Improvements Made During Summer

Many new features have been added to the campus since last spring. Perhaps the most conspicuous of these is the paint in Parker Hall. The multicolors that now adorn the walls of Parker certainly give it a "new" look. This paint project carries out the modern theory of combining colors to make attractive classrooms. It would appear that the experiment in Parker might influence many future teachers to subscribe to or reject this theory. The new tiled floor makes a vast difference, too. Another modern improvement in Parker is the new lighting in the auditorium. These lights are constructed so as to reflect against the ceiling, thus eliminating the glare that might otherwise occur in the room below.

The immense cavity between Fiske and Butterfield that students found on their return to KTC must have aroused many curious questions. Two 20,000 gallon oil tanks were installed in the hole. The boilers which have been fired by coal are being converted to oil. One boiler has been converted to oil already and the other two soon will be, so then all heat and hot water will be supplied from the oil. An interesting sidelight of the conversion is that in digging the hole it became quite obvious that there is no water shortage at KTC as it was almost impossible to pump the hole dry.

There should be more sleeping in the girls' dorms from now on because of the new beds. Two types of mattresses, a foam rubber mattress or an innerspring mattress, on a box spring are being used by the girls. These two types are being tested to compare durability. The new beds replaced the old metal cots.

KTC students also notice the rise in the cost of living. The in-

Kappa Delta Phi Has Annual Square Dance

On October 9, 1953, Kappa Delta Phi staged its annual barn dance with music provided by Edgar Read and his old timers. Caller for the evening was Shorty 5'3 1/2" Durand.

Spaulding Gym was decorated with cornstalks, hay, wagons, farm implements, and the perennial "Tar Baby," the Shetland pony who just celebrated his 43rd birthday. Included in the evening's entertainment were a spot dance, won by Janine Carson (prize, a turtle); a take-off on Little Blue Riding Hood, Jim Smith as Wednesday, Harold Brown as Little Blue Riding Hood, Dave Costin as Frank, and Bob Shea as Grandma; Spike Jones' version of The Tennessee Waltz performed by Jesse Evangelou and Vick Collette.

Refreshments of cider and doughnuts were served during the evening. Chaperones for the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Waltz.

The last square dance of the evening called the "96" brought the first barn dance of the year to a close. The dance was enjoyed by a very large crowd.

President's Message

The college year of 1953-'54 promises to be an interesting one at Keene Teachers College. There are about 470 students this year. Of this number, 293 are women and 177 are men; 19 are student nurses; and 190 are new students. A group of 470 people has an enormous amount of power, if the members will combine and coordinate their enthusiasm, energy, imagination, and ambitions. It is thrilling to think what could be accomplished if this power was all used constructively. It is frightening to think how much destruction could be done with this same power.

The real fun and challenge of youth, and of working with them, is to see what can be done day by day. The KTC alumni—students and faculty—are the record of how this "power" has been used. Those of us who are at KTC now are richer for this heritage. We sincerely hope that we can improve ourselves and Keene Teachers College so that all of us will be better

Faculty and Students Welcome Incoming Class; Reception, Dance, Highlight Week

Sunday, September 13, 1953, marked the dawn of history for the Class of 1957 at Keene Teachers College. It was then that they, 170 strong, together with many transfer and special students began to appear on campus. Upon their arrival, they were greeted by several faculty members and by a welcoming committee of upperclassmen, among whom were Mae Allen, Dorothy Binnmore, Muriel Britton, Carol Chase, Claudia Cottrill, Eleanor Elias, Nelson Evans, Betty Field, Charles Gilman, Lorraine Goyette, Peggy Guilmette, Harold Hapgood, Ken Hewitt, Bob Ingalls, Phyllis Kanterovich, Betty Kilgore, Alice Lewis, Virginia McLavey, Arthur Mitchell, Mary Pellerin, Bill Ray, Mary Roberts, George Rollins, Margaret Russell, Barbara Ryans, Marlene St. Cyr, Joan Sheldon, Mary Sim, Robert Simpson, Anita Stokes, Roland Stoodley, Lola Tanner, Pat Therrien, Jim Warren, Jay Wilkinson, Amy Williams, and many others who contributed much to the entire Freshman Orientation Program.

An informal reception for the new arrivals and their parents was held on Sunday afternoon in the Fiske Social Rooms, and in the evening at a Fireside program the Rev. Mr. Meury of First Congregational Church, Keene, presented an interesting talk in which he offered the students some helpful hints for a successful and happy college career.

