

OPENING FACULTY DINNER

Continued from page 1

master's degree from Chicago university is a new head of the home economics department. She succeeds Miss Elizabeth Hendry, who is teaching this year in the Plymouth, Mass., High school. Miss Baker has had experience as instructor in the Kansas State college at Manhattan, and is the author of a text book on clothing.

Succeeding Miss Winifred Booth as girls' physical director is Miss Marjorie Bateman. The latter holds the degree of B.S. from the University of Minn. and A.M. from New York university. She has held many important positions in Y.W.C.A. work and as instructor in physical education in Chicago Normal School of Physical Education and at Franklin college in Indiana. Also in the same department a new instructor is Miss Lucy Clark, R. N. of Hubbardston, Mass. She will combine the work of school nurse with classes in health work. She holds a degree from Columbia university.

Music and Art Assistants

New assistants have been secured for the departments of art and music. To the former comes Miss Janet C. Russell, Mus. B., from Oberlin college conservatory. This is her first teaching experience. Miss Helene Putnam, of Springfield, Vt., is assisting Miss Jean Baird in art. She was educated at Pratt institute, Brooklyn, N.Y.

There will be but one change in the staff of the Central Junior High School, where Charles G. Hapgood will take the place of H. Warren Dow, as instructor in general science. Mr. Hapgood was educated at Fitchburg Normal, and holds a degree from Boston University. He has also taught in public schools and in Fitchburg Normal.

K. N. S. Grads Return

At the Wheelock school Miss Louise Musgrove, K.N.S., '27, of Hanover succeeds Miss Blooma Zeigler, who is this year en-

Miss Russell's Program

Continued from page 1

"Variations and Fugue on a Theme by Handel," (Brahms); "Spinning Song" from the "Flying Dutchman," (Wagner-Liszt); Etude Op. 25, No. 7," (Chopin); "Rondo Capriccioso," (Mendelssohn).

FOUR YEAR STUDENTS

Members of the third year Junior High course were selected during the summer to extend their studies through four years, and therefore to become eligible to receive in 1934 the degree of Bachelor of Education. This year the group includes six women and four men.

The four year students are chosen by President Wallace E. Mason and the faculty on the basis of character, scholarship and prospective teaching ability.

Those selected are: Miss Dorothy M. Tibbetts, Keene; Miss Dorothy M. Cunningham, Wilton; Miss Litizia M. Duca, Woodsville; Miss Ruth Lennartson, Concord; Miss Ellen W. Marshall, Groveton; Miss Frances A. Rawstron, Claremont; Earl W. Harris, Franklin; Norman R. Hartfiel, Farmington; T. Ernest Peltonen, Newport; and Edward L. Presby, Lisbon.

HOME WORK

"Pa, what is a board of education?"

"When I went to school, it was a pine shingle."

gaged in further study. Miss Musgrove received her degree of B.E. at B.U. in 1931.

Miss Vera Smith's successor in the 5th grade, is Mrs. Enid Gower, who was educated at Fitchburg and Boston university. Two additional teachers have been engaged at Wheelock due to the large registration. They are Miss Elizabeth Quattlander, also a degree holder from Boston university, and Miss Marion E. Hilliard, K.N.S. '32, who will assist Miss Margaret M. Little in the kindergarten.

Educator's Conference

Continued from page 1

geography, and Oscar C. Gallagher, head of the education department, attended the October meeting of New England educators at the Crawford house in the White Mountains, Oct. 2 to 4.

In addition to the round table discussions, Prof. W. T. Foster, economist, Miss Florence Hale of Maine, and Hon. William John Cooper, United States Commissioner of Education, Washington, D. C. gave addresses.

Those in attendance report a most valuable program and a fine spirit of fellowship. In connection with this trip Pres. and Mrs. Mason passed a few days' vacation at Hotel Randell, at North Conway, Dr. Mason's boyhood home.

NOTES

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. James A. Keech, on the birth of a son, June 29. He has been named William Lee Keech. Mr. and Mrs. Keech are living this year at 39 Valley Street, as Duffy house at Main and Elliott street is not being used this year.

The school orchestra organized at once and appeared at the opening assembly. This organization has been augmented by Freshman instrumentalists. Miss Dorothy A. Kane, Portsmouth, is to be concert master for the year.

JOKES

A NEW BURDEN

Mr. Waltz in Labor Problems: "I'm afraid I'm going to tax your memory."

Madeline Burpee: "Has it come to that now?"

Kora Katnip has been washing her clothes in the bathroom; nothing in the Freshman Bible forbidding it.

ENGLISH 51

Norma Haynes: "Don't you think Shylock in the 'Merchant of Venice' wore a derby?"

"Peg" MacWilliam: "Something close fitting!"

FRESHMAN RECEPTION, ETC.

Continued from page 1

for the first assembly. The program was opened by the reading of the 121st psalm by President Mason followed by the Lord's Prayer and hymn. Welcome was extended by Major Robert T. Kingsbury, Keene member of the State Board of Education; Atty. W. Harry Watson of the Keene Board of Education, Richard P. Flynn of the Chamber of Commerce and Mrs. Paul D. Minnick of the Keene Women's Club. The churches of Keene were represented by Rev. Francis J. Crowley for the Catholic clergy and Rev. Austin H. Reed for the Protestant churches. Ministers of the other churches were introduced.

School Picnic

The annual school picnic was held in honor of the incoming freshman class, at the school camp Saturday, Sept. 17. The students joined in field sports during the morning and worked up an appetite for the dinner of "hot dogs", sandwich rolls, cookies ice cream served by members of faculty.

In the evening a reception to the freshmen was sponsored by the DeLaSalle and the Y.W.C.A. After being introduced to the faculty and club officers in the receiving line, they were entertained by a program from both organizations. Welcome was extended by Wilfred A. Poirier of Lincoln, who also introduced a program consisting of a reading by Miss Palmina B. Quintillio, Keene; vocal solos by Miss Faith E. Woodbury, Haverhill, Mass., with Miss Cecile B. Proulx, Franklin, accompanist; violin solos by Miss Kathleen LaCoy, Portsmouth; and comic solos dances by Lynn T. Richards, Franklin, with Miss Louise MacDougall, Berlin, accompanist.

Jeremiah Rhodes, first principal of Keene Normal School, spoke to the group.

Teacher: "Where was the declaration of Independence signed?"

Stude: "At the bottom."

KEENE KRONICLE

Volume IV, No. 2
Nov. 14, 1932

Manchester Club
Masquerade

Published at the State Normal School, Keene, N.H.

DRAMATIC CLUB PRESENTS
ONE ACT COMEDY AS PART OF HOME COMING SOCIAL

Students Display Fine Talent in Lady
Gregory's "Spreading the News"

The opening performance of the school Dramatic club was given at the social on Saturday, Nov. 5. The play selected for the premier was the one-act comedy of Irish life, "Spreading the News," by Lady Augusta Gregory. Most of the cast had previously taken part in dramatics here and those who were appearing for the first time performed in a fine manner.

