SCHOOL SONG OUR PLEDGE

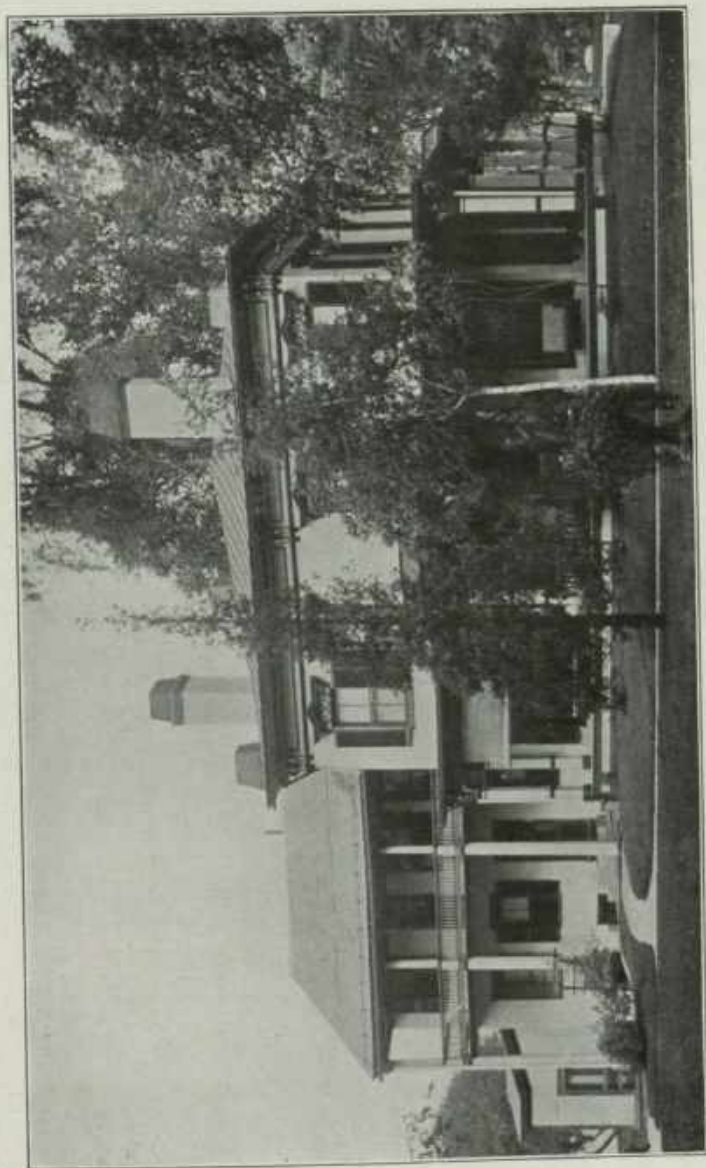

(Music and words by Maud E. Howes)

All up and fight, fight, fight for old Keene Normal
Our loyalty proclaim!
In every contest we must strive to conquer,
For there must be no limit to her fame,
Her honor, ever our inspiring genius,
Upon our strength relies,
So let our hearts knit near,
To raise a rousing good cheer;
Victory's laurels be her fadeless prize.

We pledge and prove our faith to Alma Mater,
The debt to her we owe,
We'll recompense with gratitude and service,
Undoubting pride the only thought we know,
We'll strive to gain the summit whence she beckons,
Our heart's blood throbbing high,
Though perils be involve
We'll make this granite resolve,
In protecting her, we'll do or die.

So kindly bright the fires upon her altar,
To burn while time shall last,
In future years its flame may be the emblem
Of courage, strength and vigor unsurpassed
She reigns supreme the loved and honored sovereign,
That through our lives shall rule,
Unfurled the red and white,
The only colors in sight,
As we hail our dear Keene Normal School.

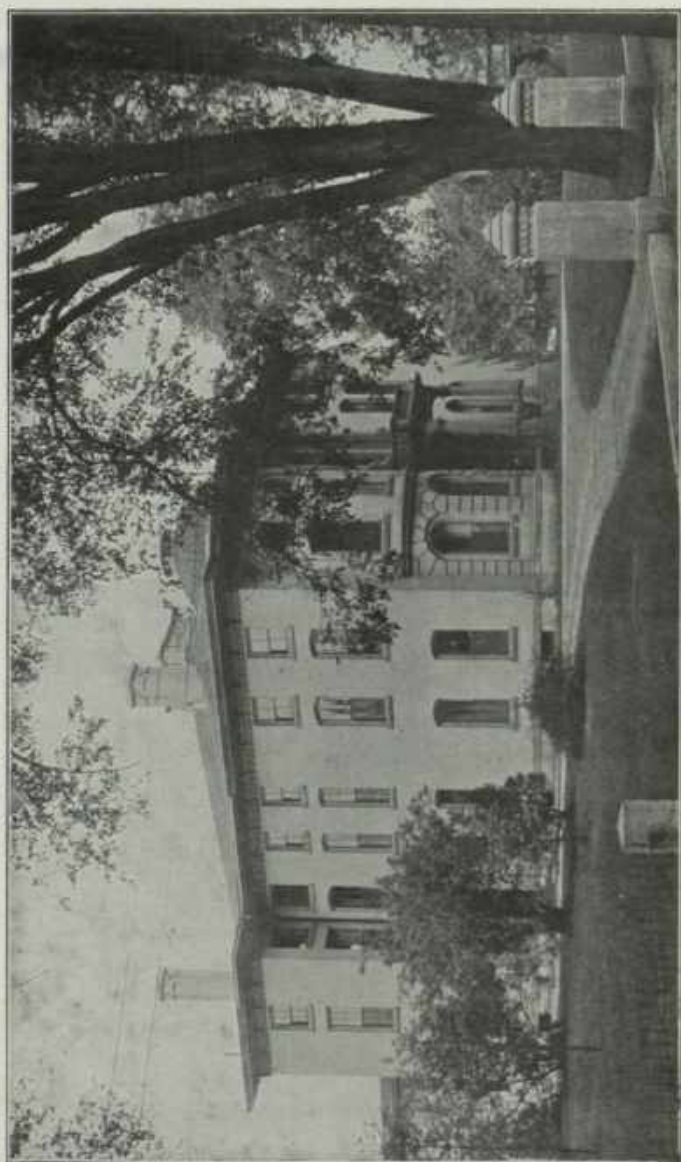

PRESIDENT'S RESIDENCE

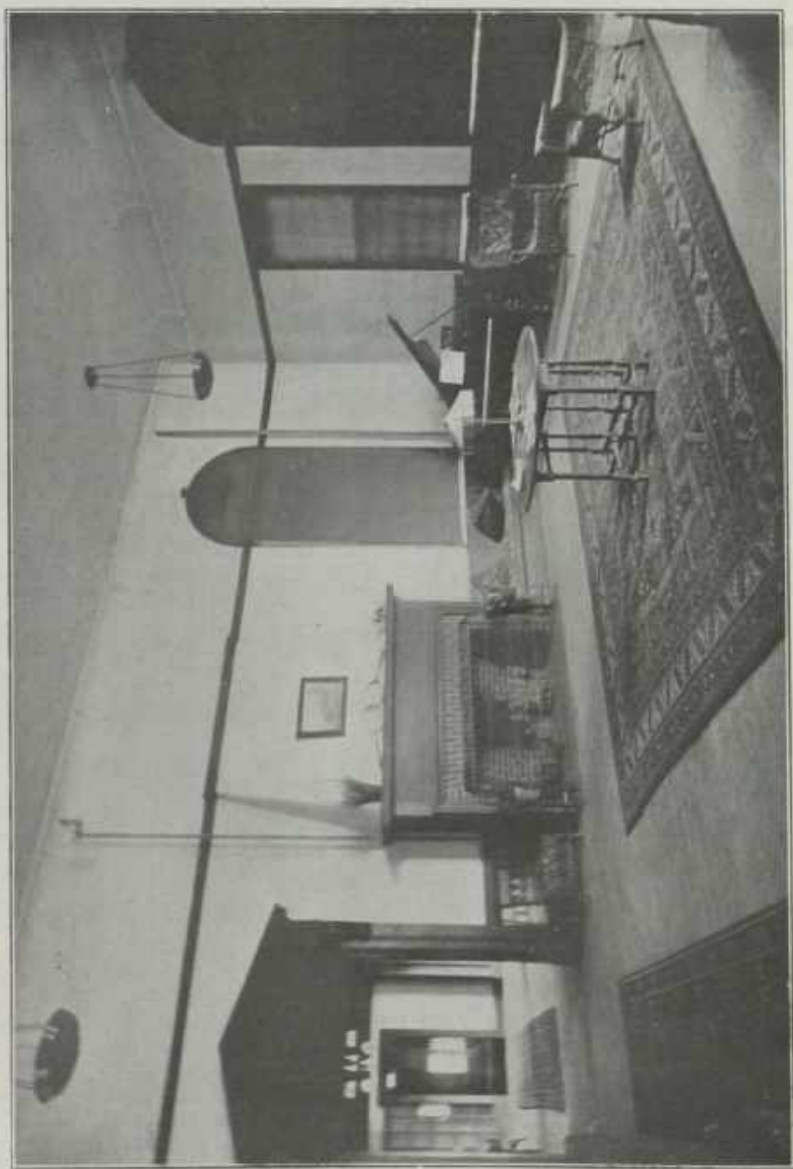

FUTURE TEACHERS

It is hard to understand while in school the full significance of what being future teachers means. As the time for saying farewell to dear old K. N. S. approaches, it is difficult to come to the full realization that we are from now on working for the ideal, "successful teaching." We have our Kronicle to take with us and to keep fresh in our minds never-to-be-forgotten memories of wonderful days at school. Never again can we live them over. We cannot go back if we would, but we must go ever forward instilling ideals, ideals that Keene Normal has instilled in us.

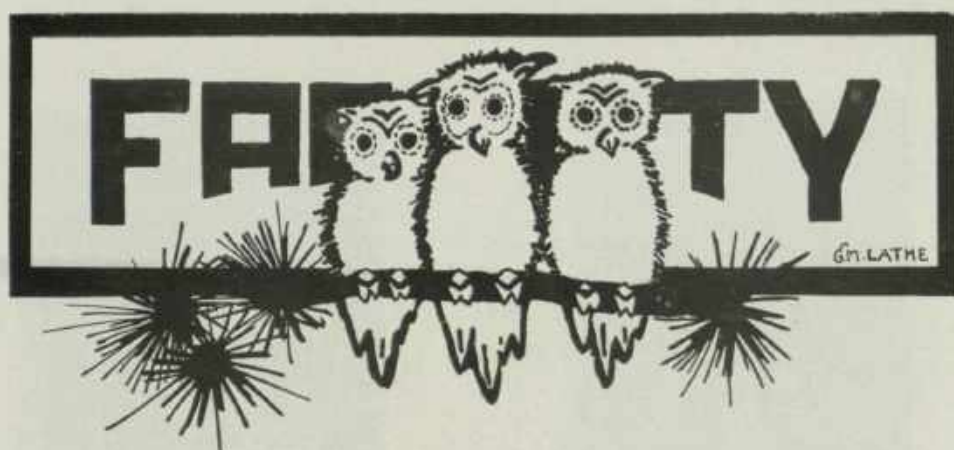

We shall meet many new situations. Some of them will be difficult to cope with, but with the help of the ideals of service and responsibility to guide us, we cannot fail to be torch bearers of Keene's high ideals and to carry on the interesting and inspiring work of "our chosen profession" in the way a Keene graduate should carry it on.

THE PRACTICE TEACHER'S WISH

I wish I had a little time
That I could call my own.
A minute to do nothing—
Or write a letter home.
I cannot eat. I cannot sleep;
I cannot even wash!
I just sit here and plug away
And train myself, by-gosh!

—Louise N. Barnum.

FOUR YEAR COURSE

DORIS ELIZABETH PERREAULT, KEENE

"Dot"; "Dottie"
A. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Outing Club (1) (2) (3) (4);
French Club (1) (2) (3) (4); De La Salle (1)
(2) (3) (4); Forum (2) (3) (4)

"My tongue within my lips I rein,

For who talks much, must talk in vain."

Though her words are few, her gracious manner goes hand in hand with a willingness and quiet capability. Beneath her demure manner there is a vein of frivolity unsuspected by those who do not know her well.

MARGARET ROSE REAGAN, BROCKTON, MASS.

"Peg"
De La Salle (1) (2) (3); Radio (1) (2); Glee Club
(1); Keene Chorus Club (1) (2); Outing Club
(1) (2) (3) (4)

"A sunshine heart and a soul of song."

Who could resist Peg's smile and attractive ways? She has acquired a great many friends during her four years at K. N. S. She surely displayed her abilities while at Junior High. She believes in business before pleasure, but tell us, Peg, why do you go downtown daily?

CECELIA WINN, NASHUA

"Mickey"
Keene Nashua Club (1) (2) (3) (4); De La Salle
(1) (2) (3) (4); French Club (1) (2) (3) (4);
Outing Club (1) (2) (3) (4); A. A. (1) (2) (3) (4)

To the public eye Mickey is a seriousminded, quiet, efficient hustler; eager for her professional training. To her immediate circle of friends she is witty and very lively. Hence she is liked by all.

ELSIE GILE, NEWPORT

"Elsie"
A. A. (1) (2); Nu Beta Upsilon (2) (3) (4); Outing
Club (1) (2) (4); A. A. (1) (2) (3) (4)

"Deep brown eyes running over with glee."

Elsie possesses an unusual gift of humor and a surplus of mischievousness. Wherever she is there is sure to be fun and neverending laughter. Yet, beneath all this joy, to all who know her Elsie is hardworking, energetic, and conscientious. We hope that Elsie won't be so troubled in the future, trying to control her smile at certain places.

ELLA MAE MACK, MANCHESTER

"Mac"
Nu Beta Upsilon (2) (3) (4); Outing Club (1) (2) (3)
(4); Manchester Club (1) (2) (3) (4); A. A.
(1) (2) (3) (4)

A true friend, a real friend,

A wonder through and through,

She's played with us and worked with us,

She always is true blue.

A sweeter, better-natured girl can ne'er be found.

Generous, helpful and sincere to the end,

Lucky are those on whom she smiles

And who may call her "friend."

BERTHA WRIGHT, EAST JAFFREY

"Chubby"
A. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Outing Club (1) (2) (3) (4);
Nu Beta Upsilon (2) (3) (4); Glee Club (1)

"Smile and the world smiles with you."

We never resist when we see "Chubbies" wonderful dimples and hear her jolly laugh. What should we do without her? She is always willing to help and never worries. Why should she, with the dimples, dignity, and winning virtues which she possesses?