Monday began in earnest a week filled to the brim with activities of one kind or another. Registration in Hale was followed by meetings for the explanation of the various curricula, conferences with advisers, and dormitory meetings. Relaxation was in order in the evening at the "Mixer" at Spaulding Gym. Mrs. Keddy and Mr. Joyce conducted get-acquainted games and round and square dancing took over for the remainder of the get-together. It was "An Evening of Fun for Everyone."

On Tuesday everybody buckled down to program planning, helpful and informative assemblies, and, of course, tests. Compensation for all this hard work was offered in the form of a picnic at the college camp with the usual good food and variety of sports events. Later in the evening the women relaxed at a pajama party in Fiske and the men retired to the social rooms of the Gym for a smoker.

FTA Plans Program For Education Week

F.T.A. is now ready to announce its tentative plans for the year. The program has been arranged to include a variety of activities that will appeal to all members of KTC.

The technicolor movie, "Skippy and the 3 R's" will be shown at the October 22 meeting. This film has a professional cast and is much in demand by educators throughout the country. It is a realistic movie of the child's first year at school.

For Education Week, November 8 to 14, several interesting features have been planned. Preceding this week, on November 6 and 7, it is hoped that a joint meeting with Plymouth can be scheduled. At this meeting pertinent questions of education will be discussed. On November 9, F.T.A. plans to sponsor the speaker for assembly, Mr. Robert Bailey, Secretary of the New Hampshire State Teachers Association. Time on the radio will be asked for in order to promote education to the general public during Education Week.

Other suggested programs include speakers, such as Mr. Chester Bowlby, Superintendent of Schools of the Marlboro-Troy District. Panels of critic teachers, which proved so valuable last year, will be held again this year.

F.T.A. hopes to expand the recruitment program this year and to foster F.T.A. Clubs in high schools.

With about 120 members already signed, F.T.A. hopes for a very progressive year under the leadership of Art Mitchell, who attended the N.E.A. Convention in Miami. F.T.A. offers an opportunity for every future teacher to professionalize.

Alpha, Sigma, Kappa Sponsor Open Houses

The fraternity life of KTC opened officially more than two weeks ago when the three fraternities on campus held open house. To the freshmen it was a glimpse into the many interesting things that are yet to come in their college life. To the upperclassmen it was time to welcome the freshmen into fraternity life.

Alpha Pi Tau was the first fraternity to hold open house which was Tuesday, September 29. The many guests enjoyed television in the attractive lounge. Dr. and Mrs. Young, Dean Carl and Dr. Early were present to represent the faculty. The students gathered in groups through the house to discuss the topic of the day which was the world series.

On the following evening, September 30, Sigma Tau Gamma held open house. After the guest book (Continued on Page 3.)

The 99th annual Teachers Convention of New Hampshire was held in Manchester last week. Under the able leadership of Irene V. Ramsdell, a classroom teacher in Manchester and President of the state association, the convention opened with leading speakers and much participation by members.

This year the convention was held two days with two general sessions, one on the morning of the 15th and the other the afternoon of the 16th. These general assemblies were held in the Manchester Armory, the central point of the convention. The section meetings were held in the schools throughout the city. One of the outstanding exhibits was the Educational Exhibit, located in the Masonic Temple on Elm street.

The convention began with registration at the Armory at 8 a. m. on October 15. The first general session began at 9:30 with the keynote speaker, Mr. Louis Fisher, outstanding analyst of world history, who spoke on the subject, "United States in World Affairs."

The second assembly began at 2 p. m. on Friday afternoon. The annual message by the president was first on the agenda, followed by an address by Mr. Paul Engle, who spoke on the subject "America is Laughter." Mr. Engle, a poet, author and novelist, has contributed to such magazines as Life, the Atlantic Monthly, and the Saturday Review of Literature, to name (Continued on Page 3)

Pianist Performs at Enjoyable Assembly

On Monday, October 5, 1953, the faculty and student body of Keene Teachers College were entertained by Mr. Nicholas Slonimsky in an unusual and interesting program. Mr. Slonimsky not only played works of the well known composers, Chopin and Paderewski, but also some selected improvisations and compositions of his own.

In between his demonstrations on the piano he presented an educational and stimulating background account of his original works. Included were examples of his impressions of folk tunes. "The Toy Balloon" was an improvisation of one of these folk songs of South America. Added to the enjoyment of the melody was the personal touch which Mr. Slonimsky brought out with an explanation and exhibition of how this tune was converted into a more extensive and beautiful melody.

