

Harriers Win First Home Test

By MIKE TARDIF

The first cross country meet for KSC at the new 4.8 mile course at Robin Hood Park was a successful one, as KSC defeated Gohram State and New England College. Denny Anderson established the first course record, finishing first in 27:35. Tom Keegan and Pete Hanrahan, who both had outstanding races, finished 4th and 5th respectively.

During the first three meets of the season, the Owls have shown that they have plenty of depth in their lineup of winners. The Harriers, who have had at least one top winner out of action for every meet, have come up with the extra help needed. Freshmen runner, Sandy Shapiro, did not finish Saturday's race due to an injury sustained on the course.

Sports Car Rally Offers 14 Trophies

The Monadnock Sports Car Club will hold a rally Oct. 11. Registration for the event starts at 12 noon in the M.P.B. parking lot on Optical Ave. in Keene. The entry fee is $3 and any car is eligible.

Local automobile dealers have provided trophies for their respective products. Trophies will be awarded for 1st overall, 1st and 2nd unquipped, 1st novice, 1st Toyota, 1st Saab, 1st Datsun, 1st Chevrolet, 1st Buick or Opel, 1st Fiat, 1st BMW, 1st Volvo, 1st Volkswagen, and 1st dealer sponsored car.

Rallies are time/speed/distance events conducted on highways in the region. The object is to arrive in a certain place in a certain time. Penalty points are awarded for arriving at a checkpoint either early or late. All that is needed to compete is a car (any sort of car) and a driver-navigator team.

This is a good opportunity to try out the sport of rallying while standing an excellent chance of winning a trophy for your efforts. For further information contact Colin Lyle at 532-07532 in the evenings.

Keene State is now the top team in NESCAC dual meet championship competition. Coach Taft has high hopes for this Saturday's Plymouth Invitational Meet at Plymouth, and hopes to better his team's record of 4 - 2.

PHI MU VISITS CEDARCREST

On Wed., Sept. 30, eleven brothers visited Cedarcrest, a home for mentally retarded children in Westmoreland, N.H. A series of skits were performed for the children followed by a sing-in led by Pete Desrochers and Skip Watkins. The highlight of the evening was the duo of Vince McGonis and Chuck Stone singing the Mickey Mouse Club Theme Song. Also participating were brothers Dick Morini, Pete Hanrahan, Rick Marlin, Mike Oleniak, Dave Westover, Chris Keyes and Keith Ritchie. After the sing-in, cider and doughnuts were served.

Steve Parker's fourth period goal clinched a 3-2 victory for the Owls in Saturday's soccer match against Salem. On the home cross country course at Robin Hood Park, frater Pete Hanrahan was finished fifth, helping the Owl Harriers to a sweep over Gohram State and NEC.

A sing-in is scheduled in the house social room at 8 p.m. Wed., Oct. 7. All coeds are invited and refreshments will be served.

The annual Phi Mu Delta Raffle is presently underway. A 1970 Panasonic Component System with a retail value of $160 will be given away. Tickets may be obtained from all Phi Mu brothers.

SOCCER TEAM UNDEFEATED

By MIKE TARDIF

The KSC soccer team, playing their first two home games of the season, defeated Johnson State 1-0, on Wednesday, and Salem, 3-2 on Saturday.

Against Johnson State, a perfectly placed corner kick by Steve Parker enabled freshman Chip Conran to score the only goal needed for the Owl's victory. In the fourth quarter goalie Brian Richardson came up with several spectacular saves, while earning his second shutout of the season.

On Saturday, a come from behind effort during the second half gave Coach Ron Butcher's boppers a 4-0 record on the season.

Butcher described the match as being the Owl's best of the season and the best he's seen considering the team's short passing game. The team showed great ball control, while outshooting Salem 51-24.

Behind 2-1 at the start of the second half, Keene wasted no time as Rit Swain scored on a pass from Bill Russell, tying the game. This was Swain's second goal, his first tally coming four seconds before the end of the first half. After several scoring opportunities, Steve Parker drove home the winner at 12:35 of the fourth quarter.

Goalie Brian Richardson, playing in four games so far, has allowed only 3 goals for a respectable .75 goals against average. The next home game for Keene is Tues. Oct. 13 against Castleton.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK

A true asset to the KSC Soccer Team, and starting center halfback, Co-captain Steve Parker well deserves the title Player of the Week. Steve is presently a junior majoring in secondary education English with a Physical Education minor. Originally from London, England, Stevie began his soccer career at the age of 8. He played fullback and wing half for the Pathfinders Boys Club in Slough, England for 6 yrs.; being captain for 3. When he was 15 he became a member of the Slough Technical High School team and also played on the Buckingham Shire County team for 3 years. Stevie was again honored when he was chosen for the England Boys Club team that competed against Scotland, Wales, Ireland and Germany. When he was 17 he was accepted to play on two apprentice professional soccer teams: the West Ham United Football Club and the Reading Football Club. At 19 due to injury Stevie had to stop playing for almost two years.

In Sept. '68 Stevie was admitted to KSC and began his outstanding career with the Owls. All totaled he had 28 assists (in his freshman year) and has scored 21 since then. He was also selected to play on the all conference team.

Stevie feels this year has a great potential mainly due to Coach Butcher's ideas and enthusiasm, but until consistency is obtained the results will be speculative.

have helped inflame passions. "Law enforcement officials have too often reacted ineptly or overreacted. At times their response has degenerated into uncontrolled violence."

"All Americans must help reduce bitterness and hostility. They must respect both the processes of law and the expression of dissent."