Continued on page 8

MANCHESTER CLUB HAS ELEC-TION OF OFFICERS AND PLANS MASQUERADE

The Manchester club composed of students from Manchester and vicinity, and graduates from the two Manchester High schools, has organized and is actively engaged in plans for the annual masquerade ball which is sponsored by this organization.

The date has not been announced at time of going to press but it will probably be held during the week end of Dec. 3.

Club Officers

D. Leonard Harwood has been elected president for the school year. Other officers are: Stanley Dydo, vice-president; Miss Madeline Broderick, secretary; and Thomas McCullough, treasurer. Committee chairmen who will have charge of the annual party and ball have been named as follows: Miss Bernice Adams, refreshments; Ray Harwood, decorations; Miss Josephine Altenau, costumes; Edward Hickey, chaperones; and Edward Paris, entertainment and music.

NEW COURSES TESTIFY TO POPULARITY OF K.N.S. TEACHER TRAINING
AT SOUTH ACWORTH

About 25 miles north of Keene on the banks of Cold River nestles the picturesque town of South Acworth. In this town is the progressive South Acworth High school, one of the teacher training schools connected with Keene Normal school.

HEADMASTER ACWORTH HIGH SCHOOL

MRS. VILLA HALL WIGHT

This training school has been maintained for three years, entering the fourth, under the supervision of Mrs. Villa Hall Wight, headmaster and critic teacher. The school opened this year on Sept. 6, with 35 enrolled in junior and senior high schools. All the pupils were glad to get back to school where they have so much enjoyment.

The general, the mechanic arts, and the domestic arts courses which are very well adapted to the needs of the pupils are offered. Several new subjects are offered this year, including junior business training, general mathematics, Latin and biology. The students are finding these subjects very interesting and useful. Excellent texts have been provided for the biology class and more equipment is forthcoming. The pupils earned the money for the equipment the last two years by giving plays. The school is well supplied with texts and reference material. Domestic arts activities are carried on in the kitchen of a nearby house, while mechanic arts is carried on in a barn not far from the school.

During the year assembly periods are held in which something interesting and beneficial to the pupils is presented. A speaker from outside the school or a class exercise is the usual program. The pupils are adept in dramatics, having presented two plays each year. They also competed in the one-act play contest conducted by the state last year.

Special mention should be given of the appreciation of the members of the school for the unusually helpful cooperation of the librarian of the town. It is possible through her kindness to borrow a great many of the latest books and to have for school use the Christian Science Monitor and all of the magazines that are especially helpful to the students.

A playground has been acquired

Continued on page 8

HEFFERNAN IS ELECTED
1933 CLASS PRESIDENT

All Senior Divisions Choose Officers to Plan Activities for the Year

1933 CLASS PRESIDENT

MARTIN E. HEFFERNAN

Members of the class of 1933 have held class meeting for the election of officers to plan the commencement program which will occur on Saturday, June 24. Martin E. Heffernan, Portsmouth, of the Trades and Industries curriculum, has been made president of the four-year degree group and thus ex-officio class president.

The other officers elected by the degree students are: vice-president, Miss Elizabeth Aldrich, Keene, home economics student; secretary, Miss Marion Lathe, Manchester; and treasurer, Carlton E. Brett, Keene. Both of the latter are members of the four-year English group.

Three-Year Officers

The president of the three-year class is Albert F. Brown, Manchester, of the art course. Miss M. Charlotte Thibodeau, Claremont, also an art student, is secretary; and Frederic W. Beech-

Continued on page 8

EXTRA CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES AT K.N.S.

MRS. PATRICK CAMPBELL GIVES K. N. S. STUDENTS AN ENLIGHTENMENT ON DRAMA

The noted English actress, Mrs. Patrick Campbell, spoke at Spaulding gymnasium, Monday, evening, Oct. 24, on "The Voice as a Medium of expression." Mrs. Campbell is an example of the old style dramatic tragedienne, and ranks with Bernhardts, Fiske and Duse. She gave selections from many of her successes—such roles as Lady Macbeth, Melisande from "Pellios and Melisande," and Juliet from "Romeo and Juliet." She also cited parts of "Pygmalion" by George Bernard Shaw and the "Twenty-Third Psalm."

Mrs. Campbell criticized the modern stage as made for thrills and mechanics rather than true acting. By her readings she showed how the voice can express emotion even more than gestures and facial expression.

Mrs. Campbell's speaking voice is considered the most beautiful of her time, and Keene Normal school is very fortunate to have heard her.

FRESHMAN PARTY

The annual party for freshmen of the school was held in the social room of the Spaulding gymnasium. A committee of upper classmen was in charge.

Several men of the faculty spoke briefly including Dean H. D. Carle, Clarence H. DeMar, and Merton T. Goodrich. Charles G. Hapgood, instructor at Central Junior High was introduced, as the only new man on the faculty for this year.

Robert Prescott, Meredith, presided. The men's dance orchestra of the school furnished special music with Raymond O'Neil, Nashua as soloist. Recitations were given by Forrest Gray, Portsmouth and D. Leonard Harwood, Manchester.

VARIOUS CLUB ACTIVITIES

Y. W. C. A.

At a very impressive candle-light service held in Huntress Club room, Wednesday evening, Oct. 19, the Y.W.C.A. welcomed a large number of new members to its group.

Miss Nona Haynes of Portsmouth, president of the Club, spoke briefly, outlining the aims and activities. Miss Isabel Blake of the Social Science department, Y.W.C.A. faculty adviser, gave a few words of welcome. She deferred her formal welcome to a later date.

Miss Ruth Lennartson of Concord gave a report of the Conference on Vocational Guidance held at Winchester, N. H., Oct. 15. Miss Lennartson, who acted as song leader at the conference, spoke of the entertainment, and briefly outlined some of the inspiring talks.

The club is very glad to welcome such a large group of new members and looks forward to a year of cooperative activity.

Latin Club

A newly formed club is THE ROSTRA, composed of students who take an active interest in the study of Latin, and who hope to teach that subject. Maynard C. Waltz, head of the language department is faculty sponsor for the club.

Officers have been elected as follows: president, Miss Winona Richardson, Pittsfield; vice-president, Miss Elsie Seed, Salem Depot; secretary, Miss Margaret McKenna, Twin Mountain; and treasurer, Miss Rose Zysk, Keene.

A trio consisting of Philip W. Brown, Pittsfield, Albert F. Brown, Manchester and Lynn Richards, Franklin furnished vocal selections.

Refreshments of doughnuts and cider were served.

"The man who fails is the man who fails to keep on trying."

—Jackson.

The Forum

A regular meeting of the Forum was held Thursday, Oct. 20 in Parker hall. Plans were discussed for the initiation of new members. After the business meeting a debate was held on the question "Resolved that the government should legalize the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer."

The affirmative was upheld by Edward Hickey, Manchester, and D. Leonard Harwood, Manchester; and the negative by Miss Miriam Roby, Belmont, and Donald Piper Meredith, Valmore Blais, Laconia, acted as alternate for the affirmative.

The us-decision style of debate which is being adopted by many colleges and universities was used.