Also presented were Chopin's "Etude in C# Minor," Paderewski's "Prelude in C# Minor," Debussy's "Clair De Lune," and popular tunes such as "I Got Rhythm" and other novelty numbers.

At the conclusion of his talk, Mr. Slonimsky was brought back for an encore in which he demonstrated his dexterity by playing the piano with his back to the keyboard.

On October 3 a dance was held on the tennis court in front of Huntress Hall. Music was furnished by records. A very small crowd attended.

EDITORIAL

The students on campus will soon be faced with the problem of selecting capable leaders for their classes, clubs and the student body as a whole. It seems to have been the trend in the past years for only a small percentage of the college to get out and vote for the officers of their choice.

HOWEVER

As the year goes on and complaints are heard concerning the school leaders, it is noticed that most of the complaints come from people who did not bother to exercise their voting privilege. This laxity has long been the cause of half-hearted leadership in our organizations. With no support from the members how can we expect to have enthusiastic leaders?

THUS

As Freshman elections and the mayoralty campaign approach, it is hoped that there will be many candidates, strong supporters and thoughtful voters.

REMEMBER

A school is only as good as its leaders and the leaders are only as good as their followers. This year we hope that because the majority of students vote, fewer complaints will be held in the months to come.

MEM and FIW

Among the correspondence which comes addressed to "The Monadnock," there are quite frequently included newspapers published by other colleges and universities.

WHILE

Glancing at one such paper it was brought to my attention that perhaps we aren't as grateful as we could be for the many opportunities and privileges given us here at Keene Teachers College.

AND

Evidently, we don't impress upon our visitors the particularly meaningful points about our campus life, for many people leave us, thinking only about the 9:45 deadline which the dormitory girls must meet on week nights, the size of the gym, and the comparative lack of major social functions on week-ends.

OF COURSE

We are all well aware that we can and should improve many of the existing situations, especially those pertaining to the college social life, but any changes will necessitate the cooperation of the entire student body, not only in their dealings with fellow students but also in their associations with people outside the college.

SO

While we are making the improvements which will benefit each one of us, let's show some appreciation for the things we already are enjoying.

FIW

Reimbursement is made for medical expenses including X-rays, laboratory costs, hospital bills, nurses', physicians' and surgeons' fees, medicines, surgical appliances or any medical costs incurred as a result of an accident. Reimbursement is made up to $500.00 for each accident. Of course all students are automatically included in the basic Athletic Injury Plan (plan A) which is paid for by your activity fee. It must be remembered, however, that this basic plan is in effect only when there is an injury incurred in athletics, while plan B, the new all accident plan, covers a student at all times (except summer) and for any type of accident except facial injury.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Once again the MONADNOCK is faced with the problem of finding capable writers for its staff. It hardly seems possible that all the students talented along journalistic lines can be so busy that they can't devote some time to this project which should be important to the entire college.

Perhaps one of the reasons it is difficult to obtain staff members is that there is no tangible reward for their efforts. Realizing this fact, the staffs of previous years and of this year have discussed possible remedies for the situation. One of these is that writing for the newspaper be included in the Freshman English program so that credits might be given for those who write acceptable articles. Another suggestion under consideration was that of awarding a small amount of money to those entering the best articles in each publication. As in most things, there is a fallacy in this type of reward, since the same people may turn out the most commendable work each time. However, these possibilities are worth thinking about and perhaps one of these or something similar could be put into operation in the coming year.

mation, more tests, and the remainder of the upperclassmen, supper on the campus and open house in the Gym.

By the end of the week Freshman beanies began to be in evidence and initiation, in charge of the sophomore class, began to earnest. Those Fresh who did not obey the rules and who failed to treat upperclassmen, especially sophomores, with due respect were promptly summoned to court.

Having been tried before a jury of slightly elevated peers and found guilty of no less than half a dozen offenses, they were sentenced to wash windows, run errands, wash cars, or to carry out any number of other highly constructive tasks.

Classes began on Friday and with them less physical and more mental activity. It was back to the books for everyone. Spirits were undaunted and undampened by the inevitable assignments, though, and no one seemed too overburdened with work to enjoy the Treasure Hunt in the evening. Saturday found studies completely in the background as KTC's population migrated to Wilson Pond and the camp, once more to enjoy excellent picnic fare.

The President's Reception and Dance that evening in the Gym brought the first week to a close.