For students, the commission has high praise—and harsh words. While applauding the idealism that motivates many college youth, the report condemns those who participate in disruptive acts for whatever cause or harbor in their midst others who do.

COSTS COULD RISE IF ARMS TALKS FAIL

(Reprinted from the New York Times, Oct. 11)

The Nixon administration said this week that the United States may have to embark on a "tremendous increase" in defense spending unless accords are reached with the Soviet Union in negotiations on the limitation of strategic arms and in other pressing areas.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird and Secretary of State William P. Rogers, appearing together for an hour on "Issues and Answers," a radio and television program of the American Broadcasting Company, catalogued, in effect, examples of what the Administration considers Soviet bad faith in situations ranging from a speed-up in the arms race to the Middle East and Indochina.

But despite his and Mr. Laird's generally gloomy assessment of Soviet intentions everywhere, Secretary Rogers said he did not think that the bitter criticism in the Soviet press of President Nixon's peace plan for Indochina "reflects the view of the Government fully."

Soviet Charges 'Fraud'

The Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda charged yesterday that the Nixon proposals for a cease-fire in place and an Indochina peace conference were a "great fraud."

Mr. Rogers declared that this represented "standard Communist propaganda which is expected."

The Nixon Administration does not consider the critical statements that have come from North Vietnam and other Communist countries as outright rejection of the peace plan outlined by the President last Wednesday. Mr. Rogers said today: "We think that the time may come when the other side will negotiate."

"I have a feeling," he said, "that the Soviet Union and Hanoi will both give very careful consideration to the President's proposal because of the tremendous support that the proposals have received not only in this country but all over the world."

Two Peace Plans Proposed

Here are the key elements in the five-point Indochina peace plan offered last week by President Nixon, and the key elements in an eight-point proposal that Viet Cong representatives presented at the Paris peace talks on Sept. 17:

The American Proposal

1. All armed forces in South Vietnam, Laos, and Cambodia should immediately cease firing and remain in their present positions. International supervisors as well as the forces involved should police the standstill cease-fire.

2. An Indochina peace conference should be called to deal with warfare in the three Southeast Asian nations. Meanwhile, the talks at Paris among American, South Vietnamese, North Vietnamese, and Viet Cong officials should continue.

3. The United States is prepared to negotiate on a timetable for complete troop withdrawals as part of an over-all settlement. Mr. Nixon referred to previous U.S. peace proposals, which called for mutual American and North Vietnamese troop withdrawals.

4. Negotiations should begin on a political settlement that "reflects the will of the people of South Vietnam" as well as reflecting "the existing relationship of political forces in South Vietnam." The South Vietnamese must determine for themselves the kind of government they want.

5. Both sides should immediately and unconditionally release all prisoners of war and detained civilians.

The Viet Cong Proposals

1. The United States must "end its war of aggression," halt the Vietnamization of the war.

Birth Control Advocate To Speak Here

Birth control advocate Bill Baird will lecture at Keene State College Thursday night [Oct. 15] as part of a year-long series sponsored by the College's Concert and Lecture Committee.

His talk, "Overpopulation: A Desperate Future," will be at 8 p.m. in the Mabel Brown Room of the Lloyd P. Young Student Union. A question and answer session will follow.

Advocates Birth Control

One of the nation's staunchest advocates of birth control, Baird has for several years been testing state laws on the dissemination of birth control information and devices. A 1966 arrest in New York resulted in a change in that state's laws affecting birth control information. A 1967 arrest in New Jersey led eventually to a change in New Jersey's laws concerning birth control.

Baird is currently engaged in an appeal from an overturned conviction in Massachusetts. Baird was convicted earlier this year, after spending several weeks in jail awaiting trial, as a result of a 1967 arrest for giving a university coed a birth control device. Last July, the U.S. Court of Appeals invalidated the conviction and said state law prohibiting his action was unconstitutional. However, the state attorney general's office is appealing, contending that the Massachusetts Supreme Court only a week before had held that the state laws on birth control were, indeed, constitutional. The attorney general's office contends that the state supreme court has precedence over the court of appeal's decision.

Founder and director of the New York Parent Aid Society, a non-profit birth control, abortion, and narcotic center, Baird is a former clinical director of a national pharmaceutical firm.

Baird is currently a consultant to the New York State Senate Sub-Committee on Health and Mental Health as well as an advisor on birth control to the New Jersey State Legislature. He is also responsible for bringing the nation's first mobile clinic, which assists mothers in poverty stricken areas, into Harlem and Bedford-Stuyvesant.

Tickets, available at the door, are $1 for adults and 50-cents for students. Keene State students, faculty and staff are admitted by ID card. The student Union is located at Main Street and Appleton Way.

THE MONADNOCK

VOL. XXII, NO. 5

OCT. 14, 1970

Students and parents await the Parents Day luncheon that was served at the Keene State Commons. Nearly 800 people participated in the day's events.

FUND DRIVE SUCCESSFUL

Keene State College alumni have topped their 1970 fund drive goal by a whopping 28 per cent, it was announced by Harold A. Haggood, fund drive chairman.

The annual drive, which began Jan. 1 and ended July 1, drew a total of $16,017 in contributions and pledges. The goal was $12,500, which was a 25 per cent increase over last year's $10,000 goal. The funds raised for the College during the 1970 drive represented a 49 per cent increase over funds raised in last year's drive.