Rural Club

The October meeting of the Rural club, had as guests Miss Phila M. Griffin, elementary school agent for the N.H. Board of Education and Miss Marcia Everett, Trenton, N. J. a "helping teacher" for New Jersey rural schools and co-author with Dr. Fanny Dunn of "Four Years in a Country School." Miss Everett spoke informally and discussed a new program of social studies for rural elementary schools, which was prepared by a committee of which she was chairman. This work has now been published by the New Jersey department of education.

NOTE

A considerable group of students enjoyed an interesting lecture on "The Theatre and the Dramatic Artists of Poland" given in Parker hall on October 28, by Prof. Eric P. Kelley of Dartmouth college. This talk was sponsored by the dramatic workshop department of the Keene Women's club.

"Men must be taught as if you taught them not."—Pope.

MT. MONADNOCK CLIMB IS SOCIAL INSPIRATION - EVEN THE WEATHER IS PERFECT

Ask any one of the 50 or more people who climbed Mount Monadnock, Saturday Oct. 15, if he or she had a good time. Chances are that the answer will be "Yes," followed by some enthusiastic comment, as "swell" or "marvelous."

The group started from Hale building at 9:30 o'clock in two busses and several private cars. Arrangements were made by a committee from the Academy of Science, composed of Emerson McCourt, Portsmouth, chairman; Madeline E. Burpee, Portsmouth; and Loretta Bliss, Amherst.

Everyone agreed that the weather was made-to-order for mountain climbing. Good humor was abundant, and was manifested by the singing of school songs and by the laughing chatter.

Another similar trip will be made in the spring, and it is hoped that even more students and faculty members will join the gay party.

Academy of Science

Eclipse night was observed at the last meeting of the Academy of Science. Each member told of his experiences and, as many were in the total area, much of interest was disclosed. Of particular interest was the effect upon animals. Cows came home, birds were frightened, roosters crowed, and crickets chirped. Merton T. Goodrich, Department of Mathematics, who was at Alfred, Maine, gave a fine account of the sight there and also of the Japanese delegation from Tokyo.

Other reports came from Concord, Rye, Berlin, Hancock, Bethlehem, Fryeburg, and Portsmouth.

Nearly everyone within the total area saw the corona, Bailey's beads and several stars.

PROF. RUGG OF COLUMBIA URGES ADAPTATION OF EDUCATION TO LIVING

Teachers College Professor Illustrates Point from World Travels

The students of Keene Normal school were exceedingly fortunate in having an address by Dr. Harold O. Rugg. Dr. Rugg is full professor of education at Teachers college, Columbia university. He has seen education around the world and is an earnest exponent of a new education.

Dr. Rugg illustrated the effect of our mechanized world on foreign peoples by giving an outline of the history of China, her economic condition, her concept of education.

China, like other peoples, has problems that must be solved. There is overpopulation, a great need of communication, the necessity for more sanitary conditions, and above all, an understanding of how to care for her people.

It is problems like these that test the practicability of education. What kind of an education, Dr. Rugg demands, can bring up children to live in this world? Surely not a formal, mechanical, standardized education that produces people who cannot think and are not supposed to think!

The new education which Dr. Rugg advocates is one grounded in the understanding of how people live. This can be accomplished by combining all the factors in geography, history and all other subjects which effect human living and explain life. This, he says, is only half the job of education. The other half is the task of building up honest and creative personalities.

This present mechanized way of living will undermine our nation unless we have this new concept of education.

Education must teach people to create, to be original thinkers and doers. Our main objective in this is to preserve the integrity of a single human being, to make him an individual who will be honest and serviceable and content with his creative ability.

D. W.

ALPHA PI TAU

The Alpha Pi Tau fraternity will hold its annual dance on the evening of Nov. 18. The committee in charge consists of the following members: Edwin Hill, Keene; Robert S. Prescott, Meredith; James R. Morrill, Pike; and Maurice B. Kalloch, Concord.

John S. Hobson, Concord; Donovan H. Stevens, Franklin; Paul C. Rizzi, Milford; and Ernest Brown, Franklin; were the Alpha men of the alumni returning for the fall sports day, Nov. 5.

After a year at his home in Manchester, D. Leonard Harwood, has joined the junior class in the four-year English curriculum. The forum and Dramatic club as well as the Alpha group welcome him back to K.N.S.

M. K.: "Pardon me for stepping on your feet."

E. J.: "That's all right, I walk on them myself."

ART DEPT.

The Arden Craft club is composed of students from the various art classes. The organization met Oct. 17th and elected the following officers: president, Charlotte M. Thibodeau, Claremont; vice-president, Albert F. Brown, Manchester; secretary, Francis Pace, Portsmouth; treasurer, Barbara Anderer, Wolfboro.

Miss Jean Baird, the faculty adviser, aided the Club in outlining a course of activities for the year.

The Junior High Art club held a Hallowe'en part at the studio, Oct. 28. Miss Baird, Miss Helena Putnam, and the cadet teachers of the art course assisted. It was a pleasant evening spent in playing games and in enjoying the refreshments which everyone had donated. The scene was enlivened with much color by the decorations about the studio, from the black-faced comedians to the gay little Dutch girls.

KAPPA NEWS

Nine members of the faculty were made honorary members of Gamma chapter at an initiation ceremony held at the house on October 25. The welcome was extended by President Martin E. Heffernan and Lynn A. Richards conferred the three degrees.

The new members are: Clarence H. DeMar, Merton T. Goodrich, Maynard C. Waltz, Walter A. Pierce, Oscar C. Gallagher, Harry W. Davis, Charles G. Hapgood, W. Allen Caldwell, and Spencer E. Eaton.

President Mason, an honorary member, spoke for that group, extending a welcome to his associates, and brief remarks were made by Harry B. Preston, house-master of the fraternity. A musical entertainment was then given under the direction of a committee consisting of Brothers Edgar Paris, Robert L. C. Tinkham, and Edward L. Presby.

Refreshments of sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and cookies were served.

HOME ECONOMICS

How many heard the noise in Parker Hall Oct. 19? It was the Home Economics club giving a reception for their freshmen. We had a great deal of fun getting acquainted, playing games and dancing. Everyone enjoyed the cider and doughnuts which were served.

Here is the reason for hurried conferences and weighty discussions among the home economics girls. The club constitution is being revised and the year's program completed. Plans are under way to make a change in membership requirements. Also, we expect a rearrangement of committees. The year's program includes such speakers as Miss Phila M. Griffin, elementary school agent, Miss Elizabeth R. Elkins of the State Board of Education, and Walter M. May, Deputy Commissioner of Education, as well as some of our own faculty members.

TRADES and INDUSTRIES

This is third consecutive year in which there has been no change in the personnel of the instructors of the department.

Alfred J. Mannix, '33 of the Senior class, is rewinding a two-horsepower electric motor, as a project in electrical work. This is the first time a project along this line has been attempted in the shop. It is planned that the motor, when complete, will be used as power for the drill press in the machine shop.

The pattern making department has long been in need of facilities for melting metals. The construction of a small furnace to supply this need is now under way. The air draft for the furnace will be furnished by a positive-pressure blower now being manufactured in the machine shop.

"It is a test of character to be considerate in the crowd when others are too hurried to remember."—J. Edwardson.

