

DEAN'S LIST

Continued from page 1

mandares, Portsmouth; Raymond A. Crosby, Milford; George C. Knox, Concord.

Home Economics: Misses Jane A. Monroe, South Shaftesbury, Vt.; Thelma G. Ricker, Alton; Pauline A. Trow, Sunapee.

Junior High curriculum: Misses Alice Sterry, Portsmouth; Dorothy Aiken, Putney, Vt.; Vera A. Bradbury, Bradford; Rita Clough, Grafton; Helen M. Couture, Groveton; Dorothy Hugron, Hancock; Hazel Sleeper, Lebanon; Norman Mason, Kingston; Lawrence Perkins, Center Ossipee.

Art and Music Supervisory: Miss Esther Rickard, Guild.

Two-Year Elementary curriculum: Mrs. Naomi Guibord, Keene; Misses Katherine Egan, Newport; Stella L. Shaw, Hampton; Mildred E. Shunaman, Hudson.

1935

Four-Year English curriculum: Misses Marjorie Carver, Troy; Barbara Alexander, Canobie Lake; Winona Richardson, Pittsfield; Louise Tewksbury, Littleton; Alice Upton, Hancock; Newell Paire, Keene; Valmore Blais, Laconia.

Four-Year Trades and Industries: Victor Boccia, Robert H. Domina, Keene; Byron Berry, Dover; Paul Bridges, South Elliot, Me.; Emerson A. McCourt, Portsmouth; Frank Tisdale, Salem Depot.

Home Economics: Misses Viola Frost, Hollis; Margaret Gibbons, Berlin; Alta E. Perkins, Franklin; Helen Corbett, Colebrook.

Junior High curriculum: Misses Ann T. Carroll, Dorothy M. Erwin, Keene; Alberta Cushing, Hartford, Vt.; Laura E. McQuide, Hanover; Edna Noyes, Laconia; Dorothy Powers, Danbury; Elizabeth Smith, Milford; Paul F. Brooks, Greenfield; Roger C. Clouette, Penacook.

Art and Music Supervisory: Misses Dorothy L. Britton, Keene; Ruth Mary Doe, Northwood; Winifred T. Hammond, Manchester; Barbara Hayward,

SHAKESPEARE

Continued from page 1

formances were of high order, "Hamlet" was given with more finish. In the title part Mr. Hendrickson made the Dane a man of commanding figure but of weak will. The other parts were in keeping and both costumes and music added to the effect.

Members of the K.N.S. dramatic club had charge of publicity and of all details of arrangements, properties, etc. They also furnished men and women for the court scenes and acted as ushers. Fred L. Barry, Charlestown, president of the club acted as chairman of the committee.

So great was the success of this theatrical venture, that it is hoped that the professional production of one or more Shakespearean plays may be an annual event here.

The Cast

In both plays James Hendrickson and Claire Bruce took the leading roles and they were assisted by John Burke, Bertram Miller, Anne Lubowe, Allen Nagle, MacGregor Gibb, Edward C. Gruber, Louis Howard and Martin Wells.

Randolph, Vt.; Elizabeth B. Sargent, Hillsboro; Charles Stowell, Walpole.

Elementary: Misses Meda Richardson, Keene; Jeannette C. Bowlby, Meriden; Gertrude Currier, Pelham; Madeline Dearborn, Concord; Cecelia Flaherty, Gorham; Mildred Hill, Goffstown; Ethel Renton, Feeding Hills, Mass.; Jeanette Saigh, Manchester; Mildred Waters, Waltham, Mass.

1936

Four-Year English curriculum: Misses Helen M. Pratt, Keene; Mary L. Dearborn, Woodsville; Jeanette E. Diotte, Newport; Miriam Roby, Sanbornton; Barbara Severance, Hillsboro; Clarence O. Richardson, Harrisville; L. Fred Barry, Charlestown; J. Laurence Bucher, Alton; Andrew J. Crooker, Jr., Hillsboro.

Trades and Industries: Daniel Sullivan, Portsmouth.

SYMPHONY

Continued from page 1

other Kreisler arrangement from the works of Beethoven. Then followed a harp solo by Mr. Caughey, "Forest Spring" by Tourneir. He too was obliged to respond to an encore, which was an old French folk tune, "The Little King" composed by Brahms. This is a very delightful number and was especially effective on the harp.

Ensemble Numbers

Following a trio by Messrs. Krips, Zimble, and Fiedler. Hadyn's "Trio No 1", the ensemble presented "Nocturne" for four instruments by Doppler. As his contribution to the program, Mr. Zimble played the second movement of a concerto by Boccherini. This number was most beautifully rendered. Messrs. Madsen and Coughy continued the program with a flute and harp selection, "Minuet" by Bizet. The program concluded with an ensemble number, Schubert's "Ballet Suite" from "Rosamond", a sprightly and fitting ending to an evening of unusual pleasure. —R.C.

Home Economics: Misses Edythe Johnson, Barre, Vt.; Eleanor Tarbox, Brattleboro, Vt.

Junior High curriculum: Lewis Montrone, Keene; Richard Trufant, Peterboro; Misses Thelma Dickinson, Evelyn L. Johnson, Velma D. Peirce, Winchester; Katherine Gage, Manchester; Shirley McIntyre, Whitefield; Kathryn J. McLain, Manchester; Dorothy E. Plaisted, Dover; Barbara Purmont, Newport; Iona Sheeche, Lebanon; Nina B. Usko, Newport; Sarah M. Wyman, Athens, Vt.; Mae R. Youngquist, Manchester.

Art and Music Supervisory: Misses Elizabeth Morrison, Keene; Mabelle E. Felch, Seabrook; Virginia Hough, Lebanon; Frances M. Libbey, Portsmouth; Florina Potvin, Claremont; Ruth E. Clement, Derry Village.

Elementary curriculum: Misses Claudia Croteau, Marlboro; Alice Fiske, Dublin; June Clark, Fran-

MANCHESTER CLUB

Continued from page 1

printing, George G. Cross; refreshments, Miss Georgia F. Day, all of Manchester.

Masquerade

For the annual masquerade on Dec. 8, the school orchestra will play, and the list of patrons and patronesses and the judges of the costumes will be announced at a later date. The gym will be decorated as a winter scene under the direction of Miss Jean F. Baird and Miss Ruth Stewart, of school art department.

There will be prizes offered in three different classes; a loving cup as first prize, and ribbons for second place and honorable mention. The cups have been donated by Manchester business houses: for the "most beautiful costume", by Pariseau Co.; the "most original", by The John B. Varriek Co.; and for the "most comical" by the Leavitt Co.

Masquerade Committee

The chairmen of sub-committees for the masquerade are as follows: general chairman, Mr. McCullough; entertainment, Miss Youngquist; costumes, Miss Katherine M. Walsh; printing, Mr. Cross; refreshments, Miss Day; and chaperons, Miss Gage.

Club Officers

The Manchester club officers for the year include the following: Mr. McCullough, president; Miss Youngquist, vice-president; Miss Gage, secretary; and Mr. Sullivan, treasurer.

cestown: Ethel M. Croteau, Sunapee; Laura Eaves, Peterboro; Janet Fletcher, Claremont; Josephine Karwacki, Manchester; Flora Longa, Reeds Ferry; Bertha G. Raines, Hillsboro; Salva Ziady, Manchester.

1937

Trades and Industries: Robert F. Edmunds, Loudon; Amicare Scarponi, Portsmouth; Ira Stopford, Portsmouth.

Home Economics: Misses Charlotte M. Redden, Portsmouth; Maud P. Whitcomb, Wilton.

