Normal school will sponsor a state Drama day program Saturday afternoon and evening, Mar. 28, when eight secondary schools of the state will compete at Parker hall in the presentation of one-act plays, it was announced by Sprague W. Drenan, head of the English department of the Normal school.

The affair will be part of the contest held in New England in connection with high schools competing for first place in staging a one-act play. Schools of New Hampshire which will compete at Keene are: Peterboro, Laconia, Manchester West, Hanover, Rochester, Franklin, and Nashua High schools, and the Robinson Seminary of Exeter. Members of Mr. Drenan's class in drama will resolve into committees for arrangement and direction of the affair.

THE YEARBOOK

The school annual "THE KRONICLE" is in active preparation. Under the leadership of Miss Helen M. Pratt, editor-in-chief, and Wesley F. Brett, assistant, both of Keene, the material is being collected and arranged. Most of the school group photographs have been taken. It is planned to have the book present several improved and novel features. Roy A. Sullivan, of the Sentinel force, will again assist the editors. Harry B. Preston, who has served as faculty sponsor for the past five issues, has been obliged to resign due to press of outside engagements. A successor will be announced soon.

Miss Idella K. Farnum, Mrs. Mary D. Deans, and Leonard S. Morrison, represented the Normal school faculty at the funeral of Supt. Fred W. Dudley, at Union, on Mar. 7. Mr. Dudley was one of the best known school men of the state, having been in charge of the Wolfeboro-Wakefield union.

KAPPA NEWS

Some weeks ago four men sang in the Kappa Minstrel Show. Today they have grown from unknown harmonizers to the Kappa Quartet. Strong support of the entire student body has encouraged the fellows so that after placing in both the preliminaries and semi-finals of the Colonial Amateur auditions, they came through to place second in the finals.

Dressed in white jackets and dark trousers—Jeff, Sherm, Walt, and Perk, presented a natty appearance on the Latches' stage when they fulfilled the expectations of their supporters by rendering an excellent program. More power to you men, we expect more at later dates.

The musical bug that has entered many bonnets is running unexcelled in the House. Jeff's tuba, Luther's alto, Don's kettle drums, Dan's trumpet provide accompaniment for Chaucer and Kant.

Ah, we mustn't forget the strains of melody that issue from the piano when Sherm and Carl have a few moments of leisure.

ART DEPT.

Miss Dorothy Wilens, head of the art department was detained at her home by illness for several weeks before and after the early spring recess. The work was carried forward by Miss Miriam Huges, assistant, with the help of the senior students in training, and Mrs. F. H. Blackington, Jr.

The Art club is soon to begin work on a project with marionettes and invites all students who are interested in this fascinating and ancient art to join in with the regular members.

The work of redecorating the wall of the studio has been finished and there remains only to have the tables scrapped and refinished. Several changes have been made in the arrangements of working conditions, which has improved the lighting and otherwise makes the room more convenient for student work.

ALPHA PI TAU

The Alpha fraternity was well represented this year on the basketball floor, having a total of twelve men on the varsity squad.

One of the members, Neil Sullivan, a member of the elementary curriculum of the senior class was, at the close of the season, elected honorary captain. He is a graduate of Manchester Central High school, and has played center. He is six feet, two inches tall and weighs 179.

Due to an injury Sullivan played in only 10 of the fourteen games which were against strong freshmen college and teachers college teams during the season, and scored a total of 68 points.

The members of the fraternity and pledges spent the evening of March 6 at the school camp, Wilson pond. Dinner was served by the members and was enjoyed by all the early comers. The freshmen in turn entertained the upper classmen at the camp on the evening of March 13.

HOME ECONOMICS

On Jan. 30, the freshmen Home Economics students were initiated into the Nu Beta Upsilon Sorority and at a later meeting they entertained with a skit based on a radio program.

Mrs. George L. Parker of Keene, was the speaker at our meeting of Mar. 12. She spoke of "Home Life in Russia."

Mrs. Amadon, North Atlantic agent, Dept. of Education, Vocational Division and Miss Louise M. Norton, State Supervisor of Home Economics have been recent visitors at the school.

A chemistry teacher has nothing to fear When once he gets used to the smell: His students write in formulas And don't have to know how to spell.

—Exchange.

TRADES and INDUSTRIES

The members of the class of 1937 are working on drawings of a rug loom which they sketched a few weeks ago. From these drawings Mr. Eaton's classes are making a model loom.

The rewiring of the nature room to give better illumination to the specimen cases has been completed by the members of the Junior class.

A handy man in the shop, makes anything from potter's wheels to lathe pullies and bridge lamps. Who is he? Bob O-mand.

Congratulations to Paul E. Bridges of last year's class on the announcement of his recent marriage to Miss Alice Gould of Keene. They will make their home in Andover, where Bridges is sub-master of the local high school.

