but they had the potential scoring punch to win games.
Communities lacked practice, but towards the end of the year they had improved a great deal. All we can say about them is the old proverbial phrase, "Wait until next year."

This year's games offered a chance for student activities and the spectators were given many fine games. The spirit and sportsmanship was keen throughout the year.
Final standings: Kappa, 15-1; Alpha, 10-8; Hillsboro, 9-7; Sigma, 4-12; Commuters, 3-13.

Improvements

to be very entertaining to all the Alphas and many of their friends. Of course we cannot overlook the two new honorary members, Dr. William Early and Mr. Dennis Kieley, who have been added to the Alpha roll.

In Kappa House there have also been numerous improvements, most having been completed since the first of the year. New wallpaper adorns the upper and lower halls, whose woodwork has also been painted. All the rooms which did not have linoleum laid on the floors previously have now been covered. New overhead lights in the upper hall and two of the front rooms are also recent changes. Perhaps the most important improvement is the addition to the social room that was completed by the Kappa men themselves. The boys paneled the walls and ceiling, covered the floor with masonry tile, and refinished the former storage room into a fine extra area to complete the new addition except for staining with a natural finish.

A new door and front panel has been put in place of the old double doors. The old stair treads and backs have been replaced with new ones, and the railing has been removed for new spindles and refishing.

Efficient Studying
Solution to Success

Knoxville, Tenn. (I.P.)—Students who distribute their studying evenly throughout the week will be the students who get an education instead of just a diploma, according to E. J. Fisher, who conducts a University of Tennessee laboratory on remedial reading and effective study methods.

He says that too many students, even after they reach college age, still concentrate all their study on one or two nights or afternoons a week. "Generally speaking it is the student who studies some each day, even utilizing the half hours and 15 minutes here and there, who really gets something of value out of school, as well as conserving ordinarily wasted time."

"Cramming," according to Fisher, may serve the immediate purpose of passing the examination but information gained that way is seldom retained.
The counselor stresses the importance of planning ahead—perhaps with the help of teachers or parents. Some of the student's "best" hours each day should be left open for study. "This means some of the hours when he's not half asleep after a full and even exhausting day," Fisher says.

On April 10 and 11 at the Bradford Hotel in Boston, where students are interested in problems of regional teaching are invited to the regional conference of the Association for Student Teaching.

The program will include such eminent speakers as Dr. J. Wendell Yeo, Dean of the School of Education, Boston University, and Arthur J. Michael, Director of Elementary School Apprentice Teaching at Harvard University.

Creative Education Is Urged by
NYU Dean to Sustain Democracy

New York, N. Y. (I.P.)—Declaring that "If our particular kind of democracy is to point the way toward a creative life, we must have a creative education in this country," Dean Ernest O. Melby of New York University's School of Education believes that his recent announcement of its complete reorganization for maximum service to the student, the teacher, and the community, is a step toward that goal.

"Because our reorganization plan is unique and because it is ambitious, although logical, in its scope, details of the program are still in exploratory stages," Dean Melby continued. "But I firmly believe that its goal of marshaling the School's rich resources to effect creative leadership among pre-service and in-service teachers will be successful."

The reorganized doctoral-level division, the Division of Scientific Study and Advancement of Education, is actually the result of an evolutionary trend in enrollment at the School during the past few years, according to Dean Melby. Since 1930, N.Y.U.'s School of Education has tried to meet the scholastic needs of the teaching and other professions, not only in this country but throughout the world by providing courses in myriad phases of education," Dean Melby added.

"One eventual result was that emphasis on graduate enterprise increased, and the proportion of graduate students to the whole rose significantly. It was obvious that reorganization was indicated, if only to mobilize most effectively our facilities on the top educational level."

Under Associate Dean Alonzo G. Grace, the Division of Scientific Study will undertake studies on advanced levels, including doctoral programs, research and experimentation, advanced foundational studies, and human relations studies—the last as they affect both foundations of education and international relations.

"We have over 1,000 candidates for doctoral degrees who have passed qualifying examinations, and we anticipate another thousand in the near future," Dean Melby revealed. "The new doctoral-level program has a special faculty of 40 members, made up of men and women whose major interests are in advanced study. They have been relieved of administrative duties in order to concentrate on the problems of building a program of advanced studies that will meet the needs of the educational profession in our day."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Mr. Blackington urges each student teacher to get his placement papers complete as soon as possible. Even though a senior may expect to be married or enter the service, it is very important for each to get his credentials up-to-date while still in college.

The college green house which has been somewhat inactive since the departure of Professor Harry Davis, is now back in full scale operation. Alfred Lambert, principal of Franklin Junior High School, is now in charge of plant operations.

We are glad to welcome Theresa Roberts as new part-time assistant at Mason Library. Theresa is librarian at Keene High School, but is presently on a leave of absence for one year.