KEENE KRONICLE

Volume VI, No. 3
January 7, 1935

Werrenrath
January 21

Published at the State Normal School, Keene, N.H.

IMPRESSIVE CHRISTMAS PROGRAMS in MUSIC and PAGEANT ARE PRESENTED

Townpeople Are Invited to Elaborate Sunday Afternoon Student Musicales

The days just prior to the Christmas recess were full of activity, the events taking on a special significance in keeping with the holiday season.

On Saturday evening, Dec. 15, the annual Y.W.C.A. party was held in the gym. Here the traditional scenes of the nativity were pictured in pageant form with music. The opening scene was "The Annunciation," then came "The Road to Bethlehem," "The Three Kings of the Orient," and "The Nativity and Adoration." The pageant closed with a tableau in which the whole cast appeared.

The Cast

Those who took part included the following: the Misses Grace MacDonald, Mae Youngquist, Katherine Gage, Beatrice Judkins, Mabelle Felch, Rita Leonard, Eleanor Tarbox, Betsy Crowell, Velma Peirce, Ellen Hartshorn, Katherine Walsh, Barbara Severance, Dorothy Plaisted and Harriet Crosby. Miss Isabel M. Blake was faculty adviser.

The stage manager was Miss Mae Youngquist, assisted by the Misses Betsey Crowell, and Katherine Gage. Costumes were in charge of Miss Evelyn Pederson; music, Miss Katherine Walsh, assisted by the 1HM and 2HM divisions.

Sunday Musicales

The fifth annual concert was held in the gym on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 16. A large group

Continued on Page 8

K.N.S. LENDS CO-OPERATION IN KEENE NURSERY SCHOOL UNDER FEDERAL RELIEF

A nursery school of approximately 20 pre-school pupils and financed with federal relief funds was opened at K.N.S. after the holidays. The class room space has been donated by the Normal school in Blake house, at the corner of Main and Winchester streets. Cooperating are the city school authorities, and Miss Ellenor Prouty, of the New Hampshire relief bureau. Children, both boys and girls, of two, three and four years will be admitted.

The rooms have been put into condition and the members of the manual training classes have been assisting in the preparation of tables and cots. There will be three teachers, a principal, who is a trained kindergartner, an assistant, and a nurse who will have charge of health program and meals. Sessions will be from 9 a.m. till 3 p.m., and the children will be given lunches, a noon dinner and an afternoon nap.

Members of the children's care classes in the home economics curriculum, will be allowed to observe in the nursery school and to assist in the work.

One of the aims of the project is to have the underprivileged children cared for while their parents have the opportunity to work. Similar schools have been successfully organized in other communities of the state.

PRESIDENT OF CASTLETON, Vt., NORMAL SCHOOL MAY BE ELECTED PRES. of N.E.A.

Students and alumni of Keene Normal school will be interested to know that the head of a neigh-

Continued on page 8

REINALD WERRENRATH TO GIVE CONCERT PROGRAM AT SCHOOL ON JAN. 21

Adhering to the policy of bringing the best in music to Keene, the management of the student activities course has announced a recital by the world famous soloist, Reinald Werrenrath, in the Spaulding gymnasium on the evening of Monday, Jan. 21. Mr. Werrenrath appeared here about ten years ago with the Keene Chorus club and was heard with a great deal of pleasure. Local music lovers are joining with the school community in sponsoring this extraordinary attraction.

Mr. Werrenrath was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., and received his degree of A. B. from N. Y. university in 1905. He studied singing under his father and also under such well-known teachers as Dr. Carl Dufft, Frank King Clark, Dr. Arthur Mees, and Victor Maurel. He made his debut in grand opera at the Metropolitan in the part of Sylvio, in "Pagliacci" in 1919. Since 1907 he has with very marked success appeared in recitals and oratorios throughout the United States.

He has made many records and of late has been heard with great delight in radio broadcasts. His dramatic power, fine voice and unusual enunciation have made him a general favorite of a large public. His recital will include both classical and semi-popular numbers.

The activity tickets will admit students and faculty and a fee of one dollar will be charged the general public. SAVE THE DATE: JAN. 21. PLACE: SPAULDING GYMNASIUM, AT K.N.S.

MANCHESTER CLUB HAS 20th ANNIVERSARY. MASKED PARTY in SPAULDING GYM

Queen City Merchants Donated Prizes Which Stimulated Costume Competition

With a wide range of costumes, practically all of student preparation, showing much originality and work, the 20th annual masquerade ball of the Manchester club of Keene Normal school was held in Spaulding gymnasium, Saturday night, Dec. 8. The efforts of the officers and committee, headed by Thomas McCullough, president, to make the anniversary party distinctive, proved successful with a large number of costumed participants and a greater variety of dress than for many years.

While only those in costume were permitted on the dance floor the general student interest was manifested by the large balcony attendance.

Miss Grindstaff, Queen

Miss Frances Grindstaff, Keene, won the chief honors of the evening for the most beautiful costume and was crowned the "Queen". She was escorted to the royal chair by Pres. McCullough who announced the judges' awards. She was dressed as an old-fashioned grandmother in attractive black costume including a rare black bonnet. Silver cups, donated by Manchester merchants, were awarded the winners of the most beautiful, most original and most comical costumes and ribbons were given for second prizes and honorable mention.

Second Honor

Second prize for the most beautiful costume went to Miss

Continued on page 8

EXTRA CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES AT K.N.S.

MARIONETTES OF STUDENT MAKE AND OPERATION ARE GIVEN BEFORE SCHOOL

An unusual and amusing program was presented in the approved Tony Sarg manner by the Ardencraft club in the Spaulding gymnasium, Saturday, Nov. 24.

To the musical tinkle of a bell, the curtains of a miniature stage opened to show a quaintly dressed puppet who gave the prologue. Then followed the unfolding of the old German folktale, "The Three Wishes," enacted by marionettes made and operated by members of the Club under the supervision of the Art teachers, Miss Jean F. Baird and Miss Ruth Stewart.

The audience seemed to enjoy especially the misfortunes of Margaret caused by the Fairy's magic ring, and the antics of Fritz, the dog.

The puppeteers were as follows: Margaret, - Ruth M. Doe, Northwood; Martin, - Winifred Hammond, Manchester; Casper, - Rena Batchelder, Claremont; Fairy "Zimberimdimba", - Mabelle Felch, Seabrook; Fritz (the dog), and Butterflies, - Rachael Cox, Lisbon; Bunny, - Betty Morrison, Keene.

After the performance these people demonstrated the art of puppetry before a number of interested students, faculty members and visitors.

The voices heard were those of other members of the Club: Martin, - F. Pace, Portsmouth; Margaret, - Virginia Chase, Seabrook; Casper and Fritz, - Clarence Richardson, Harrisville; Fairy, - Mabelle Felch.

At the end of the play, all of the members of the cast appeared and sang the "Lorelei".

This was sung by M. Felch, Helen Schellenberg, C. Richardson and F. Pace under the direction of Lawrence Bucher. Fritz and the Bunny gave their able assistance.

VARIOUS CLUB ACTIVITIES

Dramatic Club

The Dramatic club of K.N.S. is trying out a new undertaking this year. It is planning to give a series of one-act plays, to be completely under the management of a member of the Club. Eligibility for the position of director is limited to those who have had experience in at least three Dramatic club presentations.

