Saturday night.

George, my love,

Nothing important to write to-night except that Jim and I are well and love you more than ever. Stay well, darling and please don't worry about the home front. You'll be here soon and then it'll be like heaven again. There is better daily and this is the year. Chins up.

The folks are well and will be here to-morrow again to see us. To-night Sonny and Shirley Michaels called. The Shermans are fine, Dad is on his way to the South Pacific and I expect to visit Shirley this week. She and the kids R.H.

Weather was fair and Jim and I took a walk in the vicinity. Things are normal and the family is O.K. The mail from you to-day, just some circulars and the Life magazine.

All my love and devotion to you and baby and kisses from precious. Good night, sweetheart.