Last week the third floor of Hale building was the scene of the annual exhibit of the New Hampshire Art Association. On display were works of the outstanding artists of New Hampshire.

KTC IS SCENE OF RED PROBE

Senators MacFarcey and Henner Conduct
Investigation Of Faculty and Students

Following in the wake of the nation-wide onslaught on education as being subversive, anti-American and downright lousy, the announcement was recently made that the axe of truth is to fall on our own beloved little campus. Naturally the accusation was voiced by that exponent of 200% Americanism Josef "200 proof patriot" McFarcey. Red Henner also was on hand to nod his head in intellectual agreement over the scandal.

Curriculum Changes
Announced by Dean

It was announced last week by Dean Snare's mis-information office that commencing with next year's program, several changes in present courses and addition of numerous other courses would take place.

Perhaps the most important change will find all psychology classes abolished with the substitution of "Behavior." This new course will be conducted in a symposium manner for ten ten-minute periods a week. The purpose of this course is to allow Wheelock and Central Junior High students to observe the actions of college students so that they may fully understand what they themselves will be like in the future.

Another innovation next year will find all students who fail to attend classes or assembly being paid one dollar for every class they miss. In a generous, but long expected move, Doc Old announced that this was being done to encourage students not to come to class. Doc Old reasoned, we won't need any faculty and that would cut down our expenses considerably.

In the list of new courses, there are Aspirinology taught by Miss Pill, Snake Charming taught by Dean Snare, Silence taught by Mrs. Hudson, and Diction which will be instructed by Miss Manchester and Miss Pragat.

Five Pupils Ejected
In Cribbing Scandal

Last week the new members of the three (3.0) club were announced as semester marks came out. Unfortunately some of those who attained this enviable position high on the top of the Dean's List accomplished the feat under false pretenses. This announcement came after considerable research on the part of Irum Jitney, Chancellor of the White Slips. This information was laid on Dr. Vold Old's desk and he had no alternative but to throw the juicy scandal before the public.

After the fire cooled, it was learned that a major crisis had been averted in that only five students were involved in the violation of the honor code. In a statement to the press, Doc emphasized, "No leniency will be used in this case. The villains will be expelled without questions."

Miss Jitney's suspicions were aroused when three students passed government last semester, which is unprecedented in the history of Professor Jitney's watchful course.

The violators had little to say in their defense knowing that truth always wins out at KTC. Two other cribbers were caught in the dragnet when they achieved the phenomenal mark of 73 in their N. H. Education finals.

Suicide Hinted At In Hanging Of
Director of "Voice of KTC" Program

Tuesday's gray dawn brought with it another shocking episode in the drama of KTC. Well known director of the popular program, "Voice of KTC," Yawn Dryford, was found hanging from a tree supported mainly by a chain attached to his neck. Sam Shovel, yoke sleuth imported to handle the case, has ventured that this might be an important link in the cause of Dryford's death. A few of the intelligentsia have even been heard mentioning the possibility of suicide. This theory was greatly substantiated when a suicide note was found in Dryford's room containing the following message:

"The vultures were about to prey on me and there was nothing I could do to alter the situation—my whole life would have been dead. A man's aspirations, goals and achievements can be ruined by a few acid accusations. What could I ever have done to neutralize the charges of those who are in power? I tried to lead a good American life, but the one mistake that I made would have overshadowed all that. How was I supposed to know using as my theme song, 'Red Sails in the Sunset,' would be tabbed by McFarcey as indicating to a foreign power that the U.S. was vulnerable to a naval attack? Of course it was our song, Joan's and mine, back in the 30's—that was when times were tough and we were both struggling to forge ahead. 'Man of Steel' they used to call me, but that's all behind me now."

"As I'm about to end it all, let me impart to you a little advice: 'Live free or die.' My only last wish is that the good kids here won't be used as scapegoats."

First to discover Dryford's lifeless form was Dean Snare, who first shrugged off the incident as a hoax.

This is a long distance show that extracted spontaneous emotion from both of the spectators.

The plot centers around a local operator, telephone that is, who has a mania for dancing. One night, with her head ringing, she gets caught in an exchange, with the orchestra leader, who encoils her into performing. Offering her a number, the huckster builds up to a climax in which the operator gets busy.

Tremendous Appropriations Make Possible New Building ProgramCollege Instructors to Enter Sport Events

A reliable source has reported that KTC's Bill Late will enter the Boston Walkathon on Patriots' Day in the Hub. Under an intensive training program, although he hasn't disclosed this to anyone, Doc Late has been observed by your reporter several times hustling madly to and from Hale Building to Wheelock and from Rockingham to the Campus Club.

Although unofficial, we believe he set a new record for covering the distance between the library and Huntriss, as he was clocked in thirty seconds flat for the distance. It was also brought to light by your reporter that while at Boston University Doc Late was a member of the Huntriss Club.