Of the $16,017 raised, $8,814 has already been allocated. The largest amount, $4,000, went to a payment on the car loan which the Alumni donated to KSC last year, $2,000 to the Concert and Lecture Series "Charlie Brown," $1,500 in athletic scholarships, $500 for the Random Concept and $175 for blazers for Student Campus Guides. $639 has been restricted to Memorial Funds.

The committee for KSC Fund Projects is now in the process of making decision on the other requests for funds in order to recommend other allocations to the Alumni Board of Directors and the President of the college.

"During this period of turmoil on most college campuses, it was most gratifying to see that the alumni of Keene State College were still responsive to the needs of the college," Haggood said. "The excellent support given by President Leo F. Redfern helped immeasurably to make this drive the most successful in the history of Keene State College. A special tribute should also be paid to Dave Costin who headed a vigorous 100 Club Membership campaign."

"As chairman, I personally want to thank my committee, the class agents, the many canvassers, and the alumni who support this year's fund drive. The results clearly indicate that our alumni believe that we should continue to strive for excellence at Keene State College."

Costin, assistant professor of student teaching at Keene State and vice chairman of the 1970 drive, led a committee which, by means of an intensive effort, enrolled 83 additional members in the 100 Club, members upon contributions of $100 or more.

The Class of 1938 led all others in percentage of participation by members and in funds raised. Paced by Paul E. Nordman of New Berlin, Wisc., 1938 class agent, the class contributed a total of $801 with 57 per cent of class members taking part in the drive.

Fred L. Barry, alumni secretary at Keene State, lauded Nordman for his outstanding leadership. "Paul, together with several associate agents, inspired his Spaulding Gymnasium was the site, on Sunday October 11, of a gathering of nearly 800 parents, students, faculty and administration to honor exceptional students from the campus at the official Honors Convocation.

President Leo F. Redfern greeted the Parents Day crowd on behalf of the students, faculty and administration, and spoke shortly on the high cost of education.

Student Senate President, Neil Gallagher followed Dr. Redfern with a review of what he asserted to be the three important areas of student life on this campus. Those areas included education, social activity, and athletics.

Awards Distributed

The presentation of awards to Dean's List students, some 200 in all, was made by Dr. Clarence G. Davis, Dean of the College, and Dr. Edward F. Pierce, Dean of Administration.

Several scholarships were bestowed upon KSC students. Michael Micucci, President of the Tri-Beta organization, presented Debbie Dudar with a financial scholarship. Textbook scholarships were also awarded to Linda Dionne and Karen Koski.

The Epsilon Pi Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, represented by its President Joyce DeGelan, offered Outstanding Freshman Awards to Ronald Boisvert, Robin Warren, Pamela Smith and Penny Smith. These awards were given for satisfactory achievement of a 4.0 cumulative academic average.

TRASHING THE RECORD

(The following editorial was taken from the New York Times of Oct. 1, 1970 and is reprinted here.)

There is little hope for a return to an atmosphere of reason in the relationship between the students and the American people if Vice President Agnew's distortions of the President's Commission on Campus Unrest are a preview of the Nixon Administration's response.

In his Sioux Falls, S.D., fundraising speech, Mr. Agnew deliberately created the impression of a report that is soft on radicals. His attack undermines the commission's primary effort - to bring about a new era of reconciliation.

Here are some of the discrepancies between what the Vice President said the commission said and what it actually did say.

Mr. Agnew: "To lay responsibility for ending student disruption at the doorstep of this President - in office twenty months - is 'scapegoating' of the most irresponsible sort."

The Commission: "We urge that the President exercise his reconciling moral leadership as the first step to prevent violence and create understanding...We recommend that the President seek to convince public officials and protesters alike that divisive and insulting rhetoric is dangerous."

Mr. Agnew: "...The President cannot replace the campus cop."

The Commission: "We have deep sympathy for peace officers - local and state police, national guardsmen and campus security officers - who must deal with all types of campus disorder...We therefore urge that peace officers be trained and equipped to deal with campus disorder firmly, justly and humanely."

Mr. Agnew: "It (the report) is sure to be taken as more pabulum for the permissivists."

The Commission: "Students who bomb and burn are criminals...There can be no more 'trashing', no more rock throwing, no more arson, no more bombing by protesters...Criminal acts by students must be treated as such wherever they occur and whatever their purpose...Faculty members who engage in or lead disruptive conduct have no place in the university community...."

Mr. Agnew: "Nor can one find in that report the justified recognition of the enormous contributions of the working men and women of this country whose taxes have built most of our great colleges and universities and who have rights within those institutions as well."

The Commission: "Millions of Americans - generations past and present - have given their vision, their energy, and their patient labor to make us a more just nation and a more humane people...It is a considerable inheritance; we must not squander or destroy it."

What appears to anger the Vice President - or elude his comprehension - is the commission's suggestion that students are deeply concerned about the war and racial injustice and also about the verbal attacks on such legitimate concern by politicians in pursuit of votes. He clearly dislikes the commission's plea for a Presidential admonition that "in current political campaign and throughout the years ahead...no one play irresponsible politics with the issue of campus unrest."

Mr. Agnew chides the commission for not denouncing as an "utter falsehood" the students' charge that the nation is engaged in "an immoral war." Does Mr. Agnew truly believe that any Presidential commission that seeks to attain credibility with a concerned generation of young Americans must extol the morality of the nation's Indochina policy?

"There is," said the commission, "a deep continuity between all Americans, young and old, a continuity that is being obscured in our growing polarization." It would be an unestimable tragedy if the Administration shared Mr. Agnew's insensitivity to this threat.

