Monday 10.¹⁵ P.M.

Life, my precious one, is as you know stranger in its truth than in fiction, who would have thought that your George could or would have missed anyone at he is at present missing you. And yet, darling, your present vacation is the finest thing that has happened to both of us in a long time. I can now see things in their true light. It is now possible for me to evaluate my past reactions and actions, and thoroughly understand the cause and effect. And believe you me, understanding is a wonderful thing. I only hope that our future conduct and life will be more happy and lasting as a result of all this. You, my sweetheart, are the paramount of all things in my life, and I must do anything to preserve and cherish you - I must overlook anything to deserve you - To be able to share our happiness. Please, dearest, take care of yourself, and above all Keep smiling - You know, from down deep.

Many things happened to-day, but the most important is the writing of this letter.
I hope you are having a good time, now that the weather has become more summer-like.
Did you have a jolly crowd over the week-end?
are you teasing off a "lung of romance" yet?
How are the Shabneers? How is business with him? Grand Hotel - Keep smiling.

Lunched with Danny to-day - Eleanor, your sister phoned, not to inquire as to my health, but to arrange an auto ride for her and Marion on July 4th. Naturally I shall take them along - It was good to learn that I am thought of in some sense - My parents met your dear mother and father in Brighton, Saturday night, and they were well then -

Visited Herb at his office at 5 o'clock - and he tells me that Mildred and the baby are well - but his mother is slowly losing ground - sad - but inevitable - He sends his regards to you - Made a collection for Whitman - and sent him a basket from Eaton's on Flatbush Ave - Danny knows the owners and helped me make the selection - Dined with the Biddens tonite, and they too wish to be remembered to you - They are all well, except Danny who is troubled by a tooth - Dentist says he needs root - canal work -

Take care of the daily chores, and hope Alice shows up - will tell her not to wait fayer, or use oil on furniture. Watered plants as instructed, and feel proud of the growth of the box-plants. Awfully glad to do anything for you, so if you think of anything don't hesitate to write -

The new turn of the war helped business along tremendously - You can stay up there longer if you want to - Spoke to Ken about July 4th week-end, and everything is arranged for me to get off. And don't think I am not looking forward to seeing you. So that I can give ~~give~~ you one big kiss -

If you are short of money draw a check and advise me - all other bills are paid as usual - The weather has turned cooler to nite and the forecast is fair and cool for tomorrow - So be careful, and don't catch any more colds. Are you well tanned yet?
Please take lots of pictures of you, as usual?

I am going to the kitchen for dinner ~~where~~ to-morrow and don't know what to bring the kids - With you were here to advise me - Marion has not been returned as yet, but Ernest says soon - I hope - No important mail - and I am still awaiting the decision of the Amer. Hospital -

Little else of consequence to relate, so please remember I love you as ever