Initiation activities continued for another week and then ended brightly with a gala bonfire at the Athletic Field. This was a day long awaited by the freshmen as it marked the end of their probation period and the beginning of their life as actual members of Keene Teachers College. And so, appropriately, the ceremonies were climaxed when everyone present joined in a circle of Friendship that spirit which is KTC.

It is hoped that more students will take advantage of this all accident plan. The college has no financial interest in these plans but it is felt that they are a valuable additional service to the students.

KTC Grad Completes Navy Officers School

Newport, R. I.—At graduation ceremonies today Rear Admiral E. B. Taylor, USN, Commander Destroyer Flotilla Two, presented officer's commissions to 850 students who have successfully completed the four month course at the Navy's only Officer Candidate School here in Newport. Among the graduates was: Richard N. Peterson of San Diego 7, Cal., who received his degree in Industrial Education at Keene Teachers College in 1950.

After a brief leave some of the new officers will go to combatant ships for assignment to shipboard duties. Others will be assigned to service schools for further training to qualify them as aviators, aviation ground officers, underwater demolition team leaders and explosive ordnance disposal experts.

During their four months of intensive instruction the officer candidates have received thorough indoctrination in a curriculum of naval subjects designed to equip them for their responsibilities as junior officers. The subjects taught include Engineering, Navigation, Operations, Orientation, Seamanship and Naval Weapons.

In today's graduation, 149 men also received commissions in the Navy's Supply, Civil Engineering and Medical Schools. Applicants for the programs at Officer Candidate School must be graduates of accredited colleges or universities with baccalaureate degrees. Unrestricted Line and Staff Corps Candidates must be between the ages of 19 and 27, specialists for Restricted Line Billets between 19 and 33.

Student Council

The Student Council has started this semester off with the undertaking of both old and new problems of importance to the students of our campus.

Under the able leadership of Paul "J" Wilkinson, president of the council, we have set up the many student-teacher committees necessary for the proper function of our college.

This year a new bookkeeping system is being tried out which will be a simple, standard method for all treasurers of all organizations to follow. It is hoped this new method will be successful.

For students from our college are being sent to the New England Teacher Preparation Conference in Swampscott, Mass. October 13-15. Those going are: Perle McLeod, Claudia Cottrill, Art Mitchell, and Bob Ingalls.

Four new officers have been elected in the Student Council. They are as follows: Roland Stodley, vice president; Mae Allen, recording secretary; Bette Ann Hutchinson, corresponding secretary; and Easty Stevens, treasurer.

The Student Council is now planning the freshman elections which are to be held in November. Petitions must be in by the 4th of November and campaigning will be held from the 9th to the 13th. The primary election will be Thursday,

James Brezninski

Our first campus wheel of the year, James Brezninski, known to us from Lebanon, N. H. Jim attended high school in Lebanon where he was active in football, baseball and basketball and during his senior year was class president.

Following a year's service with the armed forces, Jim enrolled at KTC. Among his many outstanding contributions to the college have been his untiring efforts with the invitation basketball tournament, chairmanship of 1953 Parents' Day, presidency of the social committee and vice-presidency of his sophomore class. Jim is now absorbed in his student teaching at Troy high school where he has classes in social studies and coaches basketball as an extra-curricular activity.

During his first year at Keene, Jim went out for the basketball and baseball teams, but since then he has devoted most of his spare time to intramural sports. His hobbies include sports, as we might well expect, and suspense-filled mystery movies.

Last spring he was chosen as a delegate to the Eastern States Conference in New York. An active member of Kappa Delta Phi Fraternity since his freshman year, he also belongs to F.T.A., the inter-fraternity council, and has recently joined Kappa Delta Pi, the national honor society.

November 19th, and the final election will be the 20th.

At this time we wish to remind you of the "A" Field and this mind when choosing a leader for your class to select someone who will do a good job and be willing to work. Choose someone who will devote plenty of time to their position and who will give their wholehearted support to you and your problems.

Working on THE MONADNOCK will offer you

1. A chance to gain valuable experience in newspaper work that will be of direct service in your teaching career.
2. An opportunity to make connections with other newspapers and become home town correspondent, or do journalistic work during the summer.
3. A genuine chance for promotion based on interest and jobs well done.

Interest is the only qualification. Join now and become a part of an organization that gives both service and experience. Apply to any member of the managing board of THE MONADNOCK.

Soccer Team Drops Opener to Lowell Textile; Two Home Games This Week

The 1953 edition of the KTC soccer team opened its season at Lowell Textile where the Owls came out on the short end of a 4-2 score.