LETTERS To The EDITOR

TELL IT LIKE IT IS

To the Editor:
Congratulations are in order to several campus organizations for their fine exhibition on PARENTS DAY - 1970:

To the Commons, for their cooked meat, new silverware, clean glasses, and new jackets for the line girls rented specifically for the occasion.

To the Maintenance crew, for the mowed lawns and new bushes placed in strategic areas around campus.

To Carle Hall, for their fine art exhibition which is sure to be torn down by the end of the week.

To whoever is responsible for almost getting the carpeting job in Morrison 74 completed.

And to all of the others who helped to present this "dream" campus of Parents Day 1970 to the gullible parents of a fair sized portion of the student body.

One could not help but be disappointed that the Social Council was not pressured into hiring the Blue Angels for their fine air show and a Vietnamese gunboat to paddle up the Ashuelot to take the parents by sea as they were certainly taken in by the ground exhibition. If that sounds assinine, it should because that's what the whole pretense of Parents Day was.

Tell it like it is, Not like it should be!

MOVE FORWARD

To the Editor:

While sitting in the coffee shop our minds were buzzed by the ancient sounds of the golden goodies from way back when (?) spring.

Since students pay good money for the juke box and pipe in WKSC or an FM station that plays heavier sounds: This would also save the students money while offering constant sounds in the Union.

Let us move forward, searching for new avenues of music instead of regressing back to the spring-time.

This isn't 1960 anymore.

Children's School Has Need

Located in Westminster and Saxons River Vermont, New England Kurn Hattin Homes Inc. is a home-school for underprivileged children. Founded in 1893, it has been both home and school for over 3,000 children. These children have come from families which, for a variety of reasons, have been unable to provide the security and proper attention necessary for raising children. In addition to providing for the children, Kurn Hattin works with their families. They attempt to aid in making it possible for the children to return home upon graduation.

Kurn Hattin deals with children in grades 1 thru 8 and has a present capacity of 87 boys and 45 girls. The homes are in operation the full year. The school session runs from mid August to mid June. At present the boys (Westminster campus) live in large wooden structured buildings with group size ranging from 12 to 28 boys. With an average child-adult ratio of 15-2 (sometimes as high as 30-1), Kurn Hattin children would benefit from additional adult attention. Plans are under way for project "rebuild" which involves constructing several smaller cottages to enable the group size to be reduced to 10-12 in a cottage. This project is a reality at the girls campus in Saxons River and long range plans call for completion of the project in Westminster within the next ten years.

There exists the possibility of an involved interaction between Keene State College and Kurn Hattin in the form of a "big brother-big sister" program. Interested students of KSC are needed who would be willing to give a few hours of their time each week to help a young boy or girl understand the great process of growing up. A start on this program this semester may lead to enlarging and continuing it in years to come.

All students sincerely interested in the project should contact Ray Miller at the Monadnock office (352-7309) or Bill Gill at (802-722-3751) for further information.

Let Our Waters Live

You can help fight pollution! Detergents contain large amounts of phosphates, an essential nutrient for algae. Over abundance of nutrients result in large growths of algae, which choke up many of our waterways now. The death of these masses of algae results in oxygen removal from the water, thereby killing fish. The decaying, smelly masses of algae eat a wash up on our beaches or gradually fill our waterways. Buy low phosphate detergents and help fight pollution! N.B.: has compiled the following list of detergent products and the units (grams) of phosphate added with each wash load. Stay below 25 units. Whichever detergent you use, avoid waste, use no more than the quantity specified on the box.

Guidelines Set For Charging

Following the recent passing of the Profit Retention Bill, The Student Senate on Monday night, discussed guidelines by which an organization may charge admission to functions. The main points of the report, presented by the Senate's finance committee, were as follows:

-In order to charge, the organization must prove that a true need for funds exists.

-The organization must notify the finance committee of its intention to charge, one month prior to the activity in question.

-An approximation of the number of both KSC and non-KSC students that will attend the function must be submitted before the function and a complete financial report as to monies taken in and profit made must be submitted after the function.

Need S

Neil Gallagher, Student Senate President, brought up a resolution to have President Redfern try to secure more money from the state legislature to ease the burden of student assumption of college functioning cost in areas of athletics, recreation and education. The senate responded overwhelmingly in favor of the resolution.

An election committee was formed to set up a schedule of future elections and the requirements for candidates. All elections, except freshmen elections, are to be held in the spring.

Radio Report

Representatives from the radio station (WKSC) reported that broadcasting to the student union building has not been accomplished thus far, due to lack of funds. The station presently has transmitters on top of Huntress Hall, the Central Heating Plant and Carle Hall, but no reception has been possible at the union building. Aside from a full record service that supplies the top 40 songs, records presently being played on the air are the property of the respective disk jockeys.

A straw vote was taken on the Smart Resolution with the majority favoring its modification. The resolution, passed last semester by the College Senate, basically calls for a cessation of college spending for recruiting athletes. The matter will be studied and discussed further at a future meeting.

Budget Carry-Over

Also brought up by the finance committee was the question of whether money not used by an organization during the year should be retained by that organization, or put in the general sinking fund. A contingency fund for the student union was suggested and discussed briefly.

Student Group To Advise Mayor

By MARTY GINGRAS

A College Advisory Council designed to pose solutions to the mayor of Keene concerning problems of the Keene area is being organized by Dave Meader, a Keene State senior. The council will consist of about ten interested members of the college community who will meet with Mayor Clark regularly for general discussions.

Several of the problems the council will discuss will be police problems, urban renewal, pollution, drugs, welfare, crime, the institution of Daycare Centers, and city government in general.