The first play, which will be given shortly after the Christmas vacation, is "The Dear Departed" by Stanley Houghton, and is under the direction of Miss Barbara Severance of Hillsboro. The following cast has been chosen: Miss Mae Youngquist, Manchester; Miss Lucille Plante, Keene; Robert Edmunds, Loudon; Miss Mary Bemis, Chesham; Lawrence Goss, Portsmouth; and David Armstrong, Grafton. The technical staff consists of: Miss Claudia Croteau, Marlboro, stage-manager; Miss Ruth Mary Doe, Northwood, assistant stage manager; Miss Edwina Luneau, Tilton, property manager; Miss Waltina Chrostowski, Claremont, and Miss Frances Grindstaff, Keene, make-up committee; and Paul Brooks, Greenfield, scenic manager and electrician.

Arden Craft Club

The time of meeting of one of the active and efficient clubs of the campus was omitted from the time table of organizations printed in our last issue. The Ardencraft club meets the first and third Monday of each month.

The special lighting of the miniature stage was in the care of Virginia Hough. One hundred percent of the Club members participated - which helped to make the performance - as many acknowledge - a grand success.

Academy of Science

Among the activities of the Academy of Science are the sponsoring of Saturday afternoon hikes, which are destined to become popular. The members have been prospecting for Ascutney boulders in this immediate district and one has already been found and will be preserved on the campus. Anyone who discovers such a boulder in this district automatically becomes a member of the "Ascutney Club". Let us have every Academy member eligible for this new affiliated organization!

De La Salle

The De La Salle entertained the Catholic Daughters of America at the school camp, Tuesday, Nov. 20. About 20 guests were present. After supper and entertainment, consisting of songs by Miss Theresa Burke, Fairhaven, Vt.; Miss Florina Potvin, Claremont; Miss Marion Bergeron, Keene; and Arthur Giovannangeli, Keene; a piano solo by Miss Lorraine Rocheleau, Franklin; and a reading by Thomas McCullough, Manchester was given.

The entertainment committee consisted of Arthur Giovannangeli, Keene; Victor Seymour, Dover; Miss Ruth Travers, Whitefield; and Miss Flossie Hutchison, Concord. Those serving on the food committee were: the Misses Marion Bergeron, Keene; Anne Crowley, Manchester; Edwina Luneau, Tilton; and Mary Powers, Manchester. Refreshments were served during the evening and games were played after the entertainment.

Sigma Pi Epsilon

At a recent meeting of this organization, it was decided to join a "Book of the Month Club." After the club members have had these books for a specified amount of time, they are to be put on

EDUCATIONAL AID BY FEDERAL GOVERNMENT IS SUBJECT OF DEBATES

The men's debating teams of the Forum have recently presented two public debates before the members of the school community on the subject of Federal aid to education. On Nov. 19, at the regular Monday assembly a team composed of Andrew J. Crooker, Jr., Hillsboro, J. Roy Newton, Farmington, and Neil Sullivan, Manchester, upheld the affirmative side of the question against a team representing Fitchburg, Mass., State Teachers college. On Nov. 27, in Parker hall, the local team composed of Ralph Robinson, Hinsdale; Lewis Montrone, Keene; and Mr. Crooker, met a team from the University of Vermont, at which time they argued the negative of the question.

At the latter meeting, which was open to the public, Robert M. Zieff, Keene, presided, and Thomas McCullough, Manchester was timer. The Vermont team included: C. A. Rogers, South Wallingford, Vt.; F. W. Hale, Windsor, Vt.; and F. W. Zimmerman, Morrisville, Vt.

The exact wording of the question was: "Resolved: That the federal government should adopt the policy of equalizing educational opportunities throughout the nation by means of annual grants to the several states for public elementary and secondary education." Both were no decision debates, and on both occasions the local speakers showed up well and were a credit to the training carried out in the Forum, under the direction of Miss Edna M. McGlynn, and Maynard C. Waltz, sponsors.

the school library shelves, where they will be available to any student or faculty member who wishes to read them.

CLASS OFFICERS

Fred L. Barry, Charlestown, has been elected president of the four-year junior class. The other officers are: Miss Edythe Johnston, Barre, Vt., vice-president; Miss Jeanette Diotte, Newport, secretary; and Paul K. Stimson, Milford, treasurer.

Sophomore class officers are: Amilcare Scarponi, Portsmouth, president; Miss Eva Dostillio, Keene, vice-president; Miss Jean Morey, Manchester, secretary; and Wesley F. Brett, Keene, treasurer.

Stanley Johnson, Keene, is the president of the freshman class, Miss Louise Hatch, Milford, vice-president; Miss Arlene Richards, Franklin, secretary; and James Leh, Keene, treasurer.

TEACHER ASSIGNMENTS

For the second nine-week period members of the senior class have been assigned to out-of-town High schools for a period of practice teaching. Members of the four-year English group are located as follows: Misses Winona Richardson, Pittsfield, and Louise Tewksbury, Littleton, and Valmore Blais, Laconia, to Hancock; Miss Nona Hayes, Portsmouth, to Hampstead; Miss Florence Daue, Franklin, to Oxford.

Members of the Home Economics curriculum will teach in the following schools: the Misses Viola Frost, Hollis, at Hancock; Hazel Stone, Keene, at Hampstead; Ruth Rhodes, Walpole, at Milford; Ruth Hardy, Keene, at Hopkinton; Barbara Henry, Manchester, at Warner; and Helen Corbett, Colebrook, at Concord.

From the Trades and Industries course, Robert Domina, Keene, will be at Hancock; Emerson McCourt, Portsmouth, at Manchester, West; Ralph Duso Belmont, at Laconia; Bernard Willard, Keene, at Dover; and Everett Drake, Dover, at Rochester.

Miss Edna Noyes, Laconia, a member of the three-year Junior High curriculum will teach at Dalton High school.

KAPPA NEWS

Paul Corette, Lebanon, Charles Stowell, Walpole, Clifton Kew, Waitsfield, Vt., and Paul Bridges, So. Eliot, Me., are the new men in the house this nine. Don. Piper is acting president while Daniel Sullivan is in industry.

Through the effort of the present members of the frat, a new upright piano has been purchased for the house, to replace the old one which had outlived its usefulness.

We were glad to welcome as guests at the house recently Ralph Corette, '31, Chan. Hurd, '32, and Ed Presby, '34, Presby and Corette are engaged in adult education work in Enfield.

The annual frat dance is scheduled for the second Friday after the holiday vacation.

Don. Chamberlain, East Jaffrey, represented the fraternity on the committee of arrangements for the men's smoker.

ART DEPT.

By this time probably all of you have one or more calendars, depicting the Home, the School, and the Church. If you want any more come to the Studio!

Saturday, Dec. 1, four of the summer class of Tony Sarg's School of Marionettes, including Miss Jean F. Baird and Miss Ida May Magoon of Manchester, formerly instructor of art at our school, met at the Parker House in Boston for a reunion dinner with their instructor, Mr. Pritchard. They later attended the performance of "Faust, the Wicked Magician". They were privileged to watch one act from behind the scenes, and were fascinated by the versatility and cexterity shown.

Margaret, Martin, Casper, and the Fairy, Fritz, and the Bunny of the well-known show "The Three Wishes", were invited to various homes for the Thanksgiving holidays and greatly enjoyed themselves.

ALPHA PI TAU

The front lawn of the Alpha House has been converted into a local Rose Bowl and daily between the hours of one and two one can witness thrilling football skirmishes between teams that have more coaches than any other powerful teams in the country.

We are very pleased at this time to express our recognition of the fine workmanship of Brothers Baines and Wyman. They recently, with the aid of Frank Ainger the carpenter constructed a boathouse and then ventured out to put the piping up around tennis courts. Asking them for a statement I received, "Just another nine weeks work without pay."