In a recent interview with Bounding Bill, he disclosed some valuable tips for fast walking. When asked what he attributed his speed to, Doc answered, "The goals in the elementary school program must be reached." The reply to my question "Do you plan to enter the Olympic Walkathon in 1954?" was answered by "Upon evaluating my ability in a reliable and valid way I feel that a test such as this Walkathon should be objectively constructed to be usable." And his parting remark was, "What the heck is so usable about walking?"

Also under an intensive conditioning program is our cyclist, Connie Adams. A recent disclosure has it that "Pop" will be featured in the forthcoming bicycle races at New York's Madison Square Garden.

The building will be complete with escalators, elevators and straight-back chairs to blend with the ultra-modern architecture.

Another multi-million dollar structure will be a men's dormitory.

New Criteria Set Up By Nestle
To Determine Draft Deferments

Major General Louis B. Nestle, Chairman of the U.S. Selective Service Administration has just propounded a new set of criteria in the judgment of college deferments. Fortunately this time he is telling those in college about them.

1. Those with I.Q.'s will continue to be exempted throughout their educational careers—Nestle feels that society demands that war corps be educated.

2. All males who have records of questionable social value will not be considered for Armed Service. By way of explanation, Nestle stated, "the moral and ethical standards of those in the service of our country are our deepest concern. We cannot employ men who play cards, hold hands with girls or imbibe intoxicating beverages." (Ed. note.) This clause is expected to affect greatly the minor colleges of the country, i.e. Harvard, Yale, etc. However, due to the high moral fiber of our men at KTC we can ignore this item.

3. All elementary students presently living with their wives who are pursuing a full time schedule situated in the upper quartile, in deciphering this bit, the selective service Czar said, "We cannot concern ourselves with the domestic life of the students."

Play Receives Raves
From Local Audience

On March 19, The Dramatics Club, Play Production Class, and other disinterested parties, combined to produce that colossal, flopper-top, high drama of suspense, "The Telephone Operator Who Died While Dancing" or "Sorry, Wrong Rhumba." Under the direction of Asparagus Brennan, this half-act play simply rang with emotion.

Giving a great performance in the principal role was that eminent actress, Shirley Fonebooth. In supporting roles (the whole play needed support) were Pat Stormly, Maryhill Markmyhand, and Bob Ever Ready.

The plot centers around a local operator, telephone that is, who has a mania for dancing. One night, with her head ringing, she gets caught in an exchange, with the orchestra leader, who encoils her into performing. EDITORIAL

In our humble opinion, American journalism has sunk to the slime of intellectual oblivion — yes, even to the utter depths of degradation. It is in the foul clutches of stereotyped, conformist thinking and under the unscrupulous control of the nation's money bags. But, alas, you fortunate students, we of The MONADNOCK are subservient to no one, and having no money we are now free from even the influence of the bags. . . .

We are a hard fighting, truth seeking, 100% American paper.

We of The MONADNOCK are giving to you students a magnanimous gift. It has to be a gift, because no one would buy it. Do not construe this to mean we are free . . . No sir, (and madames) the price we pay is our forcing the people to accept the truth and not the lies of the money baggers.

When The Monadnock goes to press, the printers must handle it with care — it's dynamite, it's loaded, it's fragile. We fear not in printing the facts, whatever the consequences may be. We do not cater to those who dwell in their decadent shells, self-righteous and afraid to think.

You see, We are a hard fighting, truth seeking, 100% American paper.

Despite the apparent apathetic attitude and arrogant, evasive antics of those who are indifferent to the world tensions that surround us, we are among those with their collective eyelashes lifted. We're in the know.

That's because we're a hard fighting, truth seeking, 100% American paper.

Our reportorial staff is alert, eager, ambitious, effluent, effusive, assuaging, and somewhat giddy. They have noses for newswires. They are all about forever seeking bits for you — our readers. They are in Dean Carle's office insuring justice to all. They are in the archives of the library finding out what is wrong with America's social structure, Keene Teachers College, Capitalism, Democrats, Republicans, sex patterns and other incidental problems.

They're looking for truth because they work for a hard fighting, truth seeking, 100% American paper.

We of The MONADNOCK are virtual crusaders. We habitually lead the fight for anything that over 99% of the people are opposed to. We will never succumb to public coercion. As long as there is an ounce of red American blood in our arteries, we will struggle against any odds for truth. Like a certain Capitalistic product, we duz everything.

We are a hard fighting, truth seeking, 100% American paper.

With the excellent staff that we now have, we are assured that we can continue the good fight and that our proud heritage will never die. And the part that makes us feel good inside is that The MONADNOCK will not cost you one (if you'll pardon the expression) red cent. This paper will continue to be a hand out.