The mayor gave Meader the idea for the council last July when the student met with him. Keene High School has already had a similar council for over a year which Mayor Clark has labeled "very rewarding." He thinks college students would be able to offer more because they are closer to the voting age and have more education.

Meader, thought of going to the City Council but decided the mayor "should

Report Warns Of Harm To Oceans

Cities and industries that have been looking to the ocean for a solution to their waste-disposal problems were warned last week to look elsewhere.

The President's Council on Environmental Quality recommended strict Federal controls to limit the dumping of wastes into the oceans, estuaries, and the Great Lakes. Waste dumping is not now a serious problem, the council said in a 40 page report to Mr. Nixon, but it will become one in the next few years unless action is taken.

The council, headed by Russell E. Train, proposed empowering the new Environmental Protection Agency to set standards and issue permits for dumping in the oceans. Penalties would be established for dumping without a permit and enforcement would be by the Coast Guard.

Mr. Nixon commended the council for "acting rather than reacting to prevent pollution," and said he would ask Congress next year for legislation to carry out the recommendations.

The Council's program, if enacted, would eliminate the oceans as a possible disposal site for most waste materials. The report recommends banning dumping of such materials as sewage sludge, the by-product of municipal treatment of waste water, and solid wastes, along with more exotic materials potentially harmful to aquatic life, such as chemical or biological warfare materials, toxic industrial wastes, and explosives.

New York City and several Passaic River communities in New Jersey now regularly dump sewage sludge into New York Harbor. Los Angeles dumps its municipal sludge into the ocean through a pipeline. Increasingly, cities on both coasts and the Gulf of Mexico have been studying the feasibility of ocean dumping as rapid growth and soaring land costs eliminate one after another suitable land sites.

Pending technological advances and new methods of recycling that will reduce the problems of waste disposal, the report recommended more rail-hauling of dumping sites away from metropolitan areas and reclamation of abandoned strip mines for dumping.

He intends to meet with the city council, though, and get their reaction on some of the problems, especially as far as political relations and drugs are concerned.

A meeting with Mayor Clark is being scheduled for Oct. 19 or 20. Students interested in the College Advisory Council should check the bulletin boards for announcements of this meeting.

To Organize Art Exhibit

Mrs. Jocelyn L. Brodie, an artist and former school and college art instructor and gallery director, has been named the new coordinator of Keene State College's Thorne Art Gallery.

Mrs. Brodie, a resident of West Townsend, Vt., will be responsible for the scheduling and organizing of all exhibitions at the Thorne Art Gallery, which was donated to the College in 1963 by Mrs. Beatrice Thorne Sagendorph of Dublin.

Additionally, she hopes to extend the scope and influence of the gallery in the community and the public schools. "I believe an art gallery should be more than merely a picture hall," she said. "With the help of the Friends of the Thorne Art Gallery, we hope to make the gallery more of an activity center, with speakers and guests correlated to the exhibitions who would offer seminars, films and lectures. School children could be offered workshops in connection with the gallery and the exhibits."

Mrs. Brodie, a graduate of the Cooper Union Art School and Bennington College, received her master's degree in education from Keene State College in 1969. She also has studied at the University of Florence in Italy.

Her teaching experience includes one year as an instructor in art, creative writing and Italian at Mark Hopkins College in Brattleboro and a year as art teacher in the Brattleboro public schools.

Mrs. Brodie was director of the Newfane Gallery in Newfane, Vt., from 1965 to 1968, in charge of organizing the gallery's exhibitions, and has for several years been an administrative officer of the Gandy Brodie School of Fine Arts.

In addition, she has held several one-man shows in New York City and at Windham College and has shown in group exhibitions at many galleries including the Jewish Museum and the Martha Jackson Gallery in New York City.

Mrs. Brodie, a native of Brooklyn, member of the Keene State College faculty for the past four years. Dr. Havill, who will continue to teach on a reduced scale, is an associate professor of geography in the Social Science Department at the 61-year-old teacher education and liberal arts institution.

Dr. Redfern said Dr. Havill's areas of responsibility will include special projects, studies and activities suggested by the President's Office and the College's Executive Committee, liaison with the New Hampshire College and University Council, assistance in college protocol and providing arrangements for special occasions, and facilitating communication between the student body and the faculty with the President's Office.

A native of Syracuse, N.Y., Dr. Havill joined the Keene State faculty in 1966 after receiving his doctoral degree from the State University of New York College of Forestry in Syracuse. He taught social studies, including geography, the anthropology and Asian studies, at the Westhill Junior-Senior High School in Syracuse for the four years immediately preceding his appointment to the KSC staff.

Dr. Havill received his undergraduate degree from the State University of New York at Syracuse in 1954 and his master's degree in business administration from Syracuse University in 1958. He held a Carnegie Grant for the Maxwell Graduate Overseas Training Program and a National Science Foundation grant for summer institute work in anthropology at the University of Arizona in 1964.

During the summer of 1967, Dr. Havill attended an institute in geography at the University of Minnesota and he held an NSF grant for work on remote sensing at the University of Tennessee during the summer of 1969. He has recently returned from Stanstead, Que., where he attended a six-week polar studies program held by McGill University and sponsored by the Arctic Institute of North America.

A lacrosse player while an undergraduate in college, Dr. Havill was a lacrosse official for five years in Syracuse before coming to New Hampshire. He is a veteran of the Army, serving in Korea from 1954 to 1956, and lists traveling and reading among his leisure time preferences. He is married to the former Joan Kibbe of West Springfield, Mass.