LUCIEN LERANDEAU, KEENE

"Doc"

Boys' A. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); A. P. T. (1) (2) (3) (4); Chaplin (1) (2) (3); Baseball (1); Football Manager (2) (3); K. Club (3) (4); Keene Club (1) (2) (3) (4); Associate Editor Alpha (2).

"I can do all that does become a man."

In the four years that Doc has been here, he has made a name for himself in athletics. But it was only this year that the height of his popularity was reached in "The rise and the fall of the moustache."

FRANCIS T. MALLOY, PORTSMOUTH

"Babe"

Boys' A. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); President (2); A. P. T. (1) (2) (3) (4); Treasurer (1); Secretary (2); President (3); Dramatic Club (1) (2) (3) (4); Baseball (1) (2); Football (2) (3); Basketball (1) (2); K. Club (3) (4); Assistant Editor Alpha (2); Outing Club (1) (2).

To his immediate circle of friends he stands as a leader, well deserving his popularity. He has a great sense of appreciation, of companionship with his fellow classmates; more willing to help than ask it, and at all times worthy of their confidence.

EDWARD MORTON, CONCORD

"Firehorse"

Boys' A. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); President (1); A. P. T. (1) (2) (3) (4); Secretary (1); President (3) (4); Dramatic Club (1) (2) (3) (4); Baseball (1) (2); Football (2) (3); Captain (3); Basketball (1); K. Club (3) (4); Assistant Editor Alpha (2); Outing Club (1) (2).

"Anyone can go to bed, but it takes a man to get up." One identifies Ed. by his loud A-N-D. He is one of the pioneers of the four years course.

French Club (1) (2) (3); Keene Club (1) (2) (3); Music Club (2) (3); Glee Club (1) (2) (3); Chorus Club (1) (2) (3); Secretary Keene Club (3); Chronicle Board (2) (3).

During our three years here we have found that Mary has:

A habit of being agreeable,
A skill in managing people,
An appreciation of the fine arts, and
A knowledge of the Keene spirit, which she practices. With these, we know she will continue to capture friends and to win success.

BARBARA FRIZZELL, KEENE

"Barb"

French Club (1); Glee Club (1) (2) (3); Chorus Club (1) (2) (3); Melody Sextette (2) (3); Orchestra (1) (2) (3); A. A. (1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2); Keene Club (1) (2) (3); Music Club (3); Vice-President (3).

A friend, a pal, a comrade true,
With locks of gold and eyes of blue,
Musical, merry, firm and kind,
Another like her would be hard to find.

Barbara is this maiden's name
Whose art and talent will bring her fame.
In work, in play, in debating too
You excel, Barbara, 'cause you are you.

(1) (2) (3); Glee Club (1) (2) (3); Chorus Club
(1) (2) (3); Music Club (1) (2) (3); Melody Sextet
(2) (3); A. A. (1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3)
"Grace was in all her steps, heaven in her eye,
In every gesture, dignity and love."

Jo is the "supe" with the happy smile,
Doing the things that are well worthwhile;
She can sing and play with lots of pep,
And with her partner, keep in step.

We know that with her dignity grand,
A perfect school she'll be able to land;
And after she's taught for many a year,
We know she'll not forget us here.

MADeline MAYNARD, WINCHENDON, MASS.

"Mad"

French Club (1) (2) (3); Glee Club (1) (2) (3);
Music Club (2) (3); Chorus Club (1) (2) (3)
"For if she will she will, you may depend on't;
And if she won't, she won't, so there's an end on't."
To be possessed of individualism is indeed a rare gift, but that is only one of the many splendid qualities with which Madeline has been endowed. Her terse will has brought us many a smile, and to fortell success is the expression of all who have known her.

Cecile SAUVE, MANCHESTER

"Cec"

French Club (1) (2) (3); Treasurer (2); Glee Club
(1) (2) (3); President; Chorus Club (1) (2) (3);

Outing Club (1) (2) (3); Orchestra (3); Chronicle
Board (3); Manchester Club (1) (2) (3); De La Salle (1) (2); Music Club (3)

"None but herself can be her parallel."

Cecile is an exponent of unique musical ability, a pleasant associate, and a friend of sterling qualities.
Success will be envious of her future surpassing accomplishments, since she enters the field of her endeavors with a professional ability which should bring her early distinction.

VIVIAN D. WILLIAMS, KEENE

"Viv"

Orchestra (1) (2) (3); Glee Club (1) (2) (3); Keene
Club (1) (2) (3); French Club (1); Chorus Club (1)
(2) (3); Music Club (2) (3)

For those who know thee not, no words can paint,
And those who know thee, know all words are faint.
"Versatile Vivian"—Never was a girl more truly named. From the playing of the violin to the fixing of a spark plug she's "right there."

LOTTIE W. BURLINGAME, LEBANON

Camera Club (2) (3); Lebanon Club (1)

Without a doubt, Lottie can be called our Class Artist, give her a sheet of paper, and let with a few strokes of the pencil she will produce, as if by magic, a drawing of a figure, of a landscape, or perhaps a design. We all know that success awaits her in the field of art.

EULA M. BURNS, NASHUA "U U"

A. A. (1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3); Rifle Club (1) (2) (3); Treasurer (2); Secretary Rifle Club (2); French Club (2) (3); De La Salle (1) (2) (3); Treasurer (2); Chronicle Board (2) (3); Nashua Club (1) (2) (3); "K" Club (3)

Eula is our friend in every single way.
Her willing hands do help us almost every day.
A clever artist, a teacher with skill,
You won't find one like her,
Go where you will.

Eula has her trades, and very many too,
Nothing in this world that that she cannot do,
A swimmer, a musician, a sharpshooter too,
A thinker and a doer,
She's our own "U U."

HELMIA ERICKSON, WEST RUTLAND, VT. A. A. (1); Outing Club (2) (3); Vermont Club (3); V. W. C. A. (2)

Here's to Helma
Thoughtful, kind, and true.
Generous, sympathetic and helpful too,
She's a girl worth while all through and through.

EDITH M. GRAY, ROCHESTER

CHRISTIANA MARTIN, WEST LEBANON

"Tina"
A. A. (1) (2); De La Salle (1) (2) (3); Vice President (2); Lebanon Club (1); Outing Club (1) (2)
"Sincerity and honesty carry one through many difficulties which all the arts he can invent would never help him through."

A friend, a pal, a comrade true,
A teacher too, an artist through and through,
That's "Tina."
Friendly, truthful, loyal and kind,
Another like her would be hard to find.
That's "Tina."

RITA V. NEAL, WEST NEWTON, MASS. Field Hockey (1) (2) (3); Glee Club (1); Keene Chorus Club (1); Camera Club (2) (3); Radio Club (2); Chairman Executive Committee (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3); A. A. (1) (2) (3); "K" Club (3) "The world belongs to the energetic."

Energetic? That's the adjective to describe Rita. Who has not seen her exerting her utmost nearly every hour of the day? Be it in the realms of art, music clubs, dances, or athletics, her persevering energy has gained for her renown.

ELEANOR ELIZABETH AMIDON, BRATTLEBORO, VT. "Betty"

French Club (1); Forum (1) (2); (3); Varsity Debating Team (1) (2) (3); Athletic Association (1); Vermont Club (3); Outing Club (1)

"D-E-B-A-T-I-N-G is where we shine"
"Betty" is best known for her ability in, and love of, debating. Of one thing we may be assured, that she will be, everlastingly, on the negative side of any question for debate, but not for life.

RUTH E. ARBUCKLE, QUINCY, MASS.

"Ruthie"

Glee Club (1) (2); Keene Chorus Club (1) (2) (3);
De La Salle Club (1) (2) (3); Athletic Association
(1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Radio Club (1);
Academy of Science (1)

"She has two eyes so soft and brown,
And when she smiles come dimples too."
Here's to you, Ruth, lovely and sweet;
You're generous too and very neat.
We like your smile and your bobbed hair,
And as a teacher none can compare.
A songbird is Ruth, and a dancer too—
There's heaps to you, you're good and true.
Somehow you must know we all love you!

CATHERINE MABEL BAKER, MERIDEN

"Kay"

French Club (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3);
Academy of Science (2) (3)

"Led by simplicity divine,
She pleases and never tries to shine."

Three years ago to Keene
Dear Catherine Mabel came,
The baby of the Class of '28,
She laughed, talked and ate.
The following years she changed,
Until at Whitefield she was famed.
All who know her love
The way she towers above.
As Lucille's better half
She's given us many a laugh.

IMOGENE BARNUM, HAVERHILL, MASS.

"Gene"

Forum (1) (2) (3); Treasurer of Forum (1); Athletic Association (1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3)

Ingenious
Mannerly Obliging
Generous Earnest Neat
Enduring

Now do you wonder why we all like "Gene"?

WILLIAM BOLAND, BROCKTON, MASS.

"Bill"; "Billie"

Football (1) (2) (3); Basketball (1); Baseball (1) (2)
(3); Dramatic Club (1) (2) (3); Radio Club (1)
(2) (3); Glee Club (1) (2) (3); Keene Chorus Club
(1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3) A. A. (1)
(2) (3)

Who doesn't know and like Bill? One of our most popular boys, if not the most in the class of 1928 is he.
Billy has his weaknesses and his bignesses too. His tenor voice and haughty laugh has been heard often by all. Not only will he be missed in school but on the athletic field also. Success can only follow one with his personality.

LEO BONNETTE, KEENE

Boys' A. A. (1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3);
A. P. T. (1) (2) (3); Keene Club (1) (2) (3);
Football (1); K. Club (3)

"Students may come, and students may go, but he'll be in Keene forever."

Could you ever imagine anything worrying Leo or causing him to deviate from his usual motion? Not Leo, but we envy you your ability to go through practice teaching in the same way. You're bound to succeed.

MAE G. BROWN, BELLOWS FALLS, VT.

"Mae G"

Outing Club (2) (3); Athletic Association (2) (3); President of Vermont Club (3); Secretary of Class (3)

"Music speeds us gaily on our way."

Mae has helped to while away many of our dull hours with her banjo. Remember the doctos? Everyone in Huntress does. It has been a joy working with you.

DOROTHY L. BURBANK, FARMINGTON

"Bump"
Athletic Association (1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3); Academy of Science (1) (2) (3); Y. W. C. A. (2); Camera Club (2) (3); Forum (1) (2) (3); Debating Squad (1) (2) (3); Debating Team (2) (3); Vice President of Class (2); Vice President Academy of Science (2); Vice President Forum (2); President Forum (3).

"Industrious and working—"
Did you ever see her shirking?
"Dot" stands out from the rank and file of common people because of her high ideals, her clean sportsmanship and her ability to mix with everyone.

HELEN M. BURNHAM, AMHERST

"Patty"
Y. W. C. A. (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)
Ready for work, ready for play,
Ready to help you, any day,
Always kind and thoughtful, too,
It was your good luck if she knew you.
"Patty," we know you will succeed in all you undertake.

FOREST BUTLER, BATH, MAINE

"It appeals to me," Butler speaking! We settle down in our seats to listen to an unusual interesting and witty dissertation on almost any subject, prompted by a keen intellect, and based on vicarious experiences in Porto Rico, and other distant realms. We are glad you were with us our Senior year, and wish you the best of luck in your future endeavors.

FREDA CANNING, STOWE, VT.

"Elsie"
"More likely to give help than to ask for it."
Because Freda has lived away from campus there are a lot of people who do not know her. But her classmates know her and she's a wonderful pal.

OLIVE CARTER, NEWBURYPOR, MASS.

"Lod"
Outing Club (1) (2) (3); Secretary (1) (3); Athletic Association (1) (2) (3); President (2); Hockey Varsity (1) (2) (3); Captain (3); Glee Club (2); Melody Sextette (1) (2) (3); Keene Chorus Club (1) (2); "K" Club (3); President
"To know her is to love her."
Our own red haired girl—full of pep, laughter, and life. And too, she is one of our best athletes. Someone will have to fill a big place to take up your torch next year.

ELEANOR MAY CLARK, ALSTED

"Pie"
Forum (1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3); Athletic Association (1) (2) (3)
Objective—To acquire skill in getting her work done at the last minute.
Type—All-round good sport.
Procedure
A. Approach. After 10 o'clock when Miss Burr is on the "warpath."
B. Problem—To get credit for all the work she does.
C. Essential points.
1. "Howard"—one of the "Duffers."
2. German measles in Bald House.
3. Pillow fights.
4. Eating pickles at camp.
5. Lesson plans.

Summary:
To make a wonderful success.

DOROTHY V. CONCANNON, HOLYOKE, MASS.

"Dot"

De La Salle (1) (2) (3); Class Secretary (2); Forum (3); French Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1); Outing Club (1)

"She is made for clever thoughts,
For playful wit and laughter."

Very pretty
Extremely witty.
She is clever
Without endeavor
Bright as a star,
And so popular,
Always happy,
Ever free;
Who is she?
Her initials are D. V. C.

MILDRED CRESINE, BRADFORD, MASS.

"Mil"

A. A. (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)
The qualities possessed by "Mil" surely should lead to success. We wonder how many of the graduates of K. N. S. would like to be studious, quiet and responsible plus having the power of enjoyment!

ANGELINA B. CYGAN, MANCHESTER

"Angie"

Athletic Association (1); Outing Club (1); French (1) (2) (3); Vice President of French Club (3); Manchester Club (1) (2) (3); K. Club (3); Vice President (3); Varsity Basket Ball (1) (2); Varsity Hockey (2) (3); Kronicle Board (3)

"We watched and watched, and more the wonder grew,
That one small head could hold the things she knew."
Personality plus! that's Angie. An excellent scholar, a wonderful sport, and a marvelous pal.

MARIE JUDITH CYR, BRADFORD, MASS.

"Judy"; "Dude"

Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); De La Salle (1) (2) (3); French Club (2) (3); Academy of Science (1); Secretary (2) (3)

"Where a woman's charm has won half the battle, her character is an advancing standard and sings Victory."

She's a friend to all who know her
A pal to only a few.
Her "pals" could never forget her
And few "friends" ever do.

PAULINE DAVIS, LEBANON

"Paul"; "Folly"

A. A. (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)

"Good nature is worth more than knowledge, more than money to those who possess it."

O blonde, that's true!
Eyes, not blue?
Oh no, but softly gray
A smile that charms
A way that calms
Most any day,
A pal, you bet!
A friend best met,
And, oh, so gay!

LEONARD DEWYEA, KEENE

"Lennie"

Kronicle Board (2); Editor-in-chief the "Alpha" (2) (3); President A. P. T. (3); Orchestra (2) (3); Class Treasurer (2); Keene Club Treasurer (3)

"Lennie," a man for whom everyone has a cheery "hello." Why not? He is fair and square, an artist of the violin, willing to lend his assistance at all times, intellectual, has a rare sense of humor, and is a most sincere friend. It may be truly said, "the world takes him at his own value."

