True and sincere friends, my love, are worth their weight in gold - It seems that they prove their mettle more so in times of need than under any other conditions. You realize as well as I, if it had not been for Al and Lierel to pal around with up there, the vacation would have been most miserable - and as for me, without Danny, and the kiddens, Jules and Min, Billy, Rachel and others, it would have been more miserable for me to be alone here, which only goes to show, my dearest girl, that with so many honest friends and with each other we are perhaps the richest and best endowed people we know of. So, lets try to keep a stiff upper lip, until a week from Friday, when I shall endeavor to be with you in time for lunch - in time not to eat, but to able to feast my eyes on the sweetest, truest pal and sweetheart a fellow could dream of -

Everyone here are well, and wish to be remembered to you - Had dinner with John and Min tonight, and it was delicious. The children are both well, and would like to see you - Bill Kubel, knowing of my visit up there, came over and spent the evening with us - I brought Min a box of candy, and got balled out for doing it - ditto the kidless the night before - but they have been so nice I had to demonstrate my appreciation - Bill wants me to dinner - but I now have more dinner dates than days to fill them - Bill - Mickey celebrate their 12th wedding anniversary on July 3rd - Try to get him to send them a card - If you want me to I can forward a card for the occasion - please advise. I will take care of us from this end.

Please tell Al that Bill cannot get a dice cage for him - Glad that everyone is admiring what clothes you have. Are you getting well-tanned, and does your back ache yet? Please let me know - Don't forget to arrange for the 4th week-end for me.

Until to-morrow, then, very pretty lady, and with every hope that you are happy and smiling, you find me

As ever