MUSIC NOTES

The choir at Sturtevant chapel, under the direction of Jesse F. Davis, sang at the 42nd anniversary of the chapel on Mar. 8.

Miss Lorraine Rocheleau accompanied the quartette at a Wheelock P.T.A. meeting.

Jesse F. Davis and the Westmoreland Community chorus sang at Gentlemen's night of the Granite club of West Keene.

The K.N.S. band made its first appearance before the whole student body on Monday, Mar. 2, at Senior chapel. It also helps to win the basketball games for K. N. S. Let's boost our band and give it support!

The rehearsals for "Faust," under the direction of Harry W. Davis, are held every Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock in Parker hall. Members are urged to come. Men of Keene Normal school—we give you a hearty invitation to join us as we need more tenor and bass singers.

KEENE KRONICLE

The Keene Kronicle, published during the early part of each month for students, alumni, and friends of the state normal school, Keene, N.H. Subscription, 50 cents per year.

The setting up and printing of the KRONICLE is done by the classes in printing at THE NORMAL SCHOOL, Keene, New Hampshire.

Member National Association of Student Editors

EDITORIAL BOARD

Faculty adviser, Harry B. Preston.
Consulting editor, Roy A. Sullivan.
Editor-in-chief, Helen M. Pratt, '36, Keene.
Associate editors, Andrew Crooker, Jr., '36, Hillsboro; Wesley F. Brett, '37, Keene, in charge of year book.
News editors, Barbara Severance, '36, Hillsboro; Velma D. Peirce, '36, Peterboro.
Business and circulation managers, Paul K. Stimson, '36, Milford; Robert F. Edmunds, '37, London.
Boys' sports editors, Richard O. Trufant, '37, Peterboro; James A. Jordan, '37, Stratford.
Girls' sports editors, Shirley McIntyre, '37, Whitefield; Georgia F. Day, '36, Manchester.
School exchanges, Ellen Hartshorn, '36, Manchester.
New Hampshire schools and educational notes, Katherine Gage, '37, Manchester.
Trades and Industries editor, Arthur J. Ide, '38, West Swanzey.
Music editor, Virginia Symonds, '37, Contoocook.
Art editor, Leora Gardner, '36, Lancaster.
Home economics editor, Lois E. Steere, '37, Littleton.
Fraternity editors, Kappa, Ross M. Gale, '37, Rutland, Vt.; Alpha, Waldo R. Streeter, '36, Keene.
Alumni editors, Mary L. Dearborn, '36, Woodsville; Ira Stopford, '37, Portsmouth.
Secretary of the Board, Helen Tsio-tas, '37, Manchester.

OPPORTUNITY DAYS

In this issue of THE KRONICLE, you will find articles concerning dates March 28, (one-act play contest) April 4, (junior high sports day) and May 2, (battle of brains). These are opportunity days for everyone in the Normal School.

Perhaps this is contrary to the usual thought that the opportunity is for the entrants in the several contests. True, our visitors have great opportunities during their brief stay on campus. They not only meet and compete with representatives of other schools, but they have contact with "you" as a member of Keene Normal School. These meetings will have a stamp on their minds that will never disappear. Therefore, it is vital that these days show our Alma Mater at her best.

This attitude places every member of the school in the position a middleman. It means that each one will be a pivotal point upon which rests, in a great sense, the inherent success of these opportunity days.

True and rich hospitality should be shown to the students who have worked hard for this honor. A strong handclasp and a warm smile will go a long way toward easing the tension under which they work. However, the work does not end here. The second task is to make every visitor feel the spirit of friendly competition. Teams must become acquainted with each other and not be segregated into rival camps. We want each of these days filled with fun and work, with each member of the school personally responsible.

The opportunity rests on each one of you of you. Will you meet it?

EDUCATION NOTES

It has been announced that the cities of Willimantic, Danbury and New Haven, Conn., now require a four-year normal course for all elementary teachers.

J. Halsey Gulick, who was recently elected to the headmastership of Proctor academy, Andover, assumed his new duties with the beginning of the winter term. Mr. Gulick was educated at Phillips Exeter academy and at Princeton.

With the beginning of the next school year, Charles F. Cook will retire as headmaster of Concord High school, a position which he had held for many years. His successor will be the present sub-master, Ruel E. Tucker, a graduate of Dartmouth college with the class of 1924.

Dr. William A. Eddy, since 1928 a popular professor of English at Dartmouth, has been elected to the presidency of Hobart college, Geneva, N.Y. to take effect next September, with the opening of college.

In Washington, D.C., new schools this fall are Anacostia Senior-Junior High school and Woodrow Wilson High school.

New high schools opening this fall in New York City are Samuel Gompers, capacity 1696; Brooklyn Tech., 5,500; Staten Island Vocational, 1,580. These are all P.W.A. projects.