ELIZABETH DUDLEY, HANOVER

"Beth"

Athletic Association (1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3); French Club (1) (2) (3); Kronicle Editor-in-chief (3)

"And still they gazed, and still the wonder grew
That one small head could carry all she knew."
Nothing more true could be said of Beth. How many times have her classmates listened while she developed some problem of education, politics, economics or yes—even her "divver." Her efficiency may justly be rated 100% demonstrated by her editorship of the Kronicle!

IRENE FARLEY, HOLLS

EARLE KENNETH FRENCH, WEST BATH, MAINE

There's music in "math" and science. Earle believes this, and doubtless he is right, for he is one of the few who can reach high G. Isn't it to be regretted that a person of his ability should be so modest and retiring? His aims in the field of education are big and sound, and we feel confident that he will be heard from. Altogether he is a fine fellow—one of the best we have ever met from the Pine Tree State.

MARJORIE LOW FROST, DERRY

"Marge"

Forum (1) (2) (3); Athletic Association (1); Outing Club (1); Academy of Science (2) (3); Treasurer Academy of Science (2); Varsity Debating Squad (1) (2); Keene Chorus Club (1) (2) (3)

Why do we all like "Marge" so?
Heavens to Betsy! don't you know?
Here's a friend who is tried and true;
She's ready to help when you're lone and blue.
A better sport you'll never find,
If you hunt from now to the end of time.

ALBERT E. GAUTHIER, FRANKLIN

"Curley"

"All studious, yet in a jocular mood."
Albert Gauthier? Oh, you mean "Curley." "Curley" has distinguished himself in many ways during his stay at K. N. S. Can he argue? Ask Mr. Simmons. And he can teach French fully as well. He has brains accompanied by an admirable sense of humor. With all his good qualities success will surely be his.

VELMA GOODSPEED, NASHUA

"Vel"

French Club (1) (2); Nashua Club (1) (2) (3); A. A. (1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3)

"Her modest answer and graceful air Show her wise and good as she is fair."
If you see a tall slim figure of good form playing tennis, you'll know it's Velma—Not only on the tennis court but on the dance floor as well she excels. Sweet and demure she always seems, yet her impression is lasting.

ELLEN POWER HADLEY, PLAINFIELD

"Had"

De La Salle (1) (2); Dramatic Club (1) (2) (3); Academy of Science (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3); Athletic Association (1) (2) (3)

Had is a regular pal. Though coming in from Plainfield her masses of auburn hair will always prevent her from being plain. Her carefree disposition will never be forgotten by the Elliot House gang of 1925-26 or by the third floor Huntress crew of 1928. Her attitude of taking life easily as it comes is only disturbed by her occasional crushes. Always a participant in fun and activity, she is welcomed at every outing. We admire her perfect placidity.

CORA ELLA HAYWARD, PENACOOK

If we were to describe "Ted" we could start with "A" and go through to "Z" to spell the adjectives, and then not list all. Here are a few of them; energetic, athletic, ambitious, responsible, obliging, dependable, capable, and last but not least big hearted!

"Bark"—a man of remarkable physique, an athlete to help Keene Normal to the forefront in the field of athletics, an actor when the Dramatic Club wishes to produce its greatest production of the year, a standby when the classes seem dull, and last but not least—a perfect "traffic cop" as shown in directing the marching from chapel—all this and more is characteristic of Bark.

HELEN HUSSEY, GREENFIELD

"Billie"

Generous "Billie"—not only generous in material things, stamps, breakfasts, lesson-plans, clothes, or what-not, far more—a spiritual "giving" seeming to be "Billie's" enjoyment. Her friendship is unparalleled declare all her acquaintances.

but also as a taxi driver upon the stage. Teaching

"Thy modesty is a candle to thy merit."

Why should one be so modest when

A witty poetess she has been?

An actress—like a "Babe" she could cry in that part.

"The Goose Hangs High."

A most successful teacher too,

LEONARD LEROY MAINE, KEENE

"Thinking not of myself, but of others."

Much could be said about Roy's abilities in many lines of work, some of which are executive, athletic, teaching, versatility, cooperation, and his sense of justice. As our president he has made possible many new plans, which have brought about a bigger, better spirit in our class. We wish for him great success.

"Noisy"

French Club (3); A. A. (2); Manchester Club (1) (2) (3); Rifle Club (1); Secretary Manchester Club (2)

"Why should I blush to own my love,

'Tis love that rules the realms above?"

Love conquereth all things. Enterprisingly, energetically, perseveringly, persistently "Noisy" has pushed herself to the highest rung of the ladder to Success. A usual occurrence is to see her, notebook under her arm, fountain pen, swinging in her hand, speeding to the library. Surely this must account in part for her attainment.

Her accomplishments are varied in that she dances well, plays the piano, and evokes delightful tunes from a mandolin. Her hobby is books and poetry; her knowledge of these is way above par. Success will attend you, Rita, we have no doubt.

Adelaide has always stood out because of her dramatic ability. Shall you ever forget how awed we were by her talent in Expression Class? We shall always remember her for her cheerfulness and her willingness to help. And in the future when we speak of her, we will say, "She was worthy of our confidence."

MARY RYAN, RUTLAND, VT.

"Everyone adored her, and in return she was pleasant and courteous to all."

Popular, snappy, pretty,
Pleasant, peppy, witty!

With such sterling qualities exemplified by Mary in the past three years, is it a wonder that no adjective can describe her sunny character which is leading her to the "hall of fame?"

MERIAL SMITH, STOW, VT.

"Merle"

Athletic Association (1) (2) (3); French Club (2) (3); Vermont (3)

"A smile for all, a welcome glad,
A jovial, pleasing way she had."

We wonder where "Gramp" spends so many of her week ends and why she has so little use for her room in Huntress. Also, we should like to know if it is the rides in the fresh night air that augment that lovely coloring of yours. One word of warning only—"Be sure that you have enough gas!"

have profited much by her friendship. She has been a

Because of her modern ideas, we feel certain she will be a success in her chosen work. Good wishes and best luck to you!!

Outing Club (2); Athletic Association (2)

"All day I build, study, and make friends."

If you want a thing done up brown get "Lou" to do it. She's no slacker. Always on the job.

ROSEMOND BELKNAP, SO. ROYALTON, VT.

"Rose"

Y. W. C. A. (2); Keene Chorus Club (2)

"For a better friend look no further?"

Pep is one thing; brains another. In Rosemond we find the rare combination. Though she did not come to us until our senior year, her pleasing personality soon won for her a place in our hearts.

DOROTHY M. BENNETT, LEBANON

"Dot"

Y. W. C. A. (1); Outing Club (1); Athletic Association (1)

"Dot," you missed your calling. You should have been an artist. One of the pleasures of school life is looking at "Dot's" hand illustrated notebooks admired by all who see them. May you continue to draw friends besides your salary.

MARGARET BRESNAHAN, MANCHESTER

"Peg"

De La Salle (1) (2)

"Has she friends,
Oh yes a pile,
And for all
She has a smile."

This surely applies to "Peg." She appears to be very quiet, but with her friends you will find her lively, witty and full of fun.

If you wish to become acquainted with her start talking French, and she will parlez-vous for you.

LILLIAN BURGESS, ROCHESTER

"Lill"

Keene Chorus Club (1) (2); Glee Club (1) (2); Nature Club (1); Kronicle Board (2)

"Full of pep, and full of fun,
'Lill,' the true friend to everyone."

Full of fun and brimful of pep, we would have missed much if "Lill" had not come to Keene Normal. Ours would have been a greater loss had she not decided to come to Huntress her second year. Her jolly nature and carefree spirit have won her many friends.

IDELL BUSHEY, GARDNER, MASS.

"Del"

Glee Club (1)

To commute or not to commute—that is her question! "Del" has few troubles but little things do give her the "Jimmies!"

Best of success "Del" in whatever you attempt, only don't do anything all of a sudden!

ELIZABETH CARPENTER, LANCASTER

"Lib"

Athletic Association (1); Outing Club (1)

"A regal queen, in action, form and manner."

"Lib." is one of our attractive two year seniors. Her charming personality has made her many friends. Best of luck "Lib"! We know your "talents" won't be wasted.

FAITH CARPENTER, READING, VT.

"Carlie"

Y. W. C. A. (1) (2); Sec. W. Y. C. A. (2); Nature Club (1); Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)

"In ourselves our fortunes lie,
For life is what you make it."

Faith came to us from Vermont Academy. She stepped into K. N. S. and immediately won the hearts of all those with whom she came in contact. She was interested in other's welfare and we could always rely on her good judgment.

LILLIAN CARRIER, KINGSTON, MASS.

"Lil"

Outing Club

"She calls and calls each vagabond by name."

Everyone knows "Lil" and she knows everybody—man, woman and child for miles around Keene. As a cadet teacher she was a huge success, simply because she enters both work and play with the same enthusiastic smile.

ETHEL B. W. CLOWES, CONTOOCOOK

"Knowledge is power."

There is a certain amount of determination and a quiet firmness in her manner. She is both industrious and willing to help others, two characteristics which make her a very "special" special indeed.

DOROTHY COBLEIGH, TEMPLETON, MASS.

"Dot"

Athletic Association (1); Outing Club (1)

"The greatest gift in life is love."

"Dot" is one of those cheerful people who always has a good time to recall and another one to plan. Perhaps that accounts for her many friends.

CHARLOTTE CODAIRE, MANCHESTER

"Chunky"; "Liz"

Manchester Club (1) (2); Dramatic (1) (2); Y. W. C. A. (1); Keene Chorus Club (1); Choir (1)

"Still waters run deep."

Charlotte is a quiet young lady, but those who know her best realize what a good sport she is. She spends a great deal of her time writing letters. We wonder if that is the cause of so much mail from Worcester and Haverhill.

MADELENE CONNORS, WINCHESTER

"Curley"

We wonder what Madeleine is up to now. She is one of those quiet souls always conversing with the librarian. Looking into her Irish blue eyes, one can almost see the depths of fun, laughter, and humor.

MIRIAM CROWLEY, ROCKLAND, MASS.

"Min"

Is she attractive? A wow!
Can she dress? And how!
The essence of good breeding? I'll say!
Would you like her for a friend? Any day!
Has she ability for everything? Oh Boy!
What is she to all of us? A Joy!

DORIS DARLING, SO. PEACHTAM, VT.

"Dot"

Vermont Club (1); Dramatic Club (1); Outing Club (1); Athletic Association (1)

"What do we live for, if it's not to make life less difficult for others?"

You can call her Doris Darling or Darling Doris, it makes little difference which. Peacham did us a favor when they lent us "Dot" for a year. We only wish we had met her sooner.

KATHERINE DAVIS, WINCHESTER

"Kat"

Even though Katherine does not live on campus you can almost always find her where she is least expected to be. We are wondering just what that emerald ring means? Luck and love, "Kat," from us all.

ELIZABETH DONAHUE, WORCESTER, MASS.

"Lil"

Nature Club (1); Camera Club (1); De La Salle (1) (2); Treasurer of De La Salle (2); Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)

"Never Hurry. Never Worry."

"Lil" has a personality that we would all like to own. She is very good hearted, loving and kind. A truer friend you'll never find. But "Lil," we don't want you to think you are the whole ocean just cause you can make waves.

MARGARET G. DONOVAN, KEENE

"Peg"

Keene Club (2); De La Salle (2)

"A pal that is good and true,
We all love her, you bet we do!
A merry twinkle in her eyes so blue,
A ready wit and big heart, too."

"Peg" surely was full of fun! Although she has not lived with us. She's not entirely missed dormitory life for how often has she haunted Fiske and Huntress! We all envy the school or man that will win her.

MILDRED EVANS, CRAWFORD NOTCH

"Mild"; "Milly"

Athletic Association (2); Outing Club (1)

"Fair of face and firm of form."

To know "Milly" is to love her. For a true blue, lovable maid, "Milly" is our choice. "Milly" we hope that "rural school" appreciates its unusual good luck.

GLADYS FAIRFIELD, HANCOCK

"Glad"; "Gladie"; "Teacher"

Basketball (1); K. Club (1); Athletic Association (2);

Outing Club (1); Camera Club (1)

"Blythe, blythe and merry was she."

"Gladie" surely could chase the blues away! She surely could play basketball! And as for teaching, ask one who knows! We know your pupils will love you "Gladie." But I wonder if she is going to teach very long!—well anyhow, "Gladie," we wish you the best of luck in either calling.

MARION FARNUM, MARLBORO

"Diligence is the mother of success."

Who ever heard of Marion coming to class without her work done and well done at that? The teachers as well as her classmates will miss seeing Marion around the campus next year.

HELEN FIZETTE, LEBANON

Orchestra (1); Forum (1)

"He who sows courtesy, reaps friendship
And he who plants kindness, gathers love."

Without doubt, this is the reason for the many friends Helen has made in her one short year. This little "special" is full of pep for her size. The occupants of third floor, West end, know that she can put as much into giving a lecture as in having a good time.

ODETTA FLINT, NEWPORT

"Flint"

Debating Club (1); Athletic Association (1)

"Who is it can read a woman?"

Odetta has been very quiet these two years. There have been rumors that she is not as she seems, but of that we can prove nothing. However, those who know her best agree that she is an earnest worker and a true friend. We wish her the best of success.

EDNA FREIHOFER, ALSTEAD

"Miss Choochopper"

The old saying, "Satan always finds something for idle hands to do," certainly has nothing to do with Edna. Her friends are envious of her skillful hand-work. She is a quiet girl, but a real true friend.

ALICE FROST, GREENVILLE

"Al"

Dramatic Club (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2); Nature Club (1)

She kept life merry at 74 Applan Way during her first year at K. N. S. and always took part in the many activities. This year Huntress has been her abiding place except for week-ends. Why not ask Alice where she spends the week ends?

MARCIA FULLER, TORRINGTON, CONN.

"Mushy"

Athletic Association (2); Outing Club (1)

"Still waters run deep"

That certainly applies to "Mushy," but one who knows her might argue the point. Most of us have hobbies, "Mushy's" is going to Boston and we wonder why!

CLAUDIA FULLERTON, NASHUA

Keene Chorus Club (1); Manchester Club (1)

"Sober, but not serious"

"Quiet, but not idle."

We know that Claudia will be a big success in her kindergarten work. The only difficulty will be she may be mistaken for one of her kiddies. In spite of her youthful countenance she is a very serious minded and studious little person.

DOROTHY GALE, LONDONDERRY

"Dot"

Glee Club (1) (2); Forum (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2); Keene Chorus Club (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)

"Whence came thy learning. Dids't thy toil—o'er books—consume the midnight oil?"