In the first period of play, the Textilers jumped off to a 2-0 lead on goals by Sergio Lince and Carlos Cepas. Ed Croteau booted one into the nets to make it 2-1, but Julio Grumares kicked past Owl goalie Ted Geers to make it 3-1 at the end of two quarters. Lowell got their final goal in period three on a shot by Abby Sternsapiir. Ray Richard accounted for the Owls' final tally of the afternoon.

The game was a hard-fought affair with tempers flaring throughout the contest. The Keene club left the field feeling a little cheated. Dave Columbus, former star athlete at Keene High, booted a goal into the nets which was nullified and a goal of Lowell's was counted even though the Owls claimed it hit the crossbar.

This season's Keene eleven finds many freshmen and sophomores on the club. Many boys that saw action under Coach Joyce last season did not return to school this year, and many did not report this season for practice. Coach Joyce again has a young team with Captain Derby the only senior on the club.

It is interesting to note that the Lowell Textilers had many South American boys on their squad. As a result, you probably know soccer is a great sport in the South American countries. This may account for their victory over a scrappy KTC team.

The men that saw action were: Keene: Regan, Ol; Niemela, IL; Richard, C; Croteau, IR; LeClerc, OR; Columbus, LH; Derby, CH; Parker, RH; Breitbar, LF; Tierney, RF; Geers, G; Ross, Magoon, and Bailey. Lowell: Lince, OL; Sternsapiir, IL; Cepas, C; Grumares, IR; Villa, OR; Roby, LH; Bodenhurst, CH; Madeiras, RH; Agualar, RF; Gilmore, LF; Lowell, G.

Open House

The signed the students and faculty were given personally conducted tours of the house. The high point of the tour was the visit to the pink and blue room. This quaint room was presided over by Al Goldblatt, the evening's Milton Berl.

The last fraternity to hold open house was Kappa Delta Phi, on October 1. Dancing, games, and singing were participated in by all. Some of the songs led by Joe Hall and Jim Smith were: "I've Been Working on the Railroad" and "Hall, Hall the Gang's All Here." An outstanding performance was given by Alex Bantis, when he gave his interpretation of Al Jolson. Frank Taylor's impression of Johnny Ray was also very entertaining. A large per cent of the student

Field Hockey Heads Girls' Sports Program

The fine weather has been very helpful in getting the girls' sports program off to a flying start. Field hockey games are being played regularly and the girls are receiving lessons in badminton, tennis, swimming, and archery under the capable tutoring of the leaders and the heads of the various sports.

The Women's Athletic Association this year headed by President Carolyn Thompson is already in the process of planning for Sports Day which is an annual event sponsored by W.A.A. This year the rivalry between the red and white teams will take place on Saturday, October 31. A rally is planned for the previous night and the winning team will be announced Saturday evening at a dance in Spaulding Gym.

All girls are urged to take part in Sports Day as there will be events for everyone to participate in. Field hockey and volleyball will be the team sports played, with tennis, bowling, ping-pong, badminton, and swimming as the individual sports.

Convention

A few. The convention closed at the end of Mr. Engle's address. The section meetings were held Thursday afternoon and Friday morning. The Thursday afternoon sessions included School Library Section, Distributive Education, Home Economics, Music Educators Association, Social Studies, Classical Association for Childhood Education, Mathematics, Physical Education, Business Teachers, Vocational Agriculture, and Audio Visual.

The section meetings for Friday morning included Art Educators, N. H. Industrial Education Association, Science, Rural Teachers, School Securities, Modern Language, New Hampshire Coaches, Guidance, Language Arts, School Nurse Section, Special Education, and Driver Education. In addition to the section meetings mentioned above there were section meetings for elementary teachers, including Guidance at the Elementary Level, Elementary Science, Outdoor Education, Sociometric Planning and Group Dynamics, Local Association and their problems and Special Education.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The Manchester Club recently held its election of officers for the coming school year. Those chosen to lead the club were Janine Carson, president; Eleanor Elias, vice president; Maureen O'Leary, secretary; John Skeffington, treasurer; Helen Bruch, Social Committee representative; and Judy McCarthy, Social Committee alternate. The club will hold a winter roast on October 20th at the college camp.