"No longer can teachers ignore their community and its needs. Today the job demands active community interest and participation. Examine any school or school system where excellent public relations exist, and you will find not only efficient, tactful, human administration, but teachers that are imbued with the idea of service to patrons and to the community."

-Detroit Educational News.

TEACHER and DEMOCRACY

At this particular time we hear a great deal about our government; how it has or has not been run, and how it should be run. Disregarding how the government is run, we realize more and more that the people elect the government. These people are children at one time, and this is where we fit into the picture. The schools hold the task of orienting these children to the fundamentals of our government. Practical and concrete information should be so instilled into the children's mind that all false ideas in later years will be eliminated.

Secretary of the Interior, Harold C. Ickes, sends the following message to the teachers of America in the "Student Leader."

"The personnel of the Government is decided at the polls. The trends of development of the government are determined largely in the schools.

This assurance is a real safeguard of our democracy. People whose ideals for democracy are buttressed by an impartial study of civic problems in the schools can be depended upon to guard with zeal the welfare of democracy.

I hope for a very practical outcome of such study and discussion of our form of government. It should result in so clear an understanding of the virtues of the democratic way of life that young people will develop into fearless and tireless advocates of democracy.

There are peacetime battles which should be as challenging to this generation of youth as battles with rifles. Let the school and college make clear to youth what the basic civic issues are. Youth will find the solution in terms of historic ideals for which America has stood and will defend those ideals with the same fervor as our forefathers did.

HERE AND THERE AMONG THE ALUMNI

STATE BOARD SURVEY SHOWS KEENE LEADING IN TEACHER POSITIONS

Alumni Filling 776 Faculty Jobs in N.H. Schools

A recent study made by the State Board of Education has shown that more graduates of Keene Normal school have teaching positions in New Hampshire schools, than do graduates of any other institution. Plymouth Normal ranks second. In all, Keene alumni are filling 776 positions in the state at the present time; of these 104 are in secondary schools. The following summary of the report is of interest.

Leading the list of single institutions from which New Hampshire public school teachers graduated was found to be Keene Normal school, from a study prepared by the state department of education and released by Commissioner of Education James N. Pringle. Teaching in the public schools of the state are 776 graduates of that school.

Standing next high is Plymouth Normal, with 651 graduates, 68 of whom are teaching in high schools. Keene graduates with positions in various high schools number 104.

Normal schools out of state claim 205 teachers, 117 having trained in Massachusetts, 64 in Maine. The University of New Hampshire is represented in the state by 282 graduates, Dartmouth by 49, St. Anselm's by six, out of state colleges by 518, and miscellaneous training schools and institutions account for 648. There are 3,135 instructors in all, 962 of whom are secondary school teachers.

Of the colleges outside New Hampshire, Boston university has the highest number of graduates, with 80, among present teachers in New Hampshire schools. Bates comes next with 64, Middlebury third with 28,

ALUMNI PERSONALS

1932 (NON-GRAD)

Miss Rosalie Smith, a member of the student body for two years when she was a member of the class of 1932, is engaged in writing the history of her home town of Peru, Mass. In 1935 Miss Smith was graduated from North Carolina State college, and three months later was stricken with infantile paralysis. At the present time she is able to carry on her work from a wheel chair. In a recent interview published in a Massachusetts daily, she expressed her pleasure at being able to work again and of the great kindness of friends in supplying her with material for the history. She expects to complete the work within the next few months.

the University of Maine in fourth place with 25, and Colby in fifth position, with 23

The University of Vermont has given New Hampshire 20 teachers, Catholic university 14, Wellesley, Mount Holyoke and Smith 12, and Harvard and Wheaton each 10.

Of the teachers who attended state training schools, technical schools, high schools and who have had college training without graduation, there are 648, including 497 from New Hampshire, 23 from Maine, 15 from Massachusetts.

Of the 648 teachers in the New Hampshire schools with neither college nor normal school training, 201 are graduates of city training schools in New Hampshire, 66 graduated from other training schools, and 49 from vocational schools such as Wentworth Institute, New England Conservatory, Posse-Nissen school or business colleges. Teachers with high school training alone number 211, and of the 648 there are 57 who did not graduate from high school.

1932

A daughter, Beverly, was born on Jan. 17, at Portsmouth, to Mr. and Mrs. Brewster H. Koehler. Mrs. Koehler was Miss Flora J. Dinsmore, of Laconia.

1933

Last January Ralph P. Kelley, Manchester, a graduate of the Junior High course in 1933, was appointed principal of the Allentown grammar school.

1935

Miss Rena Batchelder of Claremont is acting as substitute for a time in the schools of Claremont, while the regular teacher is taking an advanced course of study.

Charles E. Kline, East Westmoreland, a member of the Junior High curriculum has entered the Worcester, Mass. City hospital for a three-year training course.