Dorothy came to us two years ago from Londonderry. During that time she has certainly proved to us that she is a clever student, teacher, a willing helper, and a staunch friend. If all small towns have such capable girls send them on—Keene Normal is waiting for them.

ETHEL GATES, MANCHESTER

"Topsy"

"When I think, I must speak."

Little did we see her, as she did not live with us in the "dorm" but was a helping hand to all. We wish you success in all your endeavors, "Topsy."

ELLA FRANCES GEORGE, COLEBROOK

"Fran"

Athletic Association (1); Outing Club (1); De La Salle (1) (2); Y. W. C. A. (1); Nature Club (1)

"In ourselves our fortunes lie,
Life is what we make it."

Tho' reserved in her manner there are some of us who have been lucky enough to know her. And we sure are glad she came to Keene despite those terrible trips to and from Colebrook.

GLADYS Lyla GILMAN, FARMINGTON

"Quiet, serene, full of fun."

Very few are acquainted with Gladys. She is the quiet member of her class. Great personality she possesses in her teaching. She is always ready for fun at the right time, and a good scout at all times.

JOSEPHINE E. GLASHEEN, ATHOL, MASS.

"Jo"

Glee Club (1); De La Salle (1) (2)

"Devout yet cheerful, active yet resigned."

"Jo" is quiet, simple and good. To such a conscientious girl, surely nothing but the best can come. Those who know her will never forget the patient and serene "Jo."

VERA GURSHA, BROCKTON, MASS.

"Robbie"

Outing Club (1); Athletic Association (1); Nature Club (1)

"I chatter, chatter as I go."

One of the famed "Fowler House Gang"—a soul of mirth and joy was our Robbie. And did we ever have to suck her out or did we always know when she was about? Ask anyone of the Normalites. She can dance too, but not everyone knows it. Here's wishing you all success, Vera!

MADELINE HACKETT, NASHUA

"Mad"

De La Salle Club (1) (2); Nashua Club (1) (2); Outing Club (1); Athletic Association (1); Nature Club (1)

So full of summer warmth, so glad,

So healthy, sound, and clear, and whole."

"Mad" is always ready to help in anything, at any time. Her cheerful manner is bound to bring her success.

PEARL GERTRUDE HALE, TROY

"Here's to Pearl"

A scholarly girl."

Though she has not lived on campus she has certainly not remained unobserved. Pearl has all that is needed for an ideal teacher. So here's wishing you success, Pearl!

MAMIE I. HARRINGTON, HANCOCK

"Mem"; "Memie"

De La Salle (2); Nature Club (1)

Why aren't they all contented like me?"

"Mem" is a wonderful person to know. A nod of curly, blonde tresses, a pert reply and that smile;—those who know her will prove her worth.

GWYNETH M. HAY, HARDWICK, VT.

"Gwen"

Nature Club (2); Vermont Club (2)

"Never idle a moment, but thrifty and thoughtful of others."

"Gwen" will succeed we know because of her cheerful and studious disposition. Always ready to lend a hand, she will never be without friends.

MAYBELL J. HAY, HARDWICK, VT.

"Al"

Nature Club (2); Vermont Club (2)

Another of our Vermont girls, Maybell is an elementary student and a hard worker. If she is missed from the campus you will always find her at her desk copying notes or preparing lesson plans.

GERTRUDE HERSEY, ANTRIM

"Trudie"

"Silent, sincere, sweet."

Few of us are really acquainted with "Trudie." She is the quiet conscientious member of our class. Teaching first grade is her chief joy, and we can prophesy that she will be a successful and beloved teacher.

ALTA HILL, EAST JAFFREY

"Al"

Outing Club (1) (2); Camera Club (1); Athletic Association

Athletic Association (1) (2)

"The golden heart forgives the wrong and always does the right."

Bertha is quiet, sweet, and ready to help at all times.
She has the gift of wanting to help and not wanting to be praised. A friend once made with her is never lost.

FRANCES HODGE, CLAREMONT

"Billy"

Outing Club (1) (2); President Outing Club (1); A. A.
(1) (2); Glee Club (1); Chorus Club (1); De La Salle (1); Nature Club (1)

"The glory of youth glowed in her soul."

What do we like about you?

Why, only this:—

Your eternal love of fun,

The mystic touch of your fingers

On the keyboard,

The way your eyes darken

And shine when you smile.

Perhaps too, we like your courage

In always facing life with a high heart,

And yet—perhaps, after all—"Billy"—

It's only—"Just because you're you."

MARIA HOLMES, GORHAM

"Riggie"

Are you down hearted?

Cheer up, here comes "Riggie."

"Riggie's" merry smile has gained her friends and a welcome everywhere. She's a member of "that Fowler House gang!" Nuff said!

GLADYS M. HURLBUTT, CLAREMONT

"Gladdie"

Orchestra (1)

"Quiet and capable."

Gladys is very unassuming and quiet but she has, nevertheless, made many friends among her classmates.
She will be missed from the violin ranks of the orchestra next year but we know that her time will be spent well wherever she stays.

IDELLA INGRAHAM, CLAREMONT

"Ham"

Glee Club (1); Dramatic Club (2); Keene Chorus Club will prove true in the future? Best of luck always

ETHEL B. JORDAN, EPPING

"Peter Ben"

Dramatic Club (1) (2); A. A. (1) (2); Outing Club
(1) (2)

"She has fun and wit and fire."

A laugh that's hard to beat—a bright retort—a smile, who else can it be but "Peter Ben?" A friend to all and a pal to a few—so happy-go-lucky, carefree, and then again so serious, and such a confidante.

"Aw what's the use of studying on such a gorgeous day?"
A laugh that ripples through our thoughts

For ever more to stay

And then a smile so wholesome,

In our memory then

A look of understanding—

Well, that's just "Peter Ben."

LOUISE KELLIHER, CONCORD

"Weezie"; "Kelley"

Keene Chorus Club (1); Glee Club (1); De La Salle (2); Athletic Association (2); Class Secretary; Outing Club

"She was born to attempt, attain, never to surrender."

She's a capable, clever teacher
Yet she's always ready for fun,
And always the first to offer
When something needs to be done.
She sings and plays the piano,
And she's quite an artist too,
With a heart just burning with sunshine
She's a real friend, staunch and true.

PAULINE KELLEY, CANAAN

"Polly"

A. A. (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Forum (1) (2)

"To know you is to love you
And love but you forever
For nature made you what
You are and never made another."

It's true, there is not another who is such a true friend, so sincere and dependable as "petite Pauline." If you are looking for someone who is always the same and who exercises to good advantage our "K. N. S. Smile."

CATHERINE KINGDON, CLAREMONT

"Kay"

Athletic Association (1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3)

"Bunny"

Manchester Club (1) (3); Nature Club (1); Y. W. C.
A. (2); De La Salle Club (1) (2)

"There are some silent people who are more interesting than the best talkers."

Helena is one of the quiet members of our class. Yet, while here she has made many friends through her pleasant personality. Why do we all like Helena? Because she has a smile for everyone!

We hope that you will have as many friends in future years as you have had at K. N. S. Best of luck always.

HELEN LAMBERT, HARDWICK, VT.

De La Salle (2); Outing Club (2); A. A. (2); Dramatic Club (2)

You've been here only a year, too, Helen. You've not lived with us in the "Main dorm."—but, those who know you say you will be a bright cheerful, conscientious and happy teacher,—the kind children love.

IRENE M. LAMBERT, HARDWICK, VT.

"June"; "Rene"

De La Salle (2); Nature Club (2); Outing Club (3);
A. A. (2); Vermont Club (2)

Irene is a special, so we've known her for only one year. She's left us with the impression of being a very quiet, retiring girl,—but—tell us, Irene, is this correct?

MARY E. LAURIE, MANCHESTER

"Phem"

De La Salle (1) (2); Manchester Club (1) (2);
Athletic Association (1); Outing Club (1)

"To know her is to love her."

"Phem," it has been a pleasure for all of us so lucky as to know you. Your happy, laughing self has served to wipe away dull cares. You have shown us just enough of your serious side to make you an "all round" friend. Here's luck to you and many regrets that the two years weren't longer.

MARY LEAHY, SOMERSWORTH

"A heart to resolve, a head to contrive, and a hand to execute."

Mary has been with us only eighteen short weeks. She did not need any longer, however, to prove to us that she is an admirable teacher, a good sport, and staunch friend.

VERA LOCKE, ANTRIM

"Vee"

"She runs her modest quiet race;

Her way wins friends in every place."

Vera joined our class our senior year. We were all glad to have her with us. Tho' quiet Vera was a mighty good sport and a good scholar. We know she will be successful in her teaching career.

CATHERINE McDONALD, NASHUA

"Kae"

Nashua Club (1) (2); De La Salle Club (1) (2);

"Weedie"

Manchester Club (1) (2); De La Salle (1) (2); A. A.
(1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)

"Laugh like the ripple on a lake were thrilled."

If we were to believe that only true laughter comes from the innermost depths, then we must all know that "Weedie" possesses sincerity untold. Can she trip the light fantastic toe? Yea and woe! like her hearty laugh cannot be imitated. For her, who lacks not personality—Success.

BERNICE E. MACLEOD, PETERSBORO

"Bunny"

Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)

"Seldom hurries, never worries

She's a star player at hockey,
A Babe Ruth at the bat,
A successful practice teacher,
Yet she's not proud for a' that.
Oh her hair is bright and bonnie,
And her eyes of course are blue;
She can take a joke or play one
With her sense of humor true.
So here's success to you, "Mac"
And the best that life can send,
We never can forget you,
You're a true and lasting friend.

HELEN MAHONEY, MANCHESTER

"Red"; "Smith"

Manchester Club (2); De La Salle Club (2)

"Laugh and the world laughs with you."

Ah-ha-ha! Who is that? Oh, that's Mahoney. Helen has one of the most contagious laughs on the campus. Who hears her cannot help but join. She also possesses a head of wonderful, titian curly locks, envied by all. Cooperative, dependable and merry are only a few of her good qualities. What more could one desire?

GERTRUDE MELLIN, NASHUA

"Geet"

Nashua Club; De La Salle

"Happy am I, from care I'm free,
Why aren't they all contented like me?"

MARGARET MERRILL, ARLINGTON, MASS.

"Peg"

Freshman Hockey Team (1)

"Perhaps its her face,
Perhaps its her manner,
Perhaps its her charm,
That makes us all love her."

What is that irresistible undefinable, and desirable something which she has? Answer personality and you have "Peg." Whether she talks with you, walks with you, or competes with you (especially in tennis) she always makes your time worth while.

S. ELLEN MITCHELL, CANDA

Athletic Association; Y. W. C. A.

When we do the best that we can while here,
With a song in the heart and a word of cheer,
Why, who will care for the world's regard,
When the doing of work is its own reward?

RUTH MOLLER, MANCHESTER

"Ruthie"

Manchester Club (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)

"My man's as true as steel."

At least that's what "Ruthie" claims. We wonder if this is why her slogan always was "Manchester or bust." In Ruth, we have a pal, true blue, and an all-around sport.

MARION MOLLOY, NASHUA

Nashua Club (1) (2); De La Salle Club (1) (2);
Outing Club (1); Athletic Association (1)

"Deep brown eyes, running over with glee."

GRACE MONTGOMERY, CONTOOCOOK

"Monty"

DOROTHY L. MORAN, NASHUA

"Dot"

"Nothing ever worries her, or ruffles her, I ween. If she does possess a temper, it is very seldom seen."

Talks in your room with you, "Dot," were the most enjoyable. Wise, earnest, sincere, and trustful you proved to be when one had the pleasure of really knowing you.

LUCY JANE MORGAN, BENNINGTON, Vt.

"Lucy"

Athletic Association (1); Outing Club (1); Nature Club (1); Camera Club (1); V. W. C. A. (1) (2) Responsible.

Generous
Ambitious Natural.

FRANCES MORIARTY, NASHUA

"Fran"

Athletic Association (1); Outing Club (1); Nashua Club (2); De La Salle (2)

President V. W. C. A. (2); Y. W. C. A. (1); Secretary Outing Club (1); Glee Club (1) (2); Keene Chorus Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)

"There's a charm in her lip with its rosy red hue,
There's a charm in her smile, beaming constant and true.

Her words are sweet and her laughter gay
What her heart thinks of who shall say."

Where shall we begin about our dear "Peg"? There is so much to tell. Here's one thing surely that we can say, life at Keene would not have been the same without her, I wonder why? Hobbies? Yes, "Peg's" was collecting writing paper—and why? What "Peg" can't do! Did not everyone seek her out as the only true songbird.

DEIDAMIA W. MOUSLEY, DERRY

"Dy"; "Dedamus"

"Be firm! One constant element in luck Is genuine, solid, old Teutonic pluck."
"Dy" possesses that enviable ability to hide her true feelings beneath a smile. You surely will meet success,

AUORE M. NADEAU, HAVERHILL, MASS.

"Ora"; "Nado"

De La Salle (1) (2)

"Bright are her eyes as the berries that grow on the thorns by the wayside."

Auore always ranks one of the highest in her class.
She has a happy, lively disposition. This is the kind of a girl K. N. S. likes to call its own and who will surely reflect credit upon her Alma Mater.

VIOLA NELSON, TROY

"Vi"

"Life's a pleasant institution
Let us take it as it comes"—

This is Viola's philosophy in life, and she gets a great deal of fun watching it come. Along with her other talents, Viola certainly knows how to teach as her experience at Danbury has proven. Your silver-tongued orators could not give Viola any points when it comes to speaking; for she is very eloquent upon any subject she cares to discuss.

ONA NEWELL, NEWPORT

"Ona Rebecca"

"Very good hearted, loving, kind,
A truer friend you'll never find."

Outsiders may think "Ona Rebecca" is quiet, but those on second floor Flake, East end, know better. We're sure you will become a sincere, and lovable teacher.

HELEN E. NOURSE, LANCASTER

"Hel"

"It's an easy world to live in if you choose to make it so."

Sometimes we wonder whether Helen lives on campus or off—but when you hear her "tickling the ivories" down in Huntress social room, there's no doubt but what she is very much here. And—don't tell a soul—but they say the kindergarten youngsters aren't the only ones who love her.

MARY C. O'DONNELL, WORCESTER, MASS.

"Mary C"

De La Salle (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2); Camera Club (1)

"Dark brown eyes and darker hair,
Some dimples and a smile so rare."

For two years Mary's eyes have flashed their friendliness. A person one never wishes to forget. Is it any wonder that we all imitate her brogue, when it can add charm to even her?

MADLINE O'GRADY, LEBANON

"Raisie"

Dramatic Club (1) (2); Nature Club (1); Athletic and Outing Club (1); Y. W. C. A. (1)

"She was a phantom of delight
When first she gleamed upon our sight."

"She is as merry as the day is long."