Our annual Christmas party was held at the School camp, Thursday, Dec. 20.

HOME ECONOMICS

Misses Bernice Adams, Manchester; Margaret Gibbons, Berlin; Frances Halladay, Bellows Falls, Vt.; Lillian Hock, Reeds Ferry; Alta Perkins, Franklin; and Elizabeth Torrey, Keene; are now in the Practice House. A hearty welcome is extended to them and the best of luck to those out practice teaching.

At the last Nu Beta Upsilon meeting, which was guest night, Miss Ethel Worth, State Recreational Adviser of the University Extension Service, was present. After a brief speech she conducted some very interesting gymes.

Miss Edna Amidon, Federal Agent for Home Economics Education for the North Atlantic states, was a recent visitor of the Home Economics department.

Misses Louise Norton, Lilian Baker, Marion Macdonald and the Seniors in the Practice house were recently the guests at a turkey dinner given by the Juniors.

TRADES and INDUSTRIES

Three members of the third-year division are working in industry: Francis Linscott, at Exeter, Daniel Sullivan, at Portsmouth, and Waldo Streeter, at his home in Keene.

The first-year boys have been assisting in fabricating the beds which will be used in the new nurse school being fitted up in Blake house.

Some of the men thought it was quite an "upward step" recently when the class in auto mechanics had a Packard to work on. For the most part they have had Fords and Buicks to experiment with.

A new machine is in the process of construction in the shop. It is to be a polishing machine. Plans are being drawn by Mr. Adams, head of the department and Ira Stopford. Others have assisted in making the parts which are now going through the foundry.

MUSIC NOTES

Members of the chapel choir with a group of vocalists and an instrumental trio gave a concert at the Congregational church, Winchester, on Dec. 12. A varied program was presented, including selections for the men's and women's voices, solos by Miss Evelyn L. Brinton, Keene, and Jesse F. Davis, Hampstead, a trumpet solo by Frank C. Kirby, Amherst, and piano selections by Charles J. Stowell, Walpole. This is the fourth concert given this season outside Keene, and others have been scheduled for the near future.

Music students are enthusiastic over the prospects of a recital by Werrenrath on the evening of Monday, Jan. 21. Members of the Orpheus club will serve as ushers and will take charge of other details of the concert.

Miss Elizabeth Sargent, Hillsboro; Miss Barbara Hayward, Randolph, Vt.; and Miss Velma Lawler, Washington, Vt.; are the members of the music division who are practice teaching this nine.

KEENE KRONICLE

The Keene Kronicle, published during the early part of each month for students, alumni, and friends of the state normal school, Keene, N.H. Subscription, 50 cents per year.

The setting up and printing of the KRONICLE is done by the classes in printing at THE NORMAL SCHOOL, Keene, New Hampshire.

Member National Association of Student Editors

EDITORIAL BOARD

Faculty adviser, Harry B. Preston.
Consulting editor, Roy A. Sullivan.
Editor-in-chief, Alice Upton, '35, Hancock.
Associate editors, Valmore Blais, '35, Laconia; Helen Pratt, '36, Keene, in charge of yearbook.
News editors, Grace MacDonald, '35, Hampton; Dorothy Hugron, Spec., Hancock.
Business and circulation managers, Paul K. Stinson, '36, Milford; Waldo R. Streeter, '36, Keene.
Boys' sports editors, Lewis Montrone, '36, Keene; Richard O. Trufant, '36, Peterboro.
Girls' sports editors, Louise Tewksbury, '35, Littleton; Velma D. Peirce, '36, Winchester.

School exchanges, Janet Whitcomb, '35, Keene.
New Hampshire schools and educational notes, Barbara Severance, '36, Hillsboro.
Trades and Industries editor, Ralph Duso, '35, Laconia.
Music editor, Ruth M. Doe, '35, Northwood.
Art editor, Elizabeth Morrison, '35, Keene.
Home economics editor, Katherine M. Synder, '36, Woodstock, Vt.
Fraternity editors, Kappa, Andrew J. Crooker, Jr. '36, Hillsboro; Alpha, Paul F. Brooks, '35, Greenfield.
Alumni editors, Mary L. Dearborn, '36, Woodsville; Ira Stopford, '37, Portsmouth.

DISSATISFACTION GUARANTEED

"Mama, Jane got a bigger piece of pie than I did," whines little Mary. "Say, youse guys, you ain't givin' me my share of de jack," threatens the hard-boiled gangster. "We should strive to establish a more equitable distribution of income," says the economics professor.

However it is phrased - whether couched in the cultured language of an English instructor or expressed in the crude jargon of a tough newspaper boy - it always reiterates the same idea. No one is ever satisfied with his lot.

By some people, this attitude of dissatisfaction is called "ambition". Maybe it is. The student just out of college declares, "If I could only get a job, I'd be happy." Soon after he secures that position, he becomes embittered because John Jones' salary is three dollars a week more than his. If he gets the desired raise, he asks for an extra week of vacation or another afternoon off - and so on.

Most of us feel that if we could acquire enough wealth to be assessed under the income tax laws, we would be perfectly willing to pay our share. Maybe we would, but I doubt it! Are we so very different from those mercenary individuals who are periodically brought before the federal investigating committees for tax evasion?

Photography must be an interesting profession. If a person's picture flatters him, he complains because his friends do not recognize the resemblance. If it is a poor picture, he says that he looks bad enough anyway, without adding insult to injury.

The age question will never be settled. Youth longs for the privileges of adulthood. Age sighs for youth and gayety.

I'm not prepared to philosophize on this subject. I'm inclined to think that satisfaction should be relegated to the category of unattainables - with painless dentistry, honest politicians, correct spelling, and interesting textbooks! After all, life would be pretty dull if we couldn't find any excuses for crabbing.

-A.U.

EDUCATION NOTES

Three hundred years of high school education are being celebrated by the schools and other civic organizations of the United States during the 1934-35 school year, under the leadership of the Department of Secondary School Principles of the N.E.A. The celebration will be based on the American tradition of free and universal public education. With the opening of the Boston Latin school in 1635, secondary education in this country had its beginning.

The U.S. office of education at Washington has just published a pamphlet "The Cost of Going to College". It may be obtained from Superintendent of Documents at Washington, D.C. for a nickel, (no stamps).

Probably the oldest free school in continuous operation in this country—a school said to have been built by George Washington in 1785—is still in use by the public school system of Alexandria, Va.

The class of 1938 at Dartmouth includes the record breaking number of 707, representing 35 states. Of this number New Hampshire furnished 43. States having a larger number in the class are Massachusetts with 176; New York, 146; New Jersey, 77; Connecticut, 51; and Illinois, 50.

Eternal education is the price of being educated.

-JOHN H. FINLEY.

Pupil enrollment at the Keene High school has reached the high mark for all time with a registration of 910 pupils. Several boys and girls have entered each week since school opened in September, according to Headmaster Willis O. Smith, indicating that many families are moving into the city.

HAVE YOU A HOBBY?

Have you a hobby? Don't say you are too busy for such things. Its always the busiest people who find time for worthwhile activities. And don't try to say that hobbies aren't worthwhile. You know better!

In these days of shorter working hours, leisure is becoming increasingly important. With increased leisure comes the question, "What shall we do in our spare time?" The answer to this question is "Choose an interesting hobby, or several of them, and spend your time usefully."

It is not difficult to choose a hobby. Perhaps you have a fondness for collecting things. If you have, you may enjoy collecting stamps, moths, rocks and minerals, wild flowers, poems, news articles, or pictures. There is no end to the list of things you may collect.