Kappa, the "Dubs," and Rockingham have moved to the front during the first three weeks of another hectic intramural football season. Kappa was considered a virtual clinch to cop the crown before the campaign started, but the "Dubs" and Rockingham have emerged as definite dark horses. The closeness of play would make the league appear to be the best balanced in several years. Another Alpha opened the season with a thrilling 12-6 overtime triumph over a scrappy Hillsboro club. Alpha's initial six points came on a pass from Jake Burnham to Neal Gadwah, but Hillsboro evened matters as Dick Robinson connected with Ted Hulsak for a touchdown.

The clubs then battled into overtime until Paul Allen's pass interception set up the stage for the tie breaking score which came on another Burnham to Gadwah aerial. Kappa then opened their season against the "Dubs" and were held to a 6-6 tie. The "Dubs" featuring ex-Keene High, ex-St. Michaels star, Billy Di Julio, and his former high school running mate, Freddy Zecha, along with speedy John Skeffington, gave Kappa quite a battle. The "Dubs" score resulted from a Zecha to Skeffington aerial while Kappa star Jim Brezninski plunged over to even up matters. The rest of the afternoon was a tough struggle between two fine lines. Rockingham opened up with an impressive 12-6 victory over the Blue Devils. Basil Day, ex-Bellows Falls star, threw the long passes while Bernie Dunbar, former Vermont all-star, threw spot passes and ran well in addition. Glib Chandler, scored the lone Blue Devil touchdown on a long pass.

During the second week of play, the "Dubs" wallpiped Alpha 27-6 and Kappa smacked Rockingham 21-0. The "Dubs" ran up a 20-0 halftime lead on the strength of overall class. The feature of the game was a long punt return for a touchdown by Skeffington. Kappa had no trouble at all with Rockingham minus its passing star Day. Jim Brezninski ran the Kappa offense to perfection, keeping the opposition off balance throughout. The powerful Kappa line again sparked.

Hillsboro opened the third week of the campaign with a 6-0 victory over the Blue Devils. The battle of pass interceptions until the Hilltoppers broke through to score on a Robinson to Hulsak pass. Rockingham downed Alpha in the week's other game by a 19-6 margin. Alpha drew first blood on

OWL HOOTS

Barring unforeseen troubles, this should be a banner year for KTC athletic teams. Coaches Summer Joyce and Lloyd Hayn have had a watchful eye out for promising newcomers and their reports are favorable. Let's take a quick look at the prospects for the coming year in our various sports.

Soccer

A Sophomore-Freshman studded soccer team has already made its debut at Lowell Textile. The Owls dropped the opener but not before giving the Textilers a good scare. Captain Hervey Derby leads the returning veterans and he is the lone Senior on the squad. Other returning lettermen include Junior Al Niemela and Sophomores Ray Richard, Eddie Croteau, Skip Regan, and Minot Parker. Promising newcomers include Junior Jack Tierney, John Breitbar, foreign student from Argentina; Sophomores Bruce Magoon, Kent Bailey, and Alex Bantis; and Fresh Ted Geers, Dave Columbus, Skip LeClerc, Norm Yeaton and Gene Ross. This is a relatively inexperienced club but should develop during the year. Let's see the student body back them up during the year at all the home games.

Basketball

The outlook here is very good despite the loss of stalwarts Bruce Kibbee, Wally Russell, and Nap Benoit. Hard-driving Paul Bushey, rangy Fred Hale, and rebound specialist Jess Evangelou will give the Owls a dangerous up front trio. Billy Di Julio, Basil Day, and Glib Chandler are just three of the many newcomers which should strengthen the front lines. The guard slots are wide open. Eddie Croteau, Crow Enderson, Dave Columbus, and Fred Zecha will certainly be in the thick of the fight for a starting position. Coach Joyce should have an interesting time in getting a starting five out of the many candidates he is bound to have out come November.

Baseball

After two disastrous seasons, the Owls should be on the up-grade here. The Owls will definitely be a much more diamond-wise club than took the field a year ago. Veteran Eddie Croteau could be a big winner on the hill come spring. He will be ably backed up by Joe Hall and Dave Columbus, the ex-Keene High mound ace. In addition to Croteau and Hall, there are several other letters expected out next spring. They include third sacker Fred Hale, infielder-outfielder Ray Richard, outfielder Bill Beauregard and catcher Al Niemela. Newcomers Billy Di Julio and Basil Day should provide the long ball and flashy Freddy Zecha should strengthen the infield. There are still many more prospects who will probably come through to make this a surprising Owl nine.

Tennis

This should be a big year for Coach Lloyd Hayn's tennis squad. Four Junior letter winners are returning. These are Dave Nims, Ken Keough, Ken McCormack, and Eddie Bourassa. Sophomore Ken Hewitt has been coming along good and should help. With a little strengthening here and there, it might be a tough squad to beat.