Hair fluffed by the wind—eyes bright with mischief—a smile on her lips—and who should come around the corner but, Jean—all dressed up and "rushing" as usual. You ought to make a success of life, Jean, at that pace.

NORMA PAIGE, WILTON MILLS

"Norm"

"To her the gods gave many talents,
And the great gifts of making friends."

Lucky are those who are numbered among her countless friends! Always true blue, generous, helpful and sincere—the best of comrades. We know you will be successful in the future "Norm" as you have been in the past.

ELEANOR PALMER, BENNINGTON, VT.

"Pe-we"; "Palmer"

Nature Club (1); Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)

"Studies serve for delight for ornament and for ability."

Eleanor, your conscientiousness alone would make you a successful teacher. But when we add to that your other qualities we see why you were chosen to teach in Roscawen.

DOROTHY HELEN PATTERSON, BERLIN

"Dot"

Dramatic Club (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2); Camera Club (1) (2); Nature Club (1)

Good things come in bundles small,
And "Dot" within this rule does fall;
She's surely small but full of grace,
With ever a happy smiling face.
She's a teacher, dancer, friend and actor.
But, "Dottie," please note this big factor:
Unless Superintendents put a stop
You'll be teaching your pupils the "Lindy Hop."

ALICE PRESCOTT, JAMAICA PLAIN, MASS.

"Lal"; "Al"

Outing Club (1) (2); A. A. (1)

"Very good hearted, loving and kind,
A truer friend you'll never find."

Alice is only a special but during her one year at K. N. S. she has proven herself a friend to everyone. A conscientious worker, always willing to help others, and ready for a good time when her work is done.

MURIEL PRICE, MANCHESTER

Manchester Club (2); Nature Club (1)

Muriel is another quiet girl in the Senior class, but just suggest a hike to Peterboro or a doggie roast and you will find her one of the best companions. She is taking the kindergarten course and has been a success in practice teaching. She has made many friends here at school, who more than once have proved their friendship. We don't have to wish success to Muriel, because her success is already assured.

JULIA PUSHEE, LYME

"June"

"A girl worth having for a friend
Is one that will stand by you
Till the end."

That's June! Although her many friends know she never hurries, somehow she gets there just the same.

HELEN QUINN

"Hel"

Athletic Association (2); Outing Club (1); De La Salle (2)

"A friend with all. An enemy with none."

Helen is one of our quiet, reserved girls; jolly and interesting if you know her well, but with just a sweet smile for you if you had never broken through the reserve. We know that she will be a success in her chosen profession.

ANNA RAUSCH, MANCHESTER

"Ann"

Manchester Club (1) (2); Nature Club (1); Athletic Association (1) (2)

"A smile makes friends."

A tall, dark dignified person with a bewitching smile, who has a charm all her own. Have you ever heard "Ann" indulge in Scottish brogue? Don't leave Keene Normal without hearing it. Best of luck "Ann" to you and your many friends.

ELEANOR REDDEN, DOVER

"Ellie"; "Red"

De La Salle (1) (2); Nature Club (1); Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2); Camera (1)

"A girl who can work,
A girl who can play,
A girl who's a true friend every day."

Earnest and loyal,
Lover of fun,
Eager for knowledge,
And e'en now we're not done;
Never discouraged,
Or too blue to smile,
R is for Redden we'll love all the while.

FLORICE M. ROBIE, MENDFORD HILLSIDE, MASS.

"Birdie"; "Flo"

Manchester Club (2); Camera Club (2); Outing Club (1); Athletic Association (1); 2 Yr. Class Treasurer

Florice is one of our demure and stately maidens whose whole heart and soul is in her profession. She is the type of girl to whom the children eagerly say, "hello, teacher" and then bask in her warm, friendly smile. There is no doubt but the children will take to her "like ducks to water." Good luck "Birdie!" All your K. N. S. friends wish it so.

ELIZABETH ROBINSON, MANCHESTER

"Betty"; "Betty Blue Eyes"

Nature Club (1); Manchester Club (1) (2)

"Many a rose is born to blush unseen."

"Betty" is a quiet girl and is not so very well known on campus. To those who know her she is sweet and lovable. Our nickname is rather misleading, for her eyes are a twinkling brown. Best of luck to you, "Betty," in your teaching.

TILLIE ROY, BARNET VT.

"Til"; "Tillie the Toiler"

Vermont Club (1)

"Smile a little, smile a little"

As you go along;

Not alone when life is pleasant,

But when things go wrong."

Are all the girls that come from Vermont as friendly and as ready to appreciate humor that is, "real humor," as our "Tillie"? Although "Tillie" is a very conscientious student, her congeniality has made her many friends.

MARY SAVOLAINEN, FITZWILLIAM

A "special"? Yes. You may think she is quiet at first, but after you know her she's lots of fun. If you want to start something, ask her about Wheelock. Good luck to you, Mary, and success always!

MARJORIE SHOLES, New London

"Marg"

Athletic Association (2); Outing Club (1); Y. W. C. A. (2)

"Actions speak louder than words."

"Marg" appeared quiet except to those who were intimate with her. They alone knew how witty and full of fun she was. "Marg" has made kindergarten teaching her profession but we don't think she will teach for long. How about it, "Marg?"

GRACE SMART, MANCHESTER

"Smartie"; "Gracious"

Manchester Club (1) (2); Keene Chorus Club (2); Choir (1) (2); Camera Club (1); Y. W. C. A.

"Nothing ever worries her, or ruffles her I ween. If she does possess temper, it is very seldom seen."

Grace is capable of doing almost anything, from dancing at our masquerade to teaching school. But her one weakness is going to Manchester week-ends to see —? we wonder!

WINIFRED SPINNEY, CLAREMONT "Win"

Y. W. C. A. (1) (2); Nature Club (1); Camera Club (1); Outing Club (1) (2); A. A. (1) (2)

"A friend, a pal, a comrade true."

A teacher too, all through and through;

Friendly, truthful, loyal and kind,

Another like her would be hard to find."

Nuff said about "Win." Ask any member of old Division E or residents of third floor who have had the pleasure of meeting her.

B. IRENE STEVENS, KEENE

"Best things come done up in small packages."
That's Irene, a representative of Keene. She races with the clock, but gets there just the same.

DOROTHY E. STONE, WOODSVILLE

"Dot"

Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)

"To make the world a friendly place
One must show it a friendly face."

If you see a little girl with big glasses and a sunny smile, that's "Dot." A good sport, ready to please, willing to help, quiet, unassuming, and sure to succeed.

K. GLADYS SWAIN, NASHUA

De La Salle (1) (2); Nashua Club (1) (2); Forum (1)

"A friend to all and a grand good sport."

How truly this quotation characterizes Gladys. Her many friendships are a result of her capabilities shown at Wheelock and on campus. If there are any plans for a good time, Gladys is always there. Her wit and clever dramatization have served to liven up many a dull evening.

NETA SWEET, BENNINGTON, VT.

"Sweet"; "Neat"

Varsity Hockey (2); Nature Club (1); Camera Club (1) (2); Y. W. C. A. (1) (2); Kronicle Board (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2); K Club (2)

"Like thee, where shall we find another,
The world around?"

Never the world ever could we find a pal like Neta—a friend to everyone, everywhere. Hand in hand with her ability in this line goes her success in athletics. Didn't she guard that goal though, in the hockey games?

GERTRUDE THOMAS, KEENE

"Trudie"

"Very goodhearted, loving and kind,
A truer friend you'll never find."
That's "Trudie."

When you've a trouble to whom shall you go? To "Trudie" of course, and away goes your trouble? She's quiet, but what's the reason? She's acquired knowledge which she uses in season. May her success at teaching continue to be great.

LILLIAS WASHBURN, MANCHESTER

"Scotry"; "Lil"

Manchester Club (2); V. W. C. A. (1); Nature Club (1)

"Lil" Washburn and "Lil" Youngquist are room mates and when you speak to one the other invariably answers. They came to Fiske West 3rd from Appian Way. "Lil" is quiet until you know her, and blushes easily (ask her about chapel speech). She is a lover of poetry, and between that, and going home week-ends, she is kept very busy. But she always gets her studying done, especially since she made her new resolution. But speaking of poetry, we wonder why she is so fond of Irish poems?

EDYTHE LAURA WATSON, LYNN

"Eddie"

Rifle Club (1); Y. W. C. A. (1) (2); Nature Club (1)

"Her aim, her manner, all who saw adored, Courteous though coy, and gentle though retired."

A quiet lass, yet ever ready for a bit of fun, also a conscientious teacher and good comrade. By her loss to us others will gain. Oh, yes, Edythe—why does your mail come so regularly?

NELLY ROWE WEBSTER, MILFORD

Athletic Association (1) (2); Rifle Club (1) (2);
Hockey (2); Basketball (1); Outing Club (1) (2);
K. Club (2); Junior Choir (1)

"Those who bring sunshine into the lives of others, cannot keep it from themselves."

Nelly has surely proved her capabilities in her two short years at K. N. S. Her many friends are proof of her good nature and friendly disposition. And sports! If there is anything that Nelly can't do, we leave it to someone else to discover.

ELIZABETH WELCH, HANCOCK

"Betty"

Athletic Association (1); Outing Club (1); De La Salle (2); Basketball Squad (1)

"Never in a hurry,
Never has a care,
Never known to worry,
Beloved everywhere."

"Betty's" pleasant smiles and mannerly ways won her many friends. As a student she has proved to be a great success and we just know that one like her can do wonders with the little tots—but no one can attain such success unless books,—books,—books—and observant ways have been the references.

MARION ELIZABETH WENTWORTH, SANBORNVILLE

Athletic Association (1); Outing Club (1)

"She is so free, so kind, so apt, so blessed in disposition."

Marion is a peppy little Westender. There is a merry twinkle in her eyes which assures a good time when she is around. When she works she works and when she plays, she plays hard.

ETTABELLE WHEELER, NEWPORT

"Sober, steadfast and intent."

Ettabelle had the distinction of being among the first successful group of rural cadets of the class of '28. But we prophesy that this success is only a forerunner of what is to come.

JEANETTE WHITE, HAMPTON

"Jean"

Athletic Association (2); Outing Club (1); Nature Club (1)

"A winning, happy, amiable companion."

"Jean" is just the best of pals and is going to be greatly missed next year, by her many friends. We are all wishing you as much success next year as you had this year both at Wheelock and as a rural cadet.

MARION E. WHITE, EXETER

"Pokey"

De La Salle (2); Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)

"Full of pep and full of fun.

"Pokey," the true friend to everyone.

She is the life of any party and why not with her jokes and wit. Can you imagine a party or a dance without "Pokey?" May all success be your's, Marion!

ELIZABETH WIGHTMAN, WALFORD

"Lib"

Outing Club (2); Athletic Association (2); Y. W. C. A. (2)

"Still water runs deep."

"Lib" a carefree, happy-go-lucky type of girl is a great joy to all her classmates. She often says the wrong thing at the opportune time thus giving us all a hearty laugh. We shall miss you next year, "Lib."

ALENA F. WILSON, RYE

"Lee"

Rifle Club (3)

"Faithful ever faithful."

I know a queer thing about Lee—

(Tis a secret between you and me)—

Her humor's far reaching,

For in practice teaching

She's as "comfortable" as ever could be.

ELMA WOLTI, LEBANON

Nature Club (1); Forum (1); Y. W. C. A. (1); Outing Club (1); Athletic Association (1); Class Treasurer (1); Class Vice President (2); President (2); Kronicle Board (1) (2)

"Her air, her manner, all who saw admired."

Her cleverness, her efficiency, her good nature, one could write a book on. Elma is one of those of whom it can truly be said, "She was sweet, admired and loved by all."

MARTHA WOOD, WEST LEBANON

"Mud"

Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)

"A little nonsense now and then

Is relished by the best of men."

"Mud" is one of our jolly, carefree girls. She is always ready to join in a good laugh with you and is admired for her witty sayings among those who know her best.

IRENE WOODS, EPPING

Athletic Association (1); Outing Club (1); Y. W. C. A. (1)

Irene is the alarm clock of West 3rd Floor, Fiske. If it weren't for her, we wonder how many people would be late to classes. We hope she may be always as punctual. Irene comes from Epping. She must love it, she has gone home so often this year. Her cheerful disposition and willingness to go anywhere, anytime, has made her a friend to all.

TERESA WOODWARD, PORTSMOUTH

"Tre"; "Teres"

Nature Club (1); Camera Club (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)

"My tongue within my lips I rein
For who talks much, must talk in vain."

"Tre," you see, believes that actions speak louder than words. Her quiet voice and demure manner have deceived none of us, however. The sparkle in her eyes always gave her away. We congratulate you, "Tre," on your success as a rural cadet.

EVELYN LOUISE WRIGHT, WESTMINSTER, VT.

Manchester Club (1); Outing Club (1) (2); Nature Club (1)

"She is more precious than pearls."

Who does not know Evelyn? A ready smile, the ability to work, and the will to help, has given her a definite place in Keene Normal. Best of luck, Evelyn!

LILLIAN YOUNGQUIST, MANCHESTER

"Lil"

Y. W. C. A. (1); Radio Club (1); Glee Club (1) (2); Keene Chorus Club (1); Manchester Club (1) (2)

"She who is fair, and never proud Had tongue at will and never loud."

You can't resist "Lil's" smile and attractive manner. They will win her many friends outside K. N. S. as they have within.

ROSE A. HACKLER, MARLBORO

"Rose"

Y. W. C. A. (1) (2); Nature Club (1)

"A sunny disposition is the very soul of success."

We all agree that Rose makes the best of everything and thinks the best of everyone at all times. This is what made her a girl of many friends. She is quiet, to be sure, but her time is not spent in idle thought.

THREE YEAR HISTORY

It is spring; it is June. Classes and practice teaching completed, we make ready to leave Keene. Clothes, books and tennis racquets are packed, but we find there are some things too big, too fine and delicate, to be fitted in or intrusted to trunks. It is these things that we go over together in a sort of sad-glad fashion on our last day of school. We have another reason for looking back today. It is always well on completing a unit to survey it as a whole so that failures and successes may be listed and relatively evaluated.

Each year has an atmosphere peculiarly its own. The first was spent in getting acquainted with each other, the faculty, the teachers, the school, and the town. We watched for the first time the leaves scatter themselves on the lawn in front of Parker Hall, on a bush at the corner of Hale Building, icicles form, reaching from the branches to the ground like the pipes of an organ, the crocuses bloom in front of Fiske. We studied to the hammering of the construction crew working on Huntress Hall, we danced from dinner to study hour in the "old Gym." We gayly asserted ourselves at all social functions, and went out whole-heartedly for athletics, placing, even in that first year, many of our members on varsity teams. Came the spring and we watched the dedication of Huntress Hall.