MUSIC NOTES

During the week of October 31 the following musicians entertained the Parent-Teachers of Westmoreland and the Men's Club of Swanzy Center; Miss Eleanor Buzzell, East Barrington, trumpet; Miss Audrey Brann, Portsmouth, violin; and Miss Miriam Phippard, Nashua, piano. In Swanzy Center, Miss Kane played a violin solo, "Fiddlin' the Fiddle" by Rubinoff.

A trio composed of Miss Mary Dearborn, saxophone; Miss Ruth Forbes, piano; and Miss Kathleen LaCoy, violin; played for the Parent-Teacher association in South Acworth on Nov. 3. In addition to trio selection, Miss LaCoy played "Flower of Italy," a violin solo, and Miss Ruth Mary Doe, gave interesting readings.

A recent meeting of the Orpheus club enjoyed an interesting program under the leadership of Miss Faith Woodbury, Bradford, Mass.

KEENE KRONICLE

The Keene Kronicle, published during the early part of each month for students, alumni, and friends of the state normal school, Keene, N.H. Subscription, 50 cents per year.

Members of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

The setting up and printing of the KRONICLE is done by the classes in printing at THE NORMAL SCHOOL, Keene, New Hampshire.

EDITORIAL BOARD

Faculty adviser, Harry B. Preston.
Consulting editor, Roy A. Sullivan.
Editor-in-chief, Marion Lathé, '33, Manchester.
Associate editor, Doris B. Wilson, '33, Concord.
News editors, Genevieve C. McGirr, '33, Concord; Alice Upton, '34, Hancock; Dorothy Hugron, '34, Hancock.
Business and Circulation manager, Edward L. Presby, '34, Lisbon.
Associate, Walter E. Miner, '33, Keene.
Boys' sports editors, John H. Day, '33, Hillsboro; Maurice B. Kalloch, '34, Concord.
Girls' sports editors, Geraldine Haywood, '33, Newcastle; Frances A. Rawstron, '34, Claremont.
School exchanges, Margaret E. Stearns, '33, Keene.
N.H. schools and educational notes, Josephine Altenau, '33, Manchester.
Mechanic arts editor, Ralph Duso, '35, Laconia.
Music editor, R. L. C. Tinkham, '33, Manchester.
Art editor, Lois M. Huntington, '33, Henniker.
Home economics editor, Jane Monroe, '34, South Shaftesbury, Vt.
Fraternity editors, Philip W. Brown, '33, Pittsfield, Kappa; George C. Knox, '34, Concord, Alpha.
Alumni editors, Doris M. Kimball, '33, Beverly, Massachusetts; Ellen W. Marshall, '34, Groveton.

ON EDUCATION

"True education means keeping the passage-way clear. The biggest thing we can do for another is simply to open a door, or rather to show him where the door is open, out to a larger knowledge, a broader sympathy, a fuller life. This alone is education, not spoon-feeding information, but deepening the insight and widening the outlook."

We always seem to be confronted with the real nature of this process called "education". The above quotation is from "The Open Door" by Hugh Black and appears to be a very sensible idea of the objective of education and educators.

Now our word "educate" is derived from the Latin, "educere" which is literally "to lead" or "to draw out". Consequently educators are the agents whose duty it is to accomplish that which the word "educate" implies.

The paramount difficulty seems to be a difference of opinion as to just what is to be led or drawn out. It would seem that there is the common mistake of trying to pour something in. This is unfortunate unless there is a proper outlet for this knowledge. The vessels into which learning is poured often lacks the sieve-like quality which can sift the real from the unreal, the false from the true.

Today's educational theory emphasizes the practical. Then it must follow that education should be more natural, a skilful leading or drawing out of what is within. In so far as what is drawn out is fine and valuable it can be directed into beneficial channels. It is also a most important function of education to substitute a right activity for that which, improperly guided, would become harmful or result in defeating the higher purposes of education.

Thus our task as educators is to open doors to our students beyond which they may glimpse vistas of loveliness, truth, understanding. We cannot expect to push or force them through, we must lead them forth gently and firmly and rationally.

As a reward for our successful effort we will see men and women of fine knowledge and with a serene outlook on life which have been tempered by wisdom which alone makes education valuable.

Remember: "Men must be taught as if you taught them not."

D. W.

EXAMPLES OF TEACHER PERSONALITY CITED BY SUPERINTENDENT

Brockton Educator Gives Radio Talk Before Mass. Women's Clubs

Broadcasting from Station WBZ, the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs program, Superintendent of Schools John F. Scully of Brockton, Mass. gave an interesting talk on "Personality." In part he said: "Most people are more interested in themselves than in anything else. If one doubts this he has but to glance at the photograph of a group of which he is a part. What does he look at first? Everyone in my audience knows the answer. Everyone wants an attractive personality. Burns says, 'O wad the power some giftie gie us, to see oursils as others see us.'"

"Two attractive women came to my office one Saturday morning and applied for teaching positions. They were bright and promising. I arrived at their school one beautiful spring morning. The one I visited first had flowers on her desk. She was appropriately gowned. She smiled and her children smiled with her. The class was reading. She went quietly about the room saying a kind word to this one, tying a bandage on a little boy's finger, giving a straightening touch to a little girl's ribbon. It was evident the children were just loving their teacher and she was loving them. She corrected mistakes kindly. She laughed with her children but never at them. It was a happy group, led by a charming personality."

Visits the Classes

"After recess I visited the other candidate. She was the better looking and better dressed. But she had a frown which was not attractive. The children came in from recess noisily. She ordered a boy out to clean the mud from his shoes and another to wash his hands with the intimation that his home should teach him cleanliness. She stalked about the room as if some mistake of fate had placed her there instead of in the White House. She was the type which make children hate school, hate the teacher and everything connected with education. She informed me that this was the meanest class she had ever seen. All the children heard her. I pitied those children. Think of having to spend five hours a day with a personality like that.

"For the teacher personality is the source of his influence and measure of his power. Contrary to a somewhat general belief, personality is not something that is born with one. A strong personality is not a gift from God, nor is a weak and ineffective personality a visitation from Providence. Nothing just happens in the realm of the spirit. It is caused. Personality grows in the thick of the day's work and play. I say play, for deliver me from the teacher who doesn't know how to play."

Personality is largely in our own hands. To be sure it is easier for some to develop an attractive and compelling personality than for others. The raw material comes with us but the finished product shows the stamp of training.

Teachers Should Be Courteous

"Children, like adults, admire the teacher who is always courteous, never harsh and rude. Sometimes teachers, feeling they are dealing with inferior or undeveloped minds, fail to realize that if they are to receive respect they must always be courteous. Emerson says, 'Life is never so short but there is always time for courtesy.'"

"A sense of humor is a saving grace for anyone but especially is this trait desirable in a teacher who faces forty children, from all types of homes, day after day, in situations which are often trying. I have never yet seen a superior teacher who has not a sense of humor to carry her over the rough places, and who could not enjoy a good laugh at least once a day with the children."

Pleasing Voice Desirable

"Nothing is more effective in the classroom than a pleasing voice. Her voice was soft and low, a very pleasing thing in a woman. I have seen the magic of a pleasing voice in many a school. It is soothing and quieting while a harsh voice harrows the nerves of all young people."

