Somewhere,

Florence, darling:

No mail to-day, and I am getting a wee bit impatient awaiting the arrival of your air-mail letters, but I suppose there is always to-morrow. Have written you several full length letters in the past two days so you will have to be satisfied with this shorty.

As I look backward time seems to be passing very quickly, here it is the middle of winter, and it seemed like only yesterday we were together in St. Paul. I'm sure the next few months will pass just as quickly, and perhaps with the end of the war. Be patient, stay in good health, don't worry, and have some fun to while the time away. I have been rather busy the past few weeks but you must realize there is a great deal of administration work in a company this size, and I pride myself enough to do this job the best I can. No doubt this does not surprise you.

Hope you, Jim, the folks, Jell and your family are well. I feel fine and dandy, love you more than ever, and continue to adore you, as ever.

George

INSTRUCTIONS

- (1) Write the entire message plainly on the other side within marginal lines.
 - (2) PRINT the name and address in the two panels provided. Addresses to members of the Armed Forces should include rank or rating of the addressee, unit to which attached, and APO or Naval address.
 - (3) Fold, seal, and deposit in any post office letter drop or street letter box.
 - (4) Enclosures must not be placed in this envelope and a separate V-Mail letter must be sent if you desire to write more than one sheet.
 - (5) V-Mail letters may be sent free of postage by members of the Armed Forces. When sent by others postage must be prepaid at domestic rates (3c ordinary mail, 6c if air mail is desired).
- V-Mail Service provides the most expeditious dispatch and reduces the weight of mail to and from personnel of our Armed Forces outside the continental United States. When addressed to points where micro-film equipment is operated, a miniature photographic negative of the message will be made and sent by the most expeditious transportation available for reproduction and delivery. The original message will be destroyed after the reproduction has been delivered. Messages addressed to or from points where micro-film equipment is not operated will be transmitted in their original form by the most expeditious means available.