Another fall and we greet old friends. A new vocational building is nearly completed. The Alpha Pi Tau begins its bi-monthly newspaper and Kappa Delta Phi transformed the cellar of the old vocational building into a garden. Except for the tragic death of twenty-nine goldfish shortly after they were placed in the pool, the last project was very successful, and the "Alpha" still sells on the campus. This year we place our members not only on the hockey, football, basketball, and baseball teams, but on the rifle squad, Kronicle board and debating team. We actually engage in the managing of the Masquerade and "Mid-Years," and carry off the honors in the Winter Carnival.

We gracefully assume our position as seniors, being first in the bread line at the "wreck" and having the front row seats in chapel. Now we witness the beginning of the four year course in Keene which we all realize is a tremendous step forward. At the beginning of our third year was also formed the "K Club" composed of people winning varsity K's, an organization that has shown itself a valuable aid not only in Athletics but in all worthwhile activities undertaken.

It is almost with regret that we watch the tearing down of the old gym where we had had so many parties and dances, and which had shaken with cheers and shouts on the nights of the Keene-Plymouth basketball games. But we look with pride across the campus where the new "gym," Governor Spaulding's gift to the students of Keene, is being built. During this year we have tried a plan of special privileges for seniors. These privileges were after a period of time, limited to those members of the class whose names were on the "Dean's List." We have made our attempts at Current Event speeches, and have grown in knowledge and experience through eighteen weeks of practice teaching. All of this time we have held tightly to our sense of humor as a quality necessary to every teacher and are proud of our ability to laugh.

And now it is spring—and it is June. We raise a wistfully eager shout, "Thanks for the day, comrades!" Tomorrow, apart, each one of us will remember the others. We go out to teach, and teaching, will strive to remember that America needs "men to match her mountains."

HISTORY OF THE ELEMENTARY CLASS

Long, long ago, before the Greeks became famous for their art, it was declared by the oracles that there would come to pass an event which would surpass everything in the records of the history of the world.

Recent consultation revealed the fact that the great occurrence was about to transpire, and at last has come to pass, the graduation of the Elementary Class of '28! Now listen carefully, that, in later years, you may take pleasure in recalling the interesting history of this noteworthy class.

Keene Normal opened its arms to greet one hundred and fifteen new students on the 6th of September, 1926 and many bewildered and lonely Juniors wandered about the campus. Not only Juniors were lonely but it seemed that the sky too was in sympathy, for it rained all day. Even our impressions of the first chapel, "Daddy" Mason, and the members of the faculty ready to welcome and help us, did not entirely dispel the gloom.

With the "get acquainted" picnic at the "Rec" our fears and tears were driven away, for we entered into the K. N. S. spirit which was expressed in the lunch line, the corn roast, and in the swimming, boating and dancing.

On the campus, these first weeks, girls were hard at work trying to make the hockey team, and expectantly awaiting the first games with Gardner, Tilton and Colby.

Oh, that remarkable Hallowe'en party when we were led up those back stairs! How did we ever get to the top? Then we were forced to perform all kinds of awkward antics in the center of the hall with our dearly beloved upperclassmen "giving us the Ha-ha!" After our strenuous exercises came the cider and doughnuts.

We participated in the delightful City Club's Masquerade which we greatly enjoyed.

We watched the erection of the green-house by our "co-eds." It was a valuable addition to our school for the stimulation of interest in nature classes, and an aid in beautifying our grounds.

Then came our first vacation. Hat boxes and suitcases were frantically packed, tickets purchased, and we were away for a fine two weeks with a visit from Santa Claus in between.

According to schedule, the Plymouth basketball game came off. What energy and gait the girls did put into this game!

In due time came "Mid Year's." It was a fairy dance with the delightful decorations, the exquisite gowns, and the jolly dance music.

One day in early Spring we had the great pleasure of a visit from our Governor and Mrs. Spaulding. They brought with them a great surprise in the form of a marvelous gift—a gymnasium fully equipped. When the gift was announced at lunch, such rejoicing—cheers, and songs voicing the enthusiastic thanks of the faculty and student body.

How much we enjoyed the Junior play, "Come Out of the Kitchen," whose production was a credit to actors and coach.

Commencement Week started with the "sing-out." The last social gathering for the Seniors, was the Commencement Dance.

Once again Keene Normal opened its arms to greet the Elementary Class of '28. What a contrast to their first September 6th—cheery faces, the greetings of old friends, and pleasant meetings with those who were to become the new ones.

Our September picnic at the "Rec" was a great day. The dance hall filled with merry dancers, the lively, long, hungry line moving slowly towards the tables presided over by the faculty, what fun it was! The dance hall was not the only center of attraction for there were races, boating, and swimming.

What a happy sensation it was when we beheld the Health Building well under construction! We could visualize the good times to come, the swimming pool, the gymnastic apparatus, and the possibilities of the large auditorium.

The Keene Club gave the Hallowe'en party this year. Because of the lack of room at school it was held in the High School Gymnasium. Was it spooky? Maybe not.

Later in the year for the second time we participated in the Manchester Masquerade to which we had looked forward with high expectancy. A member of our remarkable class took the prize for the prettiest costume. This, of course, had been foretold by the oracles.

Then came the plea for a Senior privilege. A committee from each class was chosen to represent the class as a "Senior Council." "Daddy" Mason consented to our being allowed one evening out a week until 9:15 without a chaperone. The Council was to prevent, as far as possible, the infringement of those regulations. This plan was given a trial until February, but proved an unsatisfactory arrangement. A "Deans' List" was then arranged by faculty and pupils. Seventy-five Seniors, were selected and the same privilege was extended to them.

Our second Mid-Year dance was a brilliant affair, and Seniors were given the honor of a special select dance number during which our Class teachers, Miss Fernald and Mr. Simmons were presented with flowers. The tea dance the following afternoon was certainly a successful and memorable affair.

Now we have arrived at the goal—commencement week, with the dedication of the Health Building, the Shakespearean play, commencement dance, graduation, and the diploma.

As the oracles had predicted the great event, the graduation of the Elementary Class of 1928, has come to pass.

—Madeline O'Grady.

Nu Beta Upsilon is the Home Economics sorority to which the seniors and sub-seniors of the class belong. The sorority was first organized to create a spirit of friendship and goodwill among the girls in the Home Economics course. The initiation which comes in February of each year is a big event and is looked forward to with pleasant anticipation. It is a time which is immensely enjoyed by all those taking part.

This year we combined with the Alpha Pi Tau and gave a tea-dance on the Saturday of Mid-Year's week-end, for the enjoyment of our guests.

We are selling home-made candy, the proceeds of which go to our scholarship fund. This fund is our main objective now, and we hope we shall be successful in realizing it.

MEN'S ATHLETICS

Athletics at K. N. S. are coming to mean more to K. N. S. and the men who engage in them. The men are being trained not only to play the game but also to teach, and next year with our new gymnasium the field will be broadened to include more of the fundamentals.

Football began its third year with plenty of material. The competition for positions was keen, and because the time was limited the squad was cut down to a minimum. The weather was such that nearly half the games had to be cancelled, but the men were given the fundamentals of football that they might teach the sport if called upon.

The baseball season was the best that the team has had. We lost only one game, to the Dartmouth Second Varsity by a score of 2-1. With a team composed of veterans and new recruits from the freshman class we may look forward to a successful season.

Varsity basketball was discontinued for this year. However, the high school gymnasium was secured two nights a week and a league composed of teams chosen from the entire men-student body was formed. This league has proved a great success under the directorship of Coach Spencer. The league was formed with the idea of keeping the men interested in basketball, to give the seniors help in coaching, to give the coach an idea of what material he will have to work with next year.

This year we have added ice-hockey as a major sport. It has proved a success, and the men are looking forward to a rink of their own next year.

Athletic competition is not the only branch of physical education at K. N. S. The new gymnasium with its equipment and swimming pool make physical education a definite course. Credit for physical education work has not yet been given, but plans for it are under advisement.

SPORTS

The lack of a gym afforded no opportunity for the girls to show their ability in basketball this year. However, they certainly showed their skill and cleverness in field hockey under the friendly yet stern leadership of Captain Olive Carter. The team owes the splendid team work and the technique displayed in their games to the excellent coaching of Miss Helen E. Davis ably assisted by Ray Kauffer. The girls have three out of five games to their credit for the season of 1927.

A successful hockey season is expected this coming year owing to the really fine material to be found among the Freshman girls. This material has been whipped into shape by the coaches and the senior Varsity squad.

The rapid development of the Freshman Squad is splendid evidence of the basic knowledge the varsity girls have gained in their training here at K. N. S.

The development of the Freshmen is proof that the Varsity girls are as well able to coach as they are to play this all round game.

This year the Rifle Team enjoyed the most promising season it has had during its brief existence. Six matches were lost, but each of these were lost to outstanding opponents. The scores in all these matches were very close as shown by the season's totals, Keene having scored 2811 points against 2886 by the opponents. Three members of the team scored in all six matches, Henrietta Roe with a score of 568, Evelyn Warren with a score of 564, and Dorothy Ingham with a score of 562. Two members will be lost by graduation this year, Captain Pye and Mary Phelan. Prospects for a winning team next year are bright as there will be a strong nucleus from which to draw. This year's matches stand with the following scores:

K. N. S.	472	U. of W. Virginia,	481
	459	Cornell University	471
	470	University of Maryland	495

K CLUB

The K Club, a new organization, was established this past fall. It is an athletic club composed of all men and women who have earned their K's in sports: basketball, rifle practice, and field hockey, for women; and football, basketball, and baseball, for men.

The worthy purposes of the club are:

1. To promote real Keene spirit.
2. To maintain Keene customs.
3. To aid and advance athletics.
4. To instill Keene spirit into the entering class.
5. To render service to the school whenever possible.

The club this year has tried to promote the type of social life that seemed to be lacking, due to the absence of a gymnasium. They have organized and directed dances and bridge parties which have been successful and a pleasure to all who attended.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. of K. N. S. has more than one hundred members. Under the guidance of Miss Blake this year has been a very successful one. The club has done much in making the Tuesday evenings worth while, both materially and spiritually. In February two delegates were sent to the Northfield Conference. They brought back reports of the wonderful lectures which they heard. These reports proved very interesting as well as helpful. Plans are on foot for a bridge party and tea to be held sometime in the future. This year the club has had the good fortune to listen to several members of the faculty.

Since the club aims to serve, come and enjoy its hospitality. Everyone is always welcome.

THE FORUM KAPPA PI AMICRON

K. P. A., the debating society, has been and will continue to be one of the outstanding organizations at K. N. S. Although it requires constant effort on the part of its members, they, in return, gain both intellectually and socially. Thirty-two were welcomed into the Forum last fall, making a total membership of sixty. We are all glad to have Mr. Roberts with us again, after a year's absence.

At each meeting, held every Thursday evening, there has been a debate or an open forum discussion on some topic of universal interest and importance, or a discussion of current events.

Another feature of the year's work was the presenting of a mock trial, "Who Stole the Mince Pie?" which was enjoyed by all those present.

Although we were unable to take the annual fall hike, we are looking forward to the sugar party, an all day hike this spring either to the school camp or to West Hill, and to the Forum banquet which precedes the debate with Plymouth.

This year we are debating Fitchburg as well as Plymouth Normal School on the question: Resolved that Congress should authorize the establishment of a Federal Department of Education with a Secretary in the President's Cabinet. A squad of about twenty-five members under the guidance of Mr. Roberts have been working upon this subject with the intention of winning the laurels in these interscholastic contests.

THE PETIT SALON

The French club has been very active during the past year under the leadership of Albert Gauthier president. Many new members were adequately initiated at the beginning of the year and have proven themselves to be excellent and versatile supporters of the society.

Le Petit Salon meets twice a month in the club room at Huntress Hall where regular programs are given, consisting of French readings, songs, instrumental music, games and talks on French life.

Each year the members look into the past and into the future, for the annual banquets of the past and future are subjects for enthusiastic comment. Thus closes the year with many memories of good times, worthwhile efforts, and anticipations for a glorious close with the banquet, post prandial exercises, and cheers.

The Alpha Pi Tau Fraternity is one of two fraternal organizations at the Keene Normal School. It has carried on its fourth year of activities with a membership of thirty-eight, an increase of ten over last year.

With the coming of the school year of 1927 and 28 the Fraternity has entered upon a new era. Through the kindness of "Daddy" Mason the Hutchins dormitory has been obtained as a Fraternity House. This has placed considerable responsibility upon the officers and men of the fraternity and all have worked with a new zest, in order that the few years spent here, by our boys, may be of greater and fuller attainment, and that the name and ideals of K. N. S. may ring truer.

Too much praise cannot be given Mrs. Page, our house mother. Through her care and interest the boys have found the "Alpha House," a home indeed.

Now, as the year draws to a close, our school looks proudly upon the ten young men of the Alpha Pi Tau Fraternity who go out into the teaching profession. May they never forget their school or fraternity, and may they find success awaiting them.

The Kappa Delta Phi Fraternity, Gamma Chapter of which is located at Keene Normal School, is a National Fraternity whose principles are based on the creation and preservation of an interest in teaching, and a professional spirit in educational work.

Six years ago Gamma Chapter was organized with a charter membership of five men; it has grown to include a membership of sixty. It has proved to be to its members a great directing force, educationally and socially.

The Fraternity House on Appian Way, next to the new Spaulding Gymnasium, is made a real "home" through the untiring efforts of our house-mother, Mrs. Dawn Nelson Wallace (Madame Dawn) who leaves no stick unturned to secure our comfort and success, socially and scholastically.

With Brothers Wallace E. Mason, Frederick J. Simmons, and Franklyn C. Roberts as our Honorary Members and advisers, the welfare of our members is assured.

"Tis said, "Music hath charm," and when we stop to realize what our orchestra has done to fill up the musical side of our school life, we are sure that this saying is very true. Besides playing every morning in chapel, our orchestra has filled innumerable outside engagements in a real professional manner.

Under the devoted leadership of Mr. Davis, the glee club is one of the leading organizations of the school. In tonal quality it excels, and many listeners have been entranced by the blending of these youthful voices, now loud and resonant, now soft and sweet. High praise always awaits the glee club after any performance.

ALLIED CITY CLUB MASQUERADE

Little we knew what was in store for us as we sallied forth to the Keene High School gymnasium on the night of the Manchester Club Masquerade. Children and old folks, beauties and horrors, mythical and realistic characters, and dolls from kewpies to Topsy entered the hall. Pirates in delightfully becoming costumes peeped from behind the pine-bough trellised archways.

More mystery was added as the music began to come from an apparently harmless-looking little victrola.

The prize for the prettiest costume went to Miriam Crowley, dressed sweetly in Spanish style.

Very original "Good Morning" and "Good Night" paraded side by side until they caught the eyes of the judges. Loud was the applause as Miss Hale and Miss Thyng emerged from the "windows."