Why not? We are a hard fighting, truth seeking, 100% American paper. . . .

The first to be subpoenaed at Monday's hearings, Lessard, a T & I student, testified "I ain't gonna answer on the grounds it may send me up for 99 years." Other testimonies were equally as persuasive, but all were found guilty of signing their loyalty oaths with crossed fingers.

Next to take the stand was Dean Snarle, who stated "I knew it all along, but figured the boys would straighten out when I had a chance to talk to them. Dr. Oldby said, 'It's fortunate our legislators can't read. If they heard of this we'd be functioning in tents.' Mr. Goodrich defended himself by saying 'only friction I've created was due

BUREAU OF NON-VITAL STATISTICS
Concord, New Hampshire

Report to the Editor:
It has come to the attention of this bureau, a certain faculty member of Keene Teachers College, is constantly tardy for meals. This tardiness has caused quite a bit of concern among the students of that institution and for that reason, the Bureau was asked to make a study concerning this situation. This Bureau, after a close 14 day study has come up with the following statistics:

Length of study: two weeks
Number of meals attended: 42
Greatest tardiness in one day: 31 minutes
Total number of minutes late: 294
Average tardiness per meal: 7.00 minutes
Total number of minutes late per year: 5292 minutes
Number of hours late per week: 2.45 hours
Number weeks in school year: 36
Number of hours late per school year: 88.20
Number of days late per year: 3.6750

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE BUREAU:
That the aforementioned subject of study be given 3.6750 days vacation per year in excess to regular vacation, so that meals may be attended on time.

I. M. NUMBERLESS Chief of Bureau

Student Council Plans Winter Carnival, Bans Pantie Raids

The Student Council of Keene Teachers College held its regular meeting in Parker hall last Tuesday. President Barnabi presided over the meeting, during which the subject of next year's Winter Carnival was discussed. It was decided that the whole affair, which will be the biggest thing ever to hit this campus, will be held at Sun Valley, Idaho. Free transportation will be provided for all students interested in attending this great event. The Carnival will be held during the last week in January. This naturally will eliminate all final exams which come at the close of first semester.

The next item on the agenda was the topic of drinking. The Student Council finally has come to the conclusion that students may imbibe on the first and third Thursday of every other month from 3:30 - 9:45. To celebrate this victory over opposing forces, open house will be held at the fabulous Coco-Banana on April first.

As the last few members of the Council were about to leave, and the sun over the campus was slowly sinking in the West, President Barnabi began a lengthy filibuster on the evils of Pantie Raids (the chief source of amusement of our KTC men). After long hours of listening, the members of the council finally gave in to her and voted 36 to 35 in favor of banning these raids. Of course, the thirty-six who voted in favor didn't really want to ban this much enjoyed pastime, but merely voted that way so that they could get out of Parker hall and get over to the delicious meal in the dining room which was anticipated by all the members of the Council. The meeting adjourned at 5:59 p. m.

Further smears are expected in an effort to uncover the vile plot. Keep buying the Monadnock to keep informed of latest developments.

Campus WHEELS

This week's choice for Campus Wheel, White Owl, is a well-known figure at our college. He came to KTC from Cuba, a graduate of Havana Miller, where he won fame for his research on the elimination of sleep as a necessity, a boon to other students who wish to stay awake all night to complete their work.

Whitey is an ardent Yankee fan, and also likes to spend a great deal of his time reading works by that of the Cleveland Indians. Hap "The Whip" Haggood returns to the mound. Last season Hap had 77 strikeouts in 54 innings. Mo "Submarine" Bolanger should have another fine year. Her under-hand pitching baffled opponents last season as she pitched two no-hitters. Rookie Cliff "Fireman" Boyin will be used in relief to come in and put out the fires.

Behind the plate to catch the serves of the great pitchers will be Percy McLeod, who led the club with 30 stolen bases in the last campaign. Coach Joyce has a one-man bench this year. He goes along with versatile Pete "Yogi" Wilcox.

The manager will be John "The Critic" Lyford and the Gofblatt brothers will be ball boy and bat boy.

Coach Joyce has hired three fine umpires. Behind the plate will be Bertha "The Eye" Winchester. Flery Merle Jackson will call the plays at first base and showman Dean Carle will work at third. The groundskeeper this year will be Mrs. "Keep 'em Clean" Goodrich. Jim Brezinski has volunteered to take the strenuous job of operating the pushbutton scoreboard.

Underneath the grandstand, the faculty will operate various concessions to enable them to have a little spending money.

an outgrowth of Hell-Week. Later realization came that school regulations were in danger because Dryford's rigor mortised body might drop on early arrivals at the library. Naturally this action contravenes school law as stipulated in Katy See, so a full-fledged investigation was ordered by the Dean.