NOTES

FELLOWS-DUTTON

Miss Marguerite L. Fellows of North Sandwich, was married on June 20, to Walter B. Dutton, of Deering. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's grandfather, Charles Fellows, by Rev. William Streeter, Moultonboro. Mrs. Dutton, who was a member of the class of 1929 at Keene Normal, was attended by two classmates, the Misses Ilene and Erlene Murdough, of Hillsboro. Her teaching experience was gained in the schools of Sandwich.

After a wedding trip to the White Mountains and the Maine beaches the couple are at home at the old Dutton homestead in Deering, where Mr. Dutton is engaged in farming and cattle raising.

1921

Miss Mary C. McQuade of Manchester, graduate of Keene Normal in 1921, has been honored with appointment as chairman of the program committee for the Quota club, International, because of her efficient work as a member of the New Hampshire Quota club.

Miss McQuade is playground supervisor for girls in Manchester, a teacher in the public schools and is active in a broad scope of activities.

1930

Mrs. Albert C. Peabody, Berlin has announced the marriage of her daughter, Miss Hortense O. Peabody, K. N. S. 1930, to Guy F. Burrill, N.H. University, '31, of Claremont. Both bride and groom were teachers last year in the Towle High school, Newport. They will make their home in Newport.

1931

Edward J. Hickey and Raymond L. Harwood, both of Manchester, are back at K.N.S. for a fourth year, taking special subjects.

Miss Mildred Whipple, Keene, spent the summer in a trip to Europe with her mother. She is at her home 284 Court street, Keene, recovering from her severe illness of last year.

ALUMNI DEPARTMENT

TEACHING POSITIONS OF 1932 GRADUATING CLASS

Alumni Editors Start Preparation of Reference List

Members of the class last June who have been placed in positions through the appointment bureau are listed below. Considering the over-supply of teachers in some states the efforts of Prof. Charles W. Cutts and other members of the administration of the school have been crowned with a high degree of success. The list will be continued in the following numbers of THE KRONICLE.

Four-Year High School Course

Miss Thelma R. Fitzgerald, Methuen, Mass.; Junior High, Greenfield, Mass.

W. Chandler Hurd, Pittsfield; sub-master, Ashland High school.

Miss Genevieve A. Jaastad, Franklin; Wilton High school.

Miss Edna L. Johnson, Hillsboro; Hopkinton High school, Contoocook.

Miss Virginia A. Park, Pittsfield; upper grades, Pittsburg.

Louis L. Ramsey, Colebrook; critic teacher, Plymouth Normal Practice High school, Orford.

Miss Caroline Tewksbury, Littleton; Bethlehem High school.

Miss Beatrice A. Wilcox, Keene; Junior High school, Greenfield, Mass.

Trades and Industry Course

Elwin W. Avery, East Kings-ton; Penacook High school.

Robert D. Bailey, Concord; Dover High school.

Harold E. Bridge, Keene; Junior High school, Tilton.

Reed D. Hardy, Manchester; Junior High school, Franklin.

John S. Hobson, Concord; State Industrial school, Manchester.

Thomas L. King, Dover, public schools, Derry.

Lloyd T. Olmstead, Concord; Morrill school, Concord.

Home Economics Curriculum

Miss Kathleen Goss, Laconia; Simonds Free High school, Warner.

Miss Sarah Griswald, East Jaffrey; Dalton High school.

Miss Irene E. Jewett, Middlebury, Vt.; Public schools, Monroe.

Miss Ruth M. Langley, Reeds Ferry; Lancaster High school.

Miss Frances B. Peabody, Berlin, Junior High school, Berlin.

Miss Marjorie Rhodes, Walpole; Charlestown High.

Miss Iva Styles, Rochester; Franklin.

Miss Phyllis Whitehouse, Alton; Coos Academy, Northwood.

Miss Eleanor Williamson, Lancaster; Groveton High school.

Music Supervisory Course

Miss A. Katherine Josselyn, Ludlow, Vt.; Derry.

Miss Mildred R. Moore, Greenfield, Mass.; Henniker and Dunbarton.

Miss Dorothy Soule, Manchester; Lincoln.

Art Supervisory Course

Miss Pauline L. Roby, Franklin; Sanbornton Public school.

Three-Year Junior High Curriculum

Miss Olive L. Ames, Pittsfield; Gilmantown.

Lewis D. Bailey, West Lebanon; Canaan.

Miss Ruth Bemis, Chesham; North Surry.

Miss Gladys E. Bridges, Keene; Northfield, Mass.

Miss Francis L. Clark, Troy; Lempster.

Miss Wilma F. Clark, Portsmouth; Stewartstown district.

Miss Mary E. Colby, Suncook; North Pembroke.

Miss Florence Dunningham, Nashua; Tilton.

Miss Lenore Edgecomb, Harrison, Me.; Rochester.

Miss Edith Fletcher, Baldwinville, Mass.; Templeton, Mass.

Miss Helen Huston, Concord; Hooksett.

G. Edward Jones, Manchester; New Hampshire Orphans' Home, Franklin.

Miss Ruth Jones, Manchester; Plainfield.

Miss Anna F. McCarthy, Manchester; Twin Mountain.

Miss Charlotte Nims, Keene; Meredith.

Miss Anne Oulton, Nashua; Hanover.

Paul C. Rizzi, Milford, State Industrial school, Manchester.

Miss Frances Smith, Laconia; Tilton Junior High.

Continued in next issue.

KEENE NORMAL GRADUATES HAVE REUNION LUNCHEON AT TEACHER CONVENTION

More than 130 former students and members of the staff of Keene Normal gathered for lunch together at noon on the first day of the meeting of the State Teachers' association, at Manchester. A fine meal was provided by a local church group at I.O.O.F. hall, Hanover street. At the close of the luncheon President Wallace E. Mason told of the present registration of the school, and gave other news items of interest to the alumni. Copies of the current issue of THE KRONICLE were given to all present. The remaining time before the afternoon session was taken up with the renewal of acquaintances. The reunions of different college groups have become one of the most pleasing features of the annual meeting of the teachers of the state.

In the afternoon section program of the convention several of the faculty served as section presidents, as follows: Miss Jean F. Baird, Art; W. Allen Caldwell, Physical Education; Miss E. Marie Eppinger, Primary.

Oscar C. Gallagher, head of the Department of Education, and William F. Skelton, supervisor of secondary training, each spoke at the Higher Education section. Mr. Gallagher was elected president of this section for the coming year.

NOTES

1932

John S. Hobson, teacher at the State Industrial school, Manchester, is in charge of a squad of 25 football players. Trustees of the institution have but recently adopted a system of athletics for members with teams to represent the school in football, basketball, and baseball, and to engage in contests with schools throughout the state in the high and secondary school class.

The morale of the school population has increased immeasurably with incorporation of the athletic program.

VARIED ATHLETIC TRAINING FOR FUTURE TEACHERS AT K.N.S.

