Tuesday

Dear George,

Well, it has finally happened. The boss called on the phone and advised Aaron that he would have to leave Scranton this Wednesday night or Thursday morning. We knew it would happen soon; but neither one of us expected it to happen so soon and with such little notice. I guess that is the way it goes when you work for some one else.

I am a little sorry to see him leave so soon; but I am more sorry that I didn't get around to the driving lessons before his departure. I took a lesson yesterday and did quite well; but I still need several more lessons to be able to pass the test. I still have a source to learn from, and I guess that I will have to make use of it if I ever expect to get a driver's license.

Otherwise everything is swell. Business has picked up a little and the day goes much faster now. The boss said that he was coming out here this Friday, and that he expected to stay for about a week or so. I can think of more pleasant things than this; but I guess it won't be so bad.

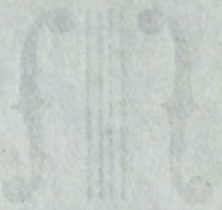

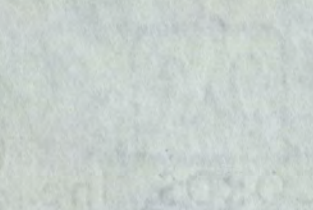

Possibly he will drive in and go back for the week end. If so, I suppose that I will go with him. So, maybe I will be home this week.

I hope you and Flo are well, and enjoying the beautiful weather we are having.

As ever,

Bob