To the girls, I do not need to mention knitting as a hobby. Already the click of needles in the campus buildings shows that many have gone "knitting-conscious".

Reading and creative writing are always a source of joy to those who are literary. They may spend endless happy hours curled up in an easy chair or sitting before a desk chewing a pencil. The more active type may choose athletics—tennis, basketball, swimming, golf, or riding. Or perhaps some will want photography. A pictured chronicle of events is something to be treasured. Photography may be treated as an art or as a science. The artists may choose sketching, designing, painting, or sculpture. Likewise, a musical hobby is a never-ending source of joy.

Don't start a hobby just for the sake of improving your mind—although that certainly is a worthy objective. Choose something you really like and follow it because you really want to. Let us get out of the habit of thinking that someone must entertain us all the time.

Perhaps we should have a "Hobby Week" just as we celebrate "Education Week", "Health Week" and countless others. But I think hobbies should be everyday affairs.

Have you a hobby? If you haven't, acquire one now. -A.U.

HERE AND THERE AMONG THE ALUMNI

INTERESTING NOTES FROM OUR OLDER ALUMNAE

Mrs. S. J. (Jane Harrington) Thomison of Wilmington, Del., former special student at Keene, was among those who witnessed the recent 26-mile marathon in her home town in which Clarence H. DeMar, running under K.N.S. colors, came in second. Mrs. Thomison attracted by the red and white jersey with the words "Keene Normal" offered words of encouragement to DeMar along the way.

Since the race, Pres. Mason has received a letter from Mrs. Thomison in which she spoke in the highest praise of DeMar's running, stating that while he wasn't first, second place didn't mean second rate. Her letter was in part as follows:

"I saw DeMar at several places during the race and it was gratifying to see the admiration and hear the applause that greeted his appearance. He was recognized for the veteran and sportsman that he truly is."

Mrs. Thomison signed her letter "With best wishes to you, Mrs. Mason and Keene Normal."

After a few months of teaching, Miss Floribel E. Wright, '18, was married to Ralph H. White. They are now living in East Rindge. They have two children, Peregrine, who is eight, and Redvens, age 6. Mrs. White is planning on spending the winter on a ranch in Arizona.

Miss Hazel O. Place, '21, now Mrs. W. J. Harriman, lives in Melrose, Mass. She has one child, Paul Winslow Harriman. After graduating she taught one year in Whitefield, and a year in Franklin. She also took a course in hydrotherapy and massage. For five years she was in Florida.

Alma Matson, '24, now Mrs.

ALUMNI PERSONALS

1925

In September occurred the wedding of Miss Elloine E. Woodward of Dublin to Richard E. Hoar of Winchendon, Mass. Since her graduation from the three-year Junior High course Mrs. Hoar has taught in Hopkinton, Winchendon and Swampscott, Mass., and Toms River, N.J. She has also served as hostess at Sawyer's Tavern in Keene, during summer vacations. The couple will make their home in Winchendon, where the groom is engaged in the lumber business.

1927

During September Miss Dorothy O. Lane, of Keene was married to Russell F. Tripp, of Concord. Mrs. Tripp taught in Austin Cate academy, and in Malden, Hardwick and Belmont, Mass. She also attended Cornell at summer sessions. The groom attended the University of New Hampshire. Their home will be at 39 Spring Street, Concord.

Martin L. Robie, is teaching this year in the 8th and 9th grades at the Junior High school, Whitinsville, Mass. His subjects are algebra, junior business training, and geography. Last summer he was honored by being admitted into the Alpha Lambda chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, at Boston university. His address for the year is 16 Brook St., Whitinsville, Mass.

1930

Charles P. Lawrence of Manchester, is this year a teacher at the Mitchell Boys' school in Billerica, Mass., a private military school.

John MacKinnon, makes her home at 23 Orchard Street, Revere, Mass. For two years she taught in Brookline. From 1926 to 1930 she served in the Swampscott, Mass., Junior High. In the summer of 1926 she attended school at Boston university.

1930

Miss Marjorie E. Osgood, Manchester, a graduate in the elementary curriculum, was married on July 8, last to Harold Lee Burrill, of Augusta, Maine, at a beautiful candlelight service, at Dunbarnton. The bride has taught since graduation in Massachusetts schools; and the groom who is a graduate of Harvard and the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, is now located in Augusta.

1931

Ramos C. "Tip" Feehan, of Keene, a graduate of the four-year English course, and since then teacher and coach at the Whitefield High school, has resigned to engage in work for the Department of Justice in Washington, D.C. In this new field Mr. Feehan will have the opportunity to study law.

Mr. Feehan was a star athlete at Normal school, particularly as a baseball pitcher. He has had marked success in his coaching at Whitefield.

During the summer the marriage of Miss Dorothy Lord of Manchester to Ronald Cook of Amesbury, Mass., was revealed. Mrs. Cook has been a teacher in New London since her graduation. Their future home will be in Amesbury.

Miss Emma Newton, after several years of teaching experience in the schools of her home town of Windsor, Vt., and of Cornish, is this year in charge of the first grade at the Central school, Henniker.

1934

Among the members of this class who are engaged in graduate study are Edgar Paris, Manchester, at St. Anselms; and Lewis Goffe, Litchfield, at the University of New Hampshire.

KEENE GRADUATES TEACH AT WELLESLEY, MASS.

Miss Claribel P. Fisher, who was a popular critic teacher at the Wheelock training school, 1912-14, has written Pres. Wallace E. Mason of the success of Keene Normal graduates who now come under her direct supervision. Miss Fisher, who is an aunt of Governor-elect Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, is now elementary supervisor of the public schools of Wellesley, Mass.

She makes especial mention of the fact that last spring she visited over 20 candidates for three vacancies in the Wellesley schools and that two of the three vacancies were filled by K.N.S. graduates. These young ladies were both members of the elementary division and were graduated with the class of 1929. They were the Misses Pearl Smith of Newfields, and Seraph Darling of Peacham, Vt.

Miss Rita V. Neal, another K.N.S. graduate is teaching physical education at Wellesley.

1932

A summer wedding of a member of the class of 1932 occurred on June 24, in Keene, when Miss Dorothy M. Chute, was married to Robert G. Calef. Both young people are residents of Keene, where Mr. Calef, a graduate of Middlebury college, is a member of the staff of the Keene National bank. Mrs. Calef took a year of graduate study at K.N.S. and taught one year at Walpole High school.

Philip M. Dodge of Bradford is teaching the sixth grade and acting as principal of the Central school building in Henniker village.

1933

Several members of this class have secured positions with the beginning of the school year 1934-35. Among them are Miss Genevieve C. McGirr, Concord, at the Rundlett Junior High, Concord; Martin E. Heffernan, Portsmouth, at Hanover High; Miss Mildred L. Holcomb, Berlin, at Monroe; Clinton M. Leach, Litchfield, at Londonderry; Miss Lois M. Huntington, Henniker, and Miss Barbara M. Lane, Keene, at Lyndeboro.

VARIED ATHLETIC TRAINING FOR FUTURE TEACHERS AT K.N.S.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC NEWS

FALL SPORTS DAY

A great success was the Women's 1934 Fall Sports Day held on Saturday, Nov. 17, on the school campus. Miss Marjorie Bateman and Miss Miriam Clark were in charge of the event with student assistants in each activity. The swimming meet in charge of Miss Mary Foster, Beverly, Mass., was held on Friday night, and included a candle race, bubble blow, face float, dog paddle, cork game, and tug-of-war. Miss Foster was individual high scorer with 27 points. The Freshmen won in the class competition and the White color team was victorious over the Red.