Mr. Terrill and Mr. Swinnerton, as proud parents, had their hands full in trying to keep their howling baby, Mr. Hitchcock, out of mischief. They surely deserved the funniest prize.

Between dances a fine entertainment was enjoyed by all. From our place on the gym floor we listened to clever readings and sweet singing. Other specialty acts were also appreciated.

The mysterious music once more brought forth dancers. The balloon decorations were quickly sought and carried home as souvenirs. Midnight came too soon and we wearily but happily trudged home to dream of an evening so pleasantly spent.

VERMONT CLUB OFFICERS

THE VERMONT CLUB

The Vermont Club is one of the new clubs added to the list of K. N. S. activities during this past year. The club started as a direct result of the tragic Vermont flood of last November. When word was received from Castleton Normal School that funds were being solicited from New England Normal schools to help rebuild a school house which was washed away in the town of Bolton, our loyal Vermonters banded together and conducted an effective drive resulting in fifty dollars for the stricken town. Due to the promptness with which the Vermont representatives acted, K. N. S. was the very first school to report to Castleton. Bound together by the emotions of the flood tragedy, the group formed a permanent Vermont Club for the purpose of promoting a feeling of good fellowship among Vermonters at K. N. S. The Club has since been having regular meetings each month and gave an entertainment and dance during the latter part of March.

CAMERA CLUB

The camera club was organized for those interested in the development of pictures and for those interested to learn more of the mechanism of the camera.

One of the club's interesting undertakings is the making of a photograph book which may be of great value to the school. The members have also developed snapshots of several of our school activities, which are being used in this year book.

The faculty advisers are Mr. Kyes, and Mr. Swinnerton. With their cooperation the club is doing excellent work.

NATURE CLUB

NATURE CLUB

A Nature Club was organized in January by ten of the two-year girls with Miss Thyng as faculty adviser. Sixteen new members were later admitted, making a total of twenty-six.

The organization aims to develop a greater appreciation of Nature and to show by example how to conserve animal and plant life. The club has joined the Audubon Bird Society, and devotes one meeting a month to bird study. It has organized several junior bird clubs among the Wheelock children. Different types of bird houses have been constructed and placed about the campus. The members have contributed to the Franconia Notch Tree Fund. A contest has been held with prizes for the best original animal stories for children.

Because of the success enjoyed this year, the leaders anticipate a profitable and worthwhile time next year.

DRAMATIC CLUB OFFICERS

SENIOR DRAMATIC CLUB

As was prophesied, the Senior Dramatic Club has grown this year to be one of the most outstanding organizations in the school. Under the enthusiastic leadership of Mrs. Wallace, our faculty adviser, many worthwhile activities have been undertaken.

This year we have been engaged in a new activity which has afforded the opportunity for actual experience in coaching plays for some of the members. The plan has been very cleverly worked out. Mrs. Wallace chose three committees to partake cooperatively in coaching, and gave each a play to coach. The cast of each of these plays were chosen from the members of the Junior Dramatic Club.

This has proved to be a very valuable undertaking. The cooperation and effort shown by the members of the Junior Dramatic Club is greatly appreciated.

Besides having a Study Club, which has proved most successful and interesting, we have enjoyed several entertainments put on by the different classes represented. These parties have revealed much hitherto unknown talent. Under the excellent supervision and direction of Father Scott this year has come to a successful close, as a precedent for future years.

THE ACADEMY OF SCIENCE

What do the weather bureau, the apple exhibit, the Middlebury Glee Club, the pressed flower exhibit and the Mount Monadnock trip all bring to your mind? Sigma Alpha Chi of course, for it has sponsored all these. The activity of the Academy of Science, throughout the year has been marked. Aside from regular meetings, where we try to present some program of scientific interest, there have been several interesting trips. The hike to West Hill, the visit to Keene weather bureau, our inspection of the secret workings of the ford motor assisted by Mr. Adams, and the final trip to the Primeval Forest on Mount Pisgah—all leave with us memories of a most profitable and pleasing year.

THE LANGUAGE OF LAUGHTER

I have known a laughter of a little child at play,
And the laughter of the mother watching him.
And the laughter of a boy with a dog.
And the laughter which comes only from an untroubled heart.
And the laughter of a man who has met defeat bravely.
And the cracked, shrill laughter of an old man talking with his schoolday chums.
And I ask: For the depths. Of what use is language?
A child sobs broken-heartedly over a crushed doll.
And a consoling promise restores her to smiles.
And we smile in the face of tragedy—
We do not understand.

A curious boy asks an old soldier sitting in front of a grocery store.
"How did you lose your arm?"
And the old soldier smiles wistfully.
For his mind flies away to the impulsive escapades of his youth.
And he laughs again. As he says, "Oh, a bear bit me."
And the boy wonders, while the old soldier
Clearly, distinctly hears again
The tinkle of glasses, the babble of voices, the shrieks of laughter.
And the whole gay hunting party.
And the subsequent quarrel, the duel, and the long days in bed.
But if he could describe it all. He would be an artist.
But if he were an artist there would be deeper wounds to describe
And instead, he smiles.

There is the laughter of a meadow brook
And the laughter of a soft wind.
And the laughter of a young housewife at work.
And the friendly laughter of a circus crowd.
There is the joyous laughter of school girls.
Bubbling over with good-humored fun. Each with her own plans and bits of news and gossip to exchange.

There is the laughter of the woods-animals, most carefree of all.
There is the laughter of relief.
There is the laughter of the scornful critic:
And the bitter laughter of the dying whose memories are a reproach.
There is the laughter of a father and son, when the father takes his son into his life as a comrade and pal.

There is the laughter of a husband and wife.
There is the laughter of those who have lost;
And the laughter that survives broken nations and vanquished leaders.
There is the laughter of Lincoln. Thinking of the home of his youth.
And the laughter of Napoleon after victory.
And the laughter of Jeanne D'Arc, the peasant child, happily, blissfully innocent.
Unaware of future strife, future sorrow, future suffering.
And there is the laughter of age, Full of wisdom, tolerant of the petty weaknesses of youth.
Giving in all its richness and beauty, a sense of wholesome love and tenderness.
And there is the laughter of the dead.
Echoes which change the pages of history into vital, living experiences.
Why do you marvel that those who laugh are never forgotten?
God gave them laughter, and they built nations upon it.

—Katherine Park.

FEVER STATISTICS

This is not going to be a medical report full of dead-and-gone statistics. This fever is seldom fatal, but no M. D. can cure it. A universal fever it is—not limited or discriminating. Oh, there may be a few stogy, paunchily stolid folk who have never had a touch of this which we call the Wanderlust, but I know they are few. In any season, anywhere, the symptoms of this fever may appear. A winging V of wild geese, black pine against white snow, the clear evening star above the radiance of a summer sunset—these may start that longing for far places which is the first sign of the wanderlust, a sort of homesickness for far places. When I say far places don't think of the Orient only, mysterious, bizarre and enchanting, or of the great white stretches of the Arctic and the fascination of the flaming northern lights. "Far away" may be only over the next green smothered hill, or a four poster with a crazy quilt in a New England farmhouse, or some great city with its glittering clatter and age-old beauty. It may be the county seat or a ranch in the Canadian west.

No two people act the same way when the fever is upon them. To those who are free it means only a farewell glance and then the open road.

Jim, the tramp, pushing logs into a sawing machine, in the little portable mill where he has been resting and getting "regular grub" for three weeks, looks out at the soft ribbon of dusty road curving into the distance. That afternoon Jim is no longer pushing logs into the sawing machine; along the dusty road he is walking, whistling through the hot buzzing summer afternoon, a happy victim of the fever.

Into the clean, white kitchen of a neat suburban cottage peer the round, blue eyes of Jackie, aged ten. Stepping into the room he empties the contents of the cookie box, a half loaf of bread, a box of raisins and an apple into a large table napkin, the only available substitute for a bandanna kerchief. Knotting it together he starts off along the cement sidewalk. He doesn't quite know where he's going—but that doesn't matter. He is travelling through an enchanted land with a light heart.

But not all are as free as Jim and Jackie. There is Annie who quiets her four noisy youngsters for their afternoon nap and then turns to the pile of dishes on the kitchen table and wearily starts the thrice-a-day task. She moves calmly, but in her heart she is crying. "O Lord, let me away from these common things, I want something new—new people, new places. I wish I were a thousand miles from here!" Then as she hangs up the dish cloth the telephone rings and she hears that a missionary is to speak at the church tonight on the life and customs of the people of Burma. She turns away from the telephone smiling: why her prayer was answered, and in her anticipation of the evening's "trip" she is satisfied.

The fever chooses queer victims some times. Even William Augustus Blake feels the urge but he cannot answer it. William Augustus, a very dignified personage, teaches Latin syntax, Cæsar, Cicero, and Virgil in the town high school. Although he is a very wise man there are some things he doesn't understand, and when his attention begins to wander from Gallic Wars to his tiny flower garden and he has dreams of a burnished sea under a golden sun, he takes sulphur and molasses and grows more and more absent-minded. He snubs his best friends, comes to school with his napkin still tucked into his waist coat, and once he put his spectacle case into the collection plate. Funny? And yet, you know he did have his vision of the shining sea, and his flowers are the loveliest and rarest in town.

Peter had the fever badly—but Peter wasn't free. Ah, far from it, for iron bars made hideous the view from his window, and the lines of his suit were a little conspicuous for travelling. They have movies every Saturday night at his "boarding house" and a month ago they showed one of galloping horses and law-breaking westerners. When Peter saw the typical ranch house amid the typical western scenery, he felt something stir within him and he forgot the plans he was making for a "grand bust" as soon as the prison doors clanged behind him, and thought instead how the wind must feel as you ride along a mesa like the one in the picture.

If we should look for Peter now we would find him riding in a day coach across the prairies of Nebraska, wearing a new suit and with a heart high for adventure. He'd laugh if you should say he had a fever, and he might even answer: "Fever? Say, stranger, I'm no longer. All I got is an ITCH for the West."

But call it an itch or call it a fever,
Say it's a "call" or blame the weather,
You've got to admit—you can't evade it,
The man's unlucky who's never had it!

—Sara McKinney.

AMBITIONS OF AN OFFICE GIRL

January, 1926.

Today was my first day in the office. It has made me very happy, because now I feel as if I were really going to get somewhere. I wish that somewhere could be school. Everyone was wonderful to me, but I was terribly scared. Why not? I took the Latin course in high school because I wanted to go to school afterwards—in case a miracle should happen. I don't know the least thing about office work, but I'm willing to learn. I'll work hard and do anything if I can go to school.

This morning I figured, and figured, and figured. I have never seen such oceans of figures in my life before.

Why is school so appealing to me? Is it just because I may not be able to go, or is some other reason the cause of it? I think my ambition can be expressed in one word, "Beauty." Perhaps that's an old fashioned ambition, but I like it. I would have beauty in everything. Beauty in person, religion, life and love. If I could just reach the hearts of a few people, and show them a little bit of beauty, I'd feel that I had done something really worth living for. Something tells me that school will help me to know just what it is that keeps urging me to do something. Something worth while. I have been so filled with excitement all day that the time has gone very quickly.

February, 1926.

I still have my job, but how I've always hated mathematics. Here, I figure, figure, figure, all the time. I've learned to run two kinds of calculating machines, and I'm learning two other kinds.

Today, I worked in the Information Office alone. Men came to the window to ask the worst questions! Each time, I phoned frantically on the very erratic special instrument, or ran around to different offices seeking information.

Many men came to see other men.

"Is Mr. Blake in?"

"I'll see—Have you your card? —Hello, Mr. Blake?—Oh—can he see Mr. Brinkoff, vice president of the Ruckstuhl Leather Company?—Oh—all right."

"I'm sorry, but Mr. Blake is in conference. If you'll wait three hours you can see him—No, I'm not the girl that was here the last time you came—No, I don't remember you. Sorry, I'm very busy."

During a lull, the office manager slipped out into my office. He put his arm about me, and began telling me about his dear little sister who died. He thought I resembled her very much. I requested him to take his arm away, and told him that I was sorry, but I couldn't even be a sister to him.

May, 1926.

Hurrah! Today I got a raise! Hard work is getting me somewhere. I don't like it, but it's for the "Great Cause."

July, 1926.

Tonight I saw a college movie. When I got home I cried, partly because school seems so near and partly because it seems so far away, I guess.

I'll go to school sometime, though.

October, 1926.

Another raise today. I'm encouraged.

January, 1927.

Another year is here. Office work is just monotonous routine, now. I still dislike figures.

Last night I dreamed that the figures were changed to goblins. They were dancing all about me in the weirdest way. They mocked me, laughed at me, and stuck pins in me, until I awoke, glad it was only a dream.

March, 1927.

I dreamed that horrid dream again, last night. But afterwards, I dreamed another. A troupe of fairies came dancing in through my window, on a moonbeam. They took me, and dressed me in lovely, floating fairy clothes and gave me a beautiful pair of shining gossamer wings. Then, they led me out on the moonbeam, to a land, I never had heard of before. It had a name, but only the fairies knew what it was, because only the fairies had words beautiful enough to describe it. Up and up we went, through the clouds, past stars that were used as street lights, until we came to the beautiful land. There another band of fairies had brought Bob. My Bob. They had dressed him in fairy clothes, too. There the funny, little, fat fairy minister married us. All the lovely folks were just taking us to our Castle of Dreams that we could see away in the distance, surrounded by schools that anyone who wished might go to, when I woke up.

May, 1927.

Hurrah! Hurrah! Hurrah! Give three cheers! Good happenings today. First, a raise and then—I am going to school!

September, 1927.

Here I am at school, finally. I've never been happier during any one time in my life before—I feel as if I could get 100's in all my courses. I wonder how long that feeling will last, and how many I shall get. My ambitions are going to be realized.

—Edna G. Foss, '30.

YOUR SCHOOL—AND MY SCHOOL

If you want to have the kind of School,
Like the kind of School you like,
You needn't start out for another School,
For it will mean a long, long hike.

And you'll only find what you left behind,
For there's nothing that's ever new,
When you blame the School—you blame yourself,
For it isn't the School—its You.

Real Schools are not made by those afraid
To give freely and to share;
So if everyone works and nobody shirks,
We'll have happiness enough and to spare.

Do your bit—you'll make a hit;
Encourage your neighbor, too,
And you'll have the School you like to have,
For isn't your School—just you?

MID-YEAR'S

Mid-Year's! How many weeks, yes months did we look forward to this event. Telegrams came and went, anxiety was mixed with joyful expectation, and eventually, when the day appeared, what suspense!