For information leading to the Dryford episode the bursar was authorized to pay a reward of 30 pieces of silver to the first stool pigeon. Dryford's funeral services are tentatively set for Monday morning at 10. Attendance will be taken.

Baseball Season Will Open With New Lineup For Dedication of Stadium

Coach Joyce greeted the baseball candidates at the Owl's new $750,000 stadium (seating capacity 95,000) last week. The outlook for this year's squad is very promising. After an interview with Coach Joyce, it is believed that the following will see action:

1b—Pat Therrien who can really grab those high throws. Pat drew 53 walks in the last campaign; 2b—Jan "The Brat" Forrest who batted .327 last season; ss—Alden "The Glove" Hoyt who hit a record high of .521 last year, and he hasn't made an error in 309 chances; 3b—Bob "The Scoop" Pearson who is rated higher than Billy Cox. The Brooklyn Dodgers want Bob and have offered him $700,000 just to sign a contract; lf—Herbie "Wall Bang" Wexler. Last season Wexler put many dents in the left field wall as he banged into it to snare fly balls. In one game, Herbie threw out eight men at home plate; cf—Muffy "Big Boom" Shea who led the Owls in home runs last season with 21, all of which traveled over 400 feet. Shea is former Dodger property; rf—Bob "The Arm" Sudak who last year made 16 assists in one game.

The pitching staff is compared to that of the Cleveland Indians. Hap "The Whip" Haggood returns to the mound. Last season Hap had 77 strikeouts in 54 innings. Mo "Submarine" Bolanger should have another fine year. Her under-hand pitching baffled opponents last season as she pitched two no-hitters. Rookie Cliff "Fireman" Boyin will be used in relief to come in and put out the fires.

The faculty's gift to the KTC athletic teams has finally been realized. A new one million dollar sportatorium has been erected on the east side of the Owl's spacious athletic plant. Baseball Season Will Open With New Lineup For Dedication of Stadium

Coach Joyce greeted the baseball candidates at the Owl's new $750,000 stadium (seating capacity 95,000) last week. The outlook for this year's squad is very promising. After an interview with Coach Joyce, it is believed that the following will see action:

1b—Pat Therrien who can really grab those high throws. Pat drew 53 walks in the last campaign; 2b—Jan "The Brat" Forrest who batted .327 last season; ss—Alden "The Glove" Hoyt who hit a record high of .521 last year, and he hasn't made an error in 309 chances; 3b—Bob "The Scoop" Pearson who is rated higher than Billy Cox. The Brooklyn Dodgers want Bob and have offered him $700,000 just to sign a contract; lf—Herbie "Wall Bang" Wexler. Last season Wexler put many dents in the left field wall as he banged into it to snare fly balls. In one game, Herbie threw out eight men at home plate; cf—Muffy "Big Boom" Shea who led the Owls in home runs last season with 21, all of which traveled over 400 feet. Shea is former Dodger property; rf—Bob "The Arm" Sudak who last year made 16 assists in one game.

The pitching staff is compared to that of the Cleveland Indians. Hap "The Whip" Haggood returns to the mound. Last season Hap had 77 strikeouts in 54 innings. Mo "Submarine" Bolanger should have another fine year. Her under-hand pitching baffled opponents last season as she pitched two no-hitters. Rookie Cliff "Fireman" Boyin will be used in relief to come in and put out the fires.

Behind the plate to catch the serves of the great pitchers will be Percy McLeod, who led the club with 30 stolen bases in the last campaign. Coach Joyce has a one-man bench this year. He goes along with versatile Pete "Yogi" Wilcox.

The manager will be John "The Critic" Lyford and the Gofblatt brothers will be ball boy and bat boy.

The other day your reporter was poking around the vocational building and the driver training car hoping to get an interview with Model T. Bushnell, who has taken over as the new wrestling coach.

This sport, which has just recently been accorded a place in the athletic program, is catching on fast with the student body, as I have observed many students practicing wrestling in the science lab and in front of Fiske and Huntress Halls at night.

But to get back to the interview with the new coach. I caught him in one of his magnanimous moods and extracted the following information from him about the mat squad. Several encouraging prospects including Pudgy Pete Panagos, Jolting Jim Diamantis, Frenchie Tounignant, Hercules Howie Smith, Powerful Pete Wilcox, and Big Bob Trombley, led Coach Bushnell to exclaim that we might be able to compete with those perennial wrestling powerhouses, Radcliffe, Smith, and Vassar.

Going on to explain some of the holds developed by his men, Model T. chortled with fiendish glee as he thought about the havoc his charges might wreck with their secret weapons.