Tennis tournaments were in charge of Miss Lula Morey, Keene. Individual competition resulted in a tie between Miss Fern Lloyd, North Walpole; and Miss Albert Cushing, Hartford, Vt. The Sophomores were victorious in the class games being represented by Miss Fern Lloyd and Miss Georgia Day, Manchester. Miss Dorothy Minor, Keene, and Miss Alberta Cushing won the final tournament for the Reds.

Bowling, in charge of Miss Thelma Paige, Hampton, was won by the Senior and Red teams, with Mrs. Bessie Adams, Leominster, Mass., as individual high scorer.

Badminton, under the direction of Miss Marion Rollins, Windsor, Vt., and was won by Miss Alberta Cushing, and the Red team, represented by Miss Velma Lawler, Washington, Vt., and Miss Lula Morey, Keene.

Archery was in charge of Miss Mabel Felch, Seabrook. Miss Ruth Clement, Derry, carried off the individual high honors, and the representatives of the Red team again defeated the Whites.

The climax of the entire occasion was the unique Red and

AWARDS

Letters were presented in chapel on Monday, Dec. 17 to the varsity hockey squad, and also numerals to the winners of the badminton, archery and tennis tournaments held on Fall Sports day.

White parade preceding the hockey game. Excitement ran high as the notables arrived and took their places. Among the guests were: "Rev." Velma Bartlett, "gravediggers" Hartshorn and Youngquist, the "Red and White Kitchen band," hockey players, many grand ladies from the 19th century, Jack BeNimble, celebrated circus clowns, and many mourners of "The Hatchet" which was carried to the south end of the athletic field and buried to the strains of "Taps," played on the cornet by Miss Beatrice Whittaker, Claremont.

The procession then lined up around the hockey field and kept the players in good spirits with their horns, whistles, cheers and songs. As a result, the Whites defeated the Reds by a score of 2-0. Line-ups were as follows: White team - the Misses Betsey Crowell, Exeter; Laura Eaves, Peterboro; Janet Fletcher, Claremont; Fern Lloyd, North Walpole; Edwina Luneau, Tilton; Shirley McIntyre, Whitefield; Mary Peabody, Berlin; Marion Rollins, Windsor, Vt.; Helen Szalajeska, Laconia; Virginia Bulkeley, New York City; Arlene Richards, Franklin; Velma Peirce, Winchester; Rita Leonard, Haverhill; and Iona Sheehe, Lebanon; Red team - the Misses June Clark, Frankestown; Georgia Day, Manchester; Kathleen Demeritt, Woodville; Eva Dostilio, Dorothy Minor, Lula Morey, Keene; Thelma Paige, Hampton; Evelyn Pederson, Claremont; Lorraine Rocheleau, Franklin; Irene Szalajeska, Laconia; Madeline Wilson, Epping; and Alberta Cushing, Hartford, Vt.

There was a large student and

BASKETBALL

In preparation for the first basketball game of the season, the De La Salle club sponsored a "pep" program, and the good effects were apparent at once. "Varsity, Rah!" was heard echoing through the gym. A large squad reported and Coach Caldwell has gradually weeded out his team to a few of the last year's stars and a group of freshmen. As the season opens these men are playing the first team: Neil Sullivan, Manchester, and Paul Nordman, Keene, centers; George Zoulias, Manchester, and Stanley Johnson, Keene, forwards; Arthur Giovannangeli, Keene, and William O. St. Jacques, Laconia, guards.

Other strong substitutes ready are "Gil" Wyman and "Jim" Leh, both of Keene, and Noulas and Zygmunt, both of Manchester. Both the regulars and subs compose practically an all Keene-Manchester team, or could easily be made into one representing either city. The first team is practically an all veteran outfit, Johnson, a freshman, being the only new man.

For the opening games St. Jacques is acting captain. Amilcare Scarponi, Portsmouth is student manager, and the assistant managers from the freshman class include Ross Gale, Luther Preston, Daniel Tolman, and Carl Youngquist.

All home games this season have been scheduled to start at 7:45 p.m.

Opening Game

The season opened on the Spaulding gym floor on Monday evening, Dec. 11, in a game with the Keene "Y" Seniors. It was a nip and tuck battle, and ended with the score 37 to 35. St. Jacques and Giovannangeli of the Normal and Putney and Mason of the Seniors, excelled in floor work and point scoring.

There was a large student and

STUNT CLUB

A Stunt club is being organized under the direction of Miss Miriam Clark, assistant physical education director. There will be meetings and practices every Thursday night at 7:15 in the gymnasium. Some of the stunts will include the Fish Hawk Dive, Flying Angels, Cartwheels, Somersaults, and Pyramids. Everyone is invited and we guarantee you all a good time. This training will result in a "Stunt Nite" to be held in the gym sometime in February. You'll enjoy these stunts. Don't miss them!

faculty attendance. Miss Georgia F. Day of Manchester served as cheer leader Miss Virginia Hough of Lebanon as song leader between the halves, and at other times during the game.

Score by periods:
K.N.S. 6 10 11 10 - 37
"Y" Seniors 8 6 15 6 - 35

Referees: Fiske and Drew. Scorers: Scarponi and Sullivan. Timers: Larson and Stanford.

Castleton Game

The team journeyed to Castleton, Vt., on Dec. 14, for the second game of the schedule. The K.N.S. boys lead all through the game and the final score was 53 to 14. Several substitutes were used.

Giovannangeli and Noulas, with 12 points each, were high scorers for Keene, while E. Houston, with six points, was high scorer for Castleton.

Basketball Schedule, 1934-35

As a matter of record we print the complete basket ball schedule for both men's and women's teams:

MEN'S GAMES
Dec. 10	"Y" Seniors	Here
" 14	Castleton Normal	There
" 20	Gorham Normal	There
Jan. 4	Castleton Normal	Here
" 9	Keene City Club	There
" 12	New Britain Teachers	Here
" 18	Fitchburg Teachers	Here
" 19	Gorham Normal	Here
" 30	Fitchburg Teachers	There
Feb. 4	Keene "Y" Club	Here
" 8	Salem Teachers	Here
" 15	New Britain Teachers	There
Mar. 2	Plymouth Normal	Here
" 5	Keene "Y" Club	There
" 9	Farmington Normal	Here
WOMEN'S GAMES
Jan. 19	Plymouth Normal	There
Feb. 2	Plymouth Normal	Here

PERSONAL AND OTHERWISE

By H. B. P.

Miss Vryling W. Buffum librarian of the Mason library, was the guest of honor at the dedication of a memorial tablet at the grave of Mrs. Mabel Loomis Todd, founder of Mary Matoon Chapter, D. A. R., and of the Amherst Historical Society, at Amherst, Mass. Miss Buffum was the only charter member of the chapter present. A group of notable women were guests at the exercises, including the president general of the National society, and the State regent of Massachusetts.

Mrs. Irene Weed Landers, teacher of home economics at K. N.S., 1915-1917, and more recently president of the Keene Women's club, has been appointed to the position of woman rehabilitation agent for Cheshire county. This is one of ten county positions which rounds out the rural relief organization of the state. Many problems of home management will come under the supervision of the new workers, and it is hoped that soon it will be possible to start most of the people in towns under 2,500 population on the road to self-support.

Mrs. Marion Frost Hudson, instructor in the elementary methods department gave an address on children's reading at the Symonds school recently. An exhibition of suitable and low-priced books was shown, and the parents were advised as to what books they should select for their children.

An article in a recent number of "The Journal of Geography" on "Interesting Stimulating Devices" was contributed by Miss Amy Tenney, instructor in geography at the Central Junior High.