Miss Ruth Mary Doe, Northwood, began her duties as teacher of the fifth and sixth grades in the village schools of New London, on March 2. Since graduation last June in the art and music course last June Miss Doe has been taking special work here in elementary methods.

During one of the severe snow storms of the early winter, Miss Mary Bemis, teacher at West Deering determined to reach her school in spite of the weather. She became exhausted and was taken to a neighboring home where she was obliged to remain for the day.

MARRIAGES

HOWE-PROULX

Miss Cecile B. Proulx, of Franklin, was married on Feb. 17 to Chester William Howe of Franklin.

The bride is prominent as a musician. She was graduated from Franklin High school and from Keene Normal school in VERA M. BUTLER, '17, WRITES DOCTOR'S THESIS ON EDUCATION IN N.E.

Temple Univ. Instructor Uses Old Newspaper Accounts for Background

Local friends of Miss Vera N. Butler, K.N.S. '17, have received copies of her doctor's thesis, a book of 500 pages, entitled, "Education as Revealed by New England Newspapers Prior to 1850." Miss Butler, a graduate of Keene High school and Keene Normal, is now instructor in education at Temple university, Philadelphia.

Of the work one reviewer says: "It represents a great deal of research and intense application on the part of Miss Butler. This is the first real extensive work of its kind in the early field of education and without question the volume will become a valuable sourcebook for future references. In a very systematic and orderly fashion, Miss Butler has enlivened for contemporary reference the discussions, letters, accounts of educational activities from some 22 Massachusetts and Connecticut papers.

1933. For a time she was supervisor of music in Hillsborough, but recently has been employed in the Franklin National Bank. Mr. Howe is a graduate of Franklin High school and took a pre-medical course at the University of New Hampshire before entering Tufts. After a bridal trip the bridegroom will return to his studies at Tufts Medical college in Boston, where he expects to complete his course in medicine next month. He has already accepted a position as interne at the Providence General hospital after finishing his medical course.

ERICKSON-GAUTHIER

Miss Bertha I. Gauthier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Gauthier of Keene was married to Melvin J. Erickson of Manchester, in Bellows Falls, Vt., on Jan. 13. Mrs. Erickson graduated from the elementary curriculum in 1932.

VARIED ATHLETIC TRAINING FOR FUTURE TEACHERS AT K.N.S.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

Since the summary published in the last issue of "THE KRONICLE" the Keene Normal men's basketball team played 8 games, winning five and losing three, by two, three, and four points only. The season closed with two sensational wins on the local floor, with Boston university, 43 to 41 and with Salem, Mass., Teachers college, 35 to 32. The games in chronological order;

Keene 46—Gorham Normal 44

On Feb. 1, at Gorham, Keene started the game with a scoring sprint making seven field points before Gorham made a point. The half ended, however, with the score 24 to 20 in Keene's favor. In the third period Keene made 21 points, and the last quarter, too, was very fast as is shown by a total score of 100 points, averaging two and one-half points per minute of play. Gorham made many tries of long shots in the hope of cutting down Keene's lead. Final tally, Keene 56—Gorham 44.

Keene 29—University Freshmen 20

At Durham on Feb. 8, K.N.S. nosed out the team representing the University of New Hampshire 29 to 20 in a fast offensive game. Keene took the lead and held it throughout. Coach Caldwell had reason to be proud of the work of his team against the Wildcat kittens, and he stated on their return to Keene that the locals "played smart basketball."

Salem 32—Keene 28

On Thursday evening, Feb. 13, Salem, Mass., State Teachers college basketball team romped over the K.N.S. basketball team to a 32 to 28 victory at Salem. Salem jumped into the lead in the first period and held it throughout, Twohig and Levey, with 11 points each, were high scorers for the winners, while Sullivan and Giovannangeli scored nine and seven points respectively for Keene.

Keene 59—Castleton Normal 18

The postponed game with Castleton, Vt., Normal was played off in Spaulding gym, on Feb. 24. Keene came through to win an easy victory, 59 to 18. Keene did not allow the Green Mountain boys a single floor goal in the second period. In the third period Keene made 10 points and Castleton six; and in the final chapter they rang up 15 points to their opponents three. Many substitutes were used by Coach Caldwell, including Johnson, Tate, Leh, at forward; Kingman and Clark at center; and Applebaum, Tapley, and Beard at guard. These men are fast gaining experience for next year's team, when several of the regular players graduate.

B.U. Freshmen 31—Keene 29

On Feb. 26 Boston university freshmen basketball team came from behind to nose out the Keene Normal team in the last minute of play 31 to 29 in St. Botolph gym in Boston.

Keene apparently had the game all sewed up with a seven-point lead and only a minute and a half to play when the B.U. Frosh awoke and scored nine points.

The game was more exciting than the main contest between Clark university and B.U. varsity.

Baskets by Nechtem, Kishkis Leahy, and a closing foul shot followed by a court shot by Nechtem clinched the game for the Terrier pups in one of the most amazing finishes ever witnessed at the B.U. gym.