For example, Diamantis uses the snore-hold, which requires tremendous power to be exerted by the nose for effective use. Panagos delights in using his crusher known as the tummy thumper to flatten opponents. In Tounignant's case, his hold is known as the reverse eyelash twacker, which causes temporary blindness. Smith being a slippery character likes to lure his opponent into the corner and slam his head against the ring post. Bushnell adds that this method usually knocks the fans cold by its viciousness. Wilcox applies a double reverse half bite toe clamp to stop his man, while "Terrible" Trombley literally plays football with his opponent by using the double drop-kick with an accurate backward flip for more power in the kick.

Coach Joyce has laid down a strict curfew. All players must retire at 5 a. m. and the players believe that curfew is much too strict. Coach Joyce says, "It should be an interesting year." This writer certainly agrees with him.

Late News Briefs

Due to a recent Student Council survey it was made public that there is a growing need for additional clubs and organizations on the KTC campus. Campus leaders in an effort to alleviate this situation, quickly caucused to charter a new social order—Alcoholics Anonymous. The attendance at the first meeting was staggering.

In a biological study last week the class conducted an experiment on "the effect of a firefly backing into an electric fan." After lengthy discussions the young scientists formed the collective conclusion that the insect was delighted.

In the observance of Safety Week which will be celebrated campus wide next week, the Safety Education Class, under the able tutelage of LeVerge Bushwacker, has come up with the following panacea. All automobile bumpers will be inscribed with a statement to the press. Bushwacker mumbled "No one in KTC history has been known to hit 4.0."

A recent survey in which the students of Keene Teachers College were given an I.Q. test, revealed some startling results; perforce, that there were no results. Police raided the recent Friday night record hop on a tip from a local citizen who thought the Gym was too crowded. It seems that this condition has occurred several times in the past two years.

It was learned this morning that a new assistant to the bursar will be hired soon. Reports have it that the bursar has contracted buritis in the cheek writing arm, and all college activities will cease unless a new check writer is produced.

Prof. Real Stresses Importance Of Students to Education In Talk

The featured speaker at the assembly held in Spaulding Gym last Monday was Professor Carl B. Real, who took for his topic "The Importance of Students to Our Educational System."

Making some very startling statements, which certainly awakened many of us to the needs of our educational system, Professor Real said that he felt that students were the most important part of our educational system. He even went so far as to say that without students our educational institutions would not long survive.

Professor Real, from Saskatchewan State Seminary, went on to give examples to make his talk more enlightening. For example he felt that students play as important a part in education, as a frosting does to cake. Without either students or frosting, education and cake would not taste very good. Going on to conclude, Professor Real said that he felt education must seek students to educate, or suffer a serious handicap.

tory, despite frantic opposition from contented house fathers. However, the house fathers' lobby was unsuccessful in their desire for a homey atmosphere in the new structure. One master two-foot thick steel door will be the only entrance and will be electrically locked each night at 8:30. Each room will be equipped with pastel flat bars instead of the conventional black round ones.

The girls' dorm will be quite similar to the men's except that it detectors will be present at all entrances to insure honesty from all house mothers who may be a few minutes past curfew.

The new library will contain countless stories; some shorter than others. Ace second story man, Robert Pearson, will direct construction of this project.

Governor Keg will roll into town in about a week to commence ground breaking projects. His endorsement of the vast building program is expected to turn all contented students and faculty against him in his bid for the 1954 governorship. Opposing administration and faculty members are expected to seek employment in smaller colleges with smaller physical plants.

Faculty Overwhelms Girls' Sport Team

The women students were pleasantly surprised last week when the faculty offered to meet them in certain sporting events. The proceeds of the evening were to be given to the students favorite charity, the faculty retirement fund. Knowing the faculty's ability in this particular field, the students were a little afraid of accepting the challenge, but finally agreed for the sake of sportsmanship. As was to be expected, the faculty made a clean sweep of the evening.

Events and their winners were: Kick the Tire, Mrs. Crandell; Snail Hop Scotch, Miss Womancaster; Skiddies, Mrs. Goodfish; Plunge and Lounge, Miss Wilton; Petcka, Mrs. Leans; Blind the Baddies, Mrs. Reddy. The only casualty of the evening was when Mrs. Crandell misjudged her aim at a tire and hit Miss Gussie instead. Miss Gilly administered an aspirin and the events continued. After the games were over, the faculty voted to take the girls to the campus club for refreshments.

break up happy American homes. We do not want a re-occurrence of V-1, mean Case 69, where without warning, a mailman was drafted and left his wife holding the bag."

4. Final Jurisdiction of all cases will be left to the discretion of the draftee's own little draft board. The board will be expected to use the following procedure:

First: take the applicant's ages, chronological, physiological, psychological, mental, abridged, and the one he was acting when last encountered, multiply it by the present consumer index and solve for net yardage. Use this figure in computing operation Marilyn Monroe. After finding the Monroe doctrine, find the third dimension, divide by the square root of the applicant's stability (if milkman, use square routes). Finally check applicant's stability by slugging with hammer. If draft boards desire they may use the optional plan No. 1776 of drawing straws or flipping coins.