Pres. Wallace E. Mason attended the annual meeting of the N. E. Association of Superintendents held in Boston early in November. Special sessions were held for the presidents of teacher training institutions. Mrs. Mason accompanied him to Boston for a visit to friends.

EXCHANGES

So far we have received few papers from the High schools on our exchange list. It really takes a period nearly to the holiday season to get a magazine enterprise under way, especially if it is dependent upon its advertising for financial support.

An exception is No. 1, of Vol. 8 of "THE SPIRIT OF TOWLE" from Newport. We thank the exchange editor for a brief but kind comment on "THE KRONICLE" therein contained. In addition to literary material and departments, both of which are well written, there is a large amount of creditable verse in this issue.

A recent issue of "THE F.S. N.S. MIRROR" from the Farmington State Normal school informs us that at that institution 43 students were receiving Federal aid, and were employed on ten different kinds of projects. Another interesting bit of news from our Maine contemporary is that the so called "social training committee" is sponsoring a dancing school every Monday and Tuesday "to teach social dancing and correct ballroom dancing". Here is certainly a worthwhile student activity.

Two newspapers, of four pages each, have been printed at the Normal school print shop: "THE ANNOUNCER" now in its third year, edited by students of our practice High school, Central Junior High; and "THE ALPHA BULLETIN", introductory issue. The latter published in only a very small edition, is the official organ of the Alpha Pi Tau fraternity, and is for members of this society, both student and alumni. The Alphas were pioneers in the field of journalism at K.N.S., having the honor of establishing and circulating "THE ALPHA" for a number of years until forced to suspend due to the depression.

Perhaps you can answer this one asked by a small boy: "Father, how far is it between to and fro?" -Ex.

AROUND THE CAMPUS

Ninety-nine out of one hundred of the girls on campus are generous! Ninety-nine of them will tell you the secret and the other one will keep it.

English Prof: "What did the poet mean by the saying: 'Evidence of things gone past, promise of things to come?'"

Bright pupil: "Vegetable salad!"

When opportunity knocks the householder is likely to think it is somebody trying to work his way through college. -Ex.

A movement has been started to awaken the seemingly latent expression of school spirit by means of "sings" or "pep meetings" following assembly on certain days each week. We heartily endorse the plan and add: "More power to you, Mr. Davis!"

Mr. Caldwell: "What have you written for an objective in teaching the game of tennis?"

Sophomore: "To smooth out the rough spots in the game."

Mr. Caldwell: "H-m. That would be a better objective for rolling out the court!"

When we find that an "Element" can be broken up, it isn't an element, it's a mistake.

If the turnout at Dramatic club trials was any indication of innate ability in this line, we can vouch for a successful season for the thespians of K.N.S.

EXCHANGE HUMOR

RUSSIA or AMERICA
Miss Leslie: "Who are the Reds, Arthur?"
Arthur: "Indians." -Announcer.

HE KNEW!
Teacher: "What does 'grimace' mean? Can anybody tell?"
Billie: "It's what you make when you take castor oil!" -Announcer.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT
Teacher: "What is the purpose of the scaffold mentioned in the prologue, Henry the Fifth?"
Joe: "Oh! That's where they execute the plays!" -Spirit of Towle.

BOOK REVIEW

"LONG REMEMBER"
Mackinlay Kantor

At the first mention of the name of Gettysburg in this book, there is called up to the reader a living panorama of human heroism and folly not often equalled throughout the ages. Gettysburg echoes down through the ages.

There are many stories of the Civil War - epic poems, juvenile sagas, and romances soft with the rustle of crinoline, the chivalry of Southern gentlemen, the tinkle of mint juleps, and the breath of Southern roses and magnolias. But not until the present has an avowed realist, who in himself is an accomplished builder of modern novels, turned inherited enthusiasm and years of study into the production of a story which may stand unique - crisp, contemporary, and above all, historically sound.

Writing without a strain of sectional prejudice, Mr. Kantor has envisioned a great love story and a greater holocaust. "Long Remember" concerns a group of civilians caught with their passions and secret mistakes in the roar of America's most important battle.

The character of Daniel Bale, a pacifist, looms tall amid the gathering dust of invasion. When in the least expected encounter of military record, two panting armies pour along country lanes and crash together at a sober, sleepy village. One can see unrolled a flaming cyclorama which may indeed be "long remembered." There is a realism dominating Mr. Kantor's book that is vigorous and clean-cut. "Long Remember" is a poignant moment of the past which has not been written before in such a manner. It is as richly American as Pennsylvania wheat and as haunting as a Rebel yell.

People must come to realize that poetry is something to listen to as well as to understand.
- Stephen Vincent Benet.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC

Continued from page 1

of music lovers from the city attended. Harry W. Davis, and Miss Ruth B. Dieffenbach, of the music department were in charge. The first part was given from the rear balcony. Dim lighting and decorations of candles produced an appropriate setting. The program of part one was as follows:

How Beautiful Are the Feet of Him,
The Messiah Handel
Chapel Choir

Andante Cantabile Tchaikowski
Winifred Hammond, violin
Dorothy Barnes, cello
Charles Stowell, piano

A Christmas Anthem Bach
Christmas Carol from Lapland
Traditional Gevaert

A Joyful Christmas Song
Chapel Choir

Thus Saith the Lord, The Messiah
Jesse F. Davis Handel

In a Stable Mean and Lowly
Corsican Folk Song
Lullaby, Jesus Dear Polish Carol
Hail, All Hail the Glorious Morn
Bohemian Carol

Evelyn Brinton, soprano
Helen Schellenberg, alto
Harry W. Davis, tenor
Jesse F. Davis, baritone

The Star of Bethlehem Adams
Trumpet solo Frank E. Kirby
Hallelujah Chorus, The Messiah Handel
Choir, Glee Club and Orchestra

Second Part of Program

The second part of the program was the cantata "Christmas," by Francis Abt, rendered by the Woman's Glee club, directed by Miss Dieffenbach, with Miss Barbara Severance, Hillsboro, as reader. This was given from the platform.

The chorus numbers were "Fervent Longing fills Creation," "The Angel's Song," "Song of Shepherds," "Chorus of Angels," "The Shepherd's Greeting," and "The Angels' Lullaby."

Miss Virginia Hough, Lebanon, sang the solo, "The Angel of Peace," and Miss Evelyn Brinton, Keene, "An Angel."

The chorus showed a keen appreciation of the finer technique and a deep understanding of the meaning of "Christmas."

Mr. Stowell was pianist for the first part of the program and Miss Elizabeth Goodell for the second session.

PRES. OF CASTLETON

Continued from page 1

boring teacher training institution will be presented for the office of president of the National Education Association at its next annual convention to be held at Denver, June 30 to July 5, 1935. The candidate is Dr. Caroline S. Woodruff, principal of Castleton Normal at Castleton, Vt.

The following sketch appeared in a recent issue of THE BIRDS-EYE, publication of Castleton Normal:

"Dr. Woodruff's professional history and affiliation with the National Education Association give her a strong claim upon the interest of all who wish to see a progressive educator fill this office. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi - Kappa Chapter, Columbia university - with her M. A. degree from Middlebury college and her degree of Doctor of Education from Norwich university - the first honorary degree conferred upon a woman by a military university.

"Her service in teaching has been in many fields and on many levels of the educational program. Classroom teacher, principal, superintendent - hers has been the administrative genius which has given Castleton Normal school a place of distinction among teacher training institutions during the past thirteen years.

"In addition to being a life member of the N.E.A. as well as a member of the National Department of Superintendence and of the National Council of Education, she has filled with dignity and superior leadership many important offices.