New Britain 42—Keene 39

In one of the most exciting games of the season, New Britain State Teachers college, Conn., nosed out the K.N.S. team on Feb. 28, 42 to 39. The locals trailed for three periods but

Girls' Sports

Division basketball games are over and the 2 H R's turned out the victors. Incidentally, it was not in the bag for the sophomore division for the freshman 1 A division kept them working hard. Class games will follow soon.

The Huntress girls are playing ping pong. Do we hear rumors of a tournament?

Volleyball starts after class basketball games are finished. Let's have a lot out for practice. There will be class games and possibly division games if enough girls are interested.

The swimming pool is full of would-be life savers as the life-saving course has just started.

Miss Bateman is to be commended on the large number of girls who were allowed to participate.

came from behind with a closing period rally and tied the score; only to lose out in the last few seconds. The height and weight of the visitors proved too much for Keene.

The game was played in Spaulding gym.

Keene 43—B.U. Freshmen 41

Jimmie Noucas was the hero of the return game with Boston university Freshmen played here on March 4. In the last twelve seconds of the game his goal from the floor clinched the victory and brought revenge for the defeat in the game at Boston.

Early in the game the visitors led and later the score was twice tied.

Keene 35—Salem 32

The season closed in a blaze of glory with a victory over Salem, Mass., Teachers college, on Friday, Mar. 6, here.

Salem was somewhat tired from a Thursday night game against Huntington school of Boston,

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

First Plymouth Game

On Feb. 1, Plymouth played Keene at Keene in their first traditional game of the year.

During the first quarter Plymouth took the lead by ringing up six points and leaving Keene at the post. The second quarter was entirely different. Keene girls chalked up eight points for the books.

During the third quarter Keene scored eight more points and allowed their opponents five. In the final period each team scored four points.

Helen Thomas and Rita Leonard accounted for sixteen of Keene's points. Shirley Bryman scored nine for her team.

A social was held in Hale building after the game was over.

Second Plymouth Game

On Feb. 8, Keene travelled to Plymouth for a return game, which proved to be very exciting.

In the first quarter Plymouth scored twelve points and Keene two. In the second period, Keene allowed Plymouth only two while they scored seven.

During the third quarter Plymouth scored four points and Keene did nobly and scored nine.

In the final period Keene made a sensational come-back to win from Plymouth 24-22 for the third consecutive year.

Rita Leonard and Georgia Day were high scorers, scoring eleven points apiece. Shirley Bryman was high scorer for Plymouth.

and also had only one substitute to rely upon, three of their subs not arriving until the game was almost over. Both teams were about even on their foul shooting but Keene had the edge on baskets from the floor. Salem, as most other teams which have played Keene this season, had a considerable height advantage.

PERSONAL AND OTHERWISE

By H. B. P.

Pres. Wallace E. Mason and Leonard S. Morrison, head of the department of secondary education attended a two-day conference of superintendents and members of the state department held at Plymouth Feb. 3 and 4.

May 2, Saturday, has been set as the date for the annual scholarship day, at the two teacher training institutions of the state. This is commonly known as the "battle of brains."

Leonard S. Morrison of the faculty was the speaker at a recent meeting of the officers and teachers of the local Baptist church. His talk dealt with the state program of studies for the teaching of temperance.

Beginning with the second semester, Miss Lucy Clark, school nurse began a leave of absence to study for an advanced degree at Teachers college, Columbia. Miss Clark has the best wishes of her fellow members of the faculty and of the student body among whom she is very popular. We all look forward to her return to campus next September. During her absence a substitute nurse, Miss Stiles, R.N. will be in charge of the infirmary.

Mrs. Ethel J. Ramsden of the department of science, was the speaker on Mar. 4 at Hopkins Parent-Teacher association, Swanzey. Her subject was "The Child."

Members of the faculty attended the second meeting of the newly formed Keene Teachers association on Feb. 27. There was a dinner, a musical program by a Boston harpist and an address by Pres. Charles T. Herlihy, of Fitchburg Teachers college. His subject was "Is the Child Today the Center of Our City School System?"

AROUND THE CAMPUS

President Mason, welcoming Mrs. Deans:

"The fact is, we all try to know as much about each other as we possibly can."

Too true, too true!

Miss Gregory: "Why in Australia do they put awnings on the North windows?"

Bright student: "To keep the sun out."

Does anyone need a rest? We suggest the "Quiet Zone" in Huntress. Reasonable rates for a room with absolute peace guaranteed. Loud breathers not admitted.

Dick Trufant, in a drama class: "How many times can you drop the curtain in a one-act play?" That depends—how easily does it break?

Teacher of ed. to 3 H J's: "Probably you'll be so well-grounded in English literature that you won't need any question books."