This has been a preview of what should be a fine season for the Owls. Best of luck to all the athletes, the ones I mentioned here and those I neglected, too, for a successful season.

This year there are six new teachers in the employ of Keene Teachers College. Four of these are teaching at Wheelock Elementary Training School. Mr. J. Richard Chambers, Jr., is a graduate of Keene Teachers College in the class of 1952. He attended Boston University for a year and obtained his Master's degree. A resident of Claremont, N. H., Mr. Chambers also attended the University of New Hampshire. He is now teaching a combination of third and fourth grades at Wheelock.

Mr. William Cross, a graduate of the University of New Hampshire, did graduate work at Keene Teachers College and is now making his home in Keene. Mr. Cross is teaching a combination of fifth and sixth grades at Wheelock. Another KTC graduate, Miss June Simpson, is teaching a section of grade one at Wheelock and is now living in Keene. She is originally from Bradford, N. H.

Teaching the third grade at Wheelock is Mrs. Elfreda Frost, port, last taught in the Unity School District. Miss Emeline Lowd, a new librarian at the Mason Library at KTC, is a graduate of Wellesley College where she obtained her A.B. degree. Miss Lowd did graduate work at Simmons College in Boston and was last employed at Lasalle Junior College in Auburn, Mass.

The new director of student teaching replacing Dr. Alex Perodin, who left Keene for a position in Georgia, is Mr. Richard H. Congdon. Mr. Congdon is a graduate of William State Teachers College. He taught for several years in the Junior High School at Lake Forest, Illinois. He obtained his Master's Degree at Teachers College, Columbia University.

Huntress Hall girls are enjoying one other modern convenience. The mail is now delivered directly to the dormitory.

Modern Plan for Cadet Teachers Instigated by Lillian C. Compton

Welcome Students at President's Reception

On September 19th, the Junior Class under the supervision of President Ann Williams, sponsored the annual President's Reception in Spaulding Gymnasium.

Preceding the reception this year a faculty banquet was held in the Pike Hall dining room. The appetizer was apple juice, followed by baked ham, hash-brown potatoes, green peas, and a relish dish. Dessert completed the meal. About 70 faculty members and their husbands or wives were in attendance.

The receiving line consisted of Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd P. Young, Dean and Mrs. H. Dwight Carle, Mrs. Dorothy Randall, Miss Marion Whitney, and Miss Clara Giovannelli.

A large gathering danced from eight to eleven-thirty to the music of Allen Kendall and his orchestra. During intermission refreshments, consisting of punch and cookies, were served by hostesses Janine Carson, Joanne Ricci, Charlotte Scully, Maureen O'Leary and Marcy Croteau.

Dr. Thos. Briggs, Educator, Talks Kappa Delta Pi Presents Awards

Hutchinson, Sun, Allen Smith Receive Honors

By B. Whitehead

At an assembly held on October 19, 1953, the faculty and students of Keene Teachers College had the privilege of hearing a stimulating talk by Dr. Thomas Briggs. Dr. Briggs, a professor emeritus of Columbia Teachers College, is a well-known American educator. He is the author of many books, some of which are in the KTC library, and a frequent contributor to educational journals.

At the assembly he spoke on "Religion in Education." He drew examples from his own life to illustrate his talk. Dr. Briggs spoke of having a faith in teaching and really devoting oneself to it. He gave his well-known definition: "Education is to teach the learner to do better the things that he is going to do anyway."

Education should be such that it prepares students for life, and it is not just an accumulation of knowledge.

This talk by Dr. Briggs was greatly enjoyed by both faculty and students. The second half of the assembly consisted of the awarding of certificates given by Kappa Delta Pi. These certificates of award were presented to four members of the class of 1950, who in their freshman year maintained high scholarship social efficiency, and showed qualities indicative of future leadership. Gordon Durnford presented these awards to Bette Ann Hutchinson, Mary Sim, Paul Allen, and James Smith.

Bette Ann Hutchinson is an Elementary major. Last year she was secretary of Fiske House Council, and a member of the All-Star softball team. She also serves as corresponding secretary of the Student Council, works in the Campus Club, and is a member of the Glee Club, I.R.C., and Future Teachers of America.

Open House Held at Blake, Farrow Hostess

The senior Home Economics girls living in Blake House held open house Tuesday, October 20. Hostess Marlene Farrow was assisted by the other three girls living in the house, Beverly Sloum, Nancy Philbrick, and Betty Rand.

