Sunday eve -

Dearest Beloved -

We're home and it's sure like heaven again. I never dreamed it would be so exciting to cross the Stage Washington Bridge and point out the sights to Jim as we rode along. Now I can really appreciate what you're going through and will experience the next few weeks. Just going home - what magic words.

All's well with Jim and Starline and we're kind of in the dark - no electric organ until tomorrow but we're managing very well by candlelight and flashlight. Always and Mrs. S. George were here to welcome us and help with the unloading. Stay well, darling and let love you always. Lovingly,
Patricia