In conclusion, General Nestle stated there has been some confusion in regard to the various classifications that exist at present—especially the 1-S, 2-S, 3-S, 4-S, 5-S, 6-S, 7-S, 8-S, 9-S and out-S classifications. Gen. Nestle has simplified this dilemma by putting all students in class T-S. Other new classifications are: 11-AA (Who Me?), 11-B or not to B which will be 1-C (if possessing 20-20 vision), 1-SN (semi-neurotic), 3/4-S for all those who are over 65 but have not yet completed high school.

Street cleaners, bank presidents, and general motors employees will continue to be deferred.

300 STUDENTS ATTEND KTC HIGH SCHOOL DAY

By Mary McGuirk

The Annual High School Day, sponsored by Keene Teachers College, took place on Friday, April 17. The largest group of high school students ever to attend this event began to arrive early Friday morning to register in Hale Building and attend the coffee hour in the faculty rooms. The Chairman of the day's program was Marjorie Stevens.

Following the registration, the high school pupils were conducted to various classes by college students who had volunteered to work on the committee.

Assembly Featured by Movie on Wildlife

Approximately three hundred high school students ate lunch in the college dining room, after which they attended an assembly program in Parker Hall.

Glen Burney was the student chairman of the program and introduced Dr. Young, who welcomed the boys and girls to the college, and Dean Corrigan who greeted them on behalf of the college students. The Glee Club, directed by Mr. Kiely, presented a half-hour program of songs. Individual talents were shown when Gladys Piodok, Marceline Froto, and Linda MacFadden sang solos and Lorraine Goyette presented a monologue. At the conclusion of the assembly Open House was held in Spaulding Gymnasium where the high school pupils could swim, bowl, or play ping pong. Others played tennis and badminton out of doors. Open House was held all day in both boys and girls dormitories and students could visit any of the buildings on campus.

From four to six-thirty a picnic was held at the College Camp. In the evening all of the visitors from the schools were invited to the annual Nu Beta Upsilon Square Dance which was held in Spaulding Gym, and many of the guests stayed overnight in the various houses on campus.

Impressions Abroad Given by Foreign Students in Discussion

Through the cooperation of the Woman's Club of Keene and the International Relations Club of KTC three foreign exchange students presented a panel discussion on several problems of international importance, on April 16. These students were Mr. Lyewagur from Greece, student at Northeastern; Mit Jabra from Jordan and Mr. Ahmad from Pakistan, both students at Harvard.

These students felt that there are some things about their countries that Americans do not understand. The student from Greece felt that we do not realize the difference in culture between the United States and Greece and because of this the two countries have a difference in opinion on how money should be spent. The representative from Jordan felt that many people in the U. S. do not realize that Jordan exists, and furthermore they do not know that the Arabs would like to unite. The speaker from India said that the U. S. needs to realize that in India the people desire independence, that the people are materialistic and not spiritualistic as we sometimes think, and that it is very difficult for the people to break away from traditions.

There were various opinions in regard to the U. N. The feeling in Greece is one of hope but the people are reluctant to accept the veto. In Jordan the Arabs are cautious toward the U. N. because that country has been vetoed out of the U. N. The speaker from Pakistan felt that the people thought that the U. N. depends too much on the wishes of the Big Five.

Greece has been helped by the Point Four Program a great deal, but in Jordan they feel it has been of minor importance; while in Pakistan the technical aid has been of more significance than the capital. The benefits of the European Army seemed doubtful to the gentlemen.

The gentleman from Jordan said that our stand in Korea was admirable. In general, Mr. Ahmad felt that the people of Asia do not favor the return of Chiang Kai-shek. The following suggestions for ways that the U. S. could help these countries were offered.

Teaching Evaluation Supported By Faculty at Western Reserve

Cleveland, O. (I.P.)—General approval of the "Pupil Evaluation of Teaching" plan at Western Reserve University has been registered by a majority of the faculty who were evaluated by the program.

The evaluation, known as "PET," to faculty and students alike, has been under way for the past two years. A faculty-student committee headed by Dr. Richard Wallen, associate professor of psychology, is working on the project this year.

Thirty-four professors originally evaluated by pupils in the early phase of the project were sent questionnaires recently by Dr. Wallen's committee. Purpose of the questionnaire was to determine what value PET held for them. Returns from 23 of these professors who had been rated by their classes showed that nearly three-quarters thought that PET was valuable and 89 per cent of them indicated that the present plan should be continued. The questionnaire asked whether or not the teachers had made any change in teaching methods because of the student ratings. Over 60 per cent replied that they had made some changes but did not specify just what these changes were. Several questions dealt with matters of policy. One of these asked whether student ratings of teachers should be acted on by the faculty. Sixty-one per cent answered "yes," while most of the remainder felt that faculty action would be needed only for compulsory plans.

