Monday night.

Dear George -

Another long Monday gone.
If I had my way, there would be no Mondays. However, now that it has finally passed, everything is right again.

I finally started working with the weights today. Strange, is hardly the word for what I felt. It looks as though I have to start from scratch all over again. The only thing connected with the workout that felt common is the stiffness I now feel in all my muscles. This however, is something I like to suffer through.

Over the weekend a Trucking strike developed, and shipping is quite a problem. Most of the orders are being packed, but held on the premises until such time when advantageous shipping companies can be utilized.

Hope you didn't take my friend Ozzie too serious. He likes to hear himself talk.

Enclosed find check for your disposition.

Could use some stamps -

Hope Florence's cold has left, and that once again she is her old self - As ever, Bob.