CROSS-COUNTRY

On Wednesday, November second, a squad of ten Keene Normal men went over to Concord to compete in a triangular cross country meet with Concord High and Manchester West. The Concord team proved to be too strong and won with a team score of 25. Our Keene Normal team placed second with a score of 44. Manchester West was third with 51. Every Keene Normal man finished the entire 3 mile course and each man deserves a lot of credit for such a fine showing in their first race of the year.

The Keene Normal men finished in the following order: Henry Hastings, Newport, second; Carroll Fortier, Chocorua, ninth; George Sullivan, Penacook, tenth; Paul Bridges, So. Elliott, Me., eleventh; and Maurice Kalloch, Concord, twelfth. Capt. Hefernan, Portsmouth, ran well but failed to place.

The first five men from each team counted in the score. Keene showed up well and the runners gained a great deal of valuable experience, as it was the first time some of the men had been in such an event.

The Concord course was particularly hard and included a steep sand bank, and another hill where the runners had to slow down to a walk to make the grade.

Considering that it was the first competitive race for the Keene boys, who only recently took up the hill and dale sport, the team made a good showing. M.B.K.

MANCHESTER CENTRAL 19. KEENE NORMAL SCHOOL 36

On Nov. 5, Keene Normal's cross country team ran its second meet of the season with Manchester Central, at Keene as part of

SPEED BALL

Speed ball has been played very successfully these past weeks by the men students of K.N.S. Rivalry between each of the five teams has increased. These teams consist of freshmen, A and B, teams, sophomore men C and D, and junior and senior men E.

Norman Hartfiel, Farmington is coach of team A. Earl Harris, Franklin, is coach of team B. Frank E. Bennett, Jr., Keene, is captain of team C. Robert Girardin, Peterboro, captain of team D. Team E has no captain.

The schedule and results of games up to Oct. 26 are as follows:

Oct. 17	Team B won 15 to 3 from Team A
Oct. 20	Team C won 13 to 7 from Team B
Oct. 24	Team D won 18 to 5 from Team A
Oct. 25	Team E won 19 to 4 from Team B
Oct. 26	Team C won 10 to 9 from team A

Finals of this tournament were scheduled to be played Nov. 5 at 3 P.M. as part of the "Fall Sports" program. M.B.K.

Fall Sports' day, loosing to them 19 to 36. Henry Hastings, Newport, finished a close second to John Irving, Manchester. Irving's time was 17 min. 35 3-5 sec. Following Hastings four Manchester men finished in order and Carroll Fortier, Chocorua, seventh; Paul Bridges, So. Elliott, Me, eighth; Maurice Kalloch, Concord, ninth; and Roger Clouette, Penacook, tenth.

Coach Carl James of Manchester, stated that our three mile course was the best marked course that he had ever seen and complimented the student attention given to the management of the race.

The next cross-country meet will be here on Nov. 19 with the Newport Y.M.C.A.

THE W.A.A. PICNIC

The W.A.A. held a picnic at the school camp recently for all active members, that is those having 100 points, and the freshmen girls.

The time was spent in singing, dancing, playing volley ball, baseball, and "murder." Supper consisted of hot dogs, rolls, doughnuts, mince pie and coffee.

A short business meeting was held and the following officers were elected. President, Miss Mildred Berquist, Manchester; Vice-President, Miss Vera Bradbury; and Secretary, Miss Dorothy Cunningham, Wilton.

Miss Berquist explained the system of awards to the freshmen and it was decided to make these awards as soon as they are earned. Regular meetings of the organization are to be held in the near future.

WOMEN'S PHYSICAL DIRECTOR

MISS MARJORIE BATEMAN

NOTE

And if you think that shuffleboard is another game of the Little Lord Fauntleroy type you are mistaken. The other day I saw two of the men students playing it. (They weren't freshmen either.) I was surprised at the skill required to build up a score.

FALL SPORTS' DAY

Fall Sports' Day held here Nov. 5, proved to be very successful and beneficial. This new intramural program was put on in place of the former "Home Coming Day."

The results of the different events were: In the women's events the "Maroons" and "Whites" divided the winning honors. The "Maroons" won the field hockey game 7 to 3, won two out of three sets in badminton, and won the swimming matches 16 to 14. The "Whites" won first place in bowling, archery and field ball.

In boys' speed ball the juniors and seniors defeated the freshmen for the school championship, 14 to 13. The winning junior and senior lineup included the following: Ted Hill, Keene, center; Ray Luxford, Landuff, Laurent Ruell, Ashland, and Harold Wheelock, Keene, forwards; Raymond Martineau, Farmington and Maurice Kalloch, Concord, ends; George Knox, Concord, Lynn Richards, Franklin, Neale Curtin, Portsmouth, Roy Gove, Newton Junction, and Howard Wheeler, Milford, backs; and Robert Ringland, Keene, goal.

Miss Vera Bradbury, Bradford, captained "The Maroons" of the winning field hockey team. Miss Louise Tewksbury, Littleton, captained the loosing "Whites." Doris Morgan, Hampton, was champion in badminton and Josephine Altenau, Manchester, runner-up. In the swimming, honors went to Juliet Blackburn, Berlin; Anna McGarthy, Concord; and Louise Tewksbury, Littleton. The "Whites" won in archery 41 to 20.

Miss Faith E. Woodbury, Haverhill, Mass., had high individual bowling score of 69 and Marjorie Cummings, Manchester, was runner-up with 64.

THE OBSERVER

The following letter from Miss Jean F. Baird, head of the Art department appeared recently in the columns of a New Hampshire daily.

Art in The Schools

That the special teacher and supervisor of art is being dropped from the payroll in many places does not mean that art has been dropped from the curriculum.

Even though we feel that the step of curtailing school art is shortsighted, we have faith that few educational administrators call school art an over-expensive and unnecessary—or solely recreational subject.

But a small minority still call art in school a frill. Their knowledge of its field of usefulness is limited. The most modern and meaningful goal of school art is service—to pupil, teacher, school, home and community.

There are some things we know and more that we ought to know about school art.

1. We need art in every school.
2. "Drawing" is only part of school art.
3. School art fosters culture, individuality and democracy.
4. Cultural returns are needed as much as money in a community.
5. The public sees and judges the work of a school largely through its art activities.
6. Because of extra labor or lack of competence and confidence many unsupervised teachers will allow a slump in school-room attractiveness and opportunities for creative expression.
7. The application of art to school life is so extensive that even a "gifted" or competent teacher, can not, unsupervised, cope with preparation and application.
8. The present situation is expensive saving.

What a front door is to a house, that is art to a school. You can get in by the back door, but one prefers a front door and when there is a front door one likes to use it.

The gas man, and the grocer, and the garbage man go to the back door—but even they would like to use the front door occasionally.

Your guests always come to the front door, and you seldom send them out by the back door.

EXCHANGES

By M. B. S.

THE ANCHOR

R.I. State College of Education Providence, R.I.

The cuts and headings for each department are excellent both in quality and appearance; such things undoubtedly add to the general makeup of a paper and help to raise its standard. There is a good variety in the material published, and each department is of fine literary quality. We hope to see more of THE ANCHOR.

