

GEORGE STOFF
3021 AVENUE I
BROOKLYN, NEW YORK

Tuesday - 9/4/43
9 P.M. all alone

Darlings:

It used to be that I had only one loved one to write to, but it has come to pass that now I have two bundles of love, each a necessary part of me and my life. So, my dearest wife, do not think, do not even imagine that I find it necessary to stretch my erotic emotion to encompass one little one, oh, know what it means to be able to multiply ones emotions doubly to engulf you both with my love - and so it was, with a feeling of mixed emotions and sorrow that I had to take leave of you both to-day - But soon, not nearly soon enough for me I will return to you both, and to our newly found Paradise. They will and happy, dear ones, and soon we will be one again.

Had a dull, uninteresting trip home - arrived in NY in about 2 hours - fell asleep around Nyack and woke up crossing the Washington Bridge - hope I did not disturb the lady next to me - Kerit knew if I snored but awoke with my mouth open. Dropped in to see my mother and dad and found them both well - and happy we were so fortunate to find so congenial hotel - phoned your mother just before I started to write this but no answer - will phone again later - attended class 6<sup>30</sup> to 8 P.M. - have a fine instructor - arrived home 8<sup>30</sup> - saw prof - no laundry - will phone in morning to ascertain why utility did not deliver same - found several letters from Bob - and the developed moving pictures - from a short perusal of the film it looks like we got something - big - examined 10 or 15 feet against a light - and the actor son of yours looks great - blond hair - blue suit