"What use is a book," said Alice, "without pictures?"

The revolution is happening every day. It's a people thing. It must be present in everything we feel, think, do and say. All our actions should be directed towards increasing understanding among people, excellence of work, and the integrity of the mind.

Our enemies are half truths, ignorance, prejudice, misunderstanding and fear of human progress.
Bert

Now is the first software generation. The T.V. youngsters are the first to be divorced from the old dominant hardware of books and machines. The generation was babysat by T.V. They watched it from their playpens. By age three, they had seen the gamut of adult violence and confusion in every part of the world. At six, confronted by the old schoolhouse hardware of texts and tests: See Dick run, See Jane jump, ... it dropped out.

Marshall McLuhan

ATE

When Alice went through the vanishing point of the visual world, breaking the hardware of the looking glass world, she became involved in a series of rapid metamorphoses, not unrelated to her tears.

The T.V. generation is post-literate and re-tribalized. It seeks by violence to 'scrub' the old identity image and to merge in a new tribal identity like any corporation executive.

The entire Western world is going East (tribal) and inward.
The East is detribalizing—going West and outward. No such macroscopic revolution ever occurred before. All identity images, private and corporate, dissolve. Violent struggle to regain these images ensues.

Marshall McLuhan

IT'S ALL IN

YOUR MIND

A warm
house,
A warm
bed,
and friends!

Why are we concerned with art? To cross our frontiers, exceed our limitations, fill our existences - fulfill ourselves.
 This is not a condition but a process in which what is dark in us slowly becomes transparent. In this struggle with one's own Truth, this effort to peel off the life mask, the Theatre, with its full flushed perceptivity, has always seemed to me a place of provocation.

Gerry Gratawshi

JANUARY FIRST, 1970

Welcomed to the warmth of your New England fireside
we sat together,
here at year's end.
Silenced by thoughts not spoken
I talked instead of sincerity, and sentiment.
And you,
your vision in the reddened glow softened
like some classically imagined guardian of those fiery gates
to another world.
I loved you for a moment then,
your gold, and green,
I loved you with a poet's coward love untold but for labored lines on hidden pages.

To be beautiful is to labor, Yeats has said,
as a poet labors:
and in that moment that I loved in that moment of fire, green and gold in that moment of beauty and sincerity
I knew that I was not a poet and that you were beautiful as outside
and hidden
new snows
fell like whispers
on the flesh-cold
winter grounds.

I would like to step down as chairman of the Student Senate but first I would like to get some things off my chest. At this point in the game I do not feel bad about leaving the Senate. It is my feeling that we have done as much as possible for the students with this form of government, but it has proven cumbersome and useless at this point. So we must re-evaluate our powers and the real influence as a body, we have on the legislative power on this campus, the College Senate.

I strongly urge this body to adopt the concept and legislation to establish a unicameral government. There are only four more Student Senate meetings left in the year and not much has been done on this extremely vital action of the students.

Much of my time has been wasted by small minded bigots who do not look out for the interests of all the students but prefer to lick their wounds and plan more legal cases to foul-up the smooth and efficient operation of the Senate in order to appease their own inadequacies and failings. These students, it is my belief and knowledge are urged on and advised by two Administrators who see fit to take sides and play politics even though their Administrative ethics forbid it. These two are Dr. Aceto, who made a statement about my possible unconstitutional position because of Kappa's withdrawal from the college to the Keene Evening Sentinel but he did not see fit to talk to me about my status or advise me as to the possibilities of someone questioning my position. No! He did not seek to help or advise me, but took sides, leaving me, a student, to fend for myself. This is our or should I say your Dean of Students, All Students. The other is Doug Mayer who so diligently prepared his own case against me to present before the Judiciary Board, a case which was full of holes and misstatements which could have been easily proved if he had asked me to clarify my position before the last Student Senate Meeting. Thus you can see these two men, knowing of all the actions which would have taken, did not inform me. And up to this meeting I have not yet heard the decision of the Board to this date—it is all hearsay. These are your great ethical Administrators out for the best interest of ALL KSC students. What a crock of shit that is.

No, I am not sad about leaving. I am relieved because I will no longer have to deal with such incompetence and biasness.

And I would like to say to all the students that it is about time we got off our asses and saw the light. There should be no need for a disciplinary law in this school which goes beyond the State or local laws. Students should come here willingly as citizens and not juveniles who need storm troopers and special rules to restrict them. Take the answers from the poll taken on campus last week and make them the real thing at KSC not just a wish. And if the administration refuses to bend or give up their job or power, then ignore them. Do what Kappa did, just do what you want to do as individuals or have within the laws of the local, state and national government. If you want women in your room just get together and if the majority of students bring women into their rooms, what can the administration do but give your natural rights. This is the way to avoid the two-faceness; and diddle-shit that has gone on here in the past.

I thank you very much for the wonderful experience of leading you. And I would like to thank the many of you who have supported and helped me in the year.

I thank you very much and I will turn the chair over to Dave Gagne who I wish all the success because of my financial situation and lack of trust in some of our advisors.

"The doctrine that I give you opposes 'quietism'; it goes thus: man is nothing other than his work; he exists only to the degree that he realizes himself; he is thus nothing other than the sum total of his actions, nothing other than his life."