FORTNIGHTLY CHRONICLE

Duluth State Teachers College Duluth, Minnesota

A small weekly paper could hardly contain more and a greater variety of material than the FORTNIGHTLY CHRONICLE does; a number of short, compact and important articles combine to make this achievement possible and it is an achievement worth being noted and reproduced by other papers. The personal items are quite unique as is the Student Alumni column, a valuable feature of any paper.

NORMALITE

State Normal School Paterson, N.J.

The literary material in this monthly edition, THE NORMALITE, is by far its best feature, its one good point we might say. The other material is extremely trite and the over used type which any mediocre paper can boast of. More variety and originality should be your maxim.

We are so used to a front door that no one thinks of doing without one. It is the pride of the architect and the owner. It opens into the most attractive part of the house. It leads you into a pleasant, comfortable, homey atmosphere. It invites you to come to stay, and to come again. It is beautified and preserved. It is the center of attraction to passers by, and partakes of the character of the inmates.

The opportunity to make school art function in its various fields—school, home, and community is an open door. It invites every lover of beauty and children to bring it back to its proper place in education.

EDUCATION NOTES

By J. T. A.

Mrs. Louis P. Elkins, of Concord, a member of the State Board of Education recently spent a fortnight in a speaking tour of Minnesota, North Dakota and Wisconsin in behalf of Hoover and Curtis. Mrs. Elkins is a sister of Mrs. Bertha R. Page, head of the New Hampshire Republican Women's State Committee.

At Bridgewater Normal this year, freshman initiation rules, which were drawn up by the sophomores are being strictly enforced. Some of the rules are as follows: While in Bridgewater the freshman shall wear a band of orchid ribbon around the forehead, use no cosmetics and carry a paper shopping bag for books. Failure to comply with these regulations means: first offence, warning; second offence, the matter will be brought up before the committee in charge of enforcing the rules. Then, too, the freshman should allow upperclassmen to precede them in entering the buildings or rooms, they should stand when upperclassmen enter the room or speak to them, no freshman may enter or leave through the main front door or the two back entrances of the administration building until further notice.

Actively taking over the reins of Amherst college, President Stanley King lost no time in bringing up two ancient problems: compulsory chapel and use of automobiles by undergraduates. Chapel exercises will be held four times per week. Attendance will be required with a limited number of cuts.

The students were warned that they will be expected to dress appropriately, that there will be no smoking or eating in the church or chapel building, nor reading of books, note-books, papers or magazines. The use of cars were explained as a distraction from rather than an adjunct to the primary purpose for which the students attended college. The privilege of running a car is to be considered a privilege not a right and an overstepping of rules set would revoke the privilege.

PERSONAL AND OTHERWISE

By H. B. P.

The class of 1932 clock has put in place in the east gable of Huntress dormitory and adds much to the appearance of the campus. Renovations completed during the summer include the redecoration of the dining room in Fiske hall, and new draperies there; interior painting in Huntress and Hale building, and minor repairs elsewhere. Much of this repairing can be done only once in two years because the State Normal schools summer session is held in Keene on alternate years.

Speakers at the Monday morning assemblies have provided programs of more than usual interest so far this year. Aside from Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead, mentioned in the last issue of THE KRONICLE, students have been privileged to hear among others, T. Z. Franklin of Hartford, Ct., manager of one of the special departments of the Automobile Insurance company, in a demonstration of various fire hazards, and Miss Lilly Grace Mathewson, field secretary of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, who was touring the state in the interest of temperance education. The members of the four-year senior group have as usual given each Monday a brief address on some current topic.

Many members of the faculty and student body are pleased to welcome to the community Rev. George Lawrence Parker, the new pastor of the local Unitarian church. Rev. Mr. Parker is an authority on Russia, having served as pastor of the American church there. He is also a man with wide intellectual interests and a writer of note.

Sprague W. Drenan, head of the English department has been elected president of the Keene Philatelic society, succeeding Maj. Robert T. Kingsbury, who has served for many years.

SOUTH ACWORTH SCHOOL

Continued from page 1

in a situation that is advantageous for the pupils. It is proving an excellent place for the pupils to enjoy physical activities. The boys are becoming expert at kickback football, and the girls are enjoying volley ball.

The primary classes are held in the same building. A cadet teacher from K.N.S. has charge of these grades. The enrollment in the primary room is 26, and Miss Eva Johnson of Claremont is the student teacher for the first quarter.

In previous years the teachers have lived at what was called the "teacherage." There they did the housework and prepared their meals. This year they are boarding at the Maple Farm, and this arrangement allows more time to be spent on main interests.

Acworth high school always welcomes guests. Come to visit the school on the banks of Cold River.

The teaching staff for the first quarter is the following: Miss Marion Lathe, Manchester; Lee Goodrum, Westmoreland; Miss Marjorie Freethy, Beebe River; Miss Margaret Feindel, Berlin; Henry Mahoney, Newport; Miss Eva Johnson, Claremont; and Miss Katherine Sullivan, graduate of K.N.S., 1931, is Mrs. Wight's assistant.

CLASS OFFICERS ELECTED

Continued from page 1

man, Manchester, of the Junior High curriculum is the treasurer.

Elementary Officers

Of the elementary group, Miss Helen G. Reed, Newport, is president; Miss Elizabeth Sawyer, Walpole, secretary; and Miss Arlene Sweet, Claremont, is treasurer. Committee members and class teachers will be elected at later meetings.

"Do you know that a wise and good man does nothing for appearance; but everything for the sake of having acted well?"

-Epictetus.

JOKES

A POLITE RACE

First Greek (airing his English): "How is you, I believe?"
Second Greek: "Thank you, I hope."

IN AMERICAN GOVERNMENT

Mr. Preston: "Garfield was shot in the railroad station."
Class snickered; they thought it was a new part of the anatomy.

CONTENTED COWS

Wheelock teacher: "Do any of the children know the meaning of the word 'posture'?"
Bright pupil: "A place where cows are put out to feed."

Kora Katnip says someone must have had a very artistic eye to have added the new cement walks with such curves.

BLAME THIS ON THE DEPRESSION

—And then there was a Freshman who sent home for his flannels. He wanted them for the Freshman Reception.

By special delivery he received two sets of fleece-lined underwear.

CASUALTIES OF ATHLETICS

Joe Altenau and Nat Scott ran a race one Sunday evening to see who could eat the most asparagus on toast. The results of the race cannot be given as both girls suffered sprained wrists while eating.

OBSTRUCTING TRAFFIC

A certain faculty member was pushed away from the book store by a female student, who remarked, "Why can't you freshmen get out of the way and let me buy something?"

—State Signal, Trenton Normal School.

ILLITERATE PARENTS

M. Burpee, trying to decipher the writing in "Jo's" note:

"What's this word?"

"Jo," resignedly: "You're like my father; he always saves my letters, so I can read them to him when I come home."

LISTENERS HEAR NO GOOD

Priscilla Abbott: "Florence was talking about you before you came in. What do you think she said?"

"Iboo" Aldrich: "I haven't any idea."

Priscilla: "You must have been listening."

Kora Katnip wonders where "the cream of the crop" will go with this now intelligent looking class of freshmen.

—OR AMY LOWELL?