Mrs. Havill is an accomplished musician and part-time faculty member at Keene State College as an instructor in flute.

Dr. Havill will teach courses in geography and anthropology this year at Keene State and also will maintain an administrative office in Hale Building in his new position.

N.Y., also has done consultant work in connection with the restoration and reproduction of art works

DUTCH WOMEN FIGHT FOR LIBERATION

By PAUL LEVINE MELLION

[Paul is a Junior at Keene State College and spent seven weeks in Holland, representing the College in the "Experiment in International Living." He lived with a Dutch family in the City of Budel for four weeks and spent the rest of the time travelling throughout Holland.]

A young man walking down a street in any major city in Holland may be whistled at or sprayed by water guns. These actions are the work of the militant women's liberation organization called, Dolle Mina, who are seeking political, economic and sexual equality in Holland. The literal translation of Dolle Mina is "a dog who has rabies," suggesting the anger and frustration felt by these women. Their antics, often amusing, bring public attention and awareness to their social causes.

The Dolle Mina want abortion to be made legal in Holland. Presently it is illegal and the doctors who perform such operations are arrested. The legal restriction forces such operations to be performed by the "underworld." The Dolle Mina say, "We want to be masters of our own stomachs." In Dutch, "Baas in eigen buik." To demonstrate their fervent convictions, they recently went to a meeting of the leading obstetricians in Amsterdam. Removing their blouses, they paraded around showing their naked abdomens on which was printed "Baas in eigen buik." The group has sent letters and pamphlets to doctors in the Netherlands trying to educate them to the plight of the women seeking an abortion.

Their efforts have been politically successful; two Socialists, in the last session of the Dutch Parliament proposed a new law on abortion. If accepted, a doctor will be free to perform an abortion, and only those who aren't qualified to perform such operations will be punished. An abortion will be covered under social insurance so the poor will not be discriminated against.

The Dolle Mina want equal sexual rights. They seriously question the double standard by which a girl should remain chaste and pure and a male not. To bring attention to this hypocritical situation, they had men strip-tease at the public parade celebrating the Queen's birthday on April 30th. They whistled at boys in the street or said, "Hallo, Lekker stuk" which literally means "Hello, nice piece." This is what boys say to girls and it is often humiliating to females to hear such remarks when they weren't asked for. The Dolle Mina attempt to reverse the situation and make the male feel the same humility.

The Dolle Mina have been successful in their many attempts at social change because they divide into small action groups which concentrate on single social issues. Their intense enthusiasm and efforts at mass education have earned them the respect of a great part of Dutch society.

One particular action group visits girls' schools. They attempt to bring educational reform and civil rights to the females through pressure applied to the head directors of such schools. An exchange program was arranged between a girls' domestic school and a boys' technical school so that the girls could acquire technical skill, in addition to their domestic training. The liberation group has also encouraged sex education to be taught in such schools by professionally trained personnel.

Economically, the Dolle Mina want the same wages and conditions for women as for men. The women, first through dialogue and then through organized protest, help female workers to achieve equality. In dealing with the Dutch Railway System, they were able to arrange for a more just system of promotions and salary increases. The final agreement worked out for day care centers to liberate women from the "rigors of housework" and give them an opportunity to earn money.

Since its birth, less than three years ago, the Dolle Mina has been instrumental in introducing many positive changes for womanhood in the Netherlands. Their impact though remains primarily in the major cities where their headquarters are located. There are still many areas in the Netherlands' society which need to be changed in order to obtain the goal of true equality for women. Another area that needs correction is housing discrimination against unwed mothers.

The outstanding success of the Dolle Mina is due to the fact that they have opened the eyes of the people of the Netherlands to "woman-power" and have demonstrated that productive changes can result through direct action. Their amusing antics are helping to bring about the liberation of Dutch women.

Library Changes To Aid Students

COMPUTER CENTER TO BENEFIT KSC

By JIM JOHNSTON

KSC students can look forward to many and varied additions to the Wallace E. Mason Library this year.

The periodicals that used to have to be checked out from the main desk are now accessible to students on the upper floor in the new periodical section. New books will be shelved on the former periodical shelves on the first floor.

The new carpeting should be completed within two weeks. "This carpeting will benefit the student two ways," said Chris Barnes, Head Librarian. "First, the library will be much quieter. Secondly, students will be able to sit on the floor and relax more."

A new lighting system is also being installed that should double or triple the present candle-power.

New carrels (study tables) should be arriving soon. Approximately 159 carrels and 2 group carrels will replace the "shaky furniture" now in the library.

Upstairs, students will have access to new Micro-film readers. There the students will be able to choose from a wide variety of periodicals on microfilm including the N.Y. Times (from 1851) and the Keene Sentinel (from 1890).

Two seminar rooms upstairs are equipped with blackboards, tape recorders and a T.V. set. One of the seminar rooms is to be equipped with large easy chairs and is hoped to be used on an informal basis. A typing room, equipped with 3 typewriters for the students' convenience is also located upstairs. The total cost of the additions runs somewhere between 5 and 6 million dollars, Barnes said.

A great deal of time and planning has been put into these new changes at the library, said Barnes. "A library that isn't well planned just won't be used," he added.

The Keene State College Computer increases our capabilities greatly in the administrative area," Land said. "And, of course, it opens up the entire academic area which was non-existent before. It will be a tremendous addition to the College in both areas."

NEWNESS AT NEWMAN CLUB

By MARTIN GINGRAS

"The Newman Center should be a place that all of the students have at KSC should be able to use whenever they want it," Father Barrett, the new chaplain at the Newman Center told The Monadnock yesterday. He plans to "change the image that the Newman Center has."