A tour through the house was guided by the Junior Home Ec's. Some of the rooms have been recently redecorated and the entire house was in "spic and span" order. Refreshments were served.

20 Seniors Nominated For Who's Who

Hutchinson, Sun, Allen Smith Receive Honors

During the last week, the election for Who's Who was held. Since the freshman class has only been on campus for a short time, they were excluded from the list of voters. In this way, only upperclassmen who know those up for election, could make the best choice.

Each voter had to vote for ten people, eight members and two alternates. Twenty names were listed, and until Dr. Young has announced the winners we will not know which ten are to be included. Here is the list of names offered for election: Ted Barker, Bette Baston, Gordon Durnford, Harold Haggood, Michael Karmecwicz, James Brezninski, Joy Johnson, Patricia MacMahon, Patricia Gormley Hall, Lola Tanner, Lois Plimpton, Herbert Silander, W. Eastman Steere, Jr., Mary McGuirk, Frances Ward, Robert Pearson, Robert Sudak, Ralph Werninger, Jane Kingsbury and Marlene Farrow.

Members are chosen for their scholastic ability, leadership, service to the school and promise of future success. From the list of the above names we can see the difficult job that faced the voters. Regardless of the choices that are made, we know that Keene will be well represented in Who's Who this year.

Oct. 31st, WAA Day White Team Wins

Saturday night, October 31, marked the end of another annual Sports Day at KTC. It was a thrilling day when the White Team, with a total of 195 points with Pat Grandy captain, came out way on top over the Red Team, captained by Ann Bassett, with a total of 52 points. Making a clean sweep in all sports events, the White Team made up for losses in the past two years.

The individual sports winners for their teams were: Tennis: first place, Pat Therrien, White; second place, Lois Plimpton, Red. Badminton: first place, Mabel Granger, White; second place, Joyce Coghlan, Red. Archery: first place, Joanne Ricci, White; second place, Joyce Gove, White.

Bowling: first place, Jan DuBois, White; second place, Ruth Bradish, White. The swimming relays and three individual freestyle swimming were captured by the White Team. In the afternoon the volleyball game was forfeited to the Whites because the Reds did not have

Swampscott Conference

On October 13 and 14, the New England Teacher Preparation Association met for its annual conference in the New Ocean House in Swampscott, Mass. Those attending the conference from Keene Teachers College were Dr. Lloyd P. Young, Arthur Mitchell, Claudia Cottrell, Persis MacLeod, and Robert Ingalls. The theme of the conference this year was "Speech in Teacher Preparation."

Among the distinguished speakers attending the conference were Dr. Harold C. Hunt, professor of Education at Harvard, who spoke at the dinner on October 13 on "Freedom of Speech in Teacher Education;" Dr. Wendall Yeo, professor of Education at Boston University, who spoke at a general assembly on "Utilizing Campus Speech Facilities for Students and Faculty;" and Rev. George V. McCabe, S.J., who gave an interesting keynote speech on "The Effective Speaker Must Be Heard, Understood, and Must Influence" and who has been invited to be the guest speaker here at an assembly in March.

Other points stressed at the conference were the Possibility of Television in Education, Helping the Student to Adjust, Helping the Student to Communicate Rather than Correct Speech Difficulties, The Effect of the Teacher on Student Speaking, and Formal Speech Courses or Individual Help.

President of the Swampscott Conference for the year 1953-54 will be Dr. Harold E. Hyde of Plymouth Teachers College.

I. R. C. Sponsors Four Students at New York Herald Tribune Forum

On October 18, 19, and 20, The International Relations Club sent four representatives, Joseph Hall, Chester Buck, Patricia Sullivan, and Carolyn Hobbs, to the annual New York Herald Tribune Forum in New York City. The overall theme was "New Patterns for Mid-century Living."

The first session, held in the General Assembly Hall of the United Nations Building, was titled "Patterns for Peaceful Change."

Outstanding talks were given by such international dignitaries as Madame Viava Pandit, President of the General Assembly of the United Nations, and internationally known artist, Mrs. Anna Robertson Moses, "Grandma Moses."

The last meeting, "New Patterns in Government," included a panel of the candidates for mayor of New York City—Rudolph Hall, Harold Reigelman and Robert F. Wagner, Jr. Herbert Brownell, United States Attorney General, and John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State, climaxed a series of meetings which were recorded in their entirety by the Voice of America and reported factually in 34 languages.