The book worm: "Do you ever read Chaucer?"

The young florist: "Oh, yes; I like his 'Canterbury Bells'."

A REAL STUDENT

Mother: "Does my little boy like to study?"

Marion Lathe: He likes to do nothing better.

PAGE EMILY POST

Q. May lettuce be eaten with the fingers?

A. No. The mouth is generally used.

Q. What would be the proper thing to say if, in carving the duck, it should skid off the platter into your neighbors' lap?

A. Be very courteous and say, "May I trouble you for that duck?"

—The Southeastern, Southern Teachers College.

THE ALARM CLOCK'S ALARM

"There's music in the air" or, perhaps in this radio-age we should say "on." Well, no matter, whether it is "in" or "on" it is there forcing itself upon us every week-day morning from 4:00 to 6:45 A.M.

We have an ambitious neighbor who persists in rising early. By the time the alarm clock's alarm has finished alarming (she never shuts it off), we have been rudely transported from the banks of the Lethe. From that time on we are awakened at half-hour intervals. All the other clocks seem to have caught it.

"SPREADING THE NEWS"

Continued from page 1

The Cast

The cast included the following: "Bartley Fallon," Edward J. Hickey, Manchester; "Mrs. Fallon," Miss Dorothy Chute, Keene; "Jack Smith," Raymond O'Neil, Nashua; "Shawn Early," A. Wilfred Poirier, Lincoln; "Tim Casey," Raymond Harwood, Manchester; "James Ryan," Carl Johnson, Hillsboro; "Mrs. Tully," Miss Esther Koskela, Troy; "A Magistrate," Valmore Blais, Laconia; policeman, Thomas McCullough, Manchester.

Student committees who assisted in the success of the play were: Neale W. Curtin, Portsmouth, stage manager; T. Ernest Peltonen, Newport, assistant stage manager; lighting, George Donovan, Franklin; scenery, Forrest Gray, Portsmouth; properties, Theodore H. Blanchard; make-up, Miss Doris A. Swanson of Salem, Mass., and Lewis Goffe of Litchfield.

Sprague W. Drenan of the English department, was coach and in general charge of the play which was the first presentation of the season. The production was enthusiastically received.

A casting committee has already made a selection for the parts of a second one-act play in which all the characters will be women. This will be given at a date to be announced.

A change that has met with the approval of the students at Bates College was the allowing of 22 chapel cuts a semester this year instead of the usual 11. It has been apparent in the student protests, classroom debates, and editorials in the college weekly that compulsory attendance at chapels, a source of constant wrangling between students and faculty, has succumbed to the ravages of modern youth.

It's queer about these alarms: they all sing the same song so lustily and merrily and yet they fall so dismally and dolefully on the startled ear! D. B. W.

KEENE KRONICLE

Volume IV, No. 3
Dec. 12, 1932

Holiday
Greetings

Published at the State Normal School, Keene, N.H.

58 WOMEN STUDENTS,
AND 28 MEN ON 1931-32
SCHOLASTIC HONOR ROLLDean's List for the Year is Announced
Showing High Standing

Based on scholarship standing for the year 1931-32, 58 women students and 28 men students are on the dean's list, and constitute the honor group for the past year. This list has recently been given out from the administration office.

Women's List

The dean's list for girls is as follows:

Altenau, Josephine, Manchester; Anderson, Harriet, Goffstown; Atherton, Emily, Winchester; Austin, Frances, East Jaffrey.

Bates, Marguerite, East Granby, Conn; Brown, Marion A., Wolfeboro; Bumpee, Madeline, Portsmouth.

Continued on page 8

WORCESTER ART TRIO IN PROGRAM FOR STUDENT
ENTERTAINMENT COURSE

The Worcester Art Trio of Worcester, Mass., presented a varied program of chamber music in the Spaulding Gymnasium, Dec. 2. The concert was added by special arrangement to the entertainment course. The members of the trio are: Fredyum Hendrickson, formerly of Keene, Oreste Montagne, cello, and Albert Erickson, piano. Mr. Hendrickson, who has recently changed his residence to Worcester, has been a very popular teacher of the violin and has won admiration as a performer on the instrument. He still retains a studio in Keene.

Continued on page 8

PRESIDENT MASON TELLS NEW ENGLAND EDUCATORS OF N.H.
NORMAL SCHOOL ECONOMIES

Keene President Addresses Teacher Training Association in Boston — Explains Methods Used to Meet Present Situation of Teacher Surplus

Ways in which Keene and Plymouth Normal Schools are cooperating with the state board of education and other state departments in the imperative need of reducing government expenditures, without impairing the educational system were related to the New England Teacher Training Association by President Wallace E. Mason, at the annual meeting held recently in Boston.

The subject of Pres. Mason's talk was "What the New England states are doing to meet the present situation of a surplus of certified teachers and the possibility of decreased budgets for teacher training."

PRES. WALLACE E. MASON

Some of the most significant paragraphs from Pres. Mason's address are the following:

Student Enrollment

"The New Hampshire answer to the first question is meet the "surplus teacher" problem by reducing student enrollment, increasing standards of admission and increasing length of curricula; to the second question, 'cooperate with the comptroller's or finance departments in planning a balanced budget by decreasing expenditures so far as possible without injury to the education of the child'.

"During the school year 1929-1930 Keene Normal school registered 601 students and in June, 1930 graduated 182. Of these less than 10 percent failed to get positions, and some of these who did not secure positions continued their education studying for a degree in other institutions.

"During the year 1930-31 we registered 628 students and in June, 1931 we placed about 75 percent of the 165 graduates of that year. Warned by the decreased number who secured positions we reduced the number of entering freshmen by 50, limiting our entering class to

Continued on page 8

MANCHESTER CLUB HAS
ANNUAL MASQUERADE
IN THE SPAULDING GYM

"Suburbs" of Nashua and Concord Assist in Entertainment Talent

The imagination and originality of Keene Normal School students was manifested in a social way, Saturday evening, Dec. 3, at the annual masquerade party conducted in Spaulding gymnasium under the auspices of the Manchester club.

The prizes for the two best costumes went to George C. Knox of Concord, dressed as a Spanish cavalier, and Miss Alta E. Perkins of Franklin, who appeared in a Colonial costume of unusually fine texture. A third prize, for the most original costume, was presented to Duncan MacLean of Berlin, attired as a woman of the nineties.

Costumes Varied

Among the numerous costumes represented were "Felix" cats, dice, soldiers and sailors, nurses, bakers, Spanish, Colonial, clown, Dutch, negro and negress, old-fashioned bustles, pajama girls, pirate, widow, beach girls, gypsies, farmer and farmerette, sheik, Egyptian, child in rompers, Japanese, newsboy, Santa Claus, gym girl, monk, Bowerly girl, Hallowe'en, Chinaman and wife, Pierrot and Pierrette, band leader, cossack, Arab.

Program Pleases

Entertainment was furnished by students of the club and other talent.

Thomas McCullough of Manchester was general announcer. The program included xylophone solos by Robert L. C. Tinkham with Ed Paris at the piano; crooning melodies by Raymond O'Neil of Nashua; saxophone solos by

Continued on page 8