The Newman Center, located across Main Street next to Carroll House, is open to all students for study or relaxation. Father Barrett emphasized that the Newman Center is not meant to be a church. "A person does not have to be a Catholic to come here," he said.

Father Barrett also wants to make the center a more active organization on campus. He said they have had one coffee-house already and intend to hold a rap session at the Center with Bill Baird after his lecture Thursday night.

Basically, Father Barrett wants to change the image of the Newman Center.

CAT TO PRESENT 'A TASTE OF HONEY'

By PAUL LE MIRE

We are in Soho, a small English district in London just south of Oxford Street; famous for its restaurants, and its problems; she is an adolescent and a very pregnant working-class girl. In a most detached way, within this economic and emotional whirlpool, she moves. There is the Negro sailor who makes her pregnant; the homosexual art student who moves into her apartment to help her through her pregnancy; her fun-loving, saloon-frequenting mother; and Peter, the woman's newly acquired husband. This is "A Taste of Honey" by Shelagh Delaney, and the Celebrant Actors Theater will perform it under E.T. Guidotti November 11.

The cast includes Anne Marie Chaput as Helen; Cheryl Downing as Jo; Robert Ransom as Peter, the new husband; Joe Whiten as Jimmy, the sailor; John Barry as Geoffrey, the art student.

When the November production premieres, judges from a Boston Theater group will be on hand to see if C.A.T. can qualify for regional representation in a theatrical round robin at Boston University Theater and the Theater Company of Boston in December. From fourteen represented regions in the East, ten will finally move on to the JFK Festival Theatre of Performing Arts in Washington, D.C.

Prospects for semester two include back-to-back repertory; perhaps "Anything Goes" with a couple of mixed-color plays. One may be "In White America." Joe Whiten's performance might just lead the way to more mixed-color plays on campus.

The convocation was highlighted by the speech of Dean of Students, Thomas C. Aceto, entitled "Right On: The Challenge of Excellence." In his talk, Dean Aceto said that "colleges are committed to the pursuit of academic excellence." He stressed the importance of standards of excellence, and the need for man to uphold a positive view of himself. "We must eliminate the rotten excuse that 'we are only human', that 'we're doing our best', what a sorry view of the potential of Man," Aceto concluded by stating that parents must aid their children to obtain higher standards. "Man's greatness doesn't lie in perfection," he said, "but in striving for perfection."

X-Country Wins Plymouth Meet

By MIKE TARDIF

Keene State placed first in the annual Plymouth State Invitational Meet held at Plymouth last Saturday. Over 100 runners representing schools from all over New England competed in the event.

Denny Anderson crossed the finish line first for the Owls and third in overall competition. Tom Keegan was tenth, Mark Malkowski 12th, Pete Hanrahan 20th, Al Preston 38th, and Dave Aiken 39th. Westfield State placed second and Plymouth State placed third in the competition.

Coach Taft, who was pleased to bring home the first place trophy, mentioned that the teams fine showing Saturday established them as one of the top teams in NESCAC action.

Tuesday, Keene State Defeated Salem State 19-37. Mark Malkowski had a fine race finishing first, followed by Anderson, Keegan, Hanrahan and Shapiro. The Harriers, against all competition so far, have a 16-2 record. Wednesday, Keene faces Westfield and Lowell at Robin Hood Park, and Malkowski's new home course record of 26:59 set last Tuesday will be at stake. The Owls will also see action this Saturday at the Merrimack Invitational Meet.

Swim Team Organizes

An organizational meeting of KSC's first swimming team will be held on Oct. 19 at 4 p.m. All students who either swim or dive are encouraged to attend.

In preparing for future meets, practices will be held from 4 to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, according to coach James Quirk. The team is open to both males and females and will compete in meets with other schools in the area.

The first meeting will take place at poolside, in the gymnasium.

Lewis Explains KSU Incident

BY MARTY GINGRAS

"All of a sudden, the guardsmen turned and started marching back up to the top of the hill. When they got to the top of Taylor Hall Hill, a segment of guard on the rear flank turned, and fired." This was how Dr. Jerry Lewis, sociology professor of Kent State University, described the shooting incident at Kent last May 4th, to a large crowd in the Science and Arts building Monday night.

Dr. Lewis explained that he had been one of several faculty marshalls who had organized in an attempt to prevent violence. Events leading to the shooting included hassles in Downtown Kent Friday night, the burning of the ROTC building Saturday night, and a sit-in Sunday.

According to Dr. Lewis, about 500 students were holding a rally in a near-by parking lot and when told to leave they "responded back with appropriate cheers."

The group was split by tear gas throwing guardsmen which sent one group "on to the practice football field and there became sporting event called the teargas canister olympics." The shooting occurred moments later.

Blames Guard

The professor remarked that "the closest person to get killed was Mr. Jeffery Miller who was 85 to 90 yards away," and later said, "If I were to blame anyone, I would blame the guard for not telling the students the guns were loaded."

Dr. Lewis referred to two reports about Kent State; the Scranton Report and a report by a special committee of the special grand jury. He told the crowd,

SENATE EXPANDS MEMBERSHIP

The passing of part of a College Senate By-Laws Amendment has, in effect, enlarged student representation on the Senate.

Presently, there are fifteen Junior Senators, (students) in the Senate, each of 13 representing a department and two who are Junior Senators-at-large. The passing of Part 1 of the Amendment automatically included the President of the Student Senate as a member of the College Senate.

