Thursday

Dear George-

If my brains weren't whizzing around so, and my nerves weren't so highly keyed up, I would take the time to print this letter to Mom & Pop, but as I am so busy all day I have stored up too much momentum to slow down to printing a letter.

We are so busy here that it looks as though it will be impossible to be in this weekend. I, for one, had counted on it tremendously, and am now quite disappointed, but I guess business is business. Something may turn up, permitting me to be in New York this week-end, I have not given up all hope as yet, so possibly I may still ~~be in~~^{arrive} late Saturday afternoon.

Everything is fine out here. We are doing one swell job. No complaints have been registered as yet, and I don't think they shall ever have much cause to complain about the way we are handling their servants office.

Heard from Sam today, and it looks as though he is finally going to town.

Please call on Mom and Pop and tell them the sad news.

Hope you and I do feel well.

Still hoping against odds —

Bo B.

Thanks for the "inherewith all"