"We go on record as predicting the election of our beloved principal to this office which she unquestionably deserves."

Dr. Woodruff is a friend of our own president, Dr. Mason, and of Keene Normal. She has visited here often, with other members of her staff. The editors of THE KRONICLE join with other friends in best wishes for her election to leadership in the N.E.A.

MASQUERADE

Continued from page 1

Winifred T. Hammond, Manchester and Francis Pace, Portsmouth, dressed as Puritans, and honorable mention for a similar type was given Miss Jean E. Morey, Lowell, Mass., and Walter Moore, Plaistow, as Puritan maid and man.

In the originality class the judges' choice was that of "Daniel Boone," cleverly depicted by Ross Gale, Rutland, Vt. A close second choice was the robot, or mechanical man, by Emerson McCourt, Portsmouth. Honorable mention was made of Paul E. Bridges, South Elliot, Maine, who appeared in the scant costume of a Mohammedan.

Faculty Shares in Honors

The faculty shared in the prize winning, Miss M. Marie Thyng being judged the most comical in a "Believe It or Not" representation of one of the freaks at the world exposition in Chicago.

Roy Newton, Alton, and Raymond Robinson, Hinsdale, dressed as scrubwoman and bum, received second honors, and Lawrence Goss, Hampton, as a clown with double-sized ears and feet won honorable mention in the most comical class.

The decision of the judges was based on types of costume, their adaptability in the specific class and the amount of work put into the dress.

The colors of the three Manchester schools, green and white of Central, red and blue of St. Joseph's cathedral, and blue and white of West Side, in paper streamers, formed the chief decorative effect, depicting a winter scene.

Program Enjoyed

A program of entertainment was presented under the direction of Miss Mae R. Youngquist, Manchester. This opened with a soprano solo, "Indian Love Call," by Miss Arlene Jenkins, Hanover. Neil Sullivan and Miss Jeanette Saigh, both of Manchester, participated in a humorous debate on the subject, "Why

CAPTAIN APPLEJACK

The date has been set for the postponed performance of the three-act comedy, "Captain Applejack". It will be given in Parker hall on the evening of Wednesday, Jan. 16. The change from the December date first announced, was made necessary by the crowded schedule of events just before the holidays and also on account of one of the cast leaving school.

"Captain Applejack" is a comedy. It combines in an unusual way, humor, fantasy, and romantic adventure. New attractive scenery is being built and painted for the production. Tickets can be had from members of the dramatic club.

BASKETBALL

Continued from page 6

Gorham Game

The men's team won its third game of the season against Gorham, Maine, Normal school in Gorham, on Thursday evening, Dec. 20. Keene was represented by Zoulias, Wyman and Johnson, forwards; Sullivan, center; Giovannangeli and Nordman, guards.

The first quarter ended in a 7 to 7 tie, but Keene pulled ahead to a good lead in the second quarter and managed to keep it throughout the game.

Gorham missed several opportunities to shoot. Gorham will play a return game here on Jan. 19.

Man Should Beware of Black Shirts." Miss Virginia Chase, alto soloist, of Seabrook was called on to encore numbers as a "Blues Singer." Miss Youngquist was enthusiastically received in several readings. The entire club joined in a medley of songs including the alma mater and football songs of the three Manchester schools.

Miss Jean F. Baird, head of the art department, and Miss Elizabeth E. Gregory, geography instructor, were judges.

KEENE KRONICLE

Volume VI, No. 4
February 11, 1935

Congratulations on Basketball Victories

Published at the State Normal School, Keene, N.H.

K.N.S. STUDENTS and KEENE PUBLIC HEAR WERREN RATH, FAMOUS BARITONE, SING

Music of School Series Is Largely Attended and Greatly Appreciated

Some 700 music lovers from the Normal school and surrounding vicinity were most enthusiastic and delighted with the vocal concert given by Reinald Werrenrath, the famous baritone, in the Spaulding gym on Jan. 21.

Mr. Werrenrath's program was varied, holding the interest of the audience throughout.

The wide range of tone, and breath control, sincerely demonstrated in his singing showed all the finish of a true artist. He began easily, using a more powerful voice later in the program for the heavier type of songs. Beginning with songs of a quiet, homely type he then sang pieces of a more powerful nature, the climax coming in the singing of the dramatic aria "Credo" from Verdi's "Othello" which he so picturesquely described. He amused his listeners when he said that the baritone parts are always the parts of villains in operas; that tenors are always the heroes, and that, really, "baritones are much nicer than

Continued on page 8

MAY MUSIC FESTIVAL PLANS ARE FORMING

Local Groups Will Join in Second Annual Spring Program

The Normal school music department is already at work on plans for the second annual spring festival.

Keene's several musical organizations will once more join with

Continued on page 8

METROPOLITAN ROOF-GARDEN IS CHIEF DECORATION AT ANNUAL MID-YEAR BALL

Formal Social Event of School Year Held In Spaulding Gym Is Usual Gala Party — Tea Dance Is Held on Following Saturday Afternoon

The annual mid-year ball, an outstanding social event of the school year, was held in Spaulding gymnasium, on Friday evening, Jan. 25. More than 100 couples, all in formal dress, attended. The decorations, which suggested a metropolitan roof garden, with the New York sky-line on the stage for a background, were carried out by a committee of art students with Miss Ruth Mary Doe, Northwood, chairman. Music of quiet, but engaging rhythm, was furnished by Doug Newton's orchestra of Bellows Falls, Vt. Many out-of-town guests from near by educational institutions, as well as K.N.S. alumni and students, were noted on the floor.

The patrons and patronesses, who received the dancers were: Pres. and Mrs. Wallace E. Mason, Miss Isabelle U. Esten, dean of women; H. Dwight Carlé, dean of men, Miss Ida M. Fernald, assistant dean, Miss Mabel R. Brown, Frederick J. Simmons, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Davis.

The presidents and vice-presidents of the different classes composed the ball committee. Each one assumed a chairmanship with a specific duty, which resulted in the party being planned and conducted with unusual smoothness.

Miss Lillian Hoek, Reeds Ferry, president of the four-year home economics class was general chairman of the dance.

Committee Chairmen

The other officers and committee chairmen were: Fred L. Barry, Charlestown, president of

Continued on page 8

BOTH FRATERNITIES CLOSE THEIR RUSHING SEASON, NEXT COMES INITIATION

Kappa Delta Phi and Alpha Pi Tau Choose New Members

The two fraternities of the school finished their annual rushing season on Feb. 4, after ten days of activity. Members of the freshman class were entertained informally by both the Kappa Delta Phi and Alpha Pi Tau men. The Alphas held a smoker in the social room of Spaulding gymnasium on Jan. 28, while the Kappas conducted a party for the first-year men at the school camp at Wilson pond, on Friday, Feb. 1. Following supper, honorary members responded to toasts and then followed a period of games and music.

On the latter occasion Roy A. Sullivan, consulting editor of THE KRONICLE, was made an honorary member of the fraternity.

For the next few weeks the newly elected members will be prepared for the formal initiation ceremonies, which will take place soon after the return to Keene following the early spring recess of the school.

The following men were pledged to Kappas: from the sophomore class, Clifton W. Smith, Salem. From the freshman class, Donald S. Cooney, Enfield; Jesse F. Davis, Hampstead; Kenneth L. Creighton, Hampton; Ross M. Gale, Rutland, Vt.; Sherman S. Joslin, Westville; Walter Palmer, Enfield; Luther M. Preston, Auburn; Vernon J. Perkins, Lyme; Victor A. Seymour, Dover; Daniel A. Tolman,

Continued on Page 8