While it was not the committee's intent to make a research project out of PET, certain results were so easily available that a simple analysis was undertaken. A class was defined as dissatisfied on an item if at least one-third of the class reported unfavorably. This definition was used in the following: Explains clearly method and basis for grading; provides for review of basic material; explains basis for grading written work; summarizes main points of class discussion; provides study aids such as book lists, outlines; and includes many students in discussions.

Four Willimantic Students Visit Campus in Year's First Exchange Teachers Conventions Held in Three Cities

The Exchange Committee made possible the first exchange of the year with Willimantic Teachers College of Willimantic, Conn. Rae Mitchell, Carolyn Ramsey, Mae Allen, and Carolyn Lees left Monday morning to spend five days at Willimantic. Audrey Hale, a senior of Middle Haddam, Conn.; Lella O'Connor, a freshman of Waterbury, Conn.; Janet Smith, a junior of Windsor, Conn. and Audrey Woodcock, a junior of East Hartford, arrived here Sunday night.

Willimantic Teachers College is entirely for the training of those interested in the elementary field. The freshman and sophomore years are spent in a liberal arts program. The specialized professional training takes place in the junior and senior years. At this time 30 weeks are spent doing student teaching. At the end of the sophomore year each student who wishes to continue must write a letter of application which is presented to all the faculty members.

Fiske Girls Present Follies Show in Gym

On the night of April 8 the freshman girls presented the annual Fiske Follies to a large crowd at Spaulding Gym. Producing some very original sets, the Follies was a variety show that had everything from the customary singing and dancing to quiz games, monologues, and a movie. Adding to the enjoyment of the spectators was Lorraine Goyette's role as master of ceremonies.

The first act consisted of dancing by Georgette Laprise to the music of Valentine. Other members of the ballet troupe who performed this number were Peg Guilmet, Cynthia Foster, Lee Buebee, Dottie Blinnore, Bette Ann Hutchinson and Polly Plodzik. A hilarious rendition of the current hit, "Glow Worm," featured a vocal by Marlene St. Cyr and dancing by Bette Ann Hutchinson, Bette Ann Scripture, Sylvia Robinson, Ann Rogers, and Millie Ingalls.

Among the outstanding solo acts were the performances of Lorraine Goyette and Dolly Plodzik. The former presented her inimitable interpretation of a comical monologue entitled "The Waltz," while Miss Plodzik sang "I Believe."

Among those who have already accepted invitations to take part on the panel discussions are Walter Gropius, Architecture; Joseph Coletti, Sculpture; and Jamie Bauer, who had the dance lead in "The King and I," will be on the Dance Panel.

Television and Radio Panels will include Fred Garrigus and Milroy Ingraham. Michael Laurence, formerly with the Abbey Theatre, will be a member of the Acting Panel. The Fiction Panel includes James T. Farrell and Gerald Warner Brace. Cleanth Brooks and William Frohock will conduct a panel on Literary Criticism. Panels on Jazz and Folk Music are being arranged by George Weiss, manager of STORVILLE, Boston. "Minorities and the Arts" will be discussed by Maxwell Glanville.

Basic registration for the Conference is fifty cents for students, one dollar for non-students, plus fifty cents for the Keynote Session and one dollar for the Panels. Registration may be accomplished by contacting the NSA delegate at National Student Association schools, or the president of the student government at non-NSA schools, prior to the Conference. Registration will be accepted at the Conference up to capacity.

Alpha Opera Co. Renders Original Version Before Capacity Crowd

Last Thursday night, April 16, marked the triumphant return of the Alpha Opera Company to the expectant students of KTC. Obviously, the celebration of the group's 15th anniversary drew all the notable and well-known opera goers from the surrounding vicinity. A marvelous shock of brilliant red hair drew the immediate attention of the jammed house to the fact that Dr. William Earley was making one of his rare full-dress appearances. Next came all the notable and popular young couples, Mr. and Mrs. Keddy. The better half showed her great talent in chewing gum with the music. That outstanding sports figure smoked like a wood stove. Just in from the highway came Denny (Hobo) Kiely, who added a little refinement to the soiree. That veteran opera goer and critic, Mrs. Percy Hudson, appeared with lorgnette in

Nu Beta Gives Square Dance for Visitors

Saturday night, April 18, from 8 to 11, Nu Beta Upsilon presented their annual "Jamboree." Dances both square and round were the order of the evening.

The gym was decorated in true country style with pictures of dancing couples, hay, pitchforks, and rakes. The jamboree was well attended. Many of the high school students as well as the college students participated in the fun. During the intermission delicious refreshments were served, popcorn all buttered and salted in individual bags, and fresh lemonade. This was a pleasant relief from the usual punch and cookies. Jack Flagg presided over the lemonade pitcher.
