SATURDAY -

Dearest Sweetheart -

Was quite a storm last night, the morning came in quite sunny and warm again. Jim and I are very well, still love you dearly and miss you always.

Since Wednesday all is normal and clear, Mom and I are very cooperative and anxious to get this place in order for the summer. So far so good. Now Jim is helping in his own little way. After lunch & sleep, we drove about 15 miles to get some fresh eggs and chickens (which we had had to get at present) from a farm near Port Jervis. Eleanor made the 4 o'clock bus to N.Y. and will be back tomorrow with Ruth & Henry. There's going to be a big job and order which they've made.

Jimie looks fine, talks more and more and gets me at every turn. Mom bought him a sturdy wheelbarrow in town and he does so much with it except sleeping with it. He is back fine and he hope some of your mail arrives soon. I wrote to the folks and hope they'll visit us soon. Just don't know about now and when we'll all be together again. All our love and devotion to you and hugs and kisses from Jimie.

Saturday-

Dearest Sweetheart,

After quite a storm last night, the morning came in quite sunny and warm again. Jim and I are very well, still love you dearly and miss you always.

Since Wednesday all is serene and [cleaner], Mom and I are very cooperative and [anxious] to get this place in order for the summer. So far so good. Even Jim is tidy- ing in his own cute way. After lunch today, we drove a [short] ways to get some fresh eggs and chicken, which are both hard to get at present [!] From a farm near Port Jervis. [Eleanor] [rides] the 4 o'clock bus to N.Y. and will be back tomorrow with [Ricky] + [Henry]. They're going to Albany on a big job and [order] which they [are] made.

Jimmie looks fine, talks more and more and [asks] me at every turn. My mom bought him a sturdy wheel-barrow in town and he does so much with it [] [staying] with it. We've [doing] [fine] and do hope some of your mail arrives soon. I wrote to the [Jacks] and hope they'll visit us soon. Just don't worry about us and very soon we'll all be together again. All my love and devotion to you and hugs and kisses from Jimmy.

Always,
Florence