On the evening of February third as the hands of the clock approached eight "She" and "He" were on their way to the City Hall. At their entrance they were greeted by "Daddy" and Mrs. Mason and other members of the reception committee. The hall was beautifully decorated, the orchestra splendid, and the first sweet strains of music found all dancing. Intermission, and the merry-makers paused to partake of dainty refreshments. Again dancing was lightly resumed. It was with a heavy heart that the last waltz was danced and we departed for our dormitories—tired, but pleasantly thrilled and excited.

However, the following afternoon found the merry-makers strolling through the pouring rain to the Masonic Hall where dancing was continued. This entertainment was sponsored by the Nu Beta Upsilon and Alpha Pi Tau organizations. Such a treat! Everyone enjoyed a perfect time, and at five-thirty o'clock with great sorrow the dancers were reminded that the end had come.

Shows were enjoyed on Saturday evening, and after Sunday breakfast, farewells were said as our guests departed. This week-end was one not to be forgotten, for to most of us it is "Just a Memory."

CRAZY WOMAN HILL

Frankly I was afraid. Possibly I was wrong in coming West to teach. After all, there were just as interesting things happening back East.

Well, why worry about such matters now. The East was some twenty-five hundred miles away, and here I was in the Burlington Station at Omaha again. It all looked the same; ten years had not changed it much.

Such a mixture of people, too. Men wearing wide brimmed hats, some affecting fur coats already, and some in the conventional garb of the East.

My train, number forty one, left at eleven o'clock and I would be at my destination by five tonight, thought I calmly until my gaze rested upon the hands of the mammoth clock that was ticking on towards the three quarter mark of the eleventh hour. Jumping up hastily, I signalled a Red Cap to assist me with my bags, and with his assistance I managed to scramble into my seat on the Northbound.

Settling down comfortably, an apathetic condition soon overpowered me. Vaguely I wondered, yet with a strange fluttering within, if he ever came to Omaha with cattle, as of yore. The Nebraska prairies rolled by, disclosing farm houses hidden here and there amongst the sparse distribution of trees. A huge curve over which we sped, allowed an excellent view of the engine and front cars of our train.

Yet, ten years work changes, and I was anxious for a glimpse of my beloved mountains. Those beautiful snow-capped, rugged peaks, always silhouetted against the western sky. The cotton-wood trees along the creeks, the ranches lying low in the valleys, the vast reaches of prairies. Cattle, hundreds of them, and sheep too numerous to be counted. Oh, how I had longed and suffered for a sight of it all again.

Over and over again in my dreams did I see the "home that might have been." A long log house, many antlers heaped up in the front yard. Cotton-wood trees and willows lining the banks of the stream that tumbled and tossed by the side of the house. Inside, a wonderful cobble-stone fire place towering towards the unfinished ceiling. A bear rug stretched before the hearth that reflected the crackling fire. Two mounted moose heads half way up the cobbled front of the symbolic fire-place, ones he had shot years ago. On the side wall, hugging the logs closely, were arrayed several rifles, a .351 Winchester, a Savage Hi-Power, and two more that I could not name.

I began to think about my position-to-be as principal of the High School in the town I had once lived. How would the people accept me? How would he feel?

He was no longer the almost nameless, unknown rancher that he was when I was teaching the little white school down on Nine Mile Creek. Would my hastily scrawled special delivery letter bring him to the station to meet me?

My thoughts were keeping pace with the jazzing, syncopating wheels of the Pullman, when suddenly some one called my name, or was I dreaming?

An elderly woman moved towards me—

"I beg your pardon, but may I ask, are you not Marion Duncan?" she smilingly asked.

It was Mrs. Williams, my one and only real friend in the West. "How in the world do you happen to be here?" I asked her, greedy for all the news she could give me.

"I went to visit my sister at Council Bluffs for August and am just returning home."

"Tell me how you happen to be here, Marion. Are you going back?"

"Yes, I am going back, since I have accepted the position as principal in the High School at KayCee."

"My dear Marion, you haven't?"

"Yes, but I have," I declared rather emphatically.

"Do tell me the news of KayCee. I have not heard from you for so long, and you know that you are my only means of contact with the past."

"I don't know where to begin, Marion, but you have heard about the oil well coming in at Billy Creek, I judge. The Bar X outfit went under three years ago last spring, and some Easterners from Illinois took it over and are catering to folks from back East, a "Dude Ranch," you know. Our place is about the same. We still hire ten cowhands, and run the cattle 'On Top.' The children are fairly well grown up now. I guess that is all the new news."

"What about—John? Has he changed—do you ever see him?" I tried to appear uninterested.

"I thought you would ask that my dear. Well, set your mind at ease, for John is much the same as ever. He comes over to see us frequently now since he got his new car. He said he would not own a car until he had twenty-five hundred and fifty acres, and about fifteen hundred cattle, pure bloods, all bearing his own brand. He has done it all right, and more."

"Is his place up on Dry Gulch?"

"No, it's down near the Little North Fork. You'll be able to see it from the window of the train this afternoon."

At three o'clock we made the junction stop, and were just in time to catch the spur local, milk, mail, and general commodity train to KayCee.

The coaches creaked and swayed from side to side. The interior gave me the impression of a transitional flight into the life of two decades ago, when I am sure, cow-men must have gathered around the little iron stove in the far corner of the car, and have talked over the "ups and downs" of the cattle game. I could almost see the old time ranchers, with long grey moustaches, sitting there, all looking into the fiery insides of that stove. I could almost hear the sizzling of well-placed tobacco shots as they were hurled accurately into it. The rumbling of the wooden cars of this train only helped me create my picture of the past more vividly.

Mrs. Williams came to life again, and turning to me, said, "Marion, his place starts over by that post and goes for about two miles to the west, then follows the railroad tracks for several miles, until near Red Lodge."

I looked towards the mountains, standing in bold relief against the sky. Cloud's Peak was towering above all the lesser ones, but the whole range was visible, blue and purple, until it faded into nothingness at the end of the Horn.

The ranch buildings were hidden in a cotton-wood grove along the creek. Only portions of bunk houses were apparent from this point of view. Yet I got a wonderful view of the horse corrals, and could make out several "paints" and a "bay" that ran around with his head way up in the air, a curve in his neck that would cause any horse lover to wonder in silent admiration.

Cattle were grazing peacefully on the enclosed prairie land, and the fields were still green with uncut alfalfa. Large hay stacks, enclosed by log fences, dotted the panorama. What a splendid ranch. Oh, my home that could have been!

Finally, I dared to ask if John had ever married.

"Marion, he never has. Since you returned East he has become a different man, outwardly at least. He withdrew from sight at first, but soon proved himself to be a man. We thought he was going to leave this country of his birth, but no, he fought it out. You will find that the very best people, the four hundred as well as the others, think that John Duncan is a mighty specimen of the West, and of God."

"Thank you, Mrs. Williams, for all that you have told me," was all that I could say.

Several shrill blasts from our antiquated engine rent the air. We approached and successfully crossed the Healy Cut. Soon we pulled up at the little two by four station at KayCee. It had not changed one bit. The front room was still used as a ticket office, and American Express headquarters. The sliding door in the rear room, right off the platform, was the Express, railroad and storage room.

My heart slowed up, and then raced along quicker than ever. Would he be there? Would he be there? I allowed Mrs. Williams to get off before I even made any feeble, hesitant attempt to follow. Yet upon descending, he was not there.

I looked around, feeling both uncomfortable and foolish, but Mrs. Williams, as if divining my thoughts said, "Marion, you will come out to the ranch with us?"

However, I allowed them to take me only as far as the Central Hotel, where I registered. I wanted to be alone; to assure myself that the real reason for my returning to this country was not alone to assume the position I had agreed to accept in a few days, but because I had at last found out that I had been wrong. I loved John Duncan, whose name I still bore.

At supper I glanced apprehensively towards the door everytime I heard a high heeled, booted step. My breath almost stopped once when I caught a glimpse of a big grey Stetson hat.

That evening as I sat alone in my room, I paid the price, as I had time and time again in the past ten years. Years in which I had thrown my whole soul into teaching in a vain effort to forget the Westerner who had so captivated me, and who had made me so unhappy. Why had I been so blind? Why had I not been able to see that he loved me above all else? He was Western, while I was Eastern, but that shouldn't have counted. The luxuries of the East were as naught to the love of this true Westerner, so sincere, so unpolished. I had made a miserable failure as his wife. I could not see his point of view at all. His repressions were natural, caused by the rigors and hardships of his early life and training. The great struggle had left him—a self made, self controlled man. Hard, relentless, and yet loving. I had called him a cad to accept his father's advice. To put his wishes against mine. I had said he was not a man! When I had left him, I did not see the man. I must have killed his love for me. If only he still cares! There was nothing I wanted more than to be his wife again, to accept all the duties and responsibilities of that office.

I tossed and turned that night, and the cool waters of Clear Creek—rushing and tumbling by my window could not allay the fever of my brain as I sought the meaning of life, the futility of its struggle.

In the cool of the morning, before sun-rise I arose and hastily donned my riding togs, which had been stuffed in my case at the last minute. Into the deserted lobby, and to the telephone I dashed. In the book of subscribers I found—John Duncan's name thus: Duncan, John, ranch 12R3; Duncan, John, rs 247. So he had also a residence in town now! So with thoughts of what I had just found, I hurried over to the Central Garage, where by my efforts at arousing the night man, I was able to hire a car for the day.

Due South I headed. Eleven miles of state road, the same gravel road of ten years back. Same cement bridge at the draw on Bull Creek, same divide at the top. Only now an iron railroad bridge crossed the spot, where I had last seen the grade work first showing. At last, the Eight Mile Lane! A sharp right turn, and I was traversing mud-rutted, hard mountain roads, crossing little wooden bridges that spanned the narrow streams that cut their course across the country road. All these conditions bore mute testimony to the economic exigencies of the past decade in the life in the West. Straight toward the mountain now. The red sun coloring them for me, in the favorite color and hue of the early riser. Dear old mountains—Buck Hill, and Old Crazy Woman to the right. Back to the old haunts, the place of our courtship, my old ranch home. It was calling, drawing me back. Dry Gulch, steep and perilous, held no fear nor hindrance. "Washing Machine Hill," so named by us because we once had purchased and foolishly conveyed such an article to the ranch in a Ford, which had balked at the perpendicular sides of the hill in question, I negotiated easily. On past Klondike school, passed Elk Horn ranch lying in the shadows of its willows. Past Klondike, snuggled under the rim rocks, and carefully hidden by trees. Everything the same as my last sight of them.

Up the creek I made my way, fording its unbridged crossing five times as it wound and twisted down the valley. I tore my hands on barbed wires, as I opened and closed gates, that no cattle might get through because of my carelessness. Too anxious to care much! Finally within the shadows of the hills, I stopped the car and parked it in the willow grove near the old Joneson barn. I slipped through the barbed fence and started out to climb up the mesa. The one on which we had stood, gazing way down into the valleys and out upon the dry farms and prairies, vowing to one another eternal oneness should either of us die. We had loved in a way then, or else it was a strong affection, because our marriage was so commonplace, so uneventful. Yet our love was not great enough to surmount the barrier raised by the conventions created in the sectional conflict of our country. "The East is East, and the West is West!" Here I was, breaking all the traditions of my East because I now know myself to be a true American, and in love with a real man.

The sun grew brighter, mounted higher in the sky, turning from red to gold, then yellow. The rocks grew steeper, but I climbed on. At last! Our rock, and upon its cool, hard surface I sank with a sigh of relief, that soon changed into an exclamation of wonder, for the dry-farm country had changed. The vast stretch of cactus and sage brush covered land now was divided somewhat as a checker board. Here, there, everywhere were farms, tilled fields, fences. Ten years had changed this land of sage brush and sand.

To my left, in the direction of town, I could trace the course of the rivers and creeks by the heavy foliage along them. Little Fork, North Fork, even Powder River I could see flowing unhaltingly northward. Higher I climbed, until at last there were no hills nor mountains on my west. For my perilous seat was atop the highest of the foothills of the Big Horns. Across the basin country, heavily wooded, and off towards the Yellowstone Park went my unrestricted gaze.

Suddenly a noise! Possible a wild animal. I remained motionless until I could endure the suspense no longer, when I half turned, half threw myself into the outstretched arms of John.

Need I tell of the ending, or rather the beginning of our love, when the conventionalities of West and East became one, and the love of doing and being in His glorious Westland had caused this tale? As we sit before our roaring log fire, talking over the events of the day, or discussing the cattle conditions in this country, often, so often, our trend of conversation includes the difference in ideals in the various sections of the United States, and we wonder if it is not simply a difference between the city and the country. We are not sure which.

GREY

Seaward.
Above . . . great grey clouds over-run the sun.
Below . . . grey ice, and grey waters flow.
Grey ships sail a grey sea . . .
Grey gulls sweep through grey spray.
Inland:
Great grey trees stand gaunt,
Unmoved in a gay breeze . . .
Upward . . . by an unseen hand grey smoke is lifted.
Tall grey towers a grey shore command.

LEAVES

In sylvan places, dead
And crumpled leaves lie,
Made by rain heavy lead
Waiting for more to die.

And they the leaves above—
In shades bright and gay
Feel fresh winds, sunny love
And think but of their day.

SUNSET IN OCTOBER

The river winds on westward
Cold and sparkling with ripples.
The brown grasses of the intervals follow it
Rustling like an old fashioned gown.
The air is clear and sharp as blue ice
The hills are looking westward—
Cold and blue and grey they lie
Watching for the sunset.
Slowly the sun rides in the blue
A ball of fire in a sapphire belt.
The hills stretch up to receive it.
With a plunge of color it goes down, down—
A scarf of ermine, dull blue and rose
Is thrown out across the West.
Gold and amber dipped in lurid bronze
Glows, and fades in the creeping dusk.
The river still flows westward,
The meadow grasses whisper,
Night-hooded witches, bare trees,
And stars.

—Emma Danforth, '30

MEDITATION

When the last glad gleam is gone,
And the daylight hours have flown,
When the shadows creep and talk,
Lingering softly on the walk—
That's the time when daytime seems
More like distant fanciful dreams,
And vague thots that oft have flown
Come a-winging swiftly home.
Like a shadow I would be—
Not to know—and not to see.
Would I could be just a breath
Of some perfumed lilac nest,
Things that are, and oft are not.
Like the quivering forget-me-not,
When the last bit of day has fled,
When the stars gleam o'er my head,
Let me be a forgotten shade
Among some dim and dusky glade.
This is all I ask to be—Just forgotten ecstasy.

—Emma Danforth, '30.

OUR INTERESTS ARE MUTUAL

No matter who you are—what you do—or where you live.

You cannot succeed permanently unless you save a portion of what you earn—and save it with regularity.

Does it pay to save?

Many a man's prosperity and success dates back to the day he first visited this bank and made his initial deposit.

Draw your own conclusions—then act upon your judgment.