S. McIntyre: "We'll be grounded, all right!"

Mr. Carle, in chapel: "I remember once when the girls went to Middlebury. The debate was held in the museum down among the animals, and I was the only one in the audience."

Did the 3HE's and the 2HM's—no the 2HR's—well who had that history observation anyway? Do you know, Miss Blake!

Miss Gregory: "Who lives in the south frigid zone?"

Bright student: "Only Byrd and he's not there all the time."

Wanted: an alarm clock with half a bell, so that when two people are rooming together, it only wakes up one of them.

Miss Blake: "Why aren't New Hampshire and Vermont always at sword's points as Germany and France are?"

Hazel Brown: "I don't know unless it's because New Hampshire and Vermont are nearer to each other."

CROSS ROADS

President R. L. West, at the request of Professor Alonzo F. Meyers, President of the Eastern States Association of Professional Schools for Teachers, has taken the place of Dr. Suhrie in arranging the student's program for the meeting to be held at the Hotel Commodore New York on April 3 and 4.

"STATE SIGNAL," Trenton New Jersey.

"Eeeny meeny miny mo
Into my room I must go
Take a pencil, write some junk
Make my 'fessor think I think."
"ALOR-ALA," Florence, Alabama.

ACTIVITIES IN TEACHER COLLEGES

Louis Untermyer, poet, at Florence, Ala. Teachers college; Richard Halliburton, author and Josef Hoffman, pianist, at State Teachers college, Trenton, N.J.; The Westminster Choir and the co-authors of 100,000,000 Guinea Pigs, at Ball State Teachers college, Muncie, Ind.

WHAT IS YOUR SCORE?

THE LADDER OF SUCCESS

100 per cent. I did.
90 per cent. I will.
80 per cent. I can.
70 per cent. I think I can.
60 per cent. I might try.
50 per cent. I suppose I should try.
40 per cent. What is it?
30 per cent. I wish I could.
20 per cent. I don't know.
10 per cent. I can't.
0 per cent. I won't.

Faculty edition of "THE GATE POST," Framingham, Mass.

And then there is a certain blonde at college who is taking up teaching because the blackboard will be such a lovely background for her hair?

"ST. CLOUD CHRONICLE."

"REQUIRED READING"

The Last Puritan—George Santayana.
I Write as I Please—Walter Duntan.
Lafayette—Andreas Latzko.
Faster! Faster—E. M. Delafield.
Inside Europe—John Gunther.
"DEERFIELD SCROLL," Deerfield Academy, Mass.

BOOK REVIEW

"IF I HAVE FOUR APPLES"

If you have two apples and someone gives you two more, how many will you have? If you are like the Roe family in Josephine Lawrence's "If I Have Four Apples," your answer will be eight. On the basis of this simple mathematical problem, Mrs. Lawrence in her latest book, portrays a middle-class American family which refuses to have its mistakes pointed out to it and continues to believe that its income, though actually inadequate to supply the necessities of life, warrants the possession of all luxuries.

In the family there is the father who can't see that renting a home might be cheaper than owning one; the mother, earning fifteen dollars a week working in a department store, who has a mania for installment buying; an elder daughter who in a moment of weakness signs a contract to purchase a modernistic, white dining room set because it goes with the kind of home about which she dreams, only to find to her amazement that she has agreed to pay out nine dollars of her eighteen-dollar a week salary for forty weeks for "the last thing she wanted or required," a younger daughter who, in spite of failure at a performance of her dancing class, insists that she could be a famous ballet dancer, "If she had the right teacher," and a young son of less than mediocre ability who plans to go to college, (although his folks haven't the money to send him) only to be completely disillusioned when he learns that his grades won't even permit him to graduate with his high school class.

At first thought the novel may strike you as the story of a super-ignorant American family, but on further consideration, one realizes that it is the story of all of us. The author depicts our guillibility to modern schemes of installment buying and the disaster which follows these "time" purchases, and most important, our lack of courage to face the truth. Perhaps she is trying to tell us that our chances for happiness are much greater if we are willing to admit that 2 + 2 = 4.

—B.S.

HORACE and ROGERS

Continued from page 1

hood practiced his simple philosophy which guided him to seek happiness from within rather than from outside factors. He has expressed his beliefs in his poetry when he tells us "to go to extremes in nothing; to follow a path of moderation in everything." We often think of this as being the "Golden Mean" of life.

Horace was surprisingly proud of his humble birth; he suffered no self-consciousness even though he lacked an exalted social position. His poetry constantly reminds us how much he loved the peace of the countryside where he was born. He spent much of his time on his Labine farm:

"Yonder little nook of earth
Beyond all others smiles for me."

He wrote much of the happenings of the day. Merely as an onlooker, he "smilingly told the truth" about the vices of politics and the vanity of human wishes.

Although a pagan, Horace firmly believed in immortality and Providence. So he was able to console many people who were sorrowing when a friend or relative had died: "Ah! Hard it is. But patience lends strength to endure what Heaven sends."

