

In Congress; 17th June 1778

Whereas many letters addressed to individuals of these United States have been lately received from England through the conveyance of the enemy, & some of them which have been under the inspection of members of Congress are found to contain ideas insidiously calculated to divide & delude the good people of these States;

Resolved, That it be & it is hereby earnestly recommended to the legislative & executive authorities of the several States to exercise the utmost care & vigilance, & take the most effectual measures to put a stop to so dangerous & criminal a correspondence

Resolved, That the commander in chief & the commanders in each & every military department be, & he & they are hereby directed to carry the measures recommended in the above resolution into the most effectual execution

Extract from the minutes;
Chathamson

Resolve of Congress
June 17. 1778 Respecting
Letters sent by Enemy