SEE INSTRUCTION NO. 2

Dearest beloved,

The snow is still coming down heavy and the wind is howling a bit out doors but the babies have nice and warm in their beds and I'm busy knitting myself a pair of white mittens. My is playing chess downstairs and expects to leave for N.Y. in the morning. I hope this finds you fine and happy, darling, Hello 'you' we so far from us. Don't wait to tell me 'no' now.

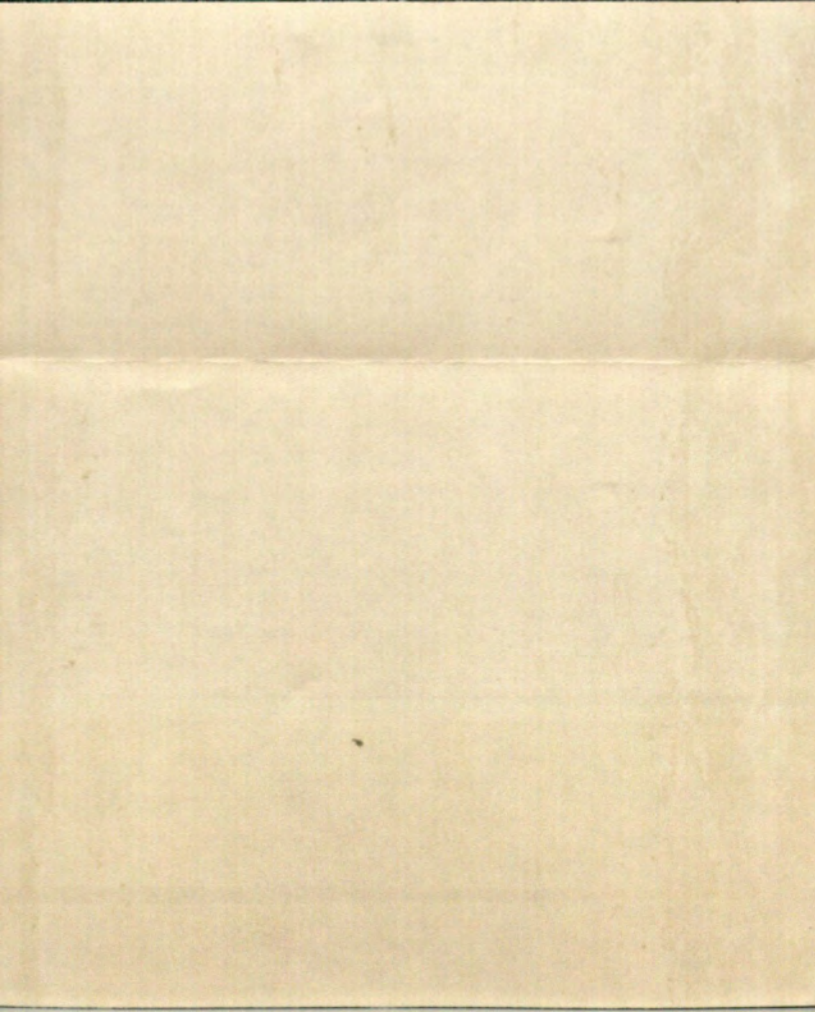

It's morning now and the sun may come out in the afternoon. My left after breakfast and expects to return with Rose Kate this afternoon. Jimmie, Jan and myself are fine and managed to keep quite busy all morning. Just took a bath and had an audience of 2 babies and a dog. Weather is getting warmer and we'll go out on the porch this afternoon. Have to get fare lunch now so until to-morrow, my love as always and huge kisses from precious. Expect to go home by Sunday. Don't mind getting V-mail as long as you're O.K. With all my love and devotion, I am
Florence