Horace has been a guide of men throughout the ages as a friend, a teacher, and a philosopher. He has shown us the path to a saner living.

Will Rogers

Selfishness in the human race was a quality upon which Rogers placed much emphasis. "There ain't but one wrong with every one of us in the world and that's selfishness." He himself could never be accused of self-interest in the light of his unlimited benefits and charities.

Nothing can prove Will's love for the country any more than a sentence from his introduction to "Trails Plowed Under," a book of Charles M. Russell's

RUSHING SEASON

Continued from page 1

Clarke, Alton; David A. Greenlaw, Bethlehem; Robert L. Tapley, Bristol; Chester F. Kingzman, Winchester; I. David Applebaum, Portsmouth; Gordon R. Tate, Belmont; and Raymond Kulas, Nashua.

Degrees have already been given and plans are being made for the annual banquet and reunion of each fraternity.

Painting. Here he assumes that "Heaven is a range with a good chuck wagon and plenty of food at nightfall." His place of after-life was modeled after his own ranch which he loved so well because it gave him an opportunity to play and ride with his children.

To pick out a single factor leading to his fame, the one which did the most to place Rogers in the hearts of all the people was his own political satire.

Rogers' lowly birth and Indian blood might have been a source of shame to a smaller man. He, however, applied his sense of humor, resulting in such comments as this:

"My ancestors didn't come over in the Mayflower, they met the boat."

Human nature was Will Rogers' best subject, and the false admirer was never confused in his mind with a true friend.

Horace might have lived today or Will Rogers might have been a Roman. A philosopher is a philosopher wherever he lives.

He draws word pictures of his neighbors and his world for those who admire, but lack the skill. An explanation for each perplexing query of life is sought and molded into pleasant lines that please the ear of expressionless souls.

Chance linked 1935 sorrowing over the death of a beloved man, to 65 B.C. which yielded a child whose understanding would be respected two thousand years later.

COMMUNITY LIFE

Continued from page 1

deavor societies. Leader of Royal Ambassadors at First Baptist church, and Sunday School teacher.

Harry W. Davis: Choir director at First Congregational church, including junior choir; lyric male quartet, Keene; member of men's club of First church. Frequent soloist and song leader and director of Keene's community three-day festival held at the school.

Frank H. Blackington, Jr.: Member of Masonic fraternity, First Congregational church Men's club, Parent-Teachers' association, and honorary member of Alpha Pi Tau fraternity.

Henry D. Carle: Chairman of Sunday school committee and director of religious education at the Baptist church, speaker before Winchester Woman's club, the Grange at Rindge, Baptist men's club, and prayer meeting, active in raising funds for Keene Y. M. C. A. Assists Keene Evening Sentinel in identification of bugs, etc.

Maynard C. Waltz: Has given series of five lectures on psychology at the hospital. Member of Masonic fraternity.

James A. Keech: President of Keene Philatelic society, advisory committee of men's club of Court Street Congregational church, and recent forum speaker at church. Has worked during summer with the Federal Transient camp organization.

Merton T. Goodrich: Auditor of Cheshire County Historical society; address on "Genealogical Research vs. Genealogical Rackets"; member of Laymen's League of Unitarian church; participant in activities of the Masonic club.

Sprague W. Drenan: Past president of Keene Philatelic society, member of program committee and recent speaker before Peterboro Stamp club. On speaking program at state teachers'

SPORT CARNIVAL

On April fourth representatives from Central, Franklin, Symonds, Marlboro, Peterboro and probably Sunapee (supervised by Bob Domina, '35) junior high schools will meet in the gymnasium for a sport carnival. Paul Stimson is general chairman and is assisted by the senior gym classes.

This event proved such a success three years ago that it has become an annual event. Many new schools are seeking admittance to the competition. Here is a chance for actual experience in school work. The situation is very similar to any in actual teaching. The events are simple, but encourage a great deal of fun and competition. Come fellows we invite your cooperation.

convention in Concord last October.

Melvin J. West: Secretary of Laymen's league, Unitarian church. Member of Masonic fraternity.

William A. Caldwell: Chairman of Boy Scout leadership training. Active in Red Cross life saving and swimming activities; and adviser and leader in school sports and physical education in city.

Leonard S. Morrison: member of state committee to revise and prepare a curricula for temperance instruction, frequent speaker on this subject. Member of state P.T.A. committees. Masonic and Eastern star affiliations.

Conrad A. Adams: In great demand as a "chef." Member of the Masons.

Women's Activities

Mabel R. Brown: Member of music committees of Keene Woman's club and Unitarian church; on program committee of Woman's Alliance, Unitarian church, associate editor of State Teachers' association bulletin, president of School Mistresses' club of New Hampshire.