In other Senate elections, 4 Senators two Junior and two Senior, were elected to the Executive Board. They are: Neil Gallagher and Paul LeVine Mellon, and Christopher Barnes and Charles Hildebrandt, respectively.

Part Two of the Amendment which would guarantee students 2 seats on the Executive Board of the Senate has been recommended for additional work.

Dr. Jerry Lewis Speaks on Kent State

"The Scranton Report said, 'The indiscriminate firing of rifles into a crowd of students' and the deaths that followed were unnecessary, unwarranted, and inexcusable."

"The Special Grand Jury said 'We find the National Guard fired their weapons under circumstances which would have logically caused them to believe that they would suffer serious injury had they not done so.'"

Draft To End By 1973

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird announced this month that the armed services have been ordered to prepare for ending the draft.

"We're going all out in the Department of Defense to reach the goal of zero draft in three years," the defense chief said.

In a memorandum to Adm. T.H. Moorer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Laird said that in addition to a stepped up emphasis on military recruiting, other supports may be required for additional enlistments in both the active forces and the reserve and the National Guard Components. He requested top service officials to review recommendations of a "Project Volunteer Committee" within the Pentagon for various ways to improve the attractiveness of military careers.

Laird also stressed that early Capitol Hill action is needed on legislation to boost the base pay for low ranking enlistees men by 20 per cent.

When asked whether these announcements were aimed at helping Republicans in the coming Congressional elections, Laird replied with a smile, "I don't know how you came to that conclusion."

Favors Birth Control

BAIRD RAPS ABORTION LAWS

By PAUL LE MIRE

"If you are ignorant of birth control and abortion, many of you are going to get pregnant." This assertion was made by Bill Baird, disciple for birth control and abortion education, to a capacity crowd of 500 on October 15.

"We want desperately to help change the law on abortion," Baird said. "Our opinion is that there should be absolutely no law dealing with recommendations or requirements for any female from this state...to get an abortion."

Presently, the New York State Abortion Law stipulates that only emancipated females can have abortions; that those beneath the minimum age of 21 must have written parental permission. In the State of New Hampshire, an abortion is medically permitted only when the life of the mother is in danger or when her mental health is in grave jeopardy.

"We will help people, illegally or ex-tralegally, on this campus get abortions; within this state and outside the state."

Baird advanced, "We will help them get birth control help, help them organize...to negate the awesome power of the Church."

Baird, in his speech, said that the "government has no right in the bedroom of our citizens. When Mr. Agnew says 'respect for law and order' you've got to have laws you can respect." He emphasized that many states presently have laws which, if enforced, would incriminate many: those laws prohibiting abortion outside of imminent maternal danger, laws against fornication, oral-genital contact, sodomy (considered a homosexual law) and other "crimes against nature." "How can one respect a law that makes criminals of most of society," Baird asked pointedly. He then called for a general abortion law which would state, in effect, that anyone can have an abortion regardless of age, marital status and without the signature of husband or parent.

Of some 3,000 young females who had come to him for an abortion, Baird reported that over 93% of those could not go to their mother for the written permission demanded by law. And of all children born in 1969 over 5,000 were born to girls under 14 years of age.

While displaying before the Student Union audience a board of commonly used abortion instruments, Baird noted that few present were familiar with any of them. "You are bright, you're educated, and if you don't know (what an abortion is) Can't you imagine what's going on in your poor areas tonight? How someone can come along with a coat hanger or knitting needle or a tube and say, 'Look. For $50 I'll abort your wife' or 'your girl.'"

Baird pointed out and described such abortion instruments as a knitting needle used to scrape the uterine wall; a douche bag filled with such caustic materials as vinegar, Lysol, Ivory Soap, bleach or turpentine, used in flushing; a curved piece of coat hanger, also used for scraping and a catheter, or hollow rubber tube. "What you don't realize," said Baird, "is that when...the uterus contracts, you can force that tubing through the wall of the uterus. And you can often hemorrhage to death right where you are."

In 35 of 50 states, Baird observed, abortion is granted only when the pregnant mother's life is in danger, and in fewer states when her mental health demands it.

"Your risk of continuing a pregnancy, your (chance of) death is far greater in having a baby than it ever would in

Baird Cites Proposals

At a press conference held here Thursday night, birth control & abortion advocate Bill Baird listed recommendations he and his associates recently sent to President Nixon:

1. That Birth Control and Abortion be made available to anyone regardless of age or marital status.
2. That all non-prescriptive birth control methods be distributed through all retail outlets (cosmetic shops, grocery stores, vending machines, campus health centers.)
3. That a crash training program for non-physicians be established and implemented, to insert and distribute all methods of birth control (diaphragm, i.u.d.) other than the birth control pill.
4. Abortion specialists who could perform D & C (dilatation and curettage) abortion outside of hospitals.
5. Call for a massive education program through t. v., radio to reach adults and the young; knowledge of abortion and birth control starting on the elementary school level.
6. To make part of the exposure to this course a pre-requisite before - marriage; i.e. to know about the methods of birth control and abortion.

7. That all laws dealing with birth control, abortion and sex be uniformly repealed.
8. That an immediate presidential pardon be granted to incarcerated physician abortionists.
9. Call for mobile store front clinics for birth control education which particularly entice the male.
10. Demand that monies from space programs and the war in Viet Nam be diverted to research for better means of contraception.
11. Call for immediate, complete, total removal of any interference from the Roman Catholic Church under threat that this Church must be recognized as an alien power, and as such lobbies within the states; that it must register as a lobby group and must be made to pay a tax.