Continued in next issue

CORRECTION

It was found necessary to postpone the one-act drama contest scheduled for Saturday, Mar. 28. The new date is April 11.

KEENE KRONICLE

Volume VII, No. 6
May 25, 1936

Sophomore
Number

Published at the State Normal School, Keene, N.H.

KEENE NORMAL SCHOOL AGAIN SPONSORS COMMUNITY MUSIC FESTIVAL PROGRAM

Students Participate in and Listen to Three High Grade Concerts

For the third consecutive season the May community music festival, sponsored by the Keene Normal school, delighted music lovers of the city and surrounding towns. The dates were the evenings of May 10, 11, and 12. So far as known no other teacher training institution in the east sponsors such a festival as a part of its regular program of activities. The three concerts brought before the public a group of nationally known soloists, and a number of local cooperating musical organizations.

Sunday evening featured a large chorus made up of choirs of five local churches and the Keene Normal chapel choir, under the direction of Harry W. Davis, general director of the festival, with Edward H. Holbrook, as accompanist. Assisting were the Keene Maennerchor, a group of local German singers, who sang unaccompanied under the baton of Ludwig Werniger, Miss Frances Hendrickson, violinist, and the Keene Orchestral society, with Carl R. Beedle, conductor.

The well-arranged program was thoroughly appreciated by a large audience, and was a fitting introduction to the festival.

Alumni Featured

For the concert of Monday

Continued on page 8

FACULTY REVIEW SHOWS MUCH COMMUNITY ACTIVITY BY WOMEN

Have Membership in Numerous Organizations and Many Speaking Engagements

We continue publication of the tabulation of the answers to a questionnaire as to the community interests of members of the faculty of K.N.S. In an earlier number were given activities of the men teachers and a beginning was made of the replies for women. Other replies follow.

Dean Isabelle U. Esten and her assistant, Miss Ida E. Fernald, are active in work of dean's section of the N.H. State Teachers' association, Miss Esten being a past president of the section, for 3 years, and former speaker on its programs. Both are members and active in Astoria Chapter, O.E.S., and in the Keene Woman's Club.

Marion F. Hudson: Member of Ward 1 Republican committee. Has given talks before Marlboro and Westmoreland P. T. A.'s, the Woman's Union of Court Street Congregational church, pre-school groups, and school organizations.

Inez M. Vaughan: Vice-president of Fortnightly club, on Americanization and patriotic education of Ashuelot chapter, D. A. R., second vice-president of the Woman's Alliance, Unitarian

Continued on page 8

COMMENCEMENT WEEK PROGRAM FOR 1936 CLASS IS NOW COMPLETED

PLANS COMPLETED FOR TRIENNIAL REUNION OF ALUMNI JUNE 6

Program to Include Class Gatherings, Noon Banquet and Ball Game

President Wallace E. Mason has sent out invitations to the sixth triennial reunion of the alumni of the school to be held on Saturday, June 6. Every loyal graduate is urged to return to the campus for the occasion. President Cleon E. Heald of the general association has arranged a splendid program, and both the faculty and students of the school will unite to make it the best reunion possible.

The program will start at 11:30 with a reunion, and inspection of the buildings. A band concert will take place in the mean time. At 12:15 the alumni will form a procession and march through the 1935 class gift, the pergola, to the dining room for the banquet. This will be followed by speaking which will be over in time for all to attend the baseball game with Bridgewater State Teachers College on the Hyde street grounds.

The address of the day will be given by a former faculty member, Prof. Franklin Roberts, of Boston university. Others who will make short address are the following: Commissioner James N. Pringle, Concord; Hon.

Continued on page 8

Activities to Open with Baccalaureate Service on Sunday, June 7

Plans for the graduation exercises of the class of 1936 have been made as follows:

Sunday, June 7, baccalaureate service at Grace Methodist church, with speaker to be announced.

Tuesday evening, June 9, Pageant on the campus.

Wednesday evening, June 10, Annual Rose Night on Campus. Faculty Reception.

Thursday, June 11, Last chapel, class day and class get-together.

Friday, June 12, Commencement ball.

Saturday, June 13, Commencement exercises at Colonial theatre, with Miss Florence Hale, editor of The Grade Teacher and former president of the N.E.A. as speaker.

Parts Assigned

The class parts have been assigned as follows: Four-year curriculum, Miss Theresa M. Burke, Fairhaven, Vt., class will; J. Laurence Bucher, Alton, prophecy; Joseph Baines, Manchester, history. Three-year Junior High curriculum, the Misses Leora Gardner, Lancaster, Georgia F. Day, Manchester, and Reta J. Leonard, Haverhill, class will; the Misses Iona M. Sheehee, Lebanon, Florina M. Potvin, Claremont, and Ruth Rix, Keene, prophecy; the Misses Gertrude Emerson, Concord, Thelma O. Dickinson, Winchester, and Kathryn M. Walsh,

Continued on page